ROCKY DEFILLIPES - Freshman President

Upon arriving to Cal State, I was told it was a very apathetic school. I want to do something more in college than just attend classes, that's why I'm running for Freshman President.

Experience-wise, I was Assistant Governor of Curriculum at Pacific last year.

DENISE DORN - Freshman Treasurer

I want to see more students involved in student activities. I was involved in student government in high school and am already involved in activities at Cal State.

If I can get some people involved and show them how good Cal State can be when we get out and do something, instead of complaining, my purpose is accomplished. So for someone who will get things done, VOTE DENISE DORN for Freshman Class Treasurer.

This special Pawprint election issue is designed to familiarize the Student Body with the candidates and issues for the upcoming elections for Freshman Class Officers and Senators-at-Large.

The polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. on October 29 & 30, and will take place at the X-roads between the Library and the main parking lot.

The following is a list of the vacant positions: Freshman Class President Vice-President Secretary Treasurer Senator (2)

A. S. Senator-at-Large (3)

ZACHARY WALKER - Freshman Senator

If elected, being part of the council, I would try to pass legislative bills and measures which I think would be in the best interests of the Associated Student Body, this would not only include academic but social activities.

In high school I was in student government as an appointee to the senior class president, and also to the A.S.B. president. I enjoyed this office especially because the communications I brought between the students and student government.

RANDY FREEMAN - Freshman President

Last year was the beginning of a trend that will benefit each student.

We have here, unlimited possibilities and resources waiting to be developed. What the campus needs is a strong student government that represents the students and not place their own personal interests before the student body's interests.

The way to progress, now, is by improving communication between the students and their representatives. I would like to see an office established where someone will be covering for all the classes all the time. This way students can contact one of the class officers through the person covering the office. This eliminates unnecessary delays and offers a direct line between students and class officers.

BRAD RANDALL - Freshman President

If I were elected freshman president I would like to see the following things done!

1. Better representation of freshman class. I will make myself available to my fellow class members.
2. I would like to see more activities that would bring the students of this campus together. Activities of a common interest to the masses and not only the picnickers and dancers.

DORIS BERUBE -Senator-at-Large

I am in favor of the following:

1. Day Care Center
2. More interest in the Student Body.
3. More communications between depts on campus. I have been active in politics at Victorville College and have participated in the following
 1. Class President for Victorville College.
 2. Chief delegate to Junior College Convention.
 3. Co-chairwoman for Day Care Center, Victorville College.
 4. Delegate to the Women Leadership Convention in Ventura.

Vote NO ON PROPOSITION NO. 1

Proposition No. 1, Governor Reagan's proposal to revise California's tax structure, is fraudulent. Its appearance on the November 6 ballot is directly related to Reagan's campaign to win the Republican nomination for President in 1976. A major feature of his strategy is to portray himself as a public official who actually cut taxes. But, for thinking Californians, the important question is how the tax reduction would be achieved.

CALIFORNIA STATE TAXES CAN BE REDUCED IN THREE WAYS

- Shifting the task of providing services (schools, hospitals, correctional facilities, welfare assistance, law enforcement, etc.) from the state to local government. This shift would raise local taxes by the same amount as the state lowered state taxes. The net effect upon the taxpayer is zero.
- Reducing state support without an equivalent increase in local government support. If this were done, the cost of the services formerly provided by government would be shifted to the individual citizen. For example, if the government reduced its support of the University of California and the California State University and Colleges, these systems would be forced to raise tuition by an amount equal to the loss of government support. This could mean tuition of $2,500 a year or more.
- Forcing individual citizens who could not afford to pay for the services formerly provided by government to do without the services. In other words, if you can't raise the $2,500 tuition, forget about college. If you can't afford medical care, suffer in silence. If you can't afford psychiatric help, that's too bad. If we, as a people, can't afford decent correctional facilities, forget about rehabilitation. If we can't afford to make life comfortable for our aged and disabled, let them wait to die on minimal subsistence.

UPC BELIEVES...

The United Professors of California does not believe that you, our students, will be satisfied with any of these alternatives. We hope you agree with us that California is wealthy enough to ensure its citizens a good education, decent medical care and the other requisites of a civilized society.

Vote NO on Proposition 1!

Vote NO on Reagan's tax fraud!

Vote NO on November 6!

RICHARD FEHN - Senator-at-Large

- Investigate the possibility of subsidizing bookstore to lower book costs. This would have direct effect on ALL students.

Try to increase interest among students in their government. Fair representation in the Pawprint. Easy access to government and information for students.

Experience: Senior Class Secretary, President Honor Society, Editor Yearbook, Editor newspaper, Chairman School social committee.

STEVE SOMERS

Joint ticket for Freshman Veep

We, Marte and Steve believe that two heads are better than one. We feel that two people in one office will have more ideas and twice the motivation.

The office of Vice-President is notoriously known as a do-nothing job. We feel we can put an end to this connotation and start some fruitful activities.

Some of the activities that we would like to see on campus are rock bands in the gym, better movies, and open forums. We feel that the activities heppening on campus are under attended and the major reason is gross apathy and lack of publicity.

We feel that office of Vice-President is exactly what the people who are elected make of it.

Marte and Steve would like to thank you for reading this.

Marte Lightstone

I grew up in the mountains, out where the snakes have legs; the hootowls speak English and the roosters lay square eggs.

I shaved my beard and mustache the morning I was born, that night I beat up my old man and drank his rye and corn.

I'm a truthful fellow, they call me True Blue Bill, I never told a falsehood and I bet I never will. Once I was a pilot and in my aeroplane, I flew across to Paris and started home again;

But when I got halfway over the doggone motor balked, So I let the durn thing sit up there and I got out and walked.

Once I was shipwrecked on an island in the sea, By cannibals I was captured and tied up to a tree. They danced and beat their tom-toms, They got rather rough, But they said I wouldn't make good steak, Cause I was to damn tough; I'm a truthful fellow, they call me True Blue Bill, I never told a falsehood and I bet I never will. The father of our country never told a Lie, And he was my great uncle, so I ask, Why should I?

RALEIGH STRADER - Senator-at-Large

Several things are expected of a Senator-at-Large. Here is a list of things that I feel are some of the most important and if elected, I will do my best to fulfill them:

1. Senators should attend every Senate meeting, if at all possible. There has recently been difficulty in even getting a quorum of senators because of absentees.
2. Senators should be responsible to the students that he is representing; that is, he should be available at certain times to discuss the issues coming before the Senate with interested parties. If a student is interested, he (or she) can attend the student government meetings, read the minutes and coming agenda at all indoor campus bulletin boards, or stop by the ASB Trailer.
3. The financial priorities should be based on trying to do the most good for the most amount of students as well as certain much needed causes. Students should be interested in this area, since student government is spending your money which amounts to thousands of dollars every year.

Student government does work if everyone does his part. Office holders are presently working on more fun activities that more people like and finding out what students would like to see done in the future, and I support those actions. I think we can really bring this campus together and make it better for everyone.
