Rita J. Simon Speaks On The Insanity Defense

by Elrond Lawrence

A world-renowned scholar in the fields of sociology, criminology and law will speak on the Insanity Defense at Cal State, San Bernardino on Wednesday, Nov. 13.

Professor Rita J. Simon, Dean of the School of Justice in the American University, will present a lecture discussing The Defense of Insanity from 12 noon to 1:30pm. It will be held in the Eucalyptus Room in the Lower Commons. The event is being sponsored by the Intellectual Life Committee at CSUSB.

As well as being a former editor of The American Sociological Review, Dr. Simon has authored a number of books and professional articles on criminology, sociology and law.

The topic on which she will speak, the Insanity Defense, has a special relevance in current issues, due to its influence in the outcome of trials concerning figures such as Dan White (the "Twinkie Defense") and Richard Ramirez (the "Walk-in Killer"). Recently, there have been several suggestions to change sentencing and legal definitions pertaining to this issue — suggestions which Dr. Simon will address.

An informal meeting with Dr. Simon is planned after the formal lecture. The lecture itself will be videotaped, and will be available for teaching purposes in the future.

For further information about the event, call Sandy Weiser at 887-7943.

Theatre Arts Presents
"The Clandestine Marriage"

by John Purcell

The Clandestine Marriage is a play written by David Garrick in the 18th century. The play is being put on by the CSUSB Theatre Arts Department and will run November 14, 15, 16, 20, 21, and 23. The play starts at 8:15pm and tickets can be purchased in the Theatre Arts Department Office in the Creative Arts Building. $5.00 for General Admission and $2.50 for Students.

Dr. Ronald Barnes, director of the play, is excited about the production. Having worked on putting the play together since September 26, when auditions began, Dr. Barnes has found that the play is quite special. He sees putting this particular play on as a challenge since the comedy of the play is somewhat hidden by the 18th century English which it is written in. "The actors didn't find the comedy in the play right away," Barnes says, "but as they went along they started to notice it. The challenge is that they have to transmit the humor to an audience that has just one night to understand it."

The cast members include Alicia Aultman, Carol Lynn Damgen, Jey Garcia, Manuel Gomez, Kelly M. Grenard, Dagmar Handlos, Kenneth Herring, Michele Marko, David A. Pavlo, Chris Ross, Tami Silver, Stephen Steele, Laura Vechione, and Phillip J. Wurtzel. The cast ranges from freshman to senior. Several members do attend CSUSB, however some come from schools as far away as Michigan and Texas.

Dr. Barnes stated that there is an unusually large number of freshmen in the play. He attributes this to the graduation of many of last year's students. However, some students have had to drop out.

What Is Toastmasters?

by Sue Leonard

Toastmasters International met officially on Friday, Nov. 1, in the Student Union Board Room A & B. The president of the organization is Glen Thompson.

What is Toastmasters International? It was organized in October 1924. It was started by Dr. Ralph C. Smedley and it is met in the basement of the YMCA in Santa Ana. Its purpose was to practice effective public speaking, how to prepare over meetings, and to promote sociability and good fellowship among its members.

A year later, a club was organized in Atahane, Calif. and a third followed in Los Angeles. During the 1930's another club was formed in Victoria, British Columbia, the name of the club was then changed to Toastmasters International. Membership in Toastmasters International is tough to hold a job when one has that a University theatre can provide you with an insight into this particular field. The 18th century is particularly interesting because it is the time of the American Revolution. In fact, the play was seen by George Washington in 1789.

In addition to making job contacts, students can present to the recruiting representatives questions about their specific firm to assess whether their firm will provide the student with the type of career opportunities he/she is looking for and what it would be like to work for their particular firm.

All accounting students are encouraged to attend, there will be no charge for admission. Food and beverages will be available.

Health Corner

Health Center Presents AIDS Awareness

On Tuesday, November 12th, the Health Center presented an informative film on AIDS. Both Drs. Savage and Miller participated in a question and answer session immediately following the film. If you missed the presentation, here is some general information on AIDS.

1. Is AIDs Highly Contagious? (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome)

No, it is not. Its prevalence is among a high risk population comprised of:
   a. homosexual/bisexual men (73% of cases)
   b. IV drug users (17% of cases)
   c. transfusion recipients of blood or blood products (15%)
   d. heterosexual men and women with multiple partners (only 1% now, but this figure is expected to rise)

2. How Could A Person Get AIDS?

It is contracted through:
   a. sexual contact with a known carrier (carrier means one who is asymptomatic, but has a positive antibody; has AIDS Related Complex (ARC); or has full blown AIDS). Susceptibility has been overstated in popular media.
   b. parenteral inoculation from used needles or blood products of a known carrier (IV drug abuser).
   c. percutaneous inoculation from using needles or blood products of a known carrier (IV drug abuser).

3. Could I Get AIDS If I Shook Hands With Someone Who Has AIDS?

No. There are many mistaken ideas floating around on ways that people can contract AIDS. You cannot get AIDS by:
   a. living with and touching a carrier in a classroom or other public places.
   b. fflying food served by a carrier, or using a shower with or after a carrier.
   c. coming in casual contact with another person's saliva.
   d. using a washbasin, toilet seat, shower after a carrier, or using a swimming pool, hot tub, or shower with or after a carrier.

Some other relevant information you should be aware of is:
   a. in regards to contagion, the virus is carried by 5% of the adult population. This translates into a real potential of one million carriers within the next several years of which 5-20% will contract the full blown syndrome, another 30-40% may contract AIDS Related Complex (ARC), and the remainder will possibly be carriers for their lifetime.
   b. The virus is present in all the body fluids of a carrier, but when exposed to air or water is short lived. No case of saliva-to-saliva transmission has been documented, but exchange of saliva through kissing theoretically carries some risk.
   c. Testing for antibody is useful for screening blood donors, but not the general population because of false positives and inability to predict who, among the positive, will develop the disease.
   d. As the majority of carriers as asymptomatic, quarantine is of no value in controlling transmission.

The Making of “Mona”

"Mona," a rock & roll video about the life and martyrdom of a young girl, will be shown Nov. 18 at 1pm and again at 7pm in the SUMP. There is no charge.

The song "Mona," singer-songwriter Doug Cameron's testimony to the resolve of a 16-year old girl who was hanged with a dozen other women and children by Iranian revolutionary authorities solely for her religious beliefs, has steadily climbed both Canadian radio and television video charts since its release there last summer.

Cameron has included interviews with Doug Cameron and friends of Mona, as well as country stars Seals and Crofts.

The event is being sponsored by Cal State's Baha'i Club. "The video has already been shown on quite a few local music video shows. Accompanying the music video for the campus event is a short documentary on the making of the video, which includes interviews with Doug Cameron and classmates and relatives of Mona's, as well as country music stars and popular artists Seals and Crofts.

The event is being sponsored by Cal State's Baha'i Club. "The video has already been shown on quite a few college campuses, including UCLA, USC, and UCR," club president Michael Heister said. "What we hope to do is reach people with the story of the spiritual strength of those who have committed these atrocious acts. It has been their goal to force Iran's Baha'is to recant their faith," Heister said.

"Mona's case is particularly touching because in their effort to force the Baha'i women they had kidnapped to recant, to say there are no Baha'is, the authorities hanged them one by one as the others watched. Mona asked to be last so she could pray for the spiritual strength of the others.

Pfau Library provides more than just books

by Brian Stevens

The Pfau Library at CSUSB is the second largest in the Inland Empire, housing well over 420,000 books and 3,000 periodicals.

The assortment of periodicals include, Road and Track, Michigan Mathematical Journal, Advertising Age, Air Force Journal and Reader's Digest. Also contained in the library are over 7,000 records and tapes, covering Culture Club to Bach, and stereo equipment is provided for listening to them.

The Pfau Library has a complete room devoted to microfilm on the first floor. Also the library contains American and foreign telephone books, photocopy machines, pamphlets, art prints, maps, annual reports and a Curriculum Library.

Registration will be streamlined

by Midge Thornton

CSUSB will adopt a computer assisted registration system next fall to provide more efficient scheduling procedures.

The early registration to be held in late April will help adjust the class schedule according to student demand, CSUSB registrar Jo Ann Von Wald said. The registration is held early enough to drop or add courses from the schedule. Students receive early registration materials in March and April, and will be able to register early until August 19. The only requirement for students to register early is advising prior to registration, Von Wald said.

Registration materials can be mailed or returned in person. The new registration will take less time, for students to complete.

Early registrations will receive a confirmation schedule in September. If there are conflicts in scheduled classes, students participate in a priority add/drop before walk-through registration or late registration.

The new system is similar to those already in use at other CSU campuses. Carol Jones, registrar at Cal State Fullerton, says the system there is very effective and makes registration easier for everyone involved.

She recommended the system for any campus. “Regardless of the number of people you're dealing with,” Jones said, “the system is very effective.”

Ms. Jones admits that problems do occur with the system, but the errors are almost always human.

Statistics show that 68 percent of the students at Cal State Fullerton get complete and accurate schedules with the computerized system. Ms. Jones said. Students who don’t prefer selected schedules participate in a special add/drop before priority add/drop and walk through registration.

Specialists can help you write—the right way

by Kimberley Amos

Students needing assistance in writing can receive it Monday through Friday in the Writing Center, located in SS 114.

The CSUSB Writing Center has a staff of 11 tutors who help 35 to 40 students a day. “If a student is willing and wants to improve and comes in, they can't help but become better at writing,” said tutor Robbi Hart.

Part of the Writing Center's goal is to provide support for students in composition courses such as English 99, 100, 101, and 495.

The majority of students are seen on an appointment basis, but drop-in hours are provided Monday 9-10am and 2-3pm, Tuesday 2-3pm, Wednesday 2-3pm, Thursday 10-11am and 3-4pm, and Friday 9-10am and 11-Noon.
CSUSB Hits The Bigtime?

The appearance of George Plimpton last month brought a near capacity crowd to the Student Union Multipurpose room. The people were amazed at his accounts of how he literally put himself in the shoes of participants in just about every major league sport as well as at least one reputable symphony orchestra while writing for Sports Illustrated. This November 21st, the controversial political comedian Wally George (who emcees the "Hot Seat" show on KOCE TV Channel 56, in Anaheim) will ridicule various "left wing" groups. But I thought that I knew my way to and around campus fairly well. That is until Saturday, Oct. 19th.

The last threads of my sanity were seriously challenged when I tried the following directions... I finally came to the middle of the room, and there, in front of me, were wall to wall people. It was all completely unfamiliar to me. I quickly learned that it wasn't as easy a job as I thought it would be working behind the scenes. I figured, what all could there be to a running of a debate tournament? I thought all one would have to do was answer a few questions and tabulate the results. Wrong!

Then it was too late to turn back, I had been sucked into the excitement of the tournament. I joined the ranks of the "unsung heroes", made up of students and professors, co-working, and from time to time, helping with the running of the tournament. I made a dent in the enormous cost. For example, it cost approximately $4,500 (which included airfare and accommodations) to have George Plimpton speak for 250 people who paid $20 each if they were students, and $30 each if they were not students. An area with a seating capacity of 2,000 or more would be far more appropriate if we are to recoup any significant amount of such expenditures.

In the end, Sandy Weiser of the A.S. Special Events Dept. believes there will be "indirect benefits in the long run," because of the increased publicity and attention that will be drawn to Cal State by the appearance of noted speakers. According to Ms. Weiser, this will ultimately result in greater student enrollment as well as increased popularity of the school, and a more impressive reputation. Also, once enrollment has grown enough, the school can afford to build a new large auditorium that will seat enough people to make big name speakers a financial asset. The financial losses being incurred now are only temporary and can be considered the price we pay for building CSUSB's reputation as a cultural as well as an academic institution, which known to the community at large and more attractive to prospective students.
