NEW ACADEMIC YEAR BEGINS NEXT MONDAY

Cal State, San Bernardino's 1977 Fall Quarter gets underway next Monday, September 19. The initial function is the General Faculty Meeting of the academic year being held in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building at 9:30 a.m.

President John M. Pfau will welcome new faculty and administrators. School Deans and Dean of Students will introduce the new members on their staffs, followed by a talk by Vice President for Academic Affairs Gerald M. Scherba who will touch on academic programs.

Directors of various other programs on campus, such as Faculty Development and Desert Studies Center will give brief presentations on their projects.

Registration packets become available at the Admissions and Records Office also next Monday, beginning at 9 a.m.

Advising for Fall Quarter has been scheduled for Thursday, September 22 and Friday, September 23. Because Thursday, September 22 will be a religious holiday (Yom Kippur) for some students, the two advising days will not be designated for specific class levels as they have been in the past. Students may seek advisement on either day.

Orientation for new students will be held Wednesday, September 21.

Registration will be in the Gym Monday and Tuesday, September 26 and 27.

Classes begin and late registration is on Thursday, September 29.

COLLEGE BOOKSTORE BLDG.
OPENS DOORS NEXT WEEK The College's new Bookstore opens next Monday, September 19. The new 5,000 sq. ft. building, built at a cost of $141,930, will have nearly double the amount of selling space of former quarters.

With new hours tailored to fit the needs of the students, especially the evening students, the hours will vary in three stages from the first week of the quarter to the second and fifth week.

A new check-out system with three fully-equipped check-out counters (which could be increased to four if necessary) will permit more rapid processing of customers, especially at peak periods.

With more space available the Bookstore will offer a wider variety of items for sale, including art supplies, novels and non-fiction books.

Jim Arabatzis, Bookstore Manager, was fortunate to purchase counters, display cases and other fixtures from the Cal State, LA Bookstore last January. They were placed in storage until completion of the building. Purchase of other fixtures and equipment has brought the total cost of the facility to $160,000. However, the building is nearly paid for, with only $30,000 remaining on a Foundation loan. The building was financed from non-State funds through the College Foundation.

NEW SERRANO RESIDENCE DIRECTOR ON CAMPUS

The new Serrano Village Residence Director is no stranger to dorms. In fact, he is a veteran of six consecutive years of residence hall living. Now going into his seventh year, William Gordon will make Serrano Village his home as he takes over the duties of Residence Director.

Mr. Gordon comes to the Cal State campus from Colorado State U at Ft. Collins where he worked as assistant hall director and later as hall director.

At Serrano he will work through the HR's (eight upper division students who serve as house resource persons assigned to the dorms) to lend assistance to student residents by offering counseling, help, or just being available for a good talk. He will supervise the Village and administer the in-residence program. He will advise the student groups and work through various College offices in his role as general counselor to the students.

A native of San Angelo, Texas, the residence director went far afield for his higher education, earning a B.A. in economics from U of Vermont and his M.A. in student personnel administration from Colorado State U.

Mr. Gordon also holds the distinction of being the first married residence director. It was at Colorado State U that he met his wife, Karen, who was then an H.R. Mrs. Gordon will enter the CSCSB credential program this fall as a graduate student.

This year's population at Serrano Village is expected to hit over 280. Last year's figures totaled 250.

ent low bid on the proposed Student Health Center.

HOPED FOR STUDENT UNION ready for occupancy around mid-October.

CAMPUS MALL The new campus mall landscape and walkway project is nearing NEARS COMPLETION completion. Grass is being planted today and the work is expected to be finished some time next week.

This is the first phase of a larger mall which is expected to be completed in two additional phases within several years.

LIBRARY INSTALLS In an effort to improve its level of service and to make sure ELECTRONIC BOOK that Library materials are available to patrons when needed, the SECURITY SYSTEM Library has installed an electronic book security system, which will greatly eliminate the need for manual briefcase and parcel inspection. While the CSCSB Library has traditionally experienced a low rate of theft and mutilation of materials compared to other academic libraries, even a low loss rate results in inconvenience to patrons and expenditure of funds which could be used for new materials. The average price of a new book is over $15.
