Cal State Nominee Is CSU Outstanding Professor

Dr. Diane F. Halpern, the San Bernardino campus' outstanding professor for 1986, was named as one of the two outstanding professors in the CSU system by the Board of Trustees Tuesday.

A member of the faculty here since 1981, Dr. Halpern is noted for motivating her students to excel, for her internationally recognized work in cognitive psychology and for her community efforts on behalf of "hard-to-place children" up for adoption. She is an authority in the area of critical thinking, has published widely in the field and is a founder of the National Council for Excellence in Critical Thinking Instruction.

In addition to teaching, Dr. Halpern is the associate dean of undergraduate programs. She instituted the undergraduate academic advisement center and formulated policies for student retention and prohibition of sexual harassment.

As CSU outstanding professor, she will receive an award of $1000 plus the opportunity to present guest lectures on other campuses. The other honoree for this year is Dr. Nicholas P. Hardeman, professor of history at Cal State, Long Beach.

Dr. Halpern is the second San Bernardino campus nominee chosen for the top honor. Dr. Frances Berdan, professor of anthropology, was named in 1983. The campus has participated in the program since 1981.

School of Business Dean Candidates Interview Here

The five applicants for the dean of the School of Business and Public Administration will be on campus within the next week. Faculty, staff and students will have the opportunity to meet the candidates during open forum sessions.

Dr. Weston Agor of the University of Texas, El Paso will appear in an open forum this afternoon from 1:30-2:30 p.m. in Student Union Rooms A&B. He is professor and director of the masters in public administration program. From 1978-82, he was director of the MPA program and chair of the Politics and Public Affairs Department at the University of Miami, Coral Gables as well as a visiting professor at Cal State, Long Beach. Prior to that he developed academic policy positions for the State of Michigan. Dr. Agor has written extensively in the field of management as well as consulted for many leading organizations nationally.

Dr. David Porter will be available in an open forum from 2:45-3:45 p.m., Monday, March 17 in the Eucalyptus Room. He currently is director of the Idaho Department of Commerce, responsible for economic and community development and travel promotion activities for the state. Prior to that he was campaign manager for Congressman Richard Stallings in 1982. His teaching experience includes the University of Texas, Austin; LBJ School of Public Affairs; George Washington; UC Riverside and Wayne State. He holds a Ph.D. in political science with an emphasis in economics.

Dr. August Ralston will meet in an open forum from 1:30-2:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 18 in SU A&B. He is associate dean of the College of Business Administration at Iowa State University as well as acting chair of the Marketing Department. He joined the university as associate director of the School of Business Administration in 1982. Previously he was director of the Insurance and Risk Management Institute within the Graduate School of Business at USC and he has taught at Bowling Green State and Valparaiso Universities.

Cal State Associates Sponsor Bus Trip To Ramona Pageant

The Cal State Associates' bus trip to the Ramona Pageant on Saturday, April 19 is open to faculty and staff, as well as members of the group, Chairman Don McKenzie announced.

The pageant, Helen Hunt Jackson's memorable story of early California, is presented in an outdoor amphitheatre near Hemet every spring. Thousands of visitors flock to the site to see the cast of more than 300 townspeople retell the poignant love story of Ramona and her Indian hero.

The Cal State Associates' excursion will include refreshments on the bus enroute to the afternoon performance and dinner before returning home. The price of $35 per person includes pageant ticket, transportation and dinner. Departure time is noon.

Reservations, accompanied by a check, should be made with McKenzie, AD 149, by Wednesday, March 19.

Coaches Named For Baseball/Softball

Chuck Deagle and Jo Ann Bly have been named coaches for Cal State's first baseball and softball teams, respectively. The initial teams for men's baseball and women's softball will be assembled in January 1987.

Deagle currently is head baseball coach at the University of Redlands. His most recent honor includes being selected NCAA Division III West Coach of the Year for 1985, after coaching the Redlands team to the final four of the division's College World Series. In addition, he was nominated for National Coach of the Year honors. Prior to coaching for four years at the university, Deagle was head baseball coach at Fontana, Banning and Paradise High Schools.

Ms. Bly, Cal State women's basketball coach, will develop the new women's softball team based on her nine years of experience in the sport. She played for Ohio State and Cal State, Long Beach as well as served as a player-coach in San Francisco. A versatile player, she earned League MVP honors and first team all-state (left field) in Ohio. She also earned the "Best Batting Average" award in Ohio with her .615 mark.
