Cinco de Mayo Celebration Features Varied Festivities

Cinco de Mayo will be celebrated on the Cal State, San Bernardino campus with a month of festivities including coronation of a queen, music, food and lectures and the annual Hispanic faculty and staff banquet.

The traditional fiesta with food, music and dancing will be May 5, the anniversary of the Mexican defeat of the French, on the lower Commons patio.

For the Students

Two events for Cal State, San Bernardino students will launch the celebration. The activities begin Friday evening, April 28 with a dance and the coronation of a Cinco de Mayo queen. The event, held in the upper Commons, is sponsored by MEChA and the Latino Business Students Association as a fund-raiser.

All student organizations will be invited to a potluck picnic from 11:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., Sunday, April 30 on the softball field.

Public Events

A keynote address on Wednesday evening, May 3 will begin the activities which are open to the entire campus community and the public as well. Dr. Ray Buriel, professor of psychology at Pomona College, will speak on "La Cultura Latino-Americana--A Rich History of Traditions and Diversity."

The free talk begins at 7 p.m. in the Sycamore Room of the Commons. Dr. Buriel is affiliated with the Tomas Rivera Center and the Chicano Studies Center at the Claremont Colleges.

A concert of Mexican music will be presented at 7 p.m., Thursday, May 4 in the upper Commons by Son Cuatro and Rosa Mareta Zarate. Son Cuatro is a quartet of musicologists from Mexico, who present music in different rhythms. Rosa Marta Zarate, a composer and recorder from the area, is known for her work in cancion nueva, a movement of new blends and ballads popular in Latin America.

Fiesta

Costumed dancers, spirited music and the aroma of a traditional Mexican meal will fill the lower Commons Plaza

Legislator Woodruff on Campus April 28

Assemblyman Paul Woodruff (R-District 61), who is a graduate of the university, will be on campus Friday morning, April 28 to meet with faculty, students and administrators.

Woodruff, who serves on the Assembly Education Committee and the Committee on Elections, Reapportionment and Constitutional Amendments, was elected last fall to succeed his former mentor, Bill Leonard. He had been an administrative aide for Leonard for seven years and also served in Sacramento with Assemblyman Tom McClintock.

In his first campus visit since his election, Woodruff will speak at 10 a.m. to the American government class taught by Dr. James Thomas, one of his former professors.

All students are invited to meet with Woodruff from 10:45 to 11:30 a.m. in the Pine Room of the Commons, said Dr. Judith M. Rymer, vice president for university relations.

Woodruff will be available to talk with faculty from 11:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m., also in the Pine Room. All faculty are invited to this session, Dr. Rymer said.

Before leaving campus, Woodruff will have lunch with President Anthony H. Evans and other administrators.

Woodruff earned his B.A. in political science in 1983. As a student he was involved in political issues and in bringing speakers to campus.

from 11 a.m. to 2:45 p.m., Friday, May 5.

The lunch, catered by San Bernardino Calpulli - L. Pueblo, is being sponsored by the Associated Students' Ethnic Cultural Committee.

Entertainers will be Mariachi California from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.; Folklórico California, from 1 to 1:45 p.m.; and the Aztec dancers Xipe Totec, from 2 to 2:45 p.m.

Scholarship Banquet

The Hispanic Faculty and Staff Association invites the campus community to join in its fourth annual scholarship banquet Saturday evening, May 13 at the Inland Empire Hilton Hotel, said Mike Arredondo (Campus Stores/Receiving), president.

Student achievement will be recognized through the awarding of scholarships to outstanding Hispanic students. Seven scholarships totaling $3000 will be given--$2000 to continuing students and $1000 to incoming freshmen.

The university's new librarian, Dr. William Aguilar, will be the featured speaker, discussing "The Information Needs of Hispanics."

The banquet begins at 7 p.m., following a no-host social hour. "Night Life" will provide music for the dancing which follows the dinner. Reservations, at $30 per person, should be made by May 10 with Tony Vilches 825-2277 or Reyes Rios 887-2468.

Faculty Lectures

A series of three lectures by university faculty, a presentation on business opportunities for Hispanics and a panel on minority student leadership also are part of the Cinco de Mayo calendar.

Joe Moran (Art) will be first with a talk on "The Contributions of Joe Posada to Chicano Art" at 7 p.m., Wednesday, May 10.

Dr. Stella Clark (Spanish/Foreign Languages), will speak on "Contributions of Contemporary Mexican Writers to Literature," at 7 p.m., Monday, May 15.

Dr. Barbara Flores (Education), will give a presentation on "Towards a Critical Pedagogy: the Philosophy of Paula Freire," at 7 p.m., Wednesday, May 17. The three faculty talks are in the lower Commons.

Business opportunities will be explored by Dr. Jerry Porras, professor of organizational behavior at Stanford University, and Gus Cardenas, national liaison for Hispanic affairs for Xerox Corporation. During a noon presentation for students on Monday, May 22, they will discuss "Careers in Business and Business Education for Minorities." Various classes will be invited to the talk, to begin at noon in the Sycamore Room.

That evening, at 7 o'clock in the Recital Hall, the two men will speak to a general audience on "Latinos in Contemporary Business Environments: Changing Trends." Leadership Issues

Issues of minority student leaders in the 1990s will be explored by a panel including Dr. Juan Gonzalez (President's Office) and Claudia Hurtado, Latino Business Students Association president, and Eloisa Rivera, MEChA president. This program will begin at 7 p.m., Wednesday, May 24 in the Sycamore Room.

Concluding the activities will be the Ballet Folklorico Cultural, with a program of Mexican folk dances, at 7 p.m., Tuesday, May 30 in the lower Commons plaza.

Show of Greek Vases to Open Here May 5

An exhibit of 54 Greek vases, dating from 600 B.C. to the third century A.D., will open in the Art Gallery Friday, May 5.

The pieces, from the collection of Hanita and Aaron Dechter of Los Angeles, will be on display through June 2.

A free, public reception from 7 to 9 p.m., May 5 will open the exhibit.

Simultaneously, the Friends of the Gallery will present Professor Richard Brilliant of Columbia University in their fourth annual Friends lecture. Brilliant, an internationally known scholar, will speak at 7 p.m. in VA 110 on "Greek and Roman Classicism: The Creation and the Recollection of an Ideal."

"The harmonious proportions and range of shapes for which Greek vases have long been admired are seen to advantage in this exhibition," says Dr. Julius Kaplan (Art/Graduate Programs), who is coordinating the show. Mythological scenes depicted on the vases include Dionysus, the god of wine; the deeds of Hercules, Homeric heroes and animals, real and imaginary.

"This beautiful and diverse collection contains many Greek, Etruscan and south Italian vases, with a smaller number that are Cypriot, Hellenistic and Roman," he explained.

A catalog produced by the university will accompany the exhibition. Entries have been written by world-renowned scholars from The Metropolitan Museum in New York, UC Berkeley, Australia and the J. Paul Getty Museum. Dr. Kenneth Hamma from the Getty edited the catalog, which makes a significant contribution to the field, said Dr. Kaplan.

Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

It's Music to Your Ears

One of the fringe benefits of the university's new telephone system has been the music one hears when placed on hold.

In selecting the pieces, the university picked light classical music, all instrumental. The 10 disks now in the telephone's musical library are rotated.

Performers include Horowitz with "Favorite Encores," Itzak Perlman with the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra in four Vivaldi concertos, and the Cleveland Orchestra with three dances from "The Bartered Bride" and Slavonic dances by Dvorak. Several Brandenburg concertos (but not the 1912 Overture with the canons) and a Baroque album with pieces by Telemann, Scarlatti, Bach and Couperin are heard. The Smetana Quartet plays Mozart's String Quartets No. 3 and 4.

Health Insurance Premiums to Increase

Premiums are expected to increase in July for five of the health insurance plans available to university employees.

Increases for employees with two or more dependents will be imposed by Health Net and Partners Health Plan, both health maintenance organizations (HMO).

Across-the-board increases face employees covered by Police Officers Research Association of California (PORAC) and PERS-CARE, both fee-for-service plans, and Ross-Loos/Cigna, an HMO.

Expected to decrease are family coverage for Kaiser Health Plan, Maxicare, Equicor and Family Health Program.

PERS has recommended the state's contribution toward health plans be increased from $110 to $129 for employee only, from $206 to $241 for employee with one dependent, and from $268 to $309 for employee with two or more dependents, explained Marjorie Callaghan, benefits officer in Personnel.

However, this state contribution is subject to approval by Gov. Deukmejian when he considers the 1989-90 budget. "If the proposed state contribution is not approved, all premium rates will increase accordingly," she stressed.

Unfortunately, Ms. Callaghan said, employees must make their decisions on health benefits coverage during an earlier open enrollment period and before the decision on the state's share is known.

The open enrollment period this year will be from May 1 to June 16. Previously, it had been in September-October.

Dance Concert Features Students

Works choreographed and performed by members of the university's dance club, Dance Images, and its artistic director, Gilda Gant, will be presented at the spring dance concert May 5-6.

The program will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall. Admission is $5 adults and $3 students. CSUSB students are admitted free.

Three guest artists each will be choreographing one number with their students. They are Jo Dierdorff, with her Riverside Community College students; Paula Naggi, with University of California, Riverside students; and Stephanie Gilliland, with area dancers.

Ms. Gant, a member of the faculty of the Department of Physical Education, and Dance Images hosted a week's residency by the Dance Art Company of San Francisco during April. Duncan Macfarland of Dance Art choreographed a dance for Dance Images, Ms. Gant and the other participants which will be premiered at the May 5-6 concert.

Because last year's single concert was sold out, the performance this year was expanded to two evenings.

Tickets may be secured from Gilda Gant at the Physical Education Department. Checks, made payable to the CSUSB Foundation, should be sent to her prior to April 30. Tickets will be held at the box office. Any not picked up by 8:15 p.m., curtain time, will be resold.

The box office will open an hour before the concert and tickets can be purchased that evening.

tosh computers and other vendors will demonstrate their products. Drawings for free gifts also will be held.

The Bookstore also will offer special prices for hardware and software to university students and employees during the week of April 24-28.

Environmental Expo

Theme of the 1989 Environmental Expo on Saturday, April 29 will be "Linking Citizens with Recycling, Waste Management and Resource Conservation."

Exhibits, displays and hands-on activities for children will be situated throughout the campus. The Nature Bowl, an environmental contest for fifth- and sixth-grade teams, and Mr. Thomas Edison, a problem-solving presentation, are designed to increase student awareness.

The environmental education fair, which also includes workshops for teachers, is coordinated by Dr. Darleen Stoner (School of Education). Businesses, schools, governmental agencies and other organizations present displays and exhibits.

Group Discounts

University employees can get group discount rates for the Renaissance Pleasure Faire, to be May 13 to June 25 at Glen Helen Park, and the Scottish Festival, May 27-28 in Costa Mesa, by purchasing their tickets at the Personnel Office.

Savings for the Renaissance Pleasure Fair tickets are $4 on an adult ticket and $3 for a child's ticket. Savings for the Scottish Festival are $3 and $1.50.

Information on ticket prices and other details is available from Personnel, Ext. 5138, SS 151.

Sister, Can You Spare an Envelope

Interoffice envelopes seem to have a way of disappearing from offices, never to surface, reports an office which sends out more than it receives back.

If faculty and staff who have numerous spare interoffice envelopes in their possession would turn them over to their secretaries, then other offices could "borrow" when needed.

Faculty Regalia

The last day for faculty to order their commencement garb from the Bookstore is Friday, May 5. The graduation ceremony for the Class of 1989 will be Saturday, June 17, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Let Your Fingers Do the Walking

Getting help from a long-distance operator is pretty costly.

In the first six weeks of the university's new telephone system, employees have incurred $736 worth of directory-assistance calls.

These charges will be reflected on departmental phone bills for April, reports Don McKenzie (Budget and Telecommu-

Health Fair Expo

Exhibits, displays and a visit by Miss San Bernardino are among the fringe benefits available at the Southern California Health Fair Expo on campus Sunday, April 23.

Miss San Bernardino will take the blood pressure of fraternity members.

Health screenings available for free include blood pressure, height, weight, vision acuity, skin-fold testing, oral/dental, hearing and health histories. For a $15 fee, participants can receive a blood test which gives results for a 27-part blood panel.

The health fair will be at the gymnasium from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Spring MacFest

The Coyote Bookstore will host a Spring MacFest from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday, April 24 in the SUMP.

Apple Computer will display their latest Macin-nication). "This expense represents more than 2000 local directory assistance calls to 411 at a cost of $544 and an additional 530 long-distance directory-assistance calls at a cost of $192, he said.

Each directory-assistance call to an Area Code 714 number (that is, 411) is 25 cents. Directory assistance for other area codes within California costs 35 cents and outside California 60 cents.

"Please bear these costs in mind when placing directory-assistance calls as they will be charged to your departmental telephone bill," McKenzie urged. With the new telephone system, the university now is able to identify the source of the directory assistance calls.

For departments interested in purchasing telephone directories from other cities, McKenzie can provide cost estimates.

36 Students to Study at Another Campus

College campuses from Hawaii to Puerto Rico will be the destination of 36 Cal State students next year.

Through the National Student Exchange Program, these students will study at another campus while maintaining their residency here, explained Dr. Theron Pace, director of the NSE program.

Three students each will go to the University of New Hampshire and the University of South Florida.

Attracting two students each are the University of Hawaii, Manoa; University of Puerto, Utah State University, University of South Carolina and University of Delaware.

The other universities the Cal State, San Bernardino students will attend during 1989-90 (one each) include: Southern Oregon State College, Oregon State University, Illinois State University, Oakland University, SUNY at Stony Brook, Alabama State University, Montana State University, Towson State University, University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, Western State College, North Carolina State University, Rutgers University, University of Nevada, Las Vegas,

Outstanding Student Nominations

Faculty and staff are urged by Vice President Peter A. Wilson (Student Services) to help in the process of recognizing the outstanding graduate and undergraduate student for the 1988-89 year.

Nominations are sought for the awards, which will be presented at the June 17 commencement ceremonies. The deadline for submitting nominations is April 30.

Nomination forms, which must be accompanied by a letter addressed to Dr. Wilson, are available in the school offices, Student Services, the Associated Students office and the Student Union.

Criteria for the undergraduate award include senior standing, 3.5 GPA here and a 3.0 in all college work, and demonstrated service and leadership. For the graduate award, the criteria are: completion of all work by commencement, superior academic/scholastic performance, demonstrated service and leadership and a curriculum vita. Three confidential letters of recommendation are needed.
