Racial Make-up of City Boards and Commissions

...Have you ever seriously thought of who represents you in city government, who makes the recommendation, and decisions that affects your life on a daily basis? Have you ever thought who represents the city government from the Black or Hispanic community. If you have not you might be in for a real shocker.

...In a survey of the various quasi-government boards and commissions conducted by the Black Voice staff the following statistics were obtained:

...A total of 117 citizens serve on 14 city boards and commissions, in the City of Riverside, 7 are Black and 10 are Hispanic. Percentage wise 5 percent are Black and 8.3 percent are Hispanic. Only 4 of the 14 boards-commissions have Black representation. Out of the 7 Blacks that serve 4 are on the Community Relations Commission, one each serve on the Planning and Personnel Board. There are no Blacks on these bodies: Park and Recreation, Library, Airport, Public Utility, Zoning, Design Review, Environmental Protection, Mayor's Commission on Aging, Museum, Parking-Streets and Redevelopment Agency (council members). When the question was asked, has HAVE Blacks served in the past only 3 boards were able to respond yes. One Board staff member said we were being too nosy in asking these questions. Only 5 of the 14 boards-commission have Hispanic representation. Out of the 10 Mexican Americans who serve 4 are on the Community Relations Commission and 3 serve on the Fairmont Advisory Commission. There is no Hispanic representation on these boards: Library, Airport, PUC, Zoning Design Review, Mayor's Commission on Aging, Parking, Personnel, Planning or Redevelopment.

...A cursory glance at the composition of the Riverside City Council clearly shows that there is no effort to seek equal representation for any of the ethnic groups.

...It is our opinion that in order for the Blacks and Hispanics to receive equal representation on these various Boards and Commissions, is for them to seek elected positions on the city council.

...We encourage full participation in the government that governs our lives, whether they be elected or appointed positions, if we are to be truly "A government of the people, by the people, for the people."

...We would be remiss in our analysis of the current statistics to lay all of the blame on the elected officials. Citizens, Black and Hispanic must take the initiative to seek out appointments, be involved in the political process before, during and after elections.

Happy New Year!

THOUSANDS MASSACRED IN UGANDA

PASADENA - There is now no doubt that thousands of Ugandans were massacred in October, and the world now knew. Much of the fighting was "a massacre of innocents," according to Mrs. Dorothy Smoker of African Enterprise in Nairobi, Kenya.

"There are conflicting reports of why this happened," said Mrs. Smoker in a telephone interview today, "but with confirmations from two eyewitnesses, there is no doubt that hundreds of thousands of people have fled out of the West Nile province into bordering Zaire and Sudan. They have escaped with only the clothes on their back. Some are dying of malnutrition and exposure, and the children especially are in danger."

A mass attack was launched on October 12, according to Mrs. Smoker, by the Acholi and Langi tribes in northern Uganda. The target was three tribes: the Kakwa (former dictator Idi Amin's tribe), the Lugbara and the Madi. The fighting was fierce and merciless, killing men, women and children alike, in revenge for serious wrongs done to the Acholi and Langi people.

The large town of Arua (20,000 people) was destroyed by shelling a burning," said Mrs. Smoker. "It was a massacre of innocents most of the time. Fortunately, most in Arua fled and are now in Aru, Zaire, and Kakajaju, Sudan. But many of these refugees have been walking as long as five hours to find food. The small percentage of the population who managed to survive in West Nile lost everything of value."

One eyewitness who managed to escape the bloody massacre is the Anglican bishop of the West Nile province, Bishop Ringtho. Appealing for assistance for his destitute people, Bishop Ringtho says the bare needs include blankets, milk powder, clothes, staple foods, salt, sugar, soap, matches, kerosene and medicine, destitute.

At present, apparently, the West Nile province and all access to it through Uganda is closed, not only to reporters, but to normal transportation and communication. It is reported that even Anglican Archbishop Silvanus Wani was denied entrance to his own area.

But African Enterprise is working with such agencies as African Inland Mission, the International Red Cross, World Vision International and Across for a joint effort in emergency aid. "We feel that we need to act quickly in such an emergency," said Mrs. Smoker.

Another eyewitness, a missionary working in the area, reports that since the massacre spiritual revival has come. According to the Los Angeles Times, "Christianity in Africa is growing so fast that by the year 2000 the continent may have the greatest concentration of Christians in the world" (Mar. 21, 1980). This is just one example of the growth of the Christian church in perilous times. According to this witness, the early morning prayer meetings are full to capacity, and the people agree that "while we had our possessions, we were involved in the black market, dishonesty and luxurious living. Now that everything is gone, we have Jesus who is more important than everything else."

Food To Be Used For Peace

Women Triple In Medical Schools

According to the Journal of the American Medical Assn., the percentage of women entering the nation's 126 medical schools have more than tripled. Ten years ago women made up 9.2 percent of new medical students and last year they accounted for 25.2 percent. The ethnic percentages were basically the same at 13 percent. Most institutions are working on ways to limit class sizes.

First Black Named To Reagan Cabinet

Mr. Samuel R. Pierce Jr. is the first Black named to the President-elect's cabinet. He will serve as Secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

Mr. Pierce, 58 years old, was born in the wealthy New York City suburb of Glen Cove on Long Island, where his father supervised the locker room at the Nassau Country Club. Mr. Pierce is a graduate of Cornell University.

There he was selected for the PhiBeta Kappa scholastic honorary society and was a good halfback, on a better than average Cornell football team during his sophomore year.

Pierce served in the military service as a criminal investigator during World War II.

In selecting Mr. Pierce, President-elect Reagan picked someone without any housing experience to be HUD Secretary. He lacks connections to civil-rights groups and is stranger to the nations Mayors, but he has a reputation as an extremely intelligent and poised attorney with a broad background in government. He was the chief lawyer in the Treasury Department for three years during the Nixon administration. Former associates describe him as a "team player" who isn't given to pushing strong personal views within the Administration.

At a news conference, Mr. Pierce gave little indication of how he intends to run the Housing Department, if he is confirmed by the Senate. He stated that, he would try to "streamline" the department and that Reagan planners are "considering a number of rehabilitation projects" in cities around the country.

Mr. Pierce, is better known on Wall Street than in the city halls around the country. Detroit's Mayor Coleman Young stated he hadn't heard of Mr. Pierce before he was picked by Mr. Reagan. He has impressive credentials, Mayor Young said, "The fact that he's Black is good for openers."

According to a Temple University law professor, Mr. Pierce brings with him a reputation for fair dealing. This is also the opinion of employees at the Treasury Department.

Mr. Pierce will have to resign his corporate directorships of Prudential Insurance Co. of America, General Electric, International Paper Co., U.S. Industries, First National Boston Corp. and The First National Bank of Boston.

Mr. Tomas Rivera, Chancellor of the University of California at Riverside, has been named as a recipient of the IAUL Pacesetter Award. Mr. Rivera has

Worship as a Family This Week

16th St. SDA Church News
by Ms. Madeline A. Seymour

Happy New Year to one and all. May you have a joyous and a prosperous year ahead of you.

DIVINE WORSHIP HOUR: The speaker for the 11:00 a.m. divine worship hour this Saturday, Jan. 3, 1981, will be the pastor of the Sixteenth Street Seventh-day Adventist Church, Elder Hermon E. Vanderberg. He has chosen for his subject, "The World is Mine." All of the community is welcome to the services at the church. Many visitors were in attendance last week. As a special treat, a tasty luncheon is prepared for all our visiting friends. Come and bring a friend. You are a stranger but once.

NEW TITLE FOR NEW QUARTER: The new title for the first quarter of the new year, 1981 is "The Church-Servant to the World". All the lessons for this quarter look at the church, including your church and mine, from the viewpoint of the biblical revelation concerning it. We believe, without shadow of doubt, that the Bible is the Word of God; and, that in it we find a true representation of God's character and purpose and of His dealings with His people through the centuries....The church is a key part of God's great plan to vindicate His character and to take away sin without detracting from the freedom which God's love requires in the universe. Now, Lesson 1 is called, "God Still in Control"; and it emphasizes that God is in control in every situation. Sin, whether in heaven or on earth, did not take Him by surprise. He had a plan to meet it, one consistent with His justice and replete with His mercy. The church is part of that plan, being the arena and means of His activity. Superintendent James Jones invites all the community to the first lesson of the New Year. Start the new year right by attending the church of your choice. At 9:15, a beautiful song-fest takes place with Mr. Willie Williams directing the service. Come and bring a friend.

POWER HOUR THIS WEEK: At exactly 7:30 on Wednesday the prayer and praise service will express the love of Jesus. The songs, the prayers, the testimonies, and the interesting sermonette by the pastor tells one another of the encouragement that can be gained by trusting in the power of God. Where there is much prayer, there is much power, little prayer, little power and no prayer, there is no power. All are welcome to the power hour of the church.

DO SOMETHING WORTHWHILE EVERY DAY
Don't dream all your moments away;
First dare and then do it—twice help you all through
To do something worthwhile thing every day.

Do something worthwhile everyday,
If it is only smiling away;
Each little wee smile helps many a mile,
So give us your smiles every day.

Do something worthwhile every day—
Tis only worthwhile things that pay;
For labor well done, sweet reward's sure to come,
So get something done very day.

Do something worthwhile every day,
Don't let one wasted day slip away;
Each daily kind deed helps someone in need,
So do kindly acts everyday.

Do something worthwhile every day
Till the end of life's brief little stay;
Then neighbors will say, as they brush tears away,
"He did so much good every day."

Buying Auto Insurance From A Dealer

CALIFORNIA - Consumers need to know what legal rights they have when they buy a car. This is the second of a four-part series telling what the law is, and why.

Take the matter of automobile insurance. The law says you do not have to buy it from or through the dealer. Common sense says that you shouldn't.

When they sell you a car, many high-pressure salesmen also try to sell you insurance: credit life, credit disability, collision, bodily injury, or property damage. If they do, watch out.

Car dealer insurance rates are usually extremely expensive, sometimes considerably more expensive than if you bought insurance through a professional insurance agent.

Moreover, you are paying a stiff finance charge on the already too-high premiums because the insurance premiums are being financed for the term of the contract along with the vehicle itself, the finance charge can run to 20 percent or more annually. The

If you trade in a vehicle, transfer your insurance to your new car. If you are not trading in, see an insurance agent. Automobile salesmen seldom have any interest in prompt claims service or notifying you of the need for renewal.

To obtain a copy of the CILA Consumer, Protection pamphlet, designed to acquaint you with your rights in the law, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to California Trial Lawyers Association, 1020 12th St., Sacramento, Calif. Specify whether you want it in English or Spanish.)

With the name Allah,
The Gracious, the Compassionate

We can free our communities from the harmful effects associated with the white (Caucasian) image of Christ on the Cross, by removing them from our neighborhoods today! Our delivery is as simple as that.

God is not to be seen in any physical or graven image. "Graven" MEANS, "made by human hands." "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven images or likeness of anything that is in the heaven above or the earth beneath or is in the water under the earth. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them." The Bible-Exodus 20:3-5.

I'm not asking you to consider what I say without first encouraging you to investigate the simple facts that I've been presenting to you in the past four articles on this particular subject, "Racism." Think! Go BACK AND READ THE Bible carefully, listen to your own conscience, and above all, use your "Common Sense."

Why should the Psychologist and other Social Scientist insist on putting Black images of authority in school textbooks and not insist on putting a Black of the Cross? Shouldn't Black representation be as equally or more important in Religion as it is in Education? We're not saying that there should be a Black representation of Christ on the Cross. There should be "NO" representation of anyone or anything in Religion for people to bow down to or worship as God. The point I'm making is that, it's not using "Common Sense" when we demand that the Public School System include Black images of authority in textbooks and not demand that the Church put a Black image of Christ on the Cross and throughout the pages of the Bible. I can't benefit from an equal identification when I'm exposed to a Caucasian image associated with Divinity that doesn't look like my own Black flesh. By taking down all the images everyone has and equal opportunity to come to know God through "Truth." That's justice! We need equal opportunity in employment and we need equal opportunity in worship. If we can't get equal opportunity in worship then there is no way possible for us to have it in any other part of our society. What I am saying, is the truth. Without equal opportunity and without justice coming from the highest level of our society, we will only have mental and physical enslavement throughout all other levels of our society. We will never rise above the issue of "skin color" as long as skin color continues to be the major influence in worship. Our problems are more than just "Skin Deep", we are suffering from a "Human Problem", an inability to come into contact with our true essence. Our essence is not Black, White, or Divine. Our true essence is "Human".

We can truly say, God is still in the Blessing business. On last Sunday, Rev. Valerie Ludlam brought the message at the 11 a.m. service. Her subject was, "What if Jesus had not been born?" Scripture: St. Matthew 2:1-4.

She said, Jesus is the bridge between the old and the new. If Jesus had not been born, there would not have been a bridge because Jesus is the bridge. There had to be a way of salvation and Jesus is the way.

The youth choir was an inspiration with their rendition of "Follow Me" led by Rev. Ludlam's grandson, Maurice Griffin. This rendition truly reminds us of the Star that the wise men Followed that led them to where the Savior was born.

Seed thought: Prayer
Now may the light that shines in Jesus Christ Our Lord, shine in our hearts and mind by the indwelling word; and may the radiance which Faith and Hope restore, be and abide with us both now and ever more.

COME BE MY GUEST
At a unique point in time, the night Jesus was born in Bethlehem, Simeon, the innkeeper, had no room for his guest. Thirty years later on another eventful night, when Simeon knew who Jesus was, he sought to make amends and said to Jesus, "Be My Guest." Now with a lifetime behind him, Simeon still wondered if in eternity he would hear Jesus say, "Be My Guest." Simeon had to know. He received his answer on another memorable night. In an upper room.

On December 21, 1980, Rev. Sewell brought our Christmas inspirational message.

The members of Grace Bethel were happy to welcome Rev. and Sis. Manning again also Mr. & Mrs. Thomas Glenn and their son James. The Glenns are the proud parents of our youngest usher, Michele Glenn.

Rev. Manning will bring our message on Sunday morning, December 28 and our Annual Christmas Dinner will follow immediately.

Installation of church officers for the year of 1981 will be held during morning service on January 4, 1981. Prayer service and Bible Study was held on Tuesday evening in the home of Rev. & Sis. Sewell. It was a blessing to many and Rev. Seldon spent much time in explaining the passages of scriptures so all in attendance would understand and be able to apply it in their lives.

A THOUGHT AS WE ENTER INTO THE YEAR 1981

If we say we are His friends, but go on living in spiritual darkness and sin, we are lying. But if we are living in the light of God's presence, just as Christ does, then we have wonderful fellowship and joy with each other, and the blood of Jesus His Son cleanses us from every sin. Let us strip off anything that slows us down of holds us back, and especially those sins that wrap themselves so tightly around our feet and trip us up.

A life of doing right is the wisest life there is. If you live that kind of life, you'll not limp or stumble as you run. Don't do as the wicked do. Avoid their haunts, turn away, go somewhere else. Look straight ahead; don't even turn your head to look. Watch your step. Stick to the path and be safe. Don't sidetrack; pull back your foot from danger.

The Lord will always deliver me from all evil and will bring me into His heavenly kingdom. To God be the glory forever and ever.

CONSUMER QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

QUESTION: What kind of sugars are more prevalent in American diets?

ANSWER: Refined sugar (sucrose), made from cane or beets, accounts for one-half of the total sugars in our diets; sugar naturally occurring in foods (fruits, vegetables, milk, etc.) three-tenths; syrups and other sweeteners, two-tenths. The use of corn syrup products as sweeteners has been expanding rapidly due to new manufacturing methods and their lower cost. Corn syrups are produced by changing corn starch to sugar in a relatively complex process. The resulting products may be corn syrup, high fructose corn syrup, and superhigh fructose corn syrup. The high fructose products are used in commercially produced foods such as cakes, candies, soft drinks, and ice cream. Granular fructose, which has received wide-spread promotional, is produced commercially from sucrose (white sugar). When sucrose, a double sugar, is split it yields two single sugars—fructose and glucose. Fructose (fruit sugar) also is found naturally in foods, particularly honey (40 percent fructose) and fruits. Under certain conditions (for example in cold liquids) fructose is sweeter than sugar. Thus, less of it can be used, for example in soft drinks, thereby saving calories. But in comparison to sugar, the cost of fructose marketed for consumers is very high, in proportion to the small number of calories saved. Consumer groups have filed complaints about misleading or untruthful claims made about fructose, particularly that it is "natural," more healthful, or eliminates hunger when dieting. Commercially produced fructose is actually a more highly processed product than refined white sugar (and therefore less natural!). In the body, both sucrose and fructose eventually are changed to glucose—the form of carbohydrate the body uses for energy.

Life has but two ends, and one end has been used. Take care of the other end. Happy New Year and may the Lord Bless and Keep you.

BY THERESA B. JEWELL REPORTER

Now that Christmas has passed, gifts of Christ exchanged and all of the tinsel and glitter have been beginning to fade away until another year, it is a good time to reminisce about the resolutions we made at the beginning of this year and all the excuses we have made for not keeping them. The many things we might have done but just never seemed to have enough time to do them. Did we have time to visit someone who was sick or just telephone someone who was shut-in? God has been so merciful to us and we owe everything to Him. I resolve to work a little harder for the Lord.

A reminder from the Pastor's Pen.
Which Are You?

'An attender or an absenter?
A pillar or a sleeper?
A wing or a weight?
A power of a problem?
A promoter or a provoker?
A giver or a getter?
A goer or a gadder?
A doer or a deadhear?
A booster or a bucker?
A supporter or a bucker?
A supporter or a sponger?
A soldier or a slacker?
A worker or a worrier?
A lifter or a leaner?
A friend or a faultfinder?
A helper or a hinderer?

Life has but two ends, and one end has been used. Take care of the other end. Happy New Year and may the Lord Bless and Keep you.

HOPE Part 1

What is Hope? Hope tells us that God not only wants us to be with him in heaven, but that he longs to live in intimate union with us now.

Hope tells us that God takes his delight in making us holy, especially when he has so little to work with.

Hope prevents us from being presumptuous or rash by thinking no effort on our part is needed to avoid sin.

Hope prevents us from being discouraged when we fail, for we hope with certainty, that God will do for us what our efforts alone can never do make us holy.

(It is dangerous when we attempt to do our own thing). It is important to remember that hope does not just come from stirring words; you would think that campaign oratory would have convinced us of this long ago. In fact, it is difficult to believe much campaign oratory precisely because so little of it is founded in reality.

The finely honed words and the dramatic pauses take our hope away when they are spoken by someone attempting to manipulate rather than communicate genuinely with us. You feel uneasy when people do this, but you cannot quite say why. When this happens you experience a loss of hope. HOPE DIES ON EMPTY WORDS AND THIS IS WHAT KILLS US.

Hope is present in any sincere human gesture of reaching out to another person. This movement, wearing words or gestures, must reveal a measure of concern or commitment to another. Hope demands only these conditions that we make ourselves both present and available to others. In that moment, hope, like an electric flash, leaps across the gaps between us.

(Mirror of Self)-The beginnings of hope-awaken new life in others. Our understanding of life depends upon our appreciation of the FACT THAT IMPERFECT PEOPLE CAN and do, help other imperfect people to face and overcome life. To understand themselves, and to understand each other. Hope depends on the Faith, that says we are more than passively concerned about each other.

WHILE JOGGING: The lawns in the Warner Ranch area are looking very good, bushes are being trimmed and leaves are being raked. We look forward to a very good winter and spring season.

AT THE MARCH AFB NCO CLUB: I talked with Mr. Frank Gale and Charles McKinney (Chilly Mac) they heard from Joe Simon who is in Saudi Arabia working as a Supply Tech. Mac is the fellow that did not show up for the party honoring Joe Simon, that he paid for. Mac takes ribbing very well.

WE ARE LOOKING FOR SPEAKERS: March 1981 the local Lions Clubs will sponsor speaking contest in the local areas. $23,000 in scholarships will be awarded. Students are urged to contact the principals office and take advantage of this opportunity to be heard. The topic, "My World, My Answer." I will be in charge of the group a Perris Union High School.

SUNDAY SCHOOL IS IMPROVING: We started a new session Sunday. The book we are using is titled "The Bible and The Family." We asked each other, "How important are families?"; one definition is, A family is a long string of people who may share looks and likes and loves, and faith in God. The objective for this session was to have the students express the need for their own roots in the family circle, read biblical passages that show God's word about families and realizing that by acting as a Christian we keep the family circle together.

CHILDREN CHRISTMAS PROGRAM: March AFB Chapel No. 2 held an outstanding Christmas program. Youth from all classes participated and their parents were very well behaved. The youth began the evening by singing, Joy To The World. They were followed by the Primary and Preprimary classes, who sang Little Children Can You Tell? The 3rd and 4th grades followed with delightful passages spoken by the students: their theme, The Gift of a Savior. This beautiful portion of the program showed the love that is in the heart of very young people. There were followed by the Primary Children's presentation of the song God Love Me Dearly. Next the Nursery and Kindergarten children presented The Gift of Love, which my grandchildren were in. The Manger Scene was then presented by the 5th and 6th grade followed by all of the children singing Away In A Manger.

This wonderful program was continued with the 1st and 2nd grades presenting, The Gift of Peace. There presentation was followed by all children singing Oh, How Joyfully, Oh, How Merryly, after this song the 1st and 2nd grades presented, The Gift of Joy, followed by the song, Go Tell It in the Mountain. Next we had another beautiful Manger Scene and the closing hymn sung by everyone, audience included It Came Upon A Midnight Clear.

The teachers did an outstanding job with these young people and we all appreciate this type of leadership.

Our children need more of it. Why don't you get involved and help our youth have a better future? Our hats are off to the persons that organized this program.

MAYOR AB'S NOTES

Items of General Interest to the Citizens of Riverside

Mayor Ab Brown

Well, the kids are still home from school for the holidays. Many out-of-town relatives are still visiting. The excitement of Christmas has waned. So what do you do all day? Just look around you. Riverside is packed with attractions and activities for the whole family. This and next week's column will focus on inexpensive things to do in this city.

The Riverside Museum at 3720 Orange boasts a variety of displays especially popular with children. Admission is free.

In its foyer are 30 hand carved carousel animals dating from 1880-1920. Some are completely restored. Others are in various stages of restoration. They are on loan from MR. AND MRS. GILE, and will be displayed until Feb. 1.

Complementing the horses, is a hand organ that plays carousel music. The organ can be heard from noon to 1 p.m. every Tuesday through Friday until Jan. 15.

Among the permanent displays is the zoology exhibition. It features real animals that have been freeze dried. These include a bear, eagle and other birds.

The paleontology exhibit features a reconstructed skeleton of a saber tooth tiger.

The South American Indian exhibit includes a shrunken head.

Tours can be arranged for small or large groups. The museum needs one week's notice. There is no charge.

The museum is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Fridays. Saturdays and Sundays it's open from 9-5. For further information call 787-1273.

In your neighborhood, your local community center offers a variety of activities, as well as city-wide Park and Recreation Department activities.

Nichols Park has scheduled a Teen Dance for Jan. 2 at 7 p.m. For further information call BILL THOMPSON at 787-7652.

"The Friendly Stars Club" is a social recreation program for developmentally disabled adults 16 years and older. Activities are planned on a weekly basis at Hunt Park from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on Friday nights. Highlights for January include "New Years Dance" planned for Jan. 2, featuring the "Hi-Hopes" a band from Anaheim which is comprised of developmentally disabled adults.

A free dance exercise class for handicapped girls 12 years and older begins on Tuesday, Jan. 13. Class meets on Tuesday and Thursday from 4:30-5:30 p.m. at Hunt Park. Class runs for six weeks. Mini-bus transportation is available within city limits. Phone 787-7407 for more information.

Hunt Park will feature a captioned film for adults. Thursday, Jan. 15, at 7:30 p.m. "Young Frankenstein" will be shown.

Community programs include: Kodak Show Jan. 14 and 15 of "Scandinavian Countries". The show will be held at Ramona High Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

A senior citizen matinee of "Fiddler on the Roof", Jan. 17 in the Mission Inn's Music Room from 1-4 p.m. Call 787-7301 regarding reservations.

January is also the month to license your dog. Beginning the weekend of Jan. 3, clinics will open to purchase licenses and give your dogs rabies shots. Conducted each weekend this month, the clinics will be held at fire stations.

Licenses for spayed or neutered dogs are $5 for one year, $9 for two years. Unaltered dogs are $10 for one year, $18 for two years.

Senior citizens pay a reduced fee of $1 for one year, $2 for two years.

Rabies shots are $2 per dog.

On a more personal note, it was great to referee again at the Policemen-Firemen tackle football game at Ramona stadium. Those fellows had me running all over the field.

The next day every muscle ached and I got out the heating rub. For awhile I thought I was back refereeing college football again. I can't remember a game where the teams played any harder.

The police came out on top by one point. It's a good idea, fellows, to space these games so we have a year to recuperate.

The Junior Woman's Club had a great idea in decorating a tree at City Hall with yellow ribbons in remembrance of the hostages. The City Manager and I stopped by to lend a hand.

The committee did a fine job. We hope the ribbons can be taken down real soon.

THEN AND NOW

THEN: If you had a package you wanted to send across the country a century and a half ago or so, it would probably have traveled by stagecoach and, if it got there at all, would have taken about three and a half months!

NOW: Today, you can send packages almost anywhere in the country overnight, if need be, and in many places, this is due at least in part to the efficiency of buses. A bus can go anywhere a road goes. Regularly scheduled service covers over 277,000 miles and 15,000 communities, 14,000 of which have no other means of public transportation. Lately, mail and package express by bus has been steadily rising.

May your New Year be one of success, good health and prosperity. Warm thanks to all!

Water Polo And Football Players Honored

Riverside City College water poloist John Rudinger was named to the all-Mission Conference first team and Todd Brinker and Derrick Dryden were given honorable mention.

Rudinger was a bright spot for Coach Tony Turner all year, despite the team's poor finish. Turner said he felt the team improved a lot toward the end of the year in light of a one-goal loss to champion San Diego State in their next to last game and a 12-7 upset of Chaffey in their last contest. The win over Chaffey ended Chaffey's hopes of going into the playoffs.

Turner will lose only two players off this year's team, but one is Rudinger. Niles Reinholdt will also be gone, but the Tigers look somewhat stronger for next year.

Two Riverside City College players received honorable mention on the Junior College Grid-Wire All-American team. Punter Dan Arroyales of Norco and offensive lineman Kevin Howell were selected in the nationwide selections.

Arroyales led the Mission Conference in punting with a 40.4 average which also placed him third in the state. Howell was the best lineman on the RCC football team and twice was selected as offensive player of the week for RCC.

What you should know in buying auto insurance from a dealer

CALIFORNIA - In every county in California there is a court where legal disputes are handled in an uncomplicated manner and where attorneys are not allowed: The Small Claims Court.

The Small Claims Court is designed for the resolution of disputes where the amount of money involved is small and it is not worth it to the parties to hire a lawyer to assist them.

While most people think of lawsuits strictly as actions to obtain money from some other person, a great many of the lawsuits actually filed every year do not involve the request for money, but actually seek some other kind of relief, such as an injunction, an order to get a nonpaying tenant out of a house, etc. In Small Claims Court you may sue only for money, and if you seek more than $750.00 you may not use the Small Claims Court.

As with any other court, a judge - either a justice court judge or a municipal court judge - actually hears the case (no jury is allowed in Small Claims Court). And, as in other cases, only persons who are 18 or older may file a suit in Small Claims Court, unless they have a parent or guardian who will accompany them to court and appear with them.

Even though the jurisdictional limit is $750, many people who have a claim somewhat higher find it advisable to reduce their request to $750, file in Small Claims Court, and therefore avoid the expense of attorney's fees.

Although there are a great many advantages to Small Claims Court for the person who claims that someone else owes him money, there is one disadvantage that everyone considering bringing a Small Claims Court action must bear in mind. That is that the plaintiff (the person who files the suit) cannot appeal the case if he loses. On the other hand, if the defendant (the person who is sued) loses the case, he can appeal.

(To obtain a copy of the California Lawyers Association's Small Claims Court pamphlet, designed to acquaint you with your rights in the law, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to CCLA, 1020 12th St., Sacramento 95814.)

GOOD NEWS ABOUT WHAT CAN BE DONE

How Some Towns Save Money—And The Environment

Seven American communities are pioneering a simplified solution to their municipal solid waste problems. In the process they're saving their taxpayers money and ending land pollution—without creating air pollution.

Four of the communities have installed—and three plan to—pyrolytic incineration systems in which the equipment literally "burns up its own smoke." Anticipated annual savings range from $12,000 to $25,000.

In one town, Meredith, New Hampshire (summer population 15,000), savings in the fuel and labor costs of transporting solid waste to collection stations and from there to dumps or landfills, are reported as substantial that the cost of the pyrolysis equipment will be repaid in several years, according to Town Manager Russell M. Brown. At another facility, returns from marketing recycled glass, cans, heavy metal and paper help to pay operating costs.

In addition, pyrolytic incinerators may some day be "married" to heat recovery equipment that will extract millions of BTUs in heat energy for homes, industry, or government buildings, saving thousands of dollars in fuel bills as well as hauling costs.

One ton of community recycled waste can be worth about $10-$30, and the burnable waste can mean $20 per ton in oil saving when used in conjunction with a steam boiler or hot-air system.

These systems may even bring in money. According to Thomas Oliver of Kelley Company, Inc., Milwaukee, producers of the incinerators, "by solving the solid waste disposal problem and drastically reducing the cost of disposal, smaller cities now have a new attraction for industry desiring to escape the pressures of the big cities."

"In addition, pyrolysis—when coupled with heat recovery—can provide industry and the towns themselves with a standby or currently-used energy resource as the natural gas supply runs low, and as the prices of both gas and oil keep rising."

In pyrolysis, trash is burned under special conditions that produce virtually no air pollution. Emissions have been tested by the Federal Environmental Protection Agency and many state environmental authorities and found to be well below the permissible limits.

Some pyrolysis equipment includes an automatic ash remover, which will allow continuous burning of material a long time, without interruption for downtime, to cool off the ashes prior to removal.

Pyrolysis systems capable of handling a town of 100,000 people are now available. It would seem that not using this way of removing waste could be a waste of taxpayers' money.

PHILADELPHIA - Consolidated Rail Corporation has selected Thomas Buffington & Associates of Washington, D.C., a minority business enterprise, to develop and implement a $125,000 advertising campaign for 1981 to support its minority vendor program.

This year, Conrail expects to spend about $100 million for the purchase of materials, supplies and services from minority vendors. Through the advertising campaign, which will be launched in early 1981, Conrail hopes to further increase its purchases from minority vendors. Conrail's minority vendor program provides minority businesses with information on how to participate in the purchasing process at Conrail. In addition, Conrail buyers and departmental coordinators will help minority businesses with the procedures necessary for placement on the railroad's approved vendor list, and assist firms which qualify in competing for Conrail's annual procurement expenditures of about $1 billion for 95,000 categories of goods and services. Conrail has freight railroad operations in 16 states, two provinces of Canada, and Washington, D.C.

The advertising campaign the Buffington firm is developing and will implement will acquaint minority businesses throughout the nation with Conrail's program and encourage participation in it.

The Buffington firm was selected from a field of nearly a dozen minority owned and controlled advertising agencies and has had specific experience in developing and implementing advertising campaigns in support of minority vendor programs operated by a number of major corporations. The firm was founded in New York City in 1974 and opened an office in Washington in 1975. The operation was consolidated in Washington in 1978.

Conrail stated that the award to the Buffington firm will not affect its relationship with Ogilvy & Mather/2, its advertising agency of record, which will continue to be responsible for Conrail's corporate market specific and general advertising.

Southern Black voted heavily for Carter

ATLANTA, GA. - The Voter Education Project, Inc. (VEP) announced today that 95 percent of the black registered voters in the South who turned out in the November 4 election voted for Jimmy Carter, giving him a higher percentage of black votes than the national average.

Percentages of the black vote for Carter ranged from a low of 92 percent in Arkansas to highs of 97 percent in Georgia, Florida, Louisiana, and North Carolina. Carter received a total of 2,593,000 black votes.

President-elect Reagan was estimated to have won 82,000 of the black votes cast. Black votes for Reagan ranged from 5 to 11 percent of the total. In Arkansas and Tennessee, the total vote was so evenly divided between the major party candidates that black votes for the Republican candidate provided the winning margin.

The study by Research Associates Richard Hudlin and K. Farouk Birmah included analyses of key predominantly black precincts in the eleven southern states. "Socioeconomic differences among Southern blacks made little difference in the way they voted," stated Hudlin.

Commenting on black voter turnout in the South, Sherrill Marcus, executive director of VEP said, "Southern blacks of the registered blacks voted, we are still concerned that only 37 percent of the black voting age population participated in the November elections." He added, "VEP will continue working to reach the disenfranchised and disengaged citizens in order to increase minority political involvement, for we believe only through intelligent and consistent use of the ballot can minorities in this country achieve full equality."

Housing Authority Receives $70,000 To Rehab

Senator Robert Presley (D-Riverside) has announced that the Riverside County Housing Authority has been awarded $70,000 in state funds to supplement its efforts to rehabilitate housing for low and moderate income households.

"These funds enable low and moderate income homeowners in Riverside County to receive low interest loans, deferred payment loans, and grants to assist financing the cost of needed improvements. Without such assistance, homeowners might be forced to move because they cannot afford the repairs to their residences," stated Presley, who represents portions of Riverside County.

Within the past two years, these rehabilitation programs have helped over 250 homeowners restore their homes in terms of both appearance and livability. The improvements have corrected such problems as leaking roofs, dangerous electrical wiring, and unsanitary plumbing. These home repairs have also contributed to general neighborhood improvement in certain areas by allowing Riverside County to invest Community Block Grant Funds on street paving, curbs, gutters, and various other improvements.

"Rehabilitation funds benefit the recipients of the loans and grants as well as the rest of the neighborhood by offering an effective means for preventing further decline of areas and upgrading housing conditions," said Presley.

Hemet- San Jacinto Area Gets $66,000 In State Park Development Money

HEMET+SAN

JACINTO-The Valley-Wide Recreation and Park District has been awarded $66,000 in state funds to build four tennis courts and add other improvements at the Valley-Wide Regional Park. Senator Robert Presley (D-Riverside) announced. The site is near Esplanade Avenue and State Blvd.

"Addition of the tennis courts and other facilities will be the kickoff for developing the site into an attractive park to help meet the needs of residents from Hemet, San Jacinto and nearby areas," said Presley, who represents portions of the area in the State Legislature. Other projects planned include two more courts, a baseball court and ball diamond.

Officials for the Valley-Wide Recreation and Park District anticipate completing the tennis courts by the end of summer 1981. These 4 new tennis courts will be a major progress towards fulfilling the recreational needs of the residents, who at the present time have access to only two public tennis courts. These other tennis courts are located at the Gible Park in the city of Hemet. Tennis lessons, tennis tournaments, and celebrity fund raisers are some examples of the type of activities planned for the new tennis facilities.

Funding for the construction will come from state and local sources. The $66,000 will come from the Roberti-Z'berg Urban Open-Space and Recreation Program Act administered by the Department of Parks and Recreation. Another $22,000 will be derived from the District's General Fund.

Senator Presley added that the funding was possible because of widespread support by nearby residents.

Some compromise are urging that the nation's trucking industry be de-regulated. Yes, deregulation of the nation's air freight rise by 40 percent. In the past two years, the productivity of the nation's trucking industry rose an average of eight percent a year. The productivity and efficiency gains have been returned to the consumer in the form of lower costs.

NEW VENTURE CON.

The impetus for Drake to go into the used car business began 20 years ago when he worked for his uncle. He was a $35.00 a week truck driver for Beech Aircraft, he loved to fix up old cars and as soon as he finished one it was sold. He began selling cars so fast that he realized he didn't have time to do his job. So on a dirt lot, was his beginning and from that 10 years ago he purchased a lot and built a 3 car garage for repairs. His business has mushroomed and he was a role model for Bill.

"Through him I learned quite a bit about the business," said Drake. In 1972 Drake tried to secure a loan but didn't have enough assets to secure the loan. Today he managed to have a few more and was successful.

During this time of the year car sales are traditionally slow. We expected to lose money the first 6 months but if this month is any indication to what sales may be in the future, I expect sales to be very good. If the interest rate recedes it will be especially good," he said.

"We don't finance cars because we aren't a finance company, we carry our own paper but don't charge a finance charge, a person could pay $400 down and $25 per week, a typical sale for a $1000 purchase," said Drake.

The reliability of Bill is evident in the following incident; he was selling a 1961 Mercedes Benz asking $3,000, the going rate is $4,000, a woman gave him $2,600 cash for the car, drove it for two days and wasn't satisfied. "I had explained the car was a collectors item and not the sports car she wanted. When she returned it he returned her money and sold her a Toyota. This is an indication that Bill will work with customers."

Drake says in setting his goals, "My primary interest is to be self employed; if the business is successful, I'll go into it fulltime, however, until the business picks up, I'll be furthering my career goals in employment at General Electric in Engineering."

He is married to Joyce Drake, and they have 5 children.
