Maynard Jackson Retires

Andrew Young announced his candidacy for mayor of Atlanta. The former ambassador to the United Nations, 49, said the series of murders and disappearances of black children in the city shouldn't be an issue in the campaign to select a successor to Mayor Maynard Jackson. The nonpartisan election will be held Oct. 6.

Boxing Promoter Sued

Harold J. Smith, the boxing promoter being sued by Wells Fargo Bank in an alleged fraud scheme, is "a fugitive bad check and bunco artist," the U.S. Attorney's office said. Smith, arrested Saturday in Los Angeles on charges of lying on a passport application, confirmed in court that his real name is Ross Eugene Fields.

Reagan Appointments

Aides to two GOP Senators are expected to gain appointments in the Reagan administration. C. Michael Butler III, on the staff of Texas Sen. John Tower, is in line to head the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. Mary Ann Weyforth Dawson, an aide to Oregon Sen. Robert Packwood, will be nominated to a term on the fcc.

Vocational Training

VOCATIONAL TRAINING grows in popularity among job-conscious students.

Enrollment at post-high school technical institutes is up 68% since 1972, says the American Vocational Association. During the same period, higher-education enrollment increased 22% with only two percentage points of that growth coming in the last two years. "Students are much more job-oriented now, and technical skills are where the jobs are," says Gene Bottoms, the association's director. He cites demand in the health, mechanical maintenance and computer fields.

At the State Technical Institute, Memphis, Tenn., enrollment is 6,000 up from 300 in 1968. The placement rate is over 90% and the average starting salary is $13,300. For example, James Burnett, 23, is studying instrument engineering and wants to be a field service representative after completing the two-year program.

Policeman Stealing

ROLE REVERSAL: An Erie, N.Y., policeman was discharged when he was caught shoplifting from a supermarket. But an arbitrator reduced the penalty to a four-month suspension, citing the officer's outstanding record and blaming the incident on personal problems.

Rep. Brown, Lewis Seek Job Openings For CETA Workers

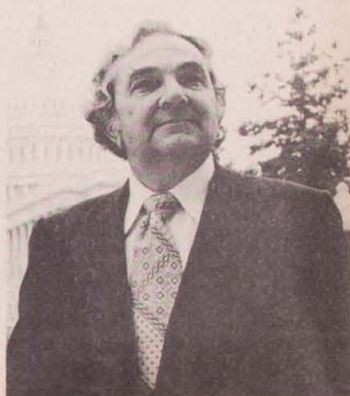

BY CHERYL BROWN

In a press conference with Black Voice news Tuesday, Congressmen George E. Brown, Jr. and Jerry Lewis issued a joint appeal to employers in the Inland Empire who have job openings to give the 2,100 CETA workers laid off in Riverside and San Bernardino Counties on Friday, April 3, the opportunity to apply for the open positions.

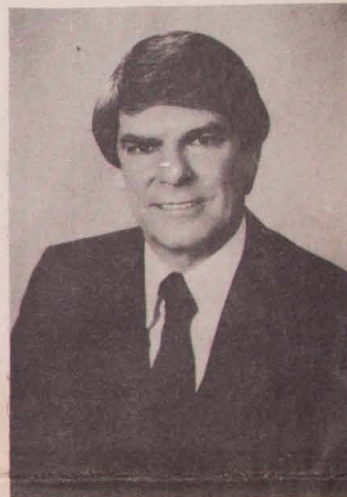

During the joint press conference, Congressman Brown indicated that "President Reagan's federal budget revisions eliminated the public service jobs under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA). As a result of these revisions, the budget for this program in San Bernardino and Riverside Counties was reduced this fiscal year from $18.6 million to $11.3 million."

The consequences of these events was the sudden termination of many thousands of employees under Public Service Employment. These employees served a variety of functions including clerical duties, home weatherization, and a variety of social services. Ed Shepard, Chairman of IMA said he is concerned about the decision making process and it not giving the opportunity to phase public sector jobs into regular jobs.

According to Congressman Brown, "Public Service Employees are as capable as any other employees and in many cases, are more reliable and responsible. A study conducted by John Hopkins University revealed that employees coming out of PSE jobs are better trained and on the job two years after they left the program. It is unfortunate that these members of our community have lost their jobs due to sudden federal cutbacks, and we hope that local employers will make any job openings they might have available to them." Henry, Security VP Meets Local Business People

"You may have $500,000 in property to have unfunded living trust agreement to protect your children or loved ones when you die," said Jean E. Henry, Vice President of the Trust Investments and Services Division of Security Pacific National Bank. As she and Alan Aylwin, Vice President and Manager of Real Estate Management, spoke of trust funds and property management, the crowd gathered at Jean Grier's Boutique said what property management, what after death? We want to talk about now and know how to get loans and help from the bank."

Ms. Henry said, she has not been involved in the loan side of banking for some years but listen and commented on the frustrations and concerns of the people of varied background.

"The Bank doesn't want to be in partnership with a business," said Henry, and therefore makes judgement depending on certain criteria so that the business they loan money to will be successful.

DeVonne Armstrong, of his own Realty Company, said, I know one man in town who went to the same bank 3 times to borrow $300,000 he never paid back the first loan filed bankruptcy and was still given the other loans, he was not Black.

Henry admits that last year the bank wrote off $300 million dollars of bad debts, we charged them off. In the same breath however she said nothing hurts a loan officer more than non-payment, their performance evaluation goes down. She said how the bank processes loans from a Commercial Loan Center, which deals with a set of criteria. If they don't meet the criteria the client will be turned into a government guarantee program.

Yes, said Homer V. Post, Jr., and the SBA loans since their inception in 1953, only 14% of the loans in 28 years have reached minorities.

Hardy Brown, asked what Security Bank is doing in the Re-investment Act.

One frustrated person said we deposit everyday into your bank but when we go to get a loan then we get the criteria changes. An official of SBA said, "Banks are playing a Banking game." The bank loans SBA sells the paper and rewrites the loan.

Reggie Strickland, said, people who have gotten loans and failed because they (Banks and SBA) let them borrow money enough to fail."

"Riverside is 10 or 15 years behind what is taking place in the L.A. area" said Henry. She was surprised at what she found in the industry and with the people.

Henry cut her teeth in the banking business in Compton where the majority of people were Black. They wouldn't accept what she was happening in Riverside. About 25 Riverside business persons were on hand.

What Time Is This

"What Time Is This?" This was Rev. Woods subject Sunday morning. Speaking in a most eloquent manner Rev. Woods emphasized it was time to do at least three things. One, he said, was to take inventory of ourselves; two was that it is time to stop "Shuckin' and Jivin'" and three it is time to get ready. Several people, after hearing this dynamic message, decided it was time for them to dedicate and/or rededicate their lives to Christ.

"What time is it for Mt. Zion?" Well, number one, it's time for the kick-off of the Pastor's Community Bible Study will be conducted in a different community each night of the week, except Wednesday, in the home of one of our members. On Wednesday the Bible Study will be held at the church at both 12 noon and 7-8 p.m. Wednesday evening. These Bible studies are intended to make the study of God's word more convenient and available to our members and friends. Number two, it's time for Mt. Zion to go to two morning worship services. The first service will be at 8:00 a.m. and the second at 10:45 a.m. here again it is hoped that these two services will make the worship of God more available to our people.

The Rev. Marvin Ellis Wiley from the Eighth Avenue Baptist Church in Pine Bluff, Ark. will be our guest speaker for the 10:45 a.m.

worship service on Palm Sunday. Lastly, it is time for Mt. Zion to gear up for a heavy and busy day in worshipping the Lord on Easter Sunday as we will have four services. One will be at 5:00 a.m., Easter Sunrise Service where Dr. Ella Mitchell will be the guest speaker. Two will be at 8:00 a.m. morning worship where Dr. Henry Mitchell, husband of Dr. Ella Mitchell, will honor us as guest speaker. Third will be our regular 10:45 a.m. worship service where our pastor Rev. John H. Woods, Jr. will speak. And fourthly, will be a 3:30 p.m. Easter Program sponsored by our Drama Guild.

"What Time Is It," it's time to get busy and let's serve the Lord.

First Annual Awards Banquet

First Annual Awards Gospel Banquet to be held in 1982, during Black History Month.

Mrs. Verdell Bonnell, Secretary for the North Fontana parade committee announces: Awards for Soldiers for Christ. Mrs. Bonnell stated she will be contacting various people in Riverside, Perris, San Bernardino, Fontana, Pomona and other areas to help with this event. If you would like to see someone you know in the ministry field receive an award help put their names on the ballot. Minister of the Year, Gospel D.J., Missionary, Deacon Laymen, Gospel Groups, Deaconesses, Ushers, Health Unit, Choir and other are just some of the awards that will be awarded that night.

A ballot will be put in the paper so that you may vote for the ones that will be getting the awards. The place and date will be announced at a later date. It is good to let people know they are doing a job well, while they are living. So send all cards and letters to P.O. Box 1391, Fontana, CA. 92335.

Closing date is June 25, 1981.

BY THERESA B. JEWELL REPORTER

All Choirs took turns in giving beautiful renditions of Praise to His Holy Name. Mr. Donald Page, President of the Celestial Choir sang a most appropriate song titled "Peace Be Still" before the morning message was so beautifully delivered by our pastor, Rev. J. Ray Thornton. He chose his text from St. Luke 9:51 Subject: The Militant Christ. He spoke of Jesus as He was marching up the hill carrying His own Cross to be put to death, and He never said a mumbling word. He did not even flinch for one moment. On the Cross, Jesus paid the ransom for the sins of the world. We as Christians should always be willing to fight in the army of the Lord, Jesus died to break the chains of sin and set the prisoners free.

Friendship Baptist Church News Rev. Levonzo Gray, Pastor

"Discovering the Church" was the subject of Pastor Gray's message Sunday morning. He spoke from St. Matthew 16:13. He gave us Webster's definition of a church and then proceeded to tell us about the tragedy of the church. He told us that the tragedy of the church is that we don't know what we believe in or why we believe this way. This is due to a lack of Christian Education. We want to run the church by what we think rather than by God's will. Sunday School attendance is proof of how we value our lack of value on Christian Education. Bible Study and Prayer meeting attendance is another indicator. We must rediscover the foundation of the Christian church. The roots of the Baptist Church are Biblical.

We will start a new class on our roots in our Bible Study class soon. We are now studying about our priorities and our values. There were new people in Bible study last week and we are grateful to God for them. One of them was Mr. Steven Walker of San Bernardino. Another was Ms. Pat Fuston. The class is really growing and we are thankful to God for this.

Rev. Leon Thompson spoke Sunday evening and he delivered an inspiring message also. He told us that we should not say bad things about the preacher or anyone because what we do here will be recorded in Heaven and come up before us in Judgement. We need to work with one another and love each other. The church needs to pray together and work together.

Our Easter Program will be held on Easter Sunday during the night service. Please worship somewhere during the Holy season.

We were thrilled to have with us Saturday night the Little Book Vocal Singers Convention. Bro. Wallace is the President. Two of Rev. Mother Bridges' children sang both days.

We look forward to them returning in May to do a program for our Missionaries.

Visitors present Sunday included the son and family of Mother Callie Merritt and neighbors of the McDaniels family. We welcome visitors and invite each of them to come again.

It was an unintentional over-sight by this reporter in not mentioning that New Hope's Mission Chorus sang beautifully last fifth Sunday which was Mission Day. I was told that the chorus did a magnificent job at New Life Missionary Baptist Church, Rev. Elijah S. Singletary, pastor at their 3:30 p.m. program.

New Hope's combined choirs presented their annual Easter Cantata at the church last Sunday at 7 p.m. Everyone present were quite moved as the choirs sang continuously for over an hour. Each song carried a profound message. The narrations were magnificently done by Sis. Evelyn Campbell and Bro. Floyd McIver. The conversational phrases were very dramatically done by Sis. Drusilla Ross as the choirs sang, "They Led My Lord Away." I hasten to mention that the various solos and duets were outstanding.

Tri-County District Association, consisting of over forty churches and an affiliation of Western Baptist State Convention will hold its Third Quarterly Session Tuesday through Friday, April 7-10 at Morning Star Baptist Church. The church is located at 1416 Mentor Street in Pasadena, California. Rev. M.L. Robinson is the pastor.

On Thursday morning, April 9, the Women's Department will be in session and Sis. Mary Fairley, first lady of New Hope will speak on "Prayer." At 7 p.m. the Laymen will be in session and Bro. Rogers Mulligan, president of Tri-County's laymen will preside.

Good Friday services will be held at 12 noon at New Hope located at 1575 West 17th Street, on April 17. Seven preachers will speak on the "Seven Last Words of Jesus." An invitation is extended to everyone.

Bethel AME Production

Sunday evening at St. Paul, a full congregation felt sadness, excitement, laughter and any number of other adjectives—adverbs as the Bethel Barstow AME Church Choir presented a "Quest For Liberty". The musical depicting the past was refreshing for April. It's presentation shows that our Black heritage should be presented year round not only in the month of February.

In act one of the program Narrator Nolan Self gave the Introduction to a New Era after opening with the Lord's Prayer. Act one was entitled Winning Independence, in reference to the Independence of America.

In act two Nation Torn Apart, the Narrator told of the time of Slavery and 15 Spirituals of the era, including, Steal Away, Motherless Child, and Old Man River, were sung. As one song made us reminisce sadly on what had been our past, the choir would sing something to put us on top again.

In act three the New Hope, the Narrator spoke of the Civil Rights Movement, the organized revolt of Black people began in 1950. Black Churches led the fight and Martin Luther King became the symbol of the day. The song Abraham, Martin, Bobby and John was beautifully sung and received a standing ovation. The narration for the program was written by Mr. Vernon Purnell. The Pastor of Bethel, Barstow is Rev. B.W. Inghram.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

By passing over the ground which man must travel, Our Lord has prepared the way for us to overcome. It is not His will that we should be placed at a disadvantage in the conflict with Satan. He would not have us intimidated and discouraged by the assaults of the serpent. "Be of good cheer," He says; "I have overcome the world."

The above passage was taken from John 16:33.

Spring Concert To Be Held

ASUCR and the University of California Riverside will be presenting its annual spring gospel concert on April 18, 1981 (Easter Eve) at 7 p.m., on the campus, in the Humanities Theatre.

The featured artist will be Walter Cook and the Sweet Singing Cava-Leers. Special guest will be Henry Jackson and Company. The spring concert series has proved to be one of the most successful, unique, events that convenes in the Riverside area.

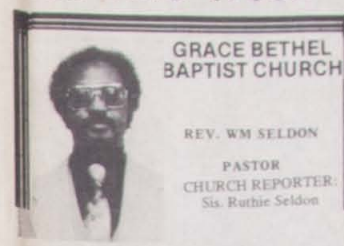

It is not often that you can attend a concert and truthfully say that you enjoyed the whole thing.

We have been very fortunate to have been able to tap some of the most talented choirs and groups in the Inland Area to become a part of the spring concert series. If you have ever heard the Poole Sisters, the Lockett Singers, or Richards, Grigley, and King, you will be able to understand the significance of my statements.

To have the opportunity to hear the afore-mentioned groups is an experience in itself, but can you imagine at the same concert.

There has been much talk about town that the young Ms. Monique Byrd, the ten year old from Barstow will probably hypnotize the entire audience, but that can only happen after Ms. Beverly King mesmerizes the listeners by taking them higher with a very strong testimony in song.

This will be the best gospel concert ever.....

The church was happy to welcome Sis. Hattie Gilmore back from Kansas City, she was there during her father's surgery.

The Senior Mission will have a fund raising dinner during the month of May.

The Youth Mission are working toward a great day on April 25th, during their car wash, they will have a surprise for their customers.

Rev. Seldon spoke to us on the Lord Supper and why it was instituted. He also talked of Judas who betrayed Jesus and of the sorrow that came upon Judas after the betrayal. They couldn't find any fault in Christ, but Christ had to die for our sins because that was his mission here on earth. We were happy to welcome Bro. Lucy D. Black in our service, he is the nephew of Sis. Seldon.

Congratulations to Sis. Edna Johnson, Sis. Sewell and Deacon Gilmore for their building fund report. You did a beautiful job. Let's continue to keep up the good work.

Let us not forget the season in which we are entering, the resurrection of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. We that are Christian do not celebrate His resurrection just on Easter, but each Sunday of the Year; the Lord's Day.

With . . .

Betty Myles

The Frankly Female Show airs on KHFT Channel 9, Los Angeles every week, 6:00 a.m. Wednesday and 6:30 a.m. Thursday morning.

Back To Earth

I had planned on writing an upbeat article on kite flying, then someone shot the President.

My kite flying idea came one Sunday afternoon while watching young children playing in the park across the street from my apartment. On the weekend, their brightly colored banners and birdlike wings give a special delight to a rather mundane afternoon where I enjoy my ring side seat to a world of boys and girls romping gleefully in the grass while their kites soar up, toward the clouds.

I made a mental note to call my niece on Monday to tell her about my discovery and about how much fun we were going to have when she visits during the summer. Well, Monday came and my idea of summer fun soon dissolved into images of violence as news about an attempted Presidential assassination flashed on television and over the airwaves.

I really got a cold chill up my spine when Sidni phoned to check on me—to see how her "Auntie Bunny" was holding up under the bad news. For 20 minutes we had a woman to woman talk about the sad state of human affairs, and we reassured each other that Life must go on, nevertheless.

After we finished our conversation, I thought sadly that I never did get to tell Sidni about my park and about the happy kids with their pretty kites. That's what a sweet girl who enjoys a good laugh, who loves to play, and who delights in Life's little pleasures should be talking about—not talking about Death.

But, alas, kite flying is for kids, and this world of violence and crime is slowly turning a sweet eleven year old girl into a very old woman before her time.

LADIES... UNTIL NEXT WEEK... "HAVE A FRANKLY FEMALE DAY."

TO BE

by
Vernon E. Jordan Jr.
Executive Director, National
Urban League

While public attention is diverted to the heavy budget cuts in social programs, the next stage of the current counter-revolution in domestic policy is quietly proceeding.

That is the packaging of existing federal social programs into block grants which the states would administer with a minimum of federal supervision; in effect, turning over key social functions like health care and welfare to the states.

This new policy of shifting federal dollars, federal responsibilities, and federal powers to the fifty states amounts to a resurrection of the discredited concept of "states' rights."

Black people could teach the nation a bit about states' rights. We know states' rights meant separate drinking fountains, separate schools, separate and unequal lives.

We know that today, state administration of federal programs such as welfare, Medicaid, and others is inefficient and often discriminatory. We know that state and local administration is a large part of the reason why eligibility rules are ignored to the extent that nearly half of black welfare families are excluded from Medicaid.

Federal aid to education monies are often spent in violation of federal regulations by local school districts that use funds targeted for schools in poor neighborhoods for other purposes. Many school districts have had to return such misapplied federal funds after they've been caught.

Yet, even with this record of inefficiency and misallocation of funds, lawmakers now propose removing federal restrictions from federal tax dollars and turning money over to state and local governments to do what they have proven many times over they are incapable of doing—targeting money and programs for the benefit of the disadvantaged.

So while we must oppose budget cuts in programs that do work, we must prepare for the even tougher battle against block grants and the surrender of federal programs to the states.

Some states can be relied upon to institute and administer programs for the benefit of the disadvantaged. But the historical record, and the record of the current urban block grant programs, clearly demonstrates that many would abuse the rights of the poor.

Some state and local authorities make a persuasive argument for putting control of programs closer to the people they serve. But local authorities are far more vulnerable to local power structures and voting blocs that would end those programs.

Many states would treat the poor equitably. But rights embedded by law in federal entitlement programs would go by the boards. Twenty years of federal court decisions protecting the basic civil and human rights of program recipients would be wiped out by changing the ground rules of those programs.

The search for local solutions to social problems must be encouraged. But localizing solutions to national problems tends to compound those problems.

Federal social programs should meet clear criteria: They should be national in scope, accountable, efficient, and equitable. The block grant system violates every one of those criteria.

It would make about as much sense to turn national defense into a block grant program and rely on state National Guards for our security. Absurd, isn't it? Yet that is what we propose to do with programs essential for our domestic national security and well-being.

Those of us who have a vision of an open, pluralistic, integrated society, have the duty to resist an increase in the misery inflicted on poor people and the increase in the ranks of America's deprived.

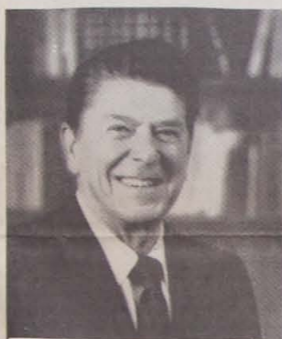

We must question not only specific budget cuts, but the revival of states' rights doctrines that would push the poor deeper into the pit of poverty.

EXECUTIVE

President Ronald Reagan

NAACP Executive Director Benjamin L. Hooks deplored the "brutal" and "heinous" crime. The telegram to U.S. Attorney General William French pointed out the possibility of a "lynching" and requested the federal agency to thoroughly investigate the civil rights violation of Michael Donald.

Hooks urged "federal authorities to act swiftly in utilizing their resources to stem similar acts of violence inflicted upon Blacks and other minorities. The rising tide of violence against minorities will not cease without prompt federal intervention."

Three white men were arrested four days after the incident and charged with murder in connection with the killing that took place on a residential street near the downtown area, according to a police official. The slain youth was a "clean-cut respectable young man with strong community ties," said Dr. Robert Gilliard, President of the Mobile NAACP branch. But Gilliard expressed "cautious optimism" about the police department's investigation, despite the arrests of three suspects. He cited a similar incident in 1976 involving six Mobile police officers who allegedly attempted to hang a 26-year-old Black robbery suspect. The youth, however, was later granted judgment in a civil suit against the police department for violating his civil rights, false arrest

III. Learning And the Hyperactive Child
Learning is conditioning. Conditioning takes place most advantageously under conditions of success. Positive growth and development is premised on the ability of the child to perceive things in the same way or in generally the same way as do other individuals in the same culture. The brain injured or hyperactive child rarely has a genuine successful experience. For success, teaching must be done directly to the disability.

It is hypothesized that four elements comprise the basic essentials for a good teaching environment for brain injured

Teaching Methodology For The Handicapped Child

children with hyperactivity and hyperactive children whose disturbance may be solely resultant from emotional maladjustment. These four factors are:

1. Reduction in environmental stimuli.
2. Reduction in space.
3. A structured school program and life plan.
4. An increase in the stimulus value of the teaching materials themselves and teaching materials constructed with specific characteristics of psychopathology being considered.

Deviant behavior is apparent in terms of classroom and home standards. The behavior is not willed, but is the purposeless response to random stimuli.

IV. Diet and The Hyperactive Child
It has been noted through research that the diet of the hyperactive child is very important. While on duty as a teacher or campus supervisor, I have the opportunity to observe the students under various conditions. At one school where I work, the students have what is called a "nutrition break". The foods that are sold are donuts, potato chips, and soft drinks. The additives in the foods bought by the hyperactive child is reflected by their behavior when we return to the classroom. After this "nutrition break" we have quite a time settling the hyperactive child down to work.

Following is an excerpt from Dr. Feingold's book "Why Your Child Is Hyperactive."

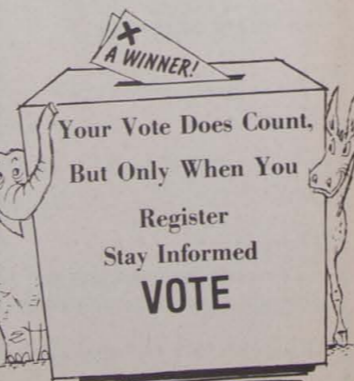

With seven of her eleven primary students reliably diagnosed as HLD's, a teacher in a Brooklyn School for handicapped children decided to analyze the ingredients of the school's "good breakfast" program. By current standards, there was nothing especially wrong with the nutritional balance but she discovered that 80% of the foods for the daily starting meal were synthetically colored and flavored, a figure which would likely not vary too much in similar "good breakfast" situations throughout the country.

to the Citizens of Riverside

Mayor Ab Brown

The March 30th Riverside Police Officers Association Dinner honored RONALD R. PACK and MICHAEL J. SMITH as Police Officers of the Year; NORMAN D. SCHILTZ, Supervisor of the Year; VICTOR T. POISSON, JR., Patrol Officer of the Year; BENJAMIN A. REISERN, Detective of the Year; GENE GREEN and VERN WAECHTER, Citizens of the Year; ALTON FM FARGO, Civilian Employee of the Year and KENNETH E. EDMONDSON, Traffic Officer of the Year.

As Mayor I presented Valuable and Distinguished Service Certificates to these fine officers on behalf of the City. I understand NORM SCHILTZ, one of the officers receiving an award, consented to pick up the certificates at my office not knowing one of them was for him.

He was crestfallen when my staff told him the names of the winners were confidential and we could only give the certificates to JERRY CARROLL, the Chairman of the Police Association Activities Committee and my staff well.

EVERY MATERIAL HAS ITS MARKER

There is good news for people who want to make their mark in the world. Specially-made industrial marking products are designed to work just about anywhere and on most surfaces.

Skip-free marking, even on grease, is possible with "Paint-On" Crayons. The markers work like a crayon, yet dry like a paint on wood, stone, asphalt, cardboard, lumber, metal and other hard or smooth surfaces. They cover completely and last through hail, sleet, snow and rain-storm.

Innumerable uses can be found for another remarkable product—Dixon's Redi-Mark broad and fine point felt-tip industrial markers. They lay down a permanent mark in one of eight rich colors. The marks are fade resistant and won't wash off. Neither will they flake or chip under heavy wear and tear.

If your marking problems seem insurmountable, you may want to present them to a representative of the Joseph Dixon Crucible Co. for analysis. Technicians at Dixon have been solving marking problems for the world's industries for almost 150 years. Chances are they can solve yours.

Many people erroneously speak of going to "Lower California" to spend the Winter in sunshine. However, Lower California is something quite different. It is a part of the U.S.A. at all. What people really mean in speaking of the California where they go to Winter is "Southern California"—which is a part of the great area originally known as "Upper California" to distinguish it from Lower California which is Mexico.

Sociologist Probes Jury Selection Fairness

RIVERSIDE—You're a lawyer defending a black client in a jury trial. As you stand up to make your opening remarks, you look out at 12 white faces—a jury of middle-aged, well-to-do anglers, perhaps as socially different from your client as they could be.

You get a sinking feeling as you wonder how much that difference will influence the verdict, and what real chance you have of persuading your client's so-called "peers."

According to a sociologist at the University of California, Riverside, the situation is not unusual, because the process of choosing jurors often fails to yield a fair cross section for all of a community's social and ethnic groups, minorities in particular.

The work of Edgar Butler, chairman of UCR's Sociology Department, has added significant impetus toward reforming the system so that juries in California come closer to meeting the legal and constitutional requirement of fair representation.

A recently passed state law is one step in that direction, says Butler, who predicts that such reforms may spread to other parts of the United States.

According to Butler's 1979 study of jury selection in Los Angeles County's superior courts, the problem lies with the exclusive use of voter registration lists as the pool for prospective jurors. The source is still employed by nearly half of California's counties and is the predominant one used in courts across the country.

The study was conducted for the Public Defender's Office and Superior Courts of Los Angeles County, in cooperation with the jury commissioner's office. It surveyed nearly 20,000 persons chosen as potential jurors in the county, comparing them with the general population. The jurors were found to be largely Anglo, upper-middle class and middle-aged with some college education—the kind of people who register to vote in greater numbers everywhere.

Juries drawn from such a pool would not have enough minority, poor, young or elderly members, the study showed. In one example, Butler found that none of the 11 jury panels surveyed between May and July of 1979 fairly represented Hispanics, thus discriminating against that ethnic group in each case.

"Given the manner in which jurors are selected in Los Angeles County and the Torrance Superior Court," the study says, "there is no question that the jury venues (panels) in these jurisdictions are extremely biased."

"Anyone who works in trials knows something is wrong," said Butler. "You just have to open your eyes. Voter-registration lists have been used for years because they are readily available and the law says it's OK to use them. But the courts don't have to use them, and may supplement them with other lists, like Department of Motor Vehicles and welfare rolls, to make the cross section broader."

The Sixth and Fourteenth Amendments to the Constitution, as well as the federal code, guarantee the right to trial by jury "selected at random from a fair cross section of the community." A California law effective Jan. 1, 1981, orders courts to use DMV lists as supplements in jury selection.

Butler, who is writing a book on the history of jury selection, is one of a handful of persons considered to be authorities because of their background in demographics. He has been called to testify in court cases nearly 20 times, usually appearing when lawyers challenge the methods of choosing jurors.

First called to testify in a Nevada case in the mid-1970s, Butler since then has testified in such places as Pomona, Torrance, Pasadena, Van Nuys and Long Beach and has received inquiries from as far away as New York. His study is often used as evidence in Los Angeles County cases.

In one of those recent cases, a Pomona Municipal Court Judge was ordered by the Court of Appeals to reverse the shoplifting conviction of a black woman, because blacks had been unfairly excluded from serving on the jury. It was the first time a Los Angeles County judge had thrown out a conviction because of the way the jury was chosen, and Butler said it is the first ruling of its kind that he is aware of in California.

Butler said he expects his involvement in the issue to continue, and not solely in California courts.

"California is a pacesetter in many things, and I think it will be a pacesetter here," said Butler. "The impact will be felt across the country. It is a very political and volatile issue. I expect to be called to testify in other states."

DA Ends Scientology Investigation

In a hearing held today in Riverside Superior Court Judge Robert Timlin returned to the Church of Scientology in Riverside all documents seized from the church in a raid two years ago. His ruling followed a statement from Assistant District Attorney Gary Tranbarger that his office had no further use for the materials.

This announcement and ruling was interpreted by legal analysts to mean an end to the protracted back and forth legal controversy over alleged irregular loan arrangements by some church members.

The controversy began in June 1979 when the documents were seized from the church in a raid.

Approximately 17 boxes of materials, including financial records and confessional materials were taken during a seven hour search. The church countered with a suit against the responsible officials which eventually was referred in part to the California Supreme Court. The Supreme Court later referred it back to the local Appeals Court to hear the issue of an alleged prior illegal search conducted by by Deputy Sheriff Gary Jensen. A brief Grand Jury was called in 1980 and several witnesses were called to testify, but those proceedings were dropped last year for lack of evidence and no charges were ever filed.

The case against Deputy Jensen is still pending. However, Assistant District Attorney Tranbarger stipulated that today's announcement was not an admission of any wrongdoing by the Sheriff's Office or District Attorney concerning the raid or alleged prior confessions.

Los Angeles spokesman for the Church of Scientology's Office of Public Affairs, Rev. Doug Smith, commented on the termination of the case.

"After two years of seeing the issues in this case settled or dismissed in a just fashion it is fitting that Mr. Tranbarger announce the final end to the dispute. I see it as a very satisfactory act of justice. One could argue whether the hearings ever should have happened, but now at least the air is cleared and our church is larger and more vitally involved with the community than ever before. That's good for everybody. That is very promising!"

Happy Birthday: I celebrated my birthday which was April 5 by entering a 10K run sponsored by the Cal. Baptist College. Before we started our run we had prayer, led by the head of the institution. It was a beautiful run through Marking Bird Canyon, it took me 59.0 minutes this time and I was 59 years old, April 5th. I thank God for everything. Happy Birthday to everyone born on April 5.

Moreno Valley Community Center: The Rev. John Collier is conducting service at the center for those of you who like the gospel religion, however use the excuse that Riverside is too far to travel. The "Holy Hill of Zion" Charismatic Baptist Church meet at the center every Sunday. Everyone is welcome.

Welcome: At church last Sunday, I received one of those drippy hand shakes during the acknowledge your Christian Brother period. I reminded this young person that my Blackness would not come off. I hope we learn to live together before it is too late.

Willie L. Lewis: I received a phone call last week from this man. This young fellow and I went to school together played football and served in the armed services during WW II and after Hollaway High School located in Murfreesboro, Tenn. is where Willie Lewis was one of the best Quarterbacks Hollaway has ever had. I played center offense and defense. Mr. Lewis is now retired after serving as a principal in Louisville, Ky. He is also working with the Olympic Committee, so I will see him in 1984 or before I hope.

Sunday School is important: We talked about the meaning of "Salvation" last Sunday. I spoke to my class about a "Great Reality." What does it mean to say, "I am saved"? What does it mean to be saved? The objective of this session was to give the students the opportunity to explain the meaning of three important Christian words: Grace, Faith, and Salvation.

"HIGH IMPACT ACCESSORIES"

"Today we expect cloths that provide more of a look -- one that is attractive yet relaxed, one with the kind of style and polish that satisfy the demand for dressing. We expect clothes to have more versatility; meaning cloths that work in a variety of ways, a variety of places. We expect more in the way of wit and inventiveness -- things that allow each of us to present a unique, more individual image." And this unique, more individual image can be best brought out by way of accessories, the 'high impact accessories', that make up the total look.

Tostart you'll find that the 'traditional' accessories are now working on a totally different scale -- bigger, bolder, stronger, highly ornamental, and more daring.

A super wide bangle at the wrist... a gutsier choker... an oversized earring, all in a variety of real (natural) textures -- ivory, wood, sea shells, precious and semi-precious stones. And there are new longer, wider belts to wrap and rewrap... often larger bags in appealing colors. Makeup in the most becoming colors -- mint, lilac, tangerine, orchid-prettier, gentle, and often finishing with a shimmering glow. Whatever the accessory its impact is magnificent.

Accessories just don't lend themselves to jewelry, bags, belts and shoes, there are such things as accessory cloths--lingerie, tops, sweaters, blouses, and jackets. "A new way to think about cloths as accessories". Most appealing in the new lingerie are the pinks, peachy-pinks, and the various shades of black. Everything is suddenly more prettier, much more luxurious. The Teddies, Chemises, bare body stockings, all fit into this category. "Another key accessory, day and night, a knockout blouse". A blouse with enough presence to carry any look: a ravishing ruffle-edge floral print blouse, a ruffled organza (rayon, silk material) blouse, or a blouse in brilliant silk stripes. A new top--a new version of the halter. Watch for this accessory, because it's starting to slide in under the new blousey jacket (it's sure to take off on its own once the weather gets warm enough). The halter can be worn in a number of decorative ways.

Next Issue: Surprise! See ya next time!!!

CONSUMER QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

By EUNICE WILLIAMSON
Family & Consumer Sciences Advisor

QUESTION: Why is breakfast important?

ANSWER: If you are one of those people who goes to work without having breakfast, we recommend you eat something before lunch. It's a fact that breakfast is one of the most important meals of the day because it provides the energy that your body needs after you sleep. It is not necessary that you eat much; the important thing is to eat those foods that are nutritious and help your system work better. For example, a piece of fruit, cheese and some whole wheat crackers make a good and quick breakfast. If you don't have too much time, take some raisins and a hard-boiled egg in your briefcase. Trail mixes are popular as well. Make your own by blending dried fruits, nuts and cereals.

QUESTION: Can avocados be frozen whole?

ANSWER: No, because this does not give a good quality product. However, avocados may be frozen in the form of a puree. Select soft-ripe ones with rinds free from dark blemishes. Wash, peel and pit them. Puree them in a blender if you have one. If you plan to use the puree for salads, sandwiches or dips, add 1/4 teaspoon ascorbic acid or 3 tablespoons lemon juice to each quart puree. Use within 4 to 5 months. If you plan to use the puree for ice cream, sherbets, or desserts, sweeten with 1/2 cup sugar to each quart puree. You may want to do some of both. It may be more practical to package the puree in smaller units than quarts -- in your particular recipe size. Be sure to label.

Women Can Get The Credit They Deserve

Historically, women have had a harder time obtaining credit than have men. That stemmed from the mistaken belief that women were bad credit risks. The facts clearly refute this myth. Over the years many women have done an excellent job of managing their finances and credit.

In extending credit, Federal laws make it illegal to discriminate based on sex or marital status. Women can obtain credit in their own names. Single women cannot lose their credit rating if they marry and married women cannot lose theirs if they are widowed or divorced.

Many financial advisors recommend that women establish their own independent financial identities in a credit history. While many credit histories are listed in the husband's name, a woman may request that creditors consider any account that accurately reflects her creditworthiness. General Motors Acceptance Corporation (GMAC), the consumer financing arm of General Motors Corporation, has helped women finance vehicles since the company was founded over 61 years ago. GMAC is offering a free booklet "Women Can Get The Credit They Deserve." It's available from GMAC, Department NA, 767 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10153.

said the cost of welfare is greater than training 1 CETA participant.

"Employers who hire the laid-off CETA workers may qualify for federal tax credits," said Congressman Jerry Lewis, "In some instances, the CETA agencies may be able to provide an on-the-job training contract to pay up to 50% of the employer's training costs. Or, it may be possible for employers to qualify for up to $4,500 in tax credits during the employee's first two years on the job."

This joint appeal is part of an area-wide effort to minimize the impact of the cutbacks. "We are working in close coordination with local officials of both cities and counties."

"The President's effort to revise the budget and change the course of our Nation's economy will require similar coordination and cooperation in the coming months, said Brown. I am hopeful that citizens and employers will see the need for cooperation in this effort and lend their assistance."

HERE'S $6,500 YOU DON'T HAVE TO BORROW FOR COLLEGE.

Your local Army Reserve unit and the Army ROTC unit on your campus have a way for you to earn over $6,500 during college by belonging to both at the same time.
It's called the Simultaneous Membership Program, and don't worry, it gives you plenty of time for a full schedule of classes. For details, call your Army Representative, in the Yellow Pages under "Recruiting."

MEET TODAY'S ARMY RESERVE.

Helps Shrink Swelling Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues

Doctors have found a medication that in many cases gives prompt, temporary relief for hours from pain and burning itch in hemorrhoidal tissues, then helps shrink swelling of these tissues caused by inflammation.
The name: Preparation H®. No prescription is needed. Preparation H. Ointment and suppositories. Use only as directed.

IMPORTANT NEWS FOR BACKACHE SUFFERERS!

MOMENTUM® Tablets are 50% stronger than Doan's.
Before you take Doan's Pills for muscular backache, remember this:
MOMENTUM Tablets are 50% stronger than Doan's. That means MOMENTUM gives you 50% more pain reliever per dose to relieve backache.
To reduce pain, soothe inflammation so muscles loosen—you can move more freely in minutes! There's no stronger backache medication you can buy without a prescription than MOMENTUM Tablets. Take only as directed.

Extra strength relieves problem itching.

It's called BICOZENE® and it has 20% more anesthetic than Lanacane®. BICOZENE's extra strength anesthetic safely cools all kinds of problem itching virtually on contact. And BICOZENE's antibacterial action speeds healing of itchy genital or anal areas.
Look for BICOZENE Creme in the purple box at your pharmacy.
Or ask for "By-Go-Zen®."
Extra strength. Use only as directed. BICOZENE
