Explanatory Notes

Class of 1983: Students eligible to participate in the 1983 Commencement exercises are the December 1982 and March 1983 graduates and the June and August 1983 candidates for degrees.

Graduation with Honors: Honors at graduation are awarded to undergraduate students in three classifications based upon all courses taken at California State College, San Bernardino and other institutions of higher learning. The minimum grade-point averages for recognition are: Honors, 3.5; High Honors, 3.75; and Highest Honors, 3.9. June 1983 and August 1983 candidates for degrees are listed with honors as based upon their grade-point average at the conclusion of the winter quarter.

Photographs: Family and friends of graduates are requested to remain within the designated area when taking photographs. The Alumni Association has arranged for a commercial photographer to take pictures of each graduate receiving a diploma from the president.

The College Mace

The College Mace is a ceremonial symbol of authority carried in academic processions at commencements and convocations. Originating in the Middle Ages, it once was a formidable weapon, held ready to protect the person of dignity.

The College Mace was designed and fashioned this spring by Mark Petherbridge, a senior art major, with technical supervision from Roger Lintault, professor of art. The head of the mace, cast in silicon bronze through the traditional lost wax process, bears the logotype of the college on the crest, surrounded by symbols of education. The shaft is constructed of rosewood, chosen for its rich color, and trimmed with laminated maple strips. The mace, including the bronze tip, is approximately 27 inches long.

The Academic Dress

Academic ceremonies with their gowns, mortarboards, tassels, hoods, and maces are colorful traditions handed down from European universities of the Middle Ages. The first organized institutions of learning took form during the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, generally under the jurisdiction of the church. Academic regalia, as we know it today, has evolved from the robes, hoods and caps worn mainly for warmth in unheated buildings by the clerics, monks and priests who were the first students.

United States universities have now standardized the academic regalia so that its features are common throughout the country. The gown is ordinarily black for academic degrees. The pattern of the sleeves varies with the degree held: pointed sleeves for the bachelor's degree; short sleeves for the master's degree; and round, full sleeves for the doctor's degree. The bachelor's and master's gowns have no trimmings. The doctor's gown is faced down the front with black velvet and three bars of the same material across the sleeves. The color of the velvet on the sleeves also could be the color of the subject in which the degree was earned.

The hood is not usually worn for the bachelor's degree. The master's hood is shorter and lacks the panels of the doctor's hood. The silk lining of the hood bears the colors of the institution from which the individual was graduated. The velvet binding or edging of the hood designates the academic major in which the wearer has taken his or her degree.

At California State College, San Bernardino, the velvet binding on the master's hoods is light blue for education, dark blue for psychology, light brown for administration, white for English and golden yellow for science. The brown silk chevron on the blue lining depicts the college's colors.

The field of study is indicated by the color of the velvet facing (under the chin) on the hood of all master's and doctoral degree holders.
