AFL-CIO Solidarity Day

At next week's Executive Council meeting, the AFL-CIO will unveil details of a Sept. 19 protest in Washington against Reagan budget and tax cuts. With support from 96 civil rights, church and women's groups, the federation hopes to attract a big crowd, but won't predict how big. Two major unions seek to bring 50,000 participants to "Solidarity Day." But the building trades unions, more sympathetic to Reagan, "are less than enthusiastic" about the protest, a labor consultant says. He doubts more than 10,000 of the union's 4.1 million members will come. Garment Workers union chief Sol Chaikin says travel costs will limit his members attendance, he prefers local rallies. Two other council members question the timing as too late to influence Congress. AFL-CIO head Kirkland is spearheading the rally, insiders say, to show he's an activist and labor leaders haven't lost touch with members.

Postal Workers
Against Settlement

The Postal Workers' Union projects its accord could mean a 38% increase over three years, if current inflation persists. But the Mail Handlers call last week's settlement "a piece of garbage" and say they'll win more from arbitration.

Mexico Bans Cal. Fruits

Mexico banned importation of fruits and vegetables from California counties infested with the Mediterranean fruit fly. It was the first nation to take such action. Residents of California's Santa Clara Valley were told to strip their fruit trees quickly or face the possibility of fines and jail. Congressman George E. Brown said in a Press Conference Tuesday, the embargo applies to 3 counties which aren't the agricultural producers for the state.

EDITORIAL

G.E. Plant Closing Wrong

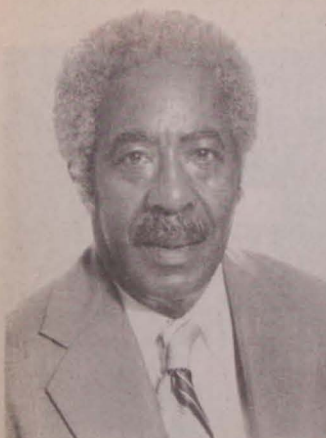

The fact that General Electric is considering moving out of the Ontario Community is reason for alarm but when you consider they are preparing to move out of the country is devastating.

We recognize that freedom of choice in this country is good, but when this freedom consistently allows Big Business to take jobs to other countries and expect us to purchase their products, at the same or even higher price, they are wrong.

Big business and Big labor must come to the table of understanding and attempt to find resolutions to this problem. Big Business can not afford to make huge profits without sharing it with the labor force. On the other hand, Labor cannot expect each worker to earn high salaries just by withholding their services. If workers want high salaries that responsibility rest with each individual and therefore, it is in the interest of America that General Electric and the Community sit at the table of understanding.

The people that will be hurt most in this move is the employees, community, consumers and America's free enterprise system, which provides jobs for America.

We call for a quick solution to this devastating problem.

"Sullivan Calls For New Black Connection"

Preaching revival style to shouts and unrestrained applause, Rev. Leon Sullivan electrified the NAACP closing banquet audience at the Denver Convention when he called for a "New Black Connection" around the world.

"The Jewish people have a Jewish Connection; the French have a French Connection; the Italians have an Italian Connection. I say it's time that Blacks have a Black Connection," Sullivan roared.

Stressing the need for Blacks in the NAACP to reach out to the Caribbean, Central and South American Blacks and the continent of Africa, the Black clergyman, NAACP Spingarn Award winner and Founder of O.I.C. International Network of job training corporations, urged Benjamin Hooks, Margaret Bush Wilson and the NAACP leaders across the nation to look beyond the present conservatism era to a new day of Black economic and political progress.

"We must have confidence that the Black Race will continue to advance. We must have confidence that in spite of the new conservatism, with the help of God and our own efforts, we will continue our stride towards freedom," he said.

The so-called "Lion of Zion" was roaring louder and the crowd loved it. Interrupted 15 times by applause, he ticked off specific action agenda items including the need for competency.

"Our people must have skills to compete in the world of work with all other Americans on an equal basis.

Our people must demand excellence in performance from our children and youth.

Our people must push self-help programs and policies and insist on greater emphasis and support for training centers like O.I.C. (Opportunities Industrialization Centers).

Our confidence, competence and cooperation, are the three C's that we must have to assure the continuing advancement of the race," he concluded.

Emphasizing the need to get rid of jealousy and envy and to "work together," Sullivan came down hard on "dependency."

"We must work together politically and economically to help ourselves and depend on no one. We must not be dependent on any one political party or any one political ideology, we must not even depend on White liberals or White conservatives. We must depend on ourselves to help ourselves - Whites can support us, but they cannot lead us!" he shouted.

Citing the need for Black economic and political pressure, using the Black press, the Black church, Black fraternal and civic organizations and the more than 2,000 branches of the NAACP the pioneer leader of boycotts and father of Operation Breadbasket, painted a picture of potential Black progress across America and around the world.

FOR ALL YOU DO ... Reverend Leon H. Sullivan (left) president and founder of Opportunities Industrialization Centers of America, is all smiles upon receiving a contribution from Henry H. Brown (right), vice president of marketing, development for Anheuser-Busch, Inc., at the recent OICA national convention in Phoenix. Anheuser-Busch has been a ongoing supporter of OICA a national technical assistance organization that serves disadvantaged Americans of all races at approximately 144 facilities in 42 states. Also attending the OICA convention at the Civic Plaza Convention Center was Arizona Governor Bruce Babbitt (center).

Worship as a Family This Week

Friendship Baptist Church News
Rev. Levonzo Gray
Pastor

"Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us." (Hebrews 12:1) This was the scripture text taken by Rev. Gray on Sunday morning. His subject was "Running for Jesus." He told us that the only thing that the Devil can do is what we let him do. Every now and then he gets in our mind. We have become so lukewarm that we don't have enough strength to pull the hat off your head so to speak. It's sad but a lot of folks don't know the condition that they are in. When you get sick in your soul, you can get well through the preacher. If you have a preacher that you don't want to hear, go where you can and are willing to listen to the preacher.

You have to lay aside every sin, including drinking, lying, anger, and all unrighteousness. When God begins to chasten us, we need to admit we were wrong and say Lord I want to be more and more like Jesus.

Rev. Harris spoke to us Sunday afternoon at our Men's service about "Coverage for Life." He told us about an insurance company unlike "having a piece of the rock" or "being in good hands." This company is the wealthiest company in the world. It came into existence before the beginning of the world. It was revitalized in Acts 2. It had over 3,000 paid up customers. It was fulfilled by the forerunners of John the Baptist. We were introduced to this company by some preacher. It has health coverage, accident and death. God is the originator of this company and Jesus Christ is the president. We must do what the motto says "Seek ye first the Kingdom of Heaven" and God will provide everything you need.

Bro. Alfred Horn did a splendid job as Master of Ceremonies. The young men's choir made their singing debut Sunday evening. The members of the group are Dean Seymour, Reggie McClood, Dwayne McClood, Levonzo Gray, and Christopher Reid. They did melodious renditions of three songs. We know they will be in greatly demand during their rise to fame and popularity in the Christian world.

Rev. Harris and the Greater 20th Century Baptist Church were the special guests for this service. The choir from Friendship and Greater 20th Century praised the Lord in song. Bro. Willie Gore gave a short talk on the theme. Bro. David Reid gave remarks to thank everyone for coming. The pastor and wife's appreciation service will be Sunday, August 2 at 3:00pm. Rev. Jerry Louder will be the speaker. The choir's Fashion Show and Tea will be Aug. 15 at Riverside City College 6-10 pm.

Rev. Sidney Tate, Pastor

The choir was in top singing voice as they fed our souls singing "Christ Is All," "By Grace Through Faith," witnessing and ending with "What Is This." Scripture was taken from Proverbs 30:24-33.

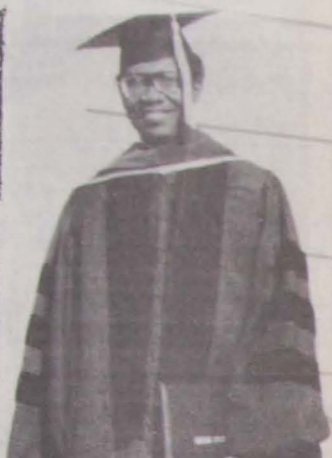

Pastor Tate spoke from Theme "Get That Spider." Opening was from a story of a lady who attended prayer meeting every Wednesday night and prayed this prayer, "Lord clean the cobwebs out of my heart." One of the officers couldn't take any more. After her usual prayer, the old man prayed this prayer: "Lord Sister Sue has been praying week after week Lord clean the cob webs out of my heart, Lord I'm asking you tonight please get the spider." Pastor Tate's text was taken from Prov. 30:28. The spider taketh hold with her hands and is in King's Palaces. In the scripture Proverbs 30:24-28 it tells of four small pests. I. Ant - not very strong, works all summer long preparing for winter. II. Mice are feeble yet make their house in rocks. III. Locusts go forth by hands. IV. Spider takes hold with her hands and in King's Palaces. Four things that are very little very admirable yet they are pest. They are handy work of God. We should look at the spider this morning above all the other three pest. The spider is a genius in weaving it's web with fitness, finesse, and exactness. They weave their web with a great deal of art. They are not only in the poor man house, they are in the rich man's house too. Spider is a silent force at work. Many times you look around you see the web, but you don't see the spider. Spider gets it's into high places. For an example the church. The Church is a palace. The King of Heaven and Earth lives there. The Church of God is a palace. The spider of hatred and sin are there. There is spider of slander and backbiting spiders of abuse and lies. All are spinning webs from the Communion Table to the door. You say that there is something wrong with Church, it won't progress, there is no spirit in the Church there are spiders in the church. "Get that spider."

The family night covered dish will be at the church Friday July 31st 6:00 pm. prayer meeting and Bible Study Wednesday Evening 6:00 all are invited to attend.

Divine Worship Hour: "Does God Plan Our Lives Before We Live Them?" This is the title of the sermon to be delivered by the pastor, Elder H. E. Vanderberg, of the Sixteenth Street Seven-day Adventist Church at the 11:00 divine worship hour, Sat. Aug. 1. He and the congregation invite all this Saturday to the stirring service. A tasty luncheon will be served to all visiting guests. Come and bring a friend. The church is located at the corner of Muscott and Sixteenth Streets, San Bernardino.

LESSON FIVE: "Creator and Sustainer" is the subject of the lesson to be studied at the 9:30 church-at-study hour this Saturday, Aug. 1. Most human beings ask questions of themselves and others concerning origins—origins of self, of others, of animals, of vegetation, of stars, of our universe and beyond. This lesson deals with the doctrine of creation. This lesson is biblically based. Details of true science are left to the scientists and to other means of information. There are two possible keys to the question of origin—1, deduction from what man sees around him around him in the physical world; and, 2, faith: based on his religious experience with a self-revealing God whom he has come to know as his Lord and Saviour. For a beautiful discussion of this lesson, be certain to attend a class of your choice. And, join in the song-fest for 15 minutes before the lesson.

POWER HOUR: Each Wednesday evening at the appointed hour of 7:30, the prayer and praise service has a spiritual awakening for all. The lovely hymns, the very interesting testimonies, and the sincere prayers of each Christian does much to help each person in the meeting. And, most of all, the sermonette delivered by the pastor or assistant pastor leaves everyone with food for thought to ponder the rest of the week. All are welcome to attend the power hour of the church. Prayer changes things. Come, all.

CIRCLE AUG. 29 ON YOUR CALENDAR: Elder G.B. Rock, pastor of the Oakwood College, Huntsville, Ala., church will be the guest speaker for the 11:00 divine worship hour. The same date at 8:00 p.m., not only will Elder Rock appear on program; but, also, Clifton Davis, famous ex-radio and T.V. star, and Mrs. Lois Carson of our fair city. They will help to boost the UNCF Queen contest; in which our Melinda Sewer is aspiring to attain the title of Queen of all the black colleges in the nation. Let's cheer and support her by attending the Aug. 29th program; 8:00 p.m. at the 16th St. Church, Muscott and 16th.

DON'T FORGET: Youth Week of Prayer, Aug. 9 through 15. Mirrors
You can look in a mirror and see yourself
Just as you look today,
A smiling countenance or a frown comes back to you just that way.
The people around you are mirrors, too
Reflecting so much how much you live.
You smile and they smile—you frown, so do they
They give back to you what you give
You criticize others—it's sure to come back;
Be grateful and you will find
That others, too, will appreciate
That fact that you are good and kind.
Yes, we are like mirrors; but, this is my prayer
That every reflection I see
May be one of peace and contentment always Because Jesus' love shines through me.

Allen Chapel A.M.E. Church News

Pastor
J. Ray Thornton

BY THERESA B. JEWELL REPORTER

Members of Allen Chapel were blessed once more to have one of our associate Ministers, the Rev. Raymond Manning as speaker for Men's Day. The Rev. Manning who is also Director of Christian Education took his Text from 2 Kings 20:1 and 14-15 verses. Subject: "What It May Seem In Thou House." He expressed a desire that everyone would be able to see the Glory of The Lord through the Sermon offered and had come to celebrate the victory over death by our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

After leading the Sermonic Hymn titled "We'll Understand It Better By and By," Rev. Manning spoke of Hezekiah who was ill and feared death at an early age. He sought counsel from the Prophet Isaiah whom God had spoken to and told him to assure Hezekiah that he had fifteen more years to live. Hezekiah realized that although his heart was right with God, he was guilty of showing off his earthly treasures. Hezekiah prayed and soon recovered and he stated that he and his house would serve The Lord.

Rev. Manning challenged all Men to take a stand in the home and be the Spiritual leader. A very inspiring Sermon for all who attended.

Pastor's Word: A man wrapped up in himself, makes a pretty small parcel. If Christ is kept outside, something must be wrong inside.

Mr. Eddie Spears, Chairman of Men's Day and Mr. Guy Moore co-chairman wishes to thank those who helped make Men's Day a success.

GRACE BETHEL BAPTIST CHURCH
REV. WM SELDON
PASTOR
CHURCH REPORTER:
Sis. Ruthie Seldon

The Lord keep doing great things for us where by we are glad. Our Sunday School lesson reminded us as Christians that we should bring our tithes into the storehouse also our offerings. Once we are obedient to the will of God our lives will not be lived haphazardly because Christ is the final authority in our lives.

The youth choir rendered music during our morning service and we were blessed with a solo from John David which was a great blessing to our hearts.

We were happy to have our pastor back and he let the Lord use him as he delivered the word. Rev. Seldon spoke to us from Psalm 1. He chose the 5th verse as the text which reads, "Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgement, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous." Rev. Seldon said that we spend much time program and miss out on many of our blessings because of our lack of faith. But the Lord is coming back and there is going to be a great separation, many will be standing gazing but the Lord will say depart from me, I know you not.

We were happy to welcome Sis. Refinit David and her son John. The friends of Rev. Seldon's nieces and nephews were also our guests.

Bro. Cecil Gilkey did a great job ushering and we are grateful to the Lord for Bro. Lilkey's willingness to work. The church accompanied Rev. Seldon over to Greater Faith Baptist Church as he spoke during a Building Fund Program. The combined choirs rendered music and Rev. Seldon spoke on "Christ's Church" and Ephesians 5:25-27 was the scripture reading. We had a very rejoicing fellowship in the Lord.

Come To Church This Week

American Muslim Mission
By Imam Ron El-Amin
With the name God,
The Gracious, the Compassionate

Dear Readers: In hopes of better acquainting Non-Muslims with Prophet Muhammad of 1400 years ago (PEACE BE UPON HIM), this article will consist of some of his sayings in which you will find the God given qualities, that established in Him, the perfect model of human conduct for all mankind. Through His sayings, may you derive a greater understanding of the religion of Al' Islam.

The Prophet said:
"Fear God wherever you are, and follow up a bad deed with a good one and it will wipe it out, and behave well towards people."

"Be mindful of God, you will find Him before you. Get to know God in prosperity and He will know you in adversity. Know that what has passed you by was not going to befall you and that what has befallen you was not going to pass you by. And know that victory comes with patience, relief with affliction, and ease with hardship."

"Religion is very easy and whoever overburdens himself in his religion will not be able to continue in that way. So you should not be extremist, but try to be near to perfection and receive the good tidings that you will be rewarded, and gain strength by worshipping in the mornings, afternoons and during the last hours of the night."

"Righteousness is good morality, and wrongdoing is that which wavers in your soul and which you dislike people finding out about."

"Whoever of you sees an evil action, let him change it with his hand; and if he is not able to do so, then with his tongue; and if he is not able to do so, then with his heart — and that is the weakest of faith."

On June 12th, General Electric announced it is considering closing its Iron Plant, which for 77 years has been a cornerstone in the West End's economy. A final decision to close could come at any time. The shut-down of the plant is a public issue which effects us all. Act today to save the plant by doing two things.

#1 CLIP THIS LETTER, sign your name to it, and mail it to General Electric's Board Chairman, Mr. John F. Welch.

Mr. John F. Welch
Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer
General Electric Company
3135 Eastern Turnpike
Fairfield, Connecticut 06431

Dear Mr. Welch:

As citizens of Ontario, California, and its neighboring cities, we urge you to take all possible measures to assure continued operation of the General Electric Iron Plant in our community.

The Iron was invented in Ontario in 1902. Manufacturing began in 1904, and since then our citizens have made over 150 million irons here and today produce half of all irons sold, always at a profit to the company. Our city takes great pride in being "the iron capital of the world."

Ever since General Electric bought the plant in 1933, you have proved yourself to be not just a business, but a positive force, within our community. You have been a leader in the employment of women, minority persons, and Viet Nam veterans. Your responsible attitude towards our community has been amply demonstrated. In turn, the community has provided you with a stable work force, the majority of whom have long-term service with you. Ours has been a good marriage.

Last June 12th, you told us that you are seriously considering terminating our relationship, shutting down the plant, and running overseas in the interest of finding cheap labor. Such a move might further increase the profits of the company. But the economic, psychological, and social costs to our community through the loss of 1,000 jobs, the loss of a $13 million annual payroll, and the ultimate, overall loss of $91million in annual local business activity would be devastating.

The Reagan Administration has challenged corporate leadership to play a key role in responding to human and community needs. The Administration has also encouraged corporate leadership to show faith in the American economy. We strongly urge you to heed both appeals. Furthermore, we urge you to uphold the economic stability of our employee families and our entire community. We do not understand how a pull-out can serve the best interests of General Electric or the community.

We believe and hope you believe that a negotiated solution, profitable to all concerned, can be found.

150 ORGANIZATIONS URGE ATTORNEY GENERAL

NEW YORK, N.Y. - NAACP Executive Director Benjamin L. Hooks, along with several other civil rights leaders called upon Attorney General William French Smith last week to support extension of the 1965 Voting Rights Act for at least another 10 years, in response to recent overtures by the Administration for a continuing dialogue on civil rights concerns.

Appearing in his capacity as Chairman of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, Hooks declared following the hour-long meeting that "This issue is almost a litmus test in the Black community of the Administration." The Leadership Conference on Civil Rights represents some 152 national civil rights, religious and labor coalitions.

Hooks deplored recent statements of the Administration which support extension of the key provisions of the Voting Rights Act to all 50 states. He said, "This would materially weaken rather than strengthen the enforcement powers of the Act."

The Administration, thus far, has postponed issuing a definitive position on the controversial legislation pending the outcome of a study by the Justice Department scheduled to be released in October. Meanwhile, the key provisions of the Voting Rights Act are due to expire in August 1982.

Hooks said he learned that several options are currently under review in the Justice Department. He said Smith, however, declined to make any commitment. But Hooks added the civil rights group is vehemently opposed to any modifications or amendments that would in effect reduce the enforcement measures in the Act. One of the most important provisions under attack by conservative groups, Section 5 of the Act, requires certain state and local governments to obtain advance clearance on any new changes in voting or election procedures with either the Attorney General or the U.S. District Court in Washington D.C.

Hooks said the civil rights coalition also supports a bill sponsored by Rep. Peter W. Rodino, Jr. (D-N.J.) and Sen. Charles McC. Mathias (R-Md.) that would allow a ten-year extension on Section 5 and further protect the rights of citizens filing discrimination suits under Section 2.

Brown appoints McNeil and McCarthy to Coastal Commission

SACRAMENTO - Assembly Speaker Willie Brown has appointed Carolyn L. McNeil of Los Angeles and Grace McCarthy of Pacifica to the California Coastal Commission.

McNeil, 42, is the owner of McNeil Realty International Real Estate Network and President of McNeil Enterprises. She is a member of the Black Women's Forum, 10th Councilmatic Steering Committee, the National Negro Women's Council and the NAACP. She is also a graduate of Pepperdine University.

A Democrat, she fills an existing vacancy. McCarthy, a Pacifica City Councilwoman for 12 years, she also served two terms as Mayor. She was a member of the Ocean Coastline Planning Committee of the Association of Bay Area Governments and also served on the Pacific Parks, Beaches and Recreation Commission.

Members serve 2-year terms at the pleasure of the appointing power. They receive $100 per meeting.

The California Coastal Commission acts as the state coastal zone planning agency for all purposes. It is the successor to the California Coastal Zone Conservation Commission and the six regional coastal zone conservation commissions established by the California Coastal Zone Conservation Act of 1972.

President Reagan got almost everything he wanted from a compliant Congress - the Administration steamroller squashed a feeble opposition and rammed a budget bill through a Congress that never even knew what it was voting for.

The differences between the Senate and House versions will be ironed out in committee and hopefully some damaging features in each will be modified.

But regardless of the minor changes that will take place, this country is now launched on a radical experiment whose true nature has been obscured by the sweeping nature of the budget cuts.

UCR sets new graduation requirements

RIVERSIDE - Beginning in the fall of 1982, entering freshmen at the University of California, Riverside, will face a new set of graduation requirements designed to ensure their familiarity with several important disciplines. Transfer students will face those requirements in 1983.

UCR's Academic Senate the faculty governing body on campus, this spring approved a set of "Breadth requirements" which one of the proposal's architects described as "the equal in quality of that at virtually any university."

Chemistry Professor Walter Deal, chairman of the Senate's Committee on Educational Policy which wrestled with the document for nearly three years, said the adopted set of "central" disciplines seems to strike an effective compromise between rigid curricula and freedom of choice.

"There is a fine line between mandating the study of important fields and restricting students' flexibility (to take electives or pursue majors)," Deal said. But the following package earned the support of students, faculty and administration:

1). ENGLISH COMPOSITION: All students must complete a one-year sequence of college-level instruction with at least a C average (at UCR, the sequence is English 1A-1B, followed by English 1C or 102.).

2). NATURAL SCIENCES AND MATHEMATICS: A total of five courses must be passed - one in math statistics, computer science, one in biological sciences, one in physical sciences, and two others in fields chosen by the student.

3). HUMANITIES: Five courses are required for the A.B. degree three for the B.S. degree - one course in world history, plus a combination chosen from fine arts, literature, philosophy and seven other disciplines.

4). SOCIAL SCIENCES: Four courses are required for the A.B. degree, three for the B.S. degree - one in economics political science, one in anthropology, psychology, sociology, and others in fields chosen by the student.

Previously, a core of graduation requirements was established by the individual college in which the student enrolled. The new regulations will standardize

REAGAN'S RADICAL EXPERIMENT

Since everyone was focusing on some program or programs slated for cutting, few people understood that the cuts as a whole, along with the Administration's tax proposals and other actions, amount to a fundamental change in the direction of our society.

Taken together, we see the beginnings of a grand design of substituting charity for entitlements; local tyranny for federal protection, and an unbridled, law-of-the-jungle capitalism for balanced cooperation between the public and private sectors.

By attacking basic safety net programs such as Food Stamp, Medicaid, welfare and social security, the Administration attacks the concept of entitlement-that people eligible to participate in a program can do so. It's the beginning of a shift back to the old idea that private charity should take care of the poor, not the government.

Charity, of course, can never cope with such widespread poverty. Nor can it ever replace government as a source of programs that get at the roots of poverty.

By stressing block grants and taking a wait-and-see attitude on voting rights, the Administration is implementing the policy of ceding to state and local authorities the powers and responsibility that should be exercised by the federal government. Given the well-documented callousness of local governments and their control by local elites, that virtually ensures the neglect of the poor and their problems.

And by attacking regulatory procedures that protect workers, the environment, health and safety standards, and the like, the Administration removes government as a balancing force to private power.

The tax cuts, heavily tilted to corporations and wealthy, symbolize that drift to a smaller, less influential government.

They also symbolize the net result of the Administration's economic program, which amounts to a massive transfer of resources from the poor to the rich.

It takes money, programs and opportunities from poor people and promises them in return an end to inflation and prosperity for all. It says to poor people: give up the little you have today and you'll get a lot more in the by and bye. The basic idea is that the economic growth that creates new jobs. But there is no reason to think the program will work, and much to suggest it will fail.

It is interesting that the two most successful economies of the post-war world got that way by means other than the Administration's plan. The Administration's route to prosperity is through less government, lower taxes, fewer social programs, and greater inequality.

But Japan and West Germany have active government intervention in the economy, high taxes, far less inequality than we, and, in the case of West Germany, a welfare state. The Administration proposed, and Congress passively accepted, a radical experiment that, even if it works, which is highly unlikely, will greatly increase social tensions in our society.

That's because, again, even if it works, it will take years to produce the promised prosperity. In the meantime, lifeline programs for poor people will be cut or removed.

And even if it works, there is no guarantee that today's poor will get their fair share of the expanding economy. In fact, with today's training programs, education aid, and other opportunity-creating programs cut or ended, they'll be even less able to take advantage of future opportunities.

THE HOME BIRTH MOVEMENT

"As Christians prepare to celebrate the humble birth of a baby in Bethlehem long ago, it is interesting to reflect that if that momentous event had occurred today in the United States, Mary and Joseph would have been roundly condemned by the medical establishment. And if there had been a midwife in attendance, the poor woman might well have been arrested."

—Jack Anderson, December 24, 1978, Independent Press-Telegram

The intervening four years have made Mr. Anderson's last sentence seem prophetic: several midwives have been arrested and some charged with murder for delivering a baby at home under unsafe medical conditions.

Despite legal restrictions and attacks by the medical establishment, the Home Birth Movement grows steadily, especially among educated, middle-class couples who prefer an alternative to hospital deliveries. According to The Association for Childbirth at Home, International (ACHH) MOST YOUNG PARENTS WANT A HOME

BIRTH DELIVERY BECAUSE THEY WANT TO AVOID UNNECESSARY INTERVENTION OF DRUGS. THEY WANT TO MAKE THE FATHER ACTIVELY PART OF THE BIRTHING PROCESS, AND THEY WANT TO PROVIDE A HEALTHY ATMOSPHERE FOR THE MOTHER AND THE CHILD.

Also, Home Birth proponents argue that natural birth deliveries are safer and cite history to support their claim. Midwifery, they say, predates the practice of medicine by many centuries, but the physician evolved from the shaman priest and the barber-surgeon whose function was to repair the wounds of advancing armies. Thus, historically speaking, midwives are healers and doctors are repairmen.

I do not share this uncharitable view of the medical profession. Doctors are healers, too. But they are not God. This is the message of the Home Birth Movement which believes in the patient's right to actively participate in the healing process.

Criminal Justice Introduction

One of the most widespread superstitions is that every man has his own special, definite qualities; that a man is kind, cruel, wise, stupid, energetic, apathetic, etc. Men are not like that—men are like rivers: the water is the same in each, and alike in all; but every river is narrow here, is more rapid there, here slower there broader, now clear, now cold, now dull, now warm. It is the same with men. Every man carries in himself the germs of every human quality, and sometime one manifests itself, sometime another, and the man often becomes unlike himself, while still remaining the same man.

With the above thought in mind I would like to this article considering Coddington's Theories of Punishment; evidence supporting correction methods, retribution, prevention, deterrence; and reformation.

social sciences, physical sciences and biological sciences be developed as a way to fulfill the requirements.

"Such courses, taught by the most outstanding faculty on campus, would provide an exceptional educational experience for students." Deal added.

Chancellor Tomas Rivera, in endorsing the new requirements, called the Senate's action "a significant step forward in increasing the breadth and coherence of the general education of UCR students. This action says clearly to our students, to our community, and to ourselves that UCR is committed to providing a broad, high-quality general education to its students."

requirements campus-wide. The total number of units needed to graduate (180) will not change.

Deal noted that UCR requires more coursework in natural science and mathematics than any comparable campus, including Stanford, Harvard, USC and the other University of California campuses.

"When we talked to alumni," he explained, "there was unanimous agreement that students should take coursework in computer science in order to function in almost any vocation. Also UCR has a history of exceptional science teachers who are interested in teaching non-scientists, so we felt very comfortable with this requirement."

The Educational Policy Committee also recommended to its colleagues that a series of team-taught interdisciplinary courses in the humanities,

MAYOR AB'S NOTES

Items of General Interest to the Citizens of Riverside

Mayor Ab Brown

I can't tell you how much of honor it was to be awarded the Legion of Honor by the Order of DeMolay in a ceremony July 19 at the Los Angeles Scottish Rite Cathedral.

For years I've enjoyed working with the young men that belong to this fraternal organization. I have three wonderful daughters, but DeMolay provides the joy of working and having fun with "sons."

DeMolay was founded in 1919, emphasizing the development of good citizenship. For young men ages 13 to 21, it is second only to the Boy Scouts of America in membership.

It isn't everyday that a Riverside gets a congratulatory letter from the President of the United States. Riverside's Chief Ombudsman for Senior Citizens, JANET GOESKE and her husband JOHN were pleasantly surprised to receive a letter on their 52nd wedding anniversary from President and Mrs. Reagan.

I'd like to echo those sentiments by offering warm congratulations to the GOESKES and best wishes for the years ahead.

There are some who have been critical of my stand on a crow suppression program in Riverside. However, I have also received many letters of support.

"Dear Mayor Brown: I thought the city was going to do something about the vast number of crows we have in our area.

My gripe is that the crows are killing off our song birds by eating the eggs and the little birds before they get out of the nest. I have seen plenty of evidence of this around my house. We used to have a number of mockingbirds but no more.

Also, I have had to park my car under trees, or near them and the crows have left big spoolies which leave dull places on the paint.

Crows are a nuisance and a pest and I have yet to find anyone who likes them.

Right now, out my window I can see a pair perched in a tall tree over on Valencia Street. I think they are taunting me.

Can you do anything to help us?"

I sympathize with the writer. Last October I asked the City Council to consider the crow problem in our city. The Council authorized the County Agricultural Commissioner to coordinate and implement a crow suppression program for crows within the city limits and also authorized the funds necessary to implement the program.

The crow complaints this year have lessened so I am confident the suppression program is becoming effective.

For the duration of the year, Councilwoman TERRY FRIZZEL will serve as Mayor Pro Tempore.

Representing the 7th ward, Councilwoman FRIZZEL has been appointed in accordance with previously established policy. She will fill in for me when I attend conference and functions that keep me away from Council Meetings.

Congressman George Brown

Brown Introduces Bill

WASHINGTON D.C. - Congressman George E. Brown, Jr. (D-Calif.) introduced legislation to create the Arid Lands Renewable Agricultural Resources Corporation. The legislation creates a corporation identical to the synthetic fuels corporation which would concentrate on agricultural sources of strategic materials - natural rubber, resins, lubricants, and chemical feedstocks - that are grown in the arid southwestern United States.

The companion bill in the Senate, S. 1462, was introduced by Senator DeConcini (S-D-Ariz.) on July 10, 1981 and is co-sponsored by Senator Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.). The legislation concentrates on the accelerated production of a number of plants with commercial potential: guayule - a source of natural rubber, resins, and biomass fuel; jojoba - a source of a superior lubricant, chemical feed-stock and useful cosmetic and dermatological applications; euphorbia - a source of chemical feedstocks and other petrochemical replacements.

Brown said, "For years I have worked to get the federal government and private industry to recognize the value of these plants, their low water use and salinity tolerance, and their production of renewable sources of hydrocarbons and oils for which we are dangerously dependent upon foreign sources. Instead, the emphasis has been placed upon plants from humid regions or upon approaches such as the development of synthetic fuels from oil shales and sands which are antithetical to sound resources management in the arid west. After years of watching government and industry looking to each other for the first step in developing these domestic sources of valuable materials, I have devised, along with my companions in the Senate an approach which allows government and industry to join in this understanding."

Interest in these crops spans his 16 year Congressional career. His latest effort was the enactment of the Native Latex Commercialization and Economic Development Act of 1978, (P.L. 95-592) which focused on the guayule plant. In the legislation introduced today, Brown expands his efforts by including native southwestern plants in a plan to have the Corporation provide price guarantees, loan guarantees, loans, and joint ventures (in that decreasing order of priority) to secure the strategic and industrial materials that these plants produce.

Brown also stated, "In our desire to find domestic replacements for liquid fuels, we have overlooked the rest of the end uses dependent upon imported oil. Synthetic rubber, lubricants, and other industrial chemical processes also demand petroleum. With this legislation I hope to correct our past overemphasis on the liquid fuels problem and develop a program that will benefit all sectors of American industry and society."

Morgan died in 1963 in Cleveland, a city which had awarded him a gold medal for his devotion to public safety.

Garrett A. Morgan - his inventions saved lives.

Orders for the Morgan inhalators soon began to pour in from five companies all over the nation. As word got around that Morgan was a man to demonstrate his invention.

During World War I, however, Morgan's invention really began to save lives. It was transformed into the gas masks used by our combat troops.

Chisolm Condemns Refugee Jailings

Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm (D-New York) condemned the placing of hundreds of Haitian refugees in federal jails. "The only crime these refugees have committed," she said, "was fleeing persecution in their homeland and seeking safety and freedom in America. Indefinite incarceration for them in prisons far from legal counsel, friends and relatives, where nobody even speaks their language, is a cruel, unjust, and seemingly racist policy."

The U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service has begun transferring Haitians from the Krome detention camp near Miami, Florida, to federal prisons in New York, Texas and West Virginia. The move is allegedly to relieve overcrowding and ease unsanitary conditions at the site adjoining the Everglades.

"There is absolutely no legal or moral justification for jailing these people," the Congresswoman asserted. In the same way that Japanese-Americans were rounded up and forced into internment camps during World War II, the I.N.S. is demonstrating a similar disregard for another group of non-white victims of unfortunate circumstance."

"I cannot believe," Mrs. Chisholm stated "that an alternative to federal prison does not exist for the Haitian refugees. Nor can I believe that refugees from Poland or the Soviet Union, or from any European country for that matter would ever be humiliated in this fashion. There is a disturbing double-standard pattern emerging in this Administration's attitude toward refugees."

NEW YORK - The Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corporation has appointed Gloria A. Blakely to the position of research group manager of the marketing department. In her new position, she will be responsible for assisting in the planning, development and evaluation of a variety of consumer research programs. Before joining B & W, Ms. Blakely was a research group product manager with Richardson-Merrell, Inc. in Wilton, Ct. A native of Pittsburgh, Pa., she graduated from Howard University in Washington, D.C. and attended the M.B.A. program at George Washington University, also in Washington, D.C.
