

California State University, San Bernardino

CSUSB ScholarWorks

Innovative Course Redesign Grant Reports

Teaching Resource Center

Winter 1-31-2011

Amy Leh CD Summer 2010

Amy Leh

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.lib.csusb.edu/trc-cd>

Part of the Higher Education and Teaching Commons

COURSE DEVELOPMENT GRANT PROGRESS REPORT

NAME: Amy Leh

DEPARTMENT: SMTE

EMAIL ADDRESS: aleh@csusb.edu

DATE SUBMITTED: January 31, 2010

Title of Grant Award: Course Development Grant (Quarter, Year)
Using New Media for 21st Century Learning (Summer, 2010)

Project Goal:
Develop effective completely online course.

When Implemented (Quarter the course was taught): Winter 2011

Brief Description of the Project (as described in the proposal)

“E-Learning Delivery and Assessment” is one of the new e-Learning certificate courses in the Instructional Technology program. It is a completely online course. A variety of instructional strategies will be employed in the course including online moderating strategies, active learning, and collaborative learning. Course management system Blackboard will be used for the course; in addition, Blog, Wiki, Skype, Talkshoe, and Voicethread will be used to facilitate student learning. The students will use Blog to post their assignments, Wiki to collaborate on their team projects, and Skype to conduct small group discussions. The instructor will invite guest speakers to talk to and conduct discussions with students via Talkshoe, a service that enables anyone to easily listen to live interactive discussions. Through Voicethread, the instructor will give presentations and to provide feedback to students, and she will conduct office hours and small group discussions via Skype.

How the Project was Implemented (including how it differed from original plan)
The course development has been completed, and the project is still being implemented.

Results of the Project:
The project is still being implemented.

Additional Comments (Lessons Learned, Insights, Future Plans, etc.)
I will participate in the project dissemination during Fall 2011 as scheduled.