January 25th 1984

CSUSB

Follow this and additional works at: http://scholarworks.lib.csusb.edu/coyote-chronicle

Recommended Citation
http://scholarworks.lib.csusb.edu/coyote-chronicle/48

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the CSUSB Archives at CSUSB ScholarWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in Coyote Chronicle by an authorized administrator of CSUSB ScholarWorks. For more information, please contact scholarworks@csusb.edu.
Salaries for Top Administrators Term "Outrageous"

Last fall the CSUC trustees raised salary and benefit levels for its presidents and top level administrators by as much as 30% placing them in the $80,000 and above range. Chancellors of the UC campuses now range as high as $95,000. Students and college employees received a 6% pay increase this year.

In response to the administrators' raise Senator Robert Presley (D-Riverside) recently introduced a toughly worded Resolution which he said "should put higher education in the state under control, that such salaries shall be subject to Legislative review."

Presley's Senate Concurrent Resolution 48 stresses that the fiscal integrity of the state's postsecondary educational institutions is a vital legislative function, and adds: "That fiscal integrity has been increasingly threatened by the establishment of exhorbitant salary levels for many of the administrative positions at the California State University and the University of California." The resolution would not have the binding effect of a law, but Presley pointed out "its passage will send them a message."

Presley last fall voiced strong criticisms of the UC system, CSUC and the state's Community College system for salaries for top administrators which he termed "outrageous." Presley said he fully agrees that the state's higher educational system should remain autonomous, and pointed out that California's Constitution protects the independence of most UC operations. "But this autonomy must be based on reasonableness, and I feel they have decidedly stepped beyond the bounds in setting top salaries in the $100,000 to $200,000 range, when they are not set by elected bodies."
CSU: A Massive Industry

With a state appropriation of just under $1 billion, the California State University system generated $5.2 billion in business volume in 1981-82, results of a massive survey showed.

CSU's impact as an "industry" was based on direct expenditures by the state's 19 campuses and their faculties, staffs, students and visitors as well as additional expenditures created by a multiplier effect.

The finding is among many emerging from a yearlong analysis of the economic impacts of The California State University system, presented to the Board of Trustees' Committee on Educational Policy at a meeting on the campus of CSU, Fullerton.

It will be discussed at the Committee's next meeting in January.

"For the first time we are able to document what we have been trying to do - the economic impact on the state of all public and private colleges and universities," said Chancellor W. Ann Reynolds.

"College graduates tend to generate jobs for others. They are a pool of community and economic leaders. They advance the health and well-being of their community. They participate as voters. They elevate the health levels of their families and their communities. They are less likely to commit violent crimes. And they contribute positively to economic growth."

The study, comprising more than 200 pages, was prepared for the California Postsecondary Education Commission which is analyzing a summary of the economic impact on the state of all public and private colleges and universities.

With 1981-82 as the base year for many of its findings, the study surveyed that the campuses generated far beyond their state appropriations in terms of influencing productivity and income and in providing effective demand for goods and services in the business, governmental and individual sectors of the economy.

For every $1 of CSU resources generated by the campuses, by faculty and staff, by students and by visitors, a total of $2.37 of business volume was created in California, the findings show.

Principal sponsors of the study were Sally Loyd, Dr. Michael T. Hauser and David LeVelle of the Office of the Chancellor and Dr. Alex Carvalho, Director of the Office of Research.

With assistance of Dr. Marion Beumont, a consultant from the systemwide Academic Senate, the study was completed.

Other highlights of the report include:

- For every job created at a CSU campus, as many as 44 jobs are created outside the university due to demands for goods and services.
- In 1981-82, total employment attributable to the presence of the CSU was 240,460 jobs, though CSU's and its auxiliary organizations employed only 4,429. 1979-80 graduates will earn an additional estimated $2 billion (present value) during their lifetime due to demands for goods and services.
- They will pay an additional estimated $100 million in state and local taxes; $200 million in additional federal taxes than individuals whose education stopped at the high school degree.

- Comparable amounts are generated yearly with each individual's basic right when confronted by a police officer.

- The information on the cards was compiled by ALCU-NC staff attorney Amtai Schwartz in light of a recent court decision.

- Written in a readily-understandable language, the cards are a tool for everyone to have in their hand.

- The "Rights on Arrest" cards are being distributed to law enforcement and the courts as part of continuing effort to inform people about their basic rights.

- Individual copies are available free of charge. Orders of 50 or more cost $5 for 50.
- To order, write "Rights on Arrest", ACLU-NC, 1663 Mission St., San Francisco, 94103 or call 415-248-8888. Please specify which language and quantity.

Low Cost Legal Help Available To Area College Students

Low-cost legal service is being offered to college students in the Riverside-San Bernardino area by the Graduate Student Council at the University of California, Riverside.

Through the College Legal Clinic, a network providing several area colleges with low-cost legal help, volunteer attorneys, the council is offering consultations, emergency assistance, and referral to UC Riverside undergraduates and students from the surrounding area for a $10 annual fee.

UC Riverside graduate students are obtaining at the UCR campus once each month in the office of the Graduate Student Council, 1119 Library South, or each Thursday night at Cal State Fullerton, one of the participating colleges.

The clinic was established because college students often consult with a lawyer but can't afford to see a private attorney, said Lisa Duran, vice president of the UCR Graduate Student Council. Because college students are invited to submit their prose fiction and poetry for consideration for the 1984 edition of The Pacific Review, a campus literary magazine. Students are invited to submit their manuscripts in March. 1 Material should be sent to the School of Humanities Office, PL 233.

Army and Air Force Hometown News

Master Sgt. James R. Santiai, son of Rocco J. and Marie Santia of New Jersey is a member of the outstanding senior non-commissioned officer of the year for the 20th Tactical Fighter Wing, RPAF Upper Heyford, England. He is a 1980 graduate of California State College, San Bernardino.

His wife, Air Force Capt. Debra W. Santia, is the daughter of William T. Wright Jr. of 610 Central Ave., Fitzgerald, Ga.

Magazine Seeks Prose, Fiction

College alumni and students are invited to submit their prose fiction and poetry for consideration for the 1984 edition of The Pacific Review, a campus literary magazine. Students are invited to submit their manuscripts in March. 1 Material should be sent to the School of Humanities Office, PL 233.

Finance Association Meeting

The Finance Association has scheduled an important meeting concerning all finance majors. Topics to be covered are extremely vital to the success of all finance majors' academic prowess at Cal State. Meeting will be Wed., Jan 25 10:30 a.m. in the Finance Commons.

Senate Fellowship Program

Senate Rules Committee Chairman David Roberti, D-Los Angeles, announced that January 25, 1984 is the deadline for applicants to the 1984-85 Senate Fellowship Program.

The nine month program, beginning in Sacramento the first week of November, 1984. A Fellow's tenure can be extended up to three additional months.

College graduation by the commencement of the Fellowship is required. Individuals with advanced degrees, or those in mid-career, are also encouraged to apply.

Senate Fellows are assigned to the personal or committee staffs of the Senate members. Responsibilities include legislative research and bill analysis, constituent casework, and other administrative duties.

Application forms and information brochures are available through college and university Career Planning offices, and to vote upon it," Reynolds observed.

"Constitutional status for the State University was first recommended in the 1960 Master Plan for Higher Education by the board of the CSU with a blue ribbon constitutional commission after a two-year review of the issue.

"Institutions in other states with constitutional status are among the finest universities in the country," stated Reynolds.
The Associated Students' Book Co-Op will sell books for one more day and then officially conclude its business with paybacks and book returns on Monday, January 23, but A.S. President Rod Hendry extended the deadline for picking up books or money to Friday, January 27. After January 27 unsold books and money received from sales, but unclaimed, will become property of the Associated Students and be part of the Book Co-Op operating fund.

Fred Grammer, Book Co-op coordinator, indicated the Co-Op would be in operation again during finals of winter quarter. Books will be taken in then with students setting their own prices. Take-ins will continue through the quarter break and into registration. Sales will begin during registration and continue into the second week of classes.

"We feel the Co-Op is an especially valuable A.S. service," stated Grammer. "We all hope all students will realize it is available and take advantage of it." Information about the Co-Op can be obtained by calling the A.S. office at 887-7494.

DR. MANNING TO SPEAK ON LINK BETWEEN PORNOGRAPHY & SEXUAL VIOLENCE

Dr. Rita Manning, Philosophy Club faculty advisor, will speak on the possible causal link between pornography and sexual violence at the Philosophy Club party Friday night, Jan. 27 at 7:30.

The talk will include a reading of her thesis followed by an informal "conversation about the moral and political implications," as well as a "critical review of the studies on the subject" according to Dr. Manning.

As with previous club activities, all students, regardless of this major, are invited to attend. Carol Dolan, club President adds that an informal party will follow the talk and discussion.

Norma Zimmer is hosting the party at her home which is located at 515 Sonora, San Bernardino.

Directions to the party can be obtained on the second floor of the library or by calling 883-5588.

The Associated Students' Book Co-Op will sell books for one more day and then officially conclude its business with paybacks and book returns on Monday, January 23, but A.S. President Rod Hendry extended the deadline for picking up books or money to Friday, January 27. After January 27 unsold books and money received from sales, but unclaimed, will become property of the Associated Students and be part of the Book Co-Op operating fund.

Fred Grammer, Book Co-op coordinator, indicated the Co-Op would be in operation again during finals of winter quarter. Books will be taken in then with students setting their own prices. Take-ins will continue through the quarter break and into registration. Sales will begin during registration and continue into the second week of classes.

"We feel the Co-Op is an especially valuable A.S. service," stated Grammer. "We all hope all students will realize it is available and take advantage of it." Information about the Co-Op can be obtained by calling the A.S. office at 887-7494.

DR. MANNING TO SPEAK ON LINK BETWEEN PORNOGRAPHY & SEXUAL VIOLENCE

Dr. Rita Manning, Philosophy Club faculty advisor, will speak on the possible causal link between pornography and sexual violence at the Philosophy Club party Friday night, Jan. 27 at 7:30.

The talk will include a reading of her thesis followed by an informal "conversation about the moral and political implications," as well as a "critical review of the studies on the subject" according to Dr. Manning.

As with previous club activities, all students, regardless of this major, are invited to attend. Carol Dolan, club President adds that an informal party will follow the talk and discussion.

Norma Zimmer is hosting the party at her home which is located at 515 Sonora, San Bernardino.

Directions to the party can be obtained on the second floor of the library or by calling 883-5588.

The Associated Students' Book Co-Op will sell books for one more day and then officially conclude its business with paybacks and book returns on Monday, January 23, but A.S. President Rod Hendry extended the deadline for picking up books or money to Friday, January 27. After January 27 unsold books and money received from sales, but unclaimed, will become property of the Associated Students and be part of the Book Co-Op operating fund.

Fred Grammer, Book Co-op coordinator, indicated the Co-Op would be in operation again during finals of winter quarter. Books will be taken in then with students setting their own prices. Take-ins will continue through the quarter break and into registration. Sales will begin during registration and continue into the second week of classes.

"We feel the Co-Op is an especially valuable A.S. service," stated Grammer. "We all hope all students will realize it is available and take advantage of it." Information about the Co-Op can be obtained by calling the A.S. office at 887-7494.

DR. MANNING TO SPEAK ON LINK BETWEEN PORNOGRAPHY & SEXUAL VIOLENCE

Dr. Rita Manning, Philosophy Club faculty advisor, will speak on the possible causal link between pornography and sexual violence at the Philosophy Club party Friday night, Jan. 27 at 7:30.

The talk will include a reading of her thesis followed by an informal "conversation about the moral and political implications," as well as a "critical review of the studies on the subject" according to Dr. Manning.

As with previous club activities, all students, regardless of this major, are invited to attend. Carol Dolan, club President adds that an informal party will follow the talk and discussion.

Norma Zimmer is hosting the party at her home which is located at 515 Sonora, San Bernardino.

Directions to the party can be obtained on the second floor of the library or by calling 883-5588.

The Associated Students' Book Co-Op will sell books for one more day and then officially conclude its business with paybacks and book returns on Monday, January 23, but A.S. President Rod Hendry extended the deadline for picking up books or money to Friday, January 27. After January 27 unsold books and money received from sales, but unclaimed, will become property of the Associated Students and be part of the Book Co-Op operating fund.

Fred Grammer, Book Co-op coordinator, indicated the Co-Op would be in operation again during finals of winter quarter. Books will be taken in then with students setting their own prices. Take-ins will continue through the quarter break and into registration. Sales will begin during registration and continue into the second week of classes.

"We feel the Co-Op is an especially valuable A.S. service," stated Grammer. "We all hope all students will realize it is available and take advantage of it." Information about the Co-Op can be obtained by calling the A.S. office at 887-7494.

DR. MANNING TO SPEAK ON LINK BETWEEN PORNOGRAPHY & SEXUAL VIOLENCE

Dr. Rita Manning, Philosophy Club faculty advisor, will speak on the possible causal link between pornography and sexual violence at the Philosophy Club party Friday night, Jan. 27 at 7:30.

The talk will include a reading of her thesis followed by an informal "conversation about the moral and political implications," as well as a "critical review of the studies on the subject" according to Dr. Manning.

As with previous club activities, all students, regardless of this major, are invited to attend. Carol Dolan, club President adds that an informal party will follow the talk and discussion.

Norma Zimmer is hosting the party at her home which is located at 515 Sonora, San Bernardino.

Directions to the party can be obtained on the second floor of the library or by calling 883-5588.

The Associated Students' Book Co-Op will sell books for one more day and then officially conclude its business with paybacks and book returns on Monday, January 23, but A.S. President Rod Hendry extended the deadline for picking up books or money to Friday, January 27. After January 27 unsold books and money received from sales, but unclaimed, will become property of the Associated Students and be part of the Book Co-Op operating fund.

Fred Grammer, Book Co-op coordinator, indicated the Co-Op would be in operation again during finals of winter quarter. Books will be taken in then with students setting their own prices. Take-ins will continue through the quarter break and into registration. Sales will begin during registration and continue into the second week of classes.

"We feel the Co-Op is an especially valuable A.S. service," stated Grammer. "We all hope all students will realize it is available and take advantage of it." Information about the Co-Op can be obtained by calling the A.S. office at 887-7494.

DR. MANNING TO SPEAK ON LINK BETWEEN PORNOGRAPHY & SEXUAL VIOLENCE

Dr. Rita Manning, Philosophy Club faculty advisor, will speak on the possible causal link between pornography and sexual violence at the Philosophy Club party Friday night, Jan. 27 at 7:30.

The talk will include a reading of her thesis followed by an informal "conversation about the moral and political implications," as well as a "critical review of the studies on the subject" according to Dr. Manning.

As with previous club activities, all students, regardless of this major, are invited to attend. Carol Dolan, club President adds that an informal party will follow the talk and discussion.

Norma Zimmer is hosting the party at her home which is located at 515 Sonora, San Bernardino.

Directions to the party can be obtained on the second floor of the library or by calling 883-5588.

The Associated Students' Book Co-Op will sell books for one more day and then officially conclude its business with paybacks and book returns on Monday, January 23, but A.S. President Rod Hendry extended the deadline for picking up books or money to Friday, January 27. After January 27 unsold books and money received from sales, but unclaimed, will become property of the Associated Students and be part of the Book Co-Op operating fund.

Fred Grammer, Book Co-op coordinator, indicated the Co-Op would be in operation again during finals of winter quarter. Books will be taken in then with students setting their own prices. Take-ins will continue through the quarter break and into registration. Sales will begin during registration and continue into the second week of classes.

"We feel the Co-Op is an especially valuable A.S. service," stated Grammer. "We all hope all students will realize it is available and take advantage of it." Information about the Co-Op can be obtained by calling the A.S. office at 887-7494.
Video Facility Available To Students On Campus

by Jena Plourde

Frustrated, confused, and tired of looking through microfilm? Don’t worry, there is nothing to do with your research! Your term paper is due tomorrow, you haven’t found one of the five articles regarding your subject, and the library is closing in fifteen minutes. Has it ever happened to you?

Fear no more. The John M. Pfau Library offers several avenues for finding information. To make life liveable within its confines, the library offers workshops, guided tours, and informative handouts.

John Tibbals, librarian and head of Patron Services, elaborates, “Well qualified members of the library staff can be found on each of the four floors to help you with your questions. Each fall a workshop is given pertaining to research paper construction and resources. Guided tours are offered to individuals, small groups, and entire classes. Individuals may request mini-tours at anytime.” Tibbals stressed that larger groups should reserve a time in advance. Classes are given specific subject orientations on instructor’s request, so give your professor a nudge and get in there!

Lyn Young, a paraprofessional librarian, an assistant of sixteen years, can be helpful in finding unique publications. She states, “The library has a duty to provide its patrons with a broad spectrum of information. It is not in the business of censoring, just in making accessible many sources of information.”

The library has something for everyone. This includes 400,000 books, more than 2,000 periodicals, and 30 newspapers. The newspapers range from The San Bernardino Sun to the London Times. C.I.A. documents and records of the Joint Chiefs of Staff can be easily located for those enrolled in the new Strategic Studies program.

The library has much more to offer than just books. Musical recordings and scores, and curriculum materials are just a few of the offerings. The wall on the fifth floor there is a topographical lunar globe?

Video cameras available to students on campus

Frustrated, confused, and tired of looking through microfilm? Don’t worry, there is nothing to do with your research! Your term paper is due tomorrow, you haven’t found one of the five articles regarding your subject, and the library is closing in fifteen minutes. Has it ever happened to you?

Fear no more. The John M. Pfau Library offers several avenues for finding information. To make life liveable within its confines, the library offers workshops, guided tours, and informative handouts.

John Tibbals, librarian and head of Patron Services, elaborates, “Well qualified members of the library staff can be found on each of the four floors to help you with your questions. Each fall a workshop is given pertaining to research paper construction and resources. Guided tours are offered to individuals, small groups, and entire classes. Individuals may request mini-tours at anytime.” Tibbals stressed that larger groups should reserve a time in advance. Classes are given specific subject orientations on instructor’s request, so give your professor a nudge and get in there!

Lyn Young, a paraprofessional librarian, an assistant of sixteen years, can be helpful in finding unique publications. She states, “The library has a duty to provide its patrons with a broad spectrum of information. It is not in the business of censoring, just in making accessible many sources of information.”

The library has something for everyone. This includes 400,000 books, more than 2,000 periodicals, and 30 newspapers. The newspapers range from The San Bernardino Sun to the London Times. C.I.A. documents and records of the Joint Chiefs of Staff can be easily located for those enrolled in the new Strategic Studies program.

The library has much more to offer than just books. Musical recordings and scores, and curriculum materials are just a few of the offerings. The wall on the fifth floor there is a topographical lunar globe?

Video cameras available to students on campus

Frustrated, confused, and tired of looking through microfilm? Don’t worry, there is nothing to do with your research! Your term paper is due tomorrow, you haven’t found one of the five articles regarding your subject, and the library is closing in fifteen minutes. Has it ever happened to you?

Fear no more. The John M. Pfau Library offers several avenues for finding information. To make life liveable within its confines, the library offers workshops, guided tours, and informative handouts.

John Tibbals, librarian and head of Patron Services, elaborates, “Well qualified members of the library staff can be found on each of the four floors to help you with your questions. Each fall a workshop is given pertaining to research paper construction and resources. Guided tours are offered to individuals, small groups, and entire classes. Individuals may request mini-tours at anytime.” Tibbals stressed that larger groups should reserve a time in advance. Classes are given specific subject orientations on instructor’s request, so give your professor a nudge and get in there!

Lyn Young, a paraprofessional librarian, an assistant of sixteen years, can be helpful in finding unique publications. She states, “The library has a duty to provide its patrons with a broad spectrum of information. It is not in the business of censoring, just in making accessible many sources of information.”

The library has something for everyone. This includes 400,000 books, more than 2,000 periodicals, and 30 newspapers. The newspapers range from The San Bernardino Sun to the London Times. C.I.A. documents and records of the Joint Chiefs of Staff can be easily located for those enrolled in the new Strategic Studies program.

The library has much more to offer than just books. Musical recordings and scores, and curriculum materials are just a few of the offerings. The wall on the fifth floor there is a topographical lunar globe?
HEALTH CORNER

This is a weekly column. If you have any health-related questions that you would like answered, drop your questions in the box in the Health Center Lobby.

1. Can food allergies cause migraine headaches?

Yes. Some foods, such as chocolate and cheese, can cause migraine headaches. That doesn't mean that food allergies cause all migraines, though.

So, if you find certain foods (or anything else) that leads to a migraine headache, you should avoid that food or offending agent. Therefore, there is something that enrich the going on a “food allergy diet” by avoiding all kinds of common foods will lessen migraine attacks.

2. Is ear wax really wax, and what purpose does it serve? Is using a cotton swab for cleaning inside the ear harmful?

A cotton ball may be used to clean the outer ear, but nothing should be inserted into the ear canal. This can damage the delicate lining and/or the tympanic membrane, which is the ear drum. A good rule is “nothing smaller than your elbow should be put in your ear.”

3. What causes menstrual cramps? Can stress make menstrual cramps worse? What treatment is used for them?

Menstrual cramps are caused by a substance called prostaglandin. This substance tends to be produced in the endometrium, the lining of the uterus. Chemically, fatty acids are supposedly released from cholesterol esters to form prostaglandin. There are other endocrinological causes of menstrual cramps such as tumors, adenomysis, endometriosis, pelvic adhesions, etc. “Medically, menstrual cramps are known as dysmenorrhea. Yes, stress, tension, and problems such as deadlines to meet, and final examinations, can aggravate dysmenorrhea.

The present treatment for menstrual cramps is the use of a relatively new group of drugs known as anti-prostaglandins. These block prostaglandins before they become active. The anti-prostaglandins are prescription drugs, but the most popular ones are Motrin, Anaaprox, and Ponstel.

4. Should I use ice or wet or dry heat for a sprained ankle?

Many people, including professionals, have different opinions on this issue. In general, when the accident first occurs, ice is the best therapy to keep the swelling to a minimum. After 24 hours, then heat is a good form of treatment. Generally, heat applied externally wet or dry is used for two purposes: a) to localize or “bring to a head” superficial infections by relaxing muscle spasm and relieve muscle soreness. For either of these two, it makes little difference whether heat is applied wet or dry. Physicians have personal preferences, but there is no scientific evidence to prove one is better than the other.

5. Can you take too much Vitamin A?

Yes. The maximum to be taken daily without supervision by a physician is 10,000 international units. The symptoms and signs of too much Vitamin A are: nausea, vomiting, male, drying and cracking of skin or lips, irritability, headaches, and loss of hair. If the Vitamin A is stopped, the symptoms will begin to fade within a week. Vitamin A supplements are rarely, if ever necessary.

Dr. James Savage,

Financial Aid Deadlines Fast Approaching

The deadline for financial aid priority for the 1984-85 school year is nearing fast.

The deadline for Cal Grant applications is February 9. The Cal Grant program consists of three separate programs with differing qualifications. Check with the Financial Aid office (SS-143, 887-7741) to see if you are eligible.

Other financial aid options are available. Loans, work-study programs, grants from the national and state governments, and scholarships are available to eligible students. Most of these have a March 1 priority deadline.

Private sources of funds are also available.

College students expecting to need financial aid or summer employment are urged to write now to the Scholarship Bank. According to the director, Steve Danz, private financial aid donors consider applications on a year-round basis and now is the best time to start looking for fall '84 aid. The Scholarship Bank will send each student a print-out of up to 50 sources of aid that appear just right for each student based on his/her response to a questionnaire sent by the bank.

The Scholarship Bank is the largest organization in the U.S. devoted to finding private financial aid for students, and each year receives over 10,000 requests for such information. According to the director, the bank supplements the work of the college financial aid office by finding private funding sources such as from civic, trade, educational and industry groups.

This year the bank has added 2,500 new summer employment jobs and urges students who wish to find summer work in their chosen professional fields to write for information. The director recently announced the introduction of a new computer, Victor 9000 to 9000, and give students free yearly updated information.

Students with financial need should send a business-size, stamped, self-addressed envelope to The Scholarship Bank, 10100 Santa Monica Blvd, Los Angeles, Ca., 90067.

CSU cont. from page 2

Be A Part Of Our Family!

Be a Cal State Chronicle Staff Writer. Come To Our Meeting Monday at Noon.

FRANKLY SPEAKING ... by phil frank

CSU cont. from page 2

class of graduates; Local governments receive about $224 million in tax revenues because of the CSU presence, and $472 million in tax and other revenues are received by state government because of CSU activity.

The number of Californians completing four or more years of college increased by 1.3 million from 1970 to 1980. CSU accounts for over one-third of these additional university graduates, and that CSU continues to confer more than half the baccalaureate degrees awarded in California was also noted. Additional figures, although the 1980 national unemployment rate was 6.2%, the unemployment rate was only 2% among CSU graduates. States with large proportions of college graduates are likely to have substantial unemployment costs.

If CSU graduates typify their colleagues around the country, 92.4% percent of male graduates and 74.3% of women graduates from 1960 to 1981 over 850,000 people are now in the labor force. CSU alumni probably make up about 60% of the State's civilian workforce.

Family Theatre

On Friday, Feb. 10 the Firebird Theatre Company's production of "The Labors of Hercules" will not only introduce the student to classical Greek mythology, but help integrate the concept of how both the arts and sport enrich the quality of life. The Company makes the play a comedy to L.A., the Company is proud to offer some historical background to the various tasks.

Finally, because the Olympic Games are coming to L.A., the Company is proud to offer some historical insights into the origin of the Olympics.

Children, 14 years and under, $1.50; Adult, $3.

Ticket sales begin Jan. 24, on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Walk-in sales at the Student Union Desk between 8:30-3:30, M-F.

Phone reservations will not be accepted.

...AND FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE EACH DORM ROOM IS FULLY PADDED...
Berkeley Expedition

Do you find yourself wishing you'd been there after reading accounts of excavations of ancient civilizations, explorations of underwater worlds or investigations of animal behavior in remote parts of the world? Are you challenged by the idea of searching for solutions to some of the world's unknowns? Would you like to work alongside researchers in the field and make the discoveries other people read about?

If you answer yes to any of the above, you are already a prime candidate for a University of California research team and your next destination could be the history-laden islands of the Mediterranean, a South Pacific coral reef or tropical rain forest in South America for two or three of the most intriguing weeks of your life. The University Research Expeditions Program is currently recruiting people who want to share in the excitement of scientific discovery as active members of small research expeditions in the United States and abroad.

No special academic or field experience is necessary for most projects. UREP participants help cover research costs by working on a tax-deductible contribution which also covers their food and accommodations during the expedition. In return, they are invited to take part in the daily tasks of field research teams, learning basic techniques once at the project site even though they may have no special background in the field of study.

Expeditions open to public participation in 1984 include excavating Biblical era sites in Israel or ancient Mayan sites, observing behavior of the world's smallest penguins in Australia or rain forest mammals in Papua New Guinea, searching for clues to the geological evolution of the Mediterranean or 200 million year old fossils in Nevada, studying the application of advanced farming techniques in modern Mexico and collecting tropical flora in Brazil, the Virgin Islands or New Caledonia. The contributions for these and other expeditions range from $325 to $1425, excluding airfare (which may be deductible as well).

For a free catalog describing all expeditions planned for the 1984 field season, contact: University Research Expeditions Program (UREP), University of California, Desk 3984, Berkeley, CA 94720 or call (415) 642-6566.

classifieds

The San Bernardino County Museum and the Inland Master Chorale are proud to introduce "Tea Concerts" to be given free of charge by the public on Sunday afternoons at 3 p.m. throughout the coming year. This delightful series will feature many talented performers in programs that are varied and stimulating. The Master Chorale is providing the artists with a magnificent new Grand Piano on which to play. This instrument makes the "Tea Concerts" possible.

"...providing the artists with a magnificent new Grand Piano..."

Free Tea Concerts

Soprano Colene Schwindt will be featured in "The Afternoon of Poetry and Song" on January 29. JoLane Joby will accompany Colene in works by Schubert, Poulenc, Handel, Puccini, Argento, Copland, Lahar and Kitcha-
Biathlon Winner

Occasionally Results are Worth the Price

by John Hoge

Pushing myself to sweat or study has never been a part of my фондом-memories. When I do exercise the discipline necessary to do either these results are occasionally well worth the price.

Such was the case this past Tuesday, January 18 when Joe Long, Cal State’s Intramural Director, informed me that I had won the annual Cal State San Bernardino Intramural Biathlon. Our biathlon is a bit different from the authentic race which is composed of cross country skiing and shooting. When snow is available competitors secure skis to their boots and strap on technically sophisticated rifles. They ski a course consisting of typical, rough backcountry terrain pausing only to fire at targets from the standing (unsupported), then kneeling (supported) and finally prone (supported) positions.

Those of you who shoot or ski can understand the inherent difficulties that the competitors deal with when racing. Cross country skiing requires expending incredible amounts of energy and strength, which means the racer is breathing hard and fast. Normally, when cross country skiing, this condition is taken for granted and welcomed since it improves cardiovascular performance. Now add the discipline (and it is a discipline) of target shooting, and you have certain parts of the body working against each other. Muscles which move and assist to maintain the proper amounts of oxygen for performance are commanded to be still.

Stillness is the tool of the shooter and archer, and the biathlete demands it of his or her body. We think “stop breathing, stop moving. I’ll breathe again when I run.”

Last year I handily outran my immediate competitor but was outrun by another student(s). My shooting is my strong point and thanks to a fellow competitor who pushed me in the run my overall time was decisive this year. Cal State’s Intramural Biathlon combines running, rather than skiing, with shooting pellets rifles. Two times are recorded, you’re actual finishing time and you’re adjusted time for inaccurate shooting penalties.

On the Spring Intramural schedule will be the triathlon, for those who swim, bike and run, and the Decathlon. Cal State’s decathlon will consist of shooting, swimming, high jump, rope climb, obstacle course the first day. One week later-bench press, standing broad jump, shot put, mile run and one other event.

Intramural t-shirts are awarded to the winners of all intramural events. No student has won the biathlon, triathlon and decathlon in the same year. Any takers?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Penalties</th>
<th>Corrected Time</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>John Hoge</td>
<td>17:12.91</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>17:27.91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jay Paul</td>
<td>18:29.26</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>18:44.26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Frank Flanagan</td>
<td>17:35.74</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>17:50.79</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dave Pfafman</td>
<td>18:59.4</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>19:24.4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>David Evarovich</td>
<td>16:27.9</td>
<td>15</td>
<td>16:52.9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brennen O’Maney</td>
<td>18:12.67</td>
<td>30</td>
<td>21:42.67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jamie Juliette</td>
<td>16:45.14</td>
<td>54</td>
<td>22:30.14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Tina Tindal</td>
<td>DNF</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The Position Of: Option House Hotline

825-8862

Help for Battered Women

GAY AND LESBIAN COMMUNITY CENTER

Hotline — Peer Counseling — Women’s & Men’s Raps — Mediation/Arbitration — Speaker’s Bureau — TV & TS Raps

(714) 824-7618

Riverside & San Bernardino Counties, CA

Do You Like Money?
If so, the Cal State Chronicle Needs You!

We Are Now Interviewing For The Position Of:

Business Manager

Contact the CSC Office at 887-7497 for an interview. Walk-ins are accepted.
Cranston Fights Nuclear Power

Contrary to what the nuclear power industry would have us believe, nuclear power is not cost effective, safe, or clean.

If elected, Alan Cranston has vowed to close down all domestic nuclear power plants by the year 2000. Such an action would take tremendous support from the American consumers who have been milked by the nuclear industry. Hopefully, by enlightening the American people of the astronomical costs that they have had to absorb because of the failures of the nuclear power industry, Cranston can instigate some action even if he is not elected.

For too long the American people have had to shoulder the costly mistakes of this industry. Not only have we been sapped monetarily, we are faced with the tremendous dangers of this type of power.

Losses should be cut short now. The public should no longer have to spend billions more on a costly and dangerous power supply.

How to Get Away With Murder

After five years in prison, Dan White is a free man. His jury found that stress, compounded by a diet of junk food, was excuse enough for a diminished capacity verdict. Not just anyone could have done what Dan White did and essentially get away with it.

The media focus is over, but the sad truth about our judicial system still remains. A white male, with political backing, money, and persuasive lawyers and psychiatrists can pretty much get away with murder—not only one, but two.

Such rank injustices, like White and John Hinckley, need to make us pause and take a serious look at the institution that defines our society.

Letters to the Editor

More To Life Than Heavy Metal

Dear Editor,

Greg Timpany apparently assumes that everyone who attends Cal State San Bernardino is a middle class, white and talented male when you consider the fact that his Record Rack column consists only of reviews of bands that play heavy metal or "good ol' Midwestern rock and roll." This tunnel-visioned coverage of popular music is not only unbalanced but further underscored by his further discussion of popular music with emphasis on "equaler" opportunity.

Ms. Ivy you have mistaken my intent. I was written to vent my frustration with the discrimination in the hiring of people to write for a job, possibly excluding a highly qualified person because she is not a legally defined minority. Who is the "minority" in such a case? The idea behind hiring quotas is very good and should not be abandoned, but in my opinion (also speaking as a minority—woman), the notion of more "equaler opportunity" is only a satirical look at a very backwards and inefficient practice. The article was not meant to be prescriptive. I was not in the mood at the time to write an article suggesting improvements for the article was meant to be a satirical look at a very backwards and inefficient practice. The article was not meant to be prescriptive. I was not in the mood at the time to write an article suggesting improvements for registration. My article was written to vent my "frustrations..."

Ms. Ivy you have mistaken the point of my article concerning registration. My article was meant to be a satirical look at a very backwards and inefficient practice. The article was not meant to be prescriptive. I was not in the mood at the time to write an article suggesting improvements for registration. My article was written to vent my "frustrations..."