Students To Attend Conference in Reno

Five CSCSB students will attend the National Student Association's Far Western Area Conference on "Higher Education Reform" May 2, 3, and 4, being held at the University of Nevada in Reno. The NSA has invited five delegates from various western colleges to participate in a series of ten seminars or workshops concerning student involvement in higher education. Representing CSCSB for the three day conference will be Jerry Rhode - ASB President, Barry Thompson - ASB president - elect, Cy Smith - ASB V.P. - elect, Tom McBride, coordinator for the Community University, and Dave Combs representing the Pawprint.

The purpose, as stated by the regional headquarters of the NSA at UCLA, is to "re-emphasize the educational purpose of student power, to provide an experience in cross-fertilization of ideas and programs, and to create skills and establish a situation in which at least some student leaders can learn to organize for reform."

Out of the following ten seminars, each delegate will select three to participate in throughout the conference: Experimental Colleges, Student Legal Rights, Ethnic Studies Programs, Politics of Confrontation, Change through the System, Innovative Freshman Orientation Programs and Seminars, Student Initiated Curricula, Student Community Action Involvement, Uses of Political and Educational Campus Media, and Alternative Collegiate Structures and Education. Each seminar will feature a leader to direct the discussions who has had experience in the specific field.

LPA 69-70 Format

By ERIC HOMSTAD

The Lecture and Public Affairs Format for the Fall, Winter, and Spring quarters of '69-70 has been approved by the Lectures and Public Affairs committee and the Finance Board. The new program, composed mainly by Mr. Haney Guttmacher OnPopulation

Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher, well-known authority on planned parenthood, will lecture on "The World Population Problem: How Does it Effect You?" next Monday at 3:30 p.m. in P.8. 10. Guttmacher, president of the Planned Parenthood - World Population Committee, is also a faculty member of the Albert Einstein School of Medicine and is emeritus professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the Mount Sinai School of Medicine. Guttmacher is the author of many scientific and popular books and articles on contraception, infertility, sterilization, and the history of medicine and related subjects.

Guttmacher is a native of Baltimore and a graduate of the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine where he later was associate professor of obstetrics and gynecology. He was chairman of the medical committee of the International Planned Parenthood Federation from 1963 through 1968.

Assistant Professor of Art, promises to be one of the finest cultural programs ever presented by CSCSB. Next year's program differs radically from the one presented this year in that each quarter a package program of film and lectures will be centralized around one theme.

Beginning with the Fall quarter '69, the theme will be "Blackness in America," centering around civil strife and unrest, some of the events scheduled are: a personal appearance by Mrs. Meger Evers, a musician and black poetry program, and a lecture either by Dick Gregory or Fokly McLaskell. The theme for the Winter quarter will be "Ecology-Environment Earth" and some of the events planned are: a lecture by Mr. Palmier of CSCSB on Ecology, Video tapes from N.B.C. and C.B.S., and an Energy Field Environment by Ross Drago. The theme for the Spring quarter will be "Experimental Music and Theater." Some of the events planned are: The illegitimate Theater, Paradise Now or 16mm Tapes, Indian Music Program, and a lecture by Mr. Palmier on Ecologies. Some of the events scheduled for 69-70 will be a total of $4,903.00 for all three quarters.

A great deal of thought and planning has gone into the creation of this program and this will be a fantastic opportunity for the students of CSCSB to broaden their understanding of contemporary issues and of contemporary art.

Rhode Relevant
During the ASB offices candidates' speeches, and in a letter to the editor published last week in the Pawprint, Jerry Rhode, current ASB President, candidly stated his desire to send an invitation to attend a conference with Governor Reagan. The accusers claimed Rhode had been irresponsible, had underserved the image of the college, and had "... undone all the work he has put into communicating with the public."

Specifically, the charges referred to an article appearing in the Sun-Telegram, entitled "State College Student Leader Snubs Reagan." Though the author of the article displayed some flair for alliteration, his slanted interpretation and selection of facts was obviously aimed at stirring the reactions of the same conservative element which killed Proposition 3.

Considering the source of the article should be enough to invalidate its intended slurs of Rhode or his motives. However, those who felt compelled to believe the implied crap and throw it back in Rhode's face didn't seem to notice just how far off of touch they are when it comes to the feasibility of ANY student in California actually communicating with Reagan or the state legislators. Reagan is a shrewd politician who knows how to play both ends against the middle, and one of his specialties is screwing students and education. Witness the $20.5 million he cut from the 1969-1970 support budget of the State College System; the fact that he rode into office largely on the title of the public backlash against student dissent; and his open statements supporting more pigs on campus and lighter regulations regarding student freedoms.

Eight CSCSB students experienced first-hand knowledge of just how hopeless is the communication gap that separates contemporary student values and concerns from the fifty and sixty year old politicians who make the decisions concerning our lives. When Rhode, Barry Thompson, Mark Kelly, Frank Chacon, Al Coffeen, Sam Houton and Mike Clark attended the CSCPA conference in Sacramento, they scheduled two interview sessions with Senator Combs and Colgone's administrative assistants. During these sessions, it was all we representatives could do to keep from throwing up. By and large, the first postulate of the legislators is that the present "Established System," whether academic or social, is God's gift to perfection; their second postulate is that students are some sort of lower-class—class animal on the evolutionary scale who need the guiding hand of the police to keep them in the proper religious system. If one could put the feelings of total frustration and nausea from meeting these politicians into a word, it would come close to "Blechh!"

All factors considered, the most relevant, constructive move that Rhode could have made was just what he did: turn Reagan's tokenistic jenry down. If a progressive change is to be achieved in the present higher educational system, it must be accomplished by rapping with the one man who stands for repression of student power and freedom.

Counselors Needed

Counsellors must be available in orienting programs, and in general helping the new student get started on campus. The fact that the new student in orienting must be available in leading discussion sessions, programs, and in general helping undetermined location in the San Bernardino Mountain Resort area. Transportation, room and board will also be needed to aid in the on-campus orientation program. Each counselor will be responsible for learning about the sessions, coordinating activities and programs, and in general helping the new student get started on campus. Counselors must be available to attend a workshop the week prior to the live-in and should also be able to help in the on-campus orientation program.

A college experience obviously must be an educational experience, that’s what it all seems to be about — but in our race to grind out teachers, chemists, engineers, etc. we seem to be overlooking one of the most memorable aspects of a college education — social intercourse.

In an attempt to achieve greater economic efficiency within the Cafeteria Department and Campus Security Force will — at fixed intervals — be assigned to keep a careful count of all of which will be captured on Campus Property. (3) The Cafeteria will then order and the organizers for consumption.

The Biology Department will thus provide such delicacies as "snake, frog's leg, lizard, snails, wild asparagus, mushrooms, and squab (i.e. baby pigeon)."

Experts explained that the project will reduce the yearly Cafeteria expenditure to about $1,000; they therefore predict that the study will pay for itself "in about ten years."

Student Health Center authorities disagree, contending that an increased number of ptomaine poisoning cases will result from the program, and "will therefore require an increase in present physical education requirements so great as to nullify any savings that the project might make."

Countering Health Center claims, campus militants argue that "the Cafeteria food couldn't possibly get any worse...in fact, under the proposed program, it might improve."

To supplement the program, the Governor's Office has urged College administrators to "prowl for new sources which is now the athletic field."

Administrators explained that if such steps were taken, students would be given six credits "for 30 hours of field work...thus eliminating the present physical education requirement...and not even discussing on what crops we will plant," a spokesman for the College observed.

Students Speak Out...

Recently, some of the candidates for ASB office mentioned the area of financial management, saying that ASB fees could be used more efficiently to provide more and better services than those currently offered. The ASB fee, $6.50, is assessed each student for each quarter of attendance. Presently, $22,420 of the $26,025 ASB budget comes from ASB fee money, which provides for such things as government, activities, publications, and various programs.

This question was randomly posed to students: "Do you think that ASB fee money could be better used than it presently is?"

Mike Lou Brown

MAY WHITBY, Senior, History: "I would like, personally, to see perhaps a reorganization of the budget to provide more money for lectures and other cultural affairs so that we could have more and better lecturers and programs, and also, in order, for Money for the Pearl Garden so that they could have more money to work with for their plays and put on more plays. I would like to see the Community Assistance University assisted through the budget so it would have more room for expansion. MONZELLA WATTS, Junior, English: The ASB budget money could be used to sponsor more activities for students, the money could be used for "miscellaneous" could be used to do this. The Orientation Committee needs more money to help in Community Assistance and Relations.

TIM CROWLEY, Freshman, Political Science: I think ASB funds should be used to promote extracurricular activities such as sports. I think the ASB leaders could try to organimize things and communicate better with the student body. I support a cut in the ASB fee from $6.50 to $5.00.

Trueblood Lectures

Professor K.N. Trueblood, chairman of the chemistry department at UCLA, will give two lectures Wednesday and Thursday in B.S. 101 on x-ray studies of the molecular structure.

Wednesday's lecture, at 10:30 a.m., will begin with an introduction into the nature of crystals and their symmetry. Trueblood will direct a more complex analysis.

Trueblood was graduated magna cum laude in 1941 at St. Mary's College in Pasadena; afterwards he was a postdoctoral fellow, then a full professor of chemistry. He has worked under a Fullbright Grant in crystal chemistry at Oxford University from 1946-56. He has been chairman of the UCLA chemistry department since 1965.

His lectures are being sponsored by the CSCSB chemistry club.

Items in the lost and found will be auctioned off by the Activities Committee at the campus Cook-out. The money from this auction will go to the Foundation fund and for Student Loans. Items include jackets, watches, rings, keys, typewriters, etc. These items include articles collected from the first year the college was open (1965). Anyone who has lost anything at the college in the last four years may check at the Campus police office in the GYM for possible recovery of the item. Proof of ownership will be required.

At an informal meeting last Friday, CSCSB students began planning for an on-campus nursery. Students in attendance included both married and single students. Discussion during the meeting centered around the need for such program on the campus. It was pointed out that married students make up a high percentage of the student body and that currently there is no way for students who can not afford the expensive fees of private nurseries or baby sitters to attend CSCSB. This handicap was felt to be particularly difficult for many students since they were forced to take a reduced course load and thus considerably extend the time required for completing degree requirements. A preliminary program of research for resources and facilities was decided upon at the meeting. Another meeting has been scheduled for Friday, May 2, 1969 in the student lounge at 11:30 and 12:30 so that all interested students may attend.

From CSCSPA — 4/24/69

"Student body presidents from the state college campuses met Tuesday, April 22, in Sacramento with Governor Ronald Reagan for a short afternoon of questions and answers."

"In a news conference following the meeting, CSCSPA officers and the student body presidents expressed a frustration about the meeting, saying that student leaders and California's Governor seemed to be talking on two different channels."

‘Phonetic Mix’ Draws 50

By MIKE ZLAKET

On Wednesday, April 30, there was a presentation by Phonetic Mix, of international poetry reading by students and faculty members of CSCSB. The poems were the works of famous authors all over the world, and they were presented in their original languages.

Bob Goss gave a German presentation of a poem by Brecht. Mr. Iwanaga gave two presentations: one, in Spanish, of a poem by Lorca, and one in Portuguese. Mary Whitney gave a Spanish presentation of another of Lorca's poems. Dr. Rydeell and David Combs gave French presentations of three poems by Jacques Prevert. Munir Hanafi gave an Arabic presentation from the Khetaj, Rida Rowley sang a French song, "Fille au Roi du Francois." Dr. Markham gave a modern Davladian chant. Davladian is one of the five languages from northern India.

Richard Siegel, Sergio Risondo, and Anastasia Founo also made presentations. There were also some presentations in Latin.

The emphasis, in all of the presentations, was on the beauty of the literary works in their respective languages. To help the audience better understand the poems, translations and explanations were given. This was a very unique experience, of which there ought to be more.
