The BULLETIN

SCIENCE DAY NUMBERS GROW

Late registrants from San Bernardino high schools will push the total number of students attending tomorrow's first Science Day at CSCSB close to 300.

Dr. Arlo D. Harris (Chemistry), chairman of the Science Day committee, said he was pleased to reach a participation rate of more than 50 per cent of the number of students invited. To participate, students had to pay $1 for lunch, and spend all day Saturday at the campus.

Students or their school districts are paying for their transportation here.

Students will be attending from as far away as Barstow, Corona and the Coachella Valley.

In addition to the 11 faculty members listed as Science Day participants in last week's Bulletin, Dr. Gerald M. Scherba, Dean of Academic Affairs, will show two films he has produced on the teaching of biology. About 20 CSCSB students have volunteered to serve as guides, cooks, and assistants for Science Day.

Dr. Ralph H. Petrucci, Chairman of the Division of Natural Sciences, is host to the first Science Day, which may become an annual event. Tomorrow's schedule runs from registration at 8:45 a.m. until free time at 4 p.m., when visiting students may meet with the dozen faculty members who are donating their Saturday time to the event.

"A FAR COUNTRY" OPENING RESCHEDULED

A change of dates has been announced for the presentation of "The Far Country," the play now under rehearsal by the Drama Department.

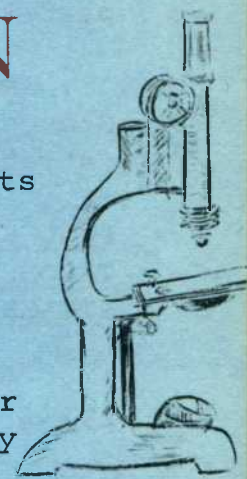

The opening has been postponed one week. Performances are now set for the weekends of February 23 and 24, March 1 and 2.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION DEPARTMENT INCREASED

A second full-time faculty member has been appointed to the new department of Business Administration.

Dr. Edward Sanford, an economist now assistant professor of business at the University of Southern California, has been appointed associate professor of business administration. Dr. Sanford, who received his Ph.D. in economics from Claremont Graduate School, also attended the Western Data Processing Center in Westwood as a doctoral research fellow. He graduated from Santa Clara University, majoring in marketing. He was appointed to USC's "Urban Semester" and is serving on the senior faculty of the department of urban ecology part-time this year.

Dr. Sanford will join the staff in the fall with Dr. Richard W. Graves, newly-appointed Chairman of the Department of Business Administration.

POLL SAYS The answers to the Cafeteria questionnaire have been compiled by Mrs. Jean Atterbury, Cafeteria Manager. The results of this faculty-staff poll are summarized below.
TACOS SI'
STEAKS NO

The majority of participants would be interested in buying a complete luncheon for $1.00 to $1.50 occasionally.

About 50 per cent are calorie-conscious enough to be interested in dietetic foods.

An overwhelming majority would not pay up to $2.00 for more expensive items.

Mexican foods proved to be the most popular of the foods listed, followed by Italian foods and spicy foods. A majority liked the seafood, beef and Burgundy, and the chop suey. Curry flavored were the least popular.

There were requests for more variety in salads, and for larger salads. "Other comments were individual but will be considered if possible," Mrs. Atterbury said.

VICE CHANCELLOR Dr. Russell G. Whitesel, 50, associate dean of the NAMED FOR STATE College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Northern COLLEGES Illinois University, has been appointed Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs for the California State Colleges, Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke announced.

Chancellor Dumke said Whitesel, selected after a nationwide search, will assume the key statewide post April 1.
