(RIVERSIDE, CA.) - The adult recreation center at Fairmont Park will be refurbished this summer by employees of Operation Brightside, a summer youth employment program sponsored by the Riverside wholesale operations divisions of Anheuser-Busch, Inc. The Riverside Parks and Recreation Department will supervise the project, which will include painting, landscape and irrigation. Shown at the center are

Anheuser-Busch in Riverside; and Operation Brightside employees Kenneth McKnight, John Luckie, and Anthony Rangel.

Operation Brightside/ Employment for local Youth....

(Riverside, CA.) -- For the third consecutive year, youth from San Bernardino and Riverside are gaining work experience and helping to clean up the community as part of Operation Brightside, a summer youth employment program sponsored by the Riverside wholesale operations division of Anheuser-Busch, Inc.

Some one dozen minority youth have been hired under the program, which is administered in San Bernardino by Casa de San Bernardino, with assistance in Riverside from the Beautification Committee of the Riverside Chamber of Commerce. The youth range in age from 16 to 19 years, and will be employed through August 31.

Operation Brightside employees will be assigned a variety of community beautification projects, including graffiti removal, clean up of public areas, and assistance to local senior citizens. In cooperation with the Riverside Parks and Recreation Department, for example, the youth will refurbish the adult recreation center at Fairmont Park in Riverside.

"Anheuser-Busch is providing a real service to the community with Operation Brightside," said Rodolfo Pinion, executive director of Casa de San Bernardino.

"This program is helping these young people by providing them income to continue their education, as well as meaningful work experience and training in a variety from the projects on which they are working."

The San Bernardino and Riverside programs are part of a 20-city, $467,000 national effort Anheuser-Busch is conducting this year, according to George Liakos, general manager of the Anheuser-Busch facility in Riverside.

"We are pleased that Anheuser-Busch can make this contribution to our neighbors in San Bernardino and Riverside," he said. "We hope that through this program, youths will have productive work experience and residents will share in the pride that comes from an improved community."

The San Bernardino participants in this year's program are Johnny Agudo, 18; Ramona Baldwin, 17; Arturo Briceno, 18; Alberto Diaz, 17; Fernando Rojas, 17; and John Segovia, 18. The youth will be supervised by Richard Martinez.

In Riverside, the participants are Kenneth McKnight, 16; Robert Rodriguez, 18; John Luckie, 16; and Anthony Rangel, 16. The Riverside youth will be supervised by Corbett Monica.

The Inland Area UNCF Fund Committee Sets $15,000 Goal

As UNCF embarks upon its forty-first anniversary campaign in 1985, the Inland Committee has set a $15,000 goal to be donated during the UNCF national telethon on December 28th, on KHL Channel 9.

Mary Hobbs, Publicity Chairperson said that it plan to solicit local businesses and organizations to participate in its second fund raising campaign. Organizations are asked to make direct contributions of $10000.00 or more. Also, the organization will be eligible to present the gift live on the "Lou Rawls Parade of Stars" National Telethon.

A local pre-taping will be held December 5th for the Inland area UNCF Fund Ball at Indian Hills Country Club in Riverside. Tickets will be on sale for $10.00.

Other activities planned to generate funds will be a Gospel Skate Night, A Concert featuring the Evergreen Singers, and local churches will be asked to participate in the "UNCF Sunday."

Education is an expensive experience, and commitment to the needs of the intellectually, socially, and economically deprived can be even more costly. But it is a challenge to UNCF to continue to successfully provide financial support annually for the operating expenses of 43 predominantly Black colleges and universities.

Educational institutions do not necessarily merit support because

"My teacher thought I was good enough and pointed me in the direction towards journalism, my mother thought that I was even better so she took my paper that wrote down to the Black Voice newspaper. I thank Mrs. Brown for believing in me and giving me the chance.

of need. UNCF schools attract and retain students with less than adequate preparation and through intensive support services students skills are brought up to competitive standards. Twenty-seven percent of all degrees awarded from UNCF colleges were in business; from 1981 to 1982 there was a 20% increase in degrees awarded in the health professions and 58.3% increase of degrees awarded in engineering. As these students matriculate in their professions they will contribute to an increasingly technical society.

More than 25 percent of the students go on to attend the best graduate schools in the country. Only through a college education can these students move into the mainstream of American life and provide effective leadership to their communities and the nation.

"I plan to be a television newscaster and I also want to do television commercials," she says but if Angie isn't caught trying to make deadlines for the newspapers, she enjoys reading, skating, acting and writing short stories.

Coors Presents Scholarship At Golden State Banquet

The Adolph Coors Company continued its support of higher education by presenting a $1,000.00 scholarship at The Golden State Insurance Minority Foundation Banquet. The gala affair, held at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel in Beverly Hills, California, was the tenth annual Salute to Minority Education.

Since 1976, the Foundation has awarded over 700 scholarships and grants to deserving minority students preparing for careers in business and health administration professions. Through dedication, persistent hard work, vision, sound management, and the solid support of the business community and believing individuals. The Foundation is now the largest of its kind in the nation.

The Adolph Coors Scholarship of $1,000.00 was awarded to Nigel Melville, an electrical engineering major at UCLA. Nigel is a junior with an impressive 3.1 grade point average.

N.A.A.C.P. Protests...

N.A.A.C.P. San Bernardino Branch and local branch presidents of the Inland Empire have registered their protest of the president's proposal to eliminate the affirmative actions goals and timetables.

Presidents Otis Smith of Rialto/Fontana, Eunice Williamson of Riverside, and Morsell Johnson of San Bernardino in a joint statement condemned President Reagan's proposal to eliminate the executive orders which created the so called "affirmative action goals and timetables" as a setback in time and a total disregard to the disadvantage women and minorities in our country.

His proposed action could eliminate employment opportunities for Blacks, Browns, women, and other minorities. A candle light vigil is being planned for September 18 to dramatize the concerns of the Inland Empire of his proposed action.

Life Changing Ministries' Dedication Service - A Blessing & A Success!

On Sunday night, August 25, 1985, San Bernardino was uplifted as Life Changing Ministries openly expressed its commitment to the Lord, to our local community, and to the world.

Pastor Reginald Woods says "Thank you to all that supported this great event." We are serious about what we are doing and God definitely sent us here."

Dr. John H. Woods, Jr., Pastor of Pomona Valley Praise Temple, preached his message "Is this church called by God into Existence." The message was a confirmation to Pastor Woods and the Life Changing Ministries members that they are doing the will of God.

The music lighted the streets as the "Voices of Praise" christian singers had the house in the clouds as they ministered the word through song.

Life Changing Ministries will continue ahead and make every effort to make an impact on this community and bring about change in the lives of many people.

The Citrus Valley District Ushers had a wonderful time at that State Convention in San Jose, Calif., and are now beginning to make plans for the next Annual Convention which will be held in our own Riverside/San Bernardino area. President Claude L. Giles has appointed Mr. Johnnie Creighton as the chairman of the convention and Maxine Barnett is co-chair. The first major plans will be made at the Organization meeting which is usually held in Fresno, Calif., on the 4th Saturday in September.

always welcome any one to come and visit us anytime our doors are always Open.

We are indeed grateful to Miss Linda Marsh for her selection of music for our Celestial Choir. She tries to have something new in arrangement each Sunday morning. Mr. Marsh is director of the Celestial Choir. Mrs. Ethel Nix was the soloist for the morning. The morning message was brought to us by Pastor Forbes. The subject of his message was "A Large Cloud of Witnesses." Pastor's Forbes message was very inspiring and pertaining to our every day living. I don't believe that Pastor Forbes knows how to deliver a message that is not from the Heart or to our souls. We thank God that he sent him to us at Allen.

Next Sunday Allen will have our Pastors Appreciation service at the church at 3:00 p.m., that is Sunday September 8, 1985. The public is invited to come and fellowship with us.

Rev. Roosevelt from the Bible Way Missionary Baptist Church of Perris Ca. will be the guest speaker for our Pastors Appreciation. He will be the speaker for the afternoon service.

Allen Chapel A.M.E. Church

Rev. J. Forbes, pastor
Eddie Spears, reporter

Last Sunday was communion Sunday at Allen. The First Sunday in September was really a blessed Sunday the Allen family and visitors really enjoyed it.

The service began with the Celestial choir marching, singing the processional song "Lead Me To Calvary." The Celestial choir was their usual best as always. I do not think that they know any other way to sing but soul stirring and beautiful. We were indeed happy to see most of our choir members back from vacation and in their respective places in the choir. Thank God that Allen is blessed in as much as there are three choirs to carry on when one is unable to continue to serve on any particular Sunday. For that we are indeed Grateful.

The call to worship was by Pastor Forbes. The morning hymn was "Alas And Did My Savior Bleed?" Morning prayer was by Rev. J.C. Tyce the Assistant Pastor. The scripture lesson was from the book of Hebrews 12:1-17. The scripture was read responsively with Pastor Forbes reading the odd verses and the congregation reading the even verses. We were blessed to have six persons visit with us on Last Sunday. Allen

Question: Do most parents feel good about the way they're raising their children, organizing their lives, and coping with the tasks of family life?

Answer: According to the results of a survey performed in 1983, about half the parents who responded believed that sometimes "I am not as good a parent as I should be." Four out of five parents agreed with the statement "to be a good parent is one of the hardest things I do in life." This study, called the Adolescent-Parent study, was carried out by Peter L. Benson of the Search Institute, using 8,165 teenagers and their 20,467 parents. The results were reported and interpreted in a book called Five Cries of Parents by Merton and Irene Strommen. The survey revealed that many parents are unhappy with their performance as parents, and that their self-esteem is linked to the behavior of their children. The Strommens interpret the results of the survey as revealing some common concerns of parents. Reporting on other recent studies along with the Adolescent-Parent study, the authors report that parents want to improve communications, increase family closeness, learn ways to discipline effectively, and discover ways to cope with the stress that all families experience through death, illness, and other life changes. While many parents do fear that they aren't performing effectively, such surveys also reveal that the majority of parents enjoy being with their children.

RCC Graphics Tech Program Awarded $25,000 Grant.....

The Riverside City College graphics technology program was awarded a $25,000 by the California State Department of Education to establish a training center for instant printing techniques and management. The center will be utilized by instructors to train students who, in turn, will operate the center.

Production from the center will number over 75,000 copies a month and will benefit the instructional and operational needs of the college. The students will be operating new, state-of-the-art copying equipment and the center will be used as a model for other community colleges to follow.

"The college will be filling the needs of both the institution and the industry," said Richard Browne, assistant professor of graphics technology. "The training the students will receive here will prepare them to directly enter the quick copy market either as managers or pressmen."

RCC depends heavily on the production of materials from its graphics technology department. Students are directly involved in typesetting and printing a large quantity of work. The center will add another dimension to the graphics program and greatly assist both student and instructor.

For more information regarding RCC's graphics technology department, call 684-3240, ext. 279 or 281.

Special Low Cost Back-to-School Immunization Clinics

Riverside County Health Dept. will be offering low cost back-to-school immunizations at selected sites throughout the county so that parents will get their children immunized before they enter school.

Dr. David Dassey, County Director of Disease Control, advises parents to check their children's immunization records to see if any immunizations are due.

California law requires that children should have 4 DTP, 3 Polio and 1 MMR vaccination before they enter school. The last dose of DTP and Polio must be given after the age of two. The MMR must be given on or after the first birthday.

Many children are not immunized appropriately when they enter school. "This leaves them susceptible to disease at a time when they are most vulnerable. Most of these diseases are likely to strike young children and the consequences are often most severe in this age group", stated Dr. Dassey. "If an epidemic started,

The WAG meeting will begin promptly at 12:00 noon at Denny's Restaurant on 2nd street in San Bernardino. The public is invited to attend and participate.

it would spread quickly among the unimmunized children."

DTP (diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis), MMR (measles, mumps, rubella) and Polio immunizations will be offered at the special clinics for $2.00 per child or $5.00 per family. Parents are advised to bring their Immunization Record to the special clinics. They will need this record completed appropriately when they register the children at school in September. All children and teenagers must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. For further information, please call (714) 787-6671, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Scientists Are Solving The Problems of Drug Abuse

In early 1984, the Church of Scientology submitted documents to the Canadian Minister of External Affairs and to the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) revealing that the Canadian, U.S. and British psychiatric communities had received funds from the U.S. and Canadian governments to carry out secret and brutal "mind control" experiments. Between 1956-1965, these experiments were conducted on unwitting Canadian citizens with such mind-bending drugs as LSD.

Canada was chosen as the site for these tests. It was not until 1960 that Canada had a Charter of Rights to protect its citizens from such abuses. At the time of the Church's submission, nine victims of these savage experiments were suing the CIA for $1 million apiece for the harm they had sustained at the hands of the psychiatrists.

The Church asked the Canadian government to investigate and prosecute the actual criminals — the psychiatrists who had taken the payments and then brutalized innocent people. No investigation has occurred, however, to date.

The "treatments" used by the psychiatrists included drug-induced "deep sleep" periods lasting up to 60 days, during which the unwitting and often unwilling subjects were given numerous devastating electro-convulsive shock treatments. Subjects were also given repeated applications of mind-altering drugs such as LSD, often against their will.

The Church has also exposed the reckless testing of deadly chemical substances on unwitting American citizens by the CIA and by other U.S. government agencies. These exposures have detailed, for example, how some 1,000 U.S. fighting men were used as human guinea pigs in "mind control" experiments with LSD and other even more powerful mind-bending drugs at the Army's Edgewood Arsenal and elsewhere from 1954 to 1975.

Irresponsible actions such as these by our own government help to explain why drug abuse in America has been allowed to reach such alarming proportions.

According to recent estimates, the United States has some 32 million marijuana users, more than 30 million people who take psychiatric drugs, 492,000 heroin addicts, and more than 12 million cocaine users.

While the federal government estimates that an incredible $53 billion are spent by Americans on illicit drugs each year, there is remarkably little government effort to handle drug problems, and still less work to prevent them.

For nearly 35 years, the Church of Scientology has seen that drugs are a destructive influence in life, and has helped tens of thousands of individuals recover from their damaging effects, through distribution and application of the drug rehabilitation technology developed by Scientology founder L. Ron Hubbard.

Among those who learned of this technology was a heroin addict, Willie Benitez, who was serving time on his fourth sentence to Arizona State Prison. In 1966, Benitez found that his 19-year drug addiction problem, which had forced him into a life of crime, resolved through his studies of the works of L. Ron Hubbard.

Determined to help his fellow inmates with similar drug problems, Benitez founded an organization called Narconon. The word comes from "non-narcosis," meaning freedom from the stupor produced by drugs.

Narconon grew, spreading beyond the Arizona prison's walls as men and women found they could live a new, happier and more prosperous life — without drugs.

Narconon today is thriving, with hundreds of staff operating dozens of centers in the United States and in many countries overseas. With nine new centers opening in the United States, Holland, Spain and Italy in 1984, Narconon is the fastest growing drug rehabilitation program in the world.

As the Church of Scientology itself has expanded, its work has improved the lives of hundreds of thousands of people. With its strong emphasis on the value of drug education, the Church has been diametrically opposed to massive government support of programs which foster drug use, including the billions spent each year on psychiatric drugs.

Although the effectiveness of our technology in salvaging people from the damaging influence of drugs and our exposures of brutal government-funded psychiatric experiments have met with opposition from vested interests who stand to profit from a drugged America, our work in making these abuses known and freeing people from drugs will continue.

The Church of Scientology, in its continuing war against the harmful effects of drugs, is daily bringing about the miraculous freeing of individuals from these toxic substances. "Success stories" by the thousands have poured in from people all over the world.

The Church has observed, in case after case, that an individual who has been freed from the numbing effects of drugs is better able not only to help himself, but to take greater responsibility for others around him, and for the society as a whole.

An individual thus freed is more himself and is better able to pursue his own true goals in life, unclouded by the fog of drugs.

The Church of Scientology will continue to expose those who would betray their fellow man for the personal profit to be had in peddling drugs. The Church is committed to freedom for the individual, and freedom from drugs must be part of this.

Two UC Riverside Students Awarded Rivera Scholarships

Riverside -- A pair of cousins attending UC Riverside are the first two recipients of scholarships from the Tomas Rivera Scholarship Fund, established after the death of the Chancellor in May 1984.

Rosa Fernandez and Salvador Fernandez, both of Palm Desert, were selected from a group of about a dozen undergraduate scholarship applicants who fit the requirements of the special fund. Preference is given to Chicano students with an interest in Spanish literature or education.

Rosa Fernandez, 19, will receive $1,500 for the 1985-86 academic year. The junior majoring in human development will be spending the school year in Madrid as part of the University's Education Abroad Program.

Salvador Fernandez, 22, will receive $500 to use in his final undergraduate quarter this fall. Fernandez, a double-major in Spanish and History, expects to graduate in December. He plans to become an elementary school teacher.

"I know both of them. They are both outstanding students, both highly qualified for the award," said Joy Davy, scholarship coordinator.

The scholarship fund was established immediately after Dr. Rivera's death in May 1984 of a heart attack. Dr. Rivera had served five years as chief executive of the Riverside campus. He was the first minority chancellor to head a branch of the nine-campus University system.

More than 200 contributors have given a total of $50,228 to the scholarship fund which will provide scholarships from interest earned on the money. About $4,870 has been earned in interest since the fund was established.

The selection committee for the Rivera scholarship was comprised of Concepcion (Concha) Rivera, the late chancellor's widow; Carlos Cortes, History Department chairman; Jean Pierre Barricelli, Professor of Romance Languages; and Davy.

Dr. Rivera was born in Crystal City, Texas, and received his early education in Spanish-language barrio schools. He went on to earn several advanced degrees, including a Ph. D. in Romance Languages and Literature from the University of Oklahoma in 1969.

Donations to the scholarship fund can be mailed to: UC Riverside Foundation, 2120 Administration Building, Riverside, CA. 92521. Checks should be made payable to UC Riverside Foundation. Contributors should note that donations are intended for the Tomas Rivera Scholarship Fund.

Washington Examines Discrimination Against Arab-Americans...

Washington, D. C. September 3, 1985 -- "Arab-Americans will gather from all parts of the country to celebrate their coming of age as a viable, unified social and political community," said James G. Abourezk, former Democratic Senator from South Dakota and chairman of the American-Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee (ADC). "But even in the midst of our celebration," said Abourezk, "we still have to contend with some pretty ugly anti-Semitism directed against Arab-Americans."

Abourezk noted that this problem, U.S. policy in the Middle East, the future of Lebanon and media coverage of the Middle East are among the topics that will be examined during the annual convention of the American-Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee. People from throughout the U.S. and the Arab world are expected to attend the meeting at the Washington Hilton Hotel September 5-8, where D.C. Mayor Marion Berry will proclaim Arab-American week.

"Arab-Americans have come a long way since ADC was founded in 1980," said Abourezk. "Our convention theme, ADC: Five Years of Growth, reflects our maturation as a civil rights group representing Arab-Americans. Judging by some recent incidents of hatred directed toward Arab-Americans, we still have a long way to go."

Dear Readers of Voice News,

Due to the turmoil so many marriage relationships are experiencing, as far as fantasies of what marriage will provide and under current misconceptions of what it is. Tabitha would like to share with you a series of excerpts from "Actualizations" entitled:

partner who just does not want to dance. Now, I think it is true that at some level, everyone wants to dance. It's just hard to get some people to discover that about themselves. So we need to make sure when we start a relationship that we are playing with somebody who is a candidate for the game.

Having a relationship with another person that truly works is a great adventure. To be a great adventurer requires great courage. We have to be willing to take action (even though we might be afraid to ask for what we want), to manifest our love and compassion, and to be real. People who love life, themselves and each other have the courage and the passion to make the game worth playing. To really have creative, alive relationships, we have to consciously foster that spirit of adventure.

EEOC Files Suit Against Knusen Dairy Corporation

Los Angeles, California -- The United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission filed a Complaint against Knusen Dairy Corporation on August 26, 1985 in the United States District Court, Central District of California. The action was filed under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, alleging discrimination against a class of female job applicants.

The complaint alleges that Knusen Dairy Corporation intentionally engages in sex discrimination at its facility located at 231 East 23rd Street, Los Angeles, Ca. in violation of Section 703 of Title VII. The unlawful employment practices include, but are not limited to, the failure to hire a class of female applicants. The effect of these unlawful employment practices, according to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, has been to deprive the class of female applicants of equal employment opportunities and otherwise adversely affect their employment status because of their sex.

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission seeks a permanent injunction enjoining Knusen Dairy Corporation from engaging in any employment practice which discriminates on the basis of sex, an order requiring Knusen to institute and carry out policies, practices and programs which provide equal employment opportunities for all female applicants and which eradicates the effects of its past and present unlawful employment practices, plus the appropriate back pay and rightful place hiring of all aggrieved individuals.

The lawsuit against Knusen grew out of an investigation of charges of sex discrimination filed with the EEOC against the Company.

The EEOC is responsible for enforcing several federal employment discrimination statutes: Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, which prohibits discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex or national origin; the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967; as amended; the Equal Pay Act as amended; and in the federal sector only, prohibitions against discrimination because of handicap.

5 Day Workshop on Drug Prevention Concludes

A five-day workshop jointly sponsored by San Bernardino City Schools and the San Bernardino Police Department began Saturday, August 24, training participants in the prevention of drug and alcohol abuse among school age youth and assist those who already have drug and alcohol problems.

The seminar is one of the activities growing out of a $133,000, grant awarded to the police and school district to do something about young people's problems with drug and alcohol. More than 50 teachers, principals, vice principals, and other school system personnel were scheduled to take part in the training program which took place before the formal work year began for most of these educators.

Also in the sessions were representatives from the police department, probation department, and from various community agencies directly or indirectly working in social areas where drugs and alcohol abuse is a major fact of life.

The workshop was conducted by staff personnel of Community Intervention, Inc. which has conducted such training sessions in all parts of the country. The organization is one of the leading facilitators in the development of community programs dealing with adolescent alcohol and drug abuse.

The program is designed to provide knowledge to participants that will help them understand the problem and the programs that have proven successful in combatting it. "The focus was on the roles of educators, helping professional and concerned community members in helping kids," a Community Intervention spokesman said.

Loretta Middleton, a member of the San Geronio High School faculty, is coordinating the drug intervention program being developed within the San Bernardino City Unified School District.

"Drugs and alcohol abuse is the direct enemy of public education," District Supt. E. Neal Roberts said. "In school we are trying to prepare the children and youth of our community to be productive citizens and successful adults. Drug addiction and alcoholism make potentially productive citizens burdens to society; they rob people of their chances for success."

Roberts pointed out that "drug abuse and alcoholism is not a 'school problem' and schools alone can not solve it. It is a community problem, one which the school system is eager to be a part in helping the community solve."

High School-University Program...

Area high school juniors and seniors will have a chance to begin college work on a part-time basis next fall under the high school-university program at Cal State, San Bernardino.

The program is open to students having a "B" average in their high school work. It provides them the opportunity to get a head start on a college education by taking one or more courses in such areas as business administration, English, foreign languages, computer science, math and social sciences. Most of the classes are taught in the afternoon or evening and carry five units credit. A few are for 2 or 2.5 credits.

The students pay registration fees of $3 per quarter and receive all regular student services.

Interested students should apply before Sept. 16 by submitting a recommendation from their high school principal, an official copy of their high school transcript and a regular CSU application for admission.

Questions about the program may be directed to the High School-University Program office at Cal State San Bernardino by calling 887-7521.

Congressman George Brown To Chair Hearings On "Impact Age On Science"

Congressman George E. Brown, Jr. (D-CA) announced today that he will chair a series of hearings on "The Impact of the Information Age on Science" for the Congressional Science Policy Task Force. Task Force Chair Don Fuqua said the hearings will be held September 10, 11, and 12, 1985 in room 2318 of the Rayburn House Office Building. The hearings will begin at 10:00 a.m. each day.

Congressman George Brown

Brown commented that, "Computers have changed the way in which theories are both put together and tested by scientists, and the ways in which instruments are controlled and data are collected. Further, communications linkages controlled by computers show promise for changing the ways in which scientists communicate with one another, although much of this promise remains to be realized."

The Task Force is especially interested in the ways in which information technologies have changed the conduct of science and what these changes mean for federal support of scientific research.

Brown is a senior member of the House Committees on Agriculture and on Science and Technology, and chairs the Science Subcommittee on Transportation, Aviation and Materials. He was appointed to the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence in the 99th Congress. Brown is also a member of the congressional Office of Technology Assessment executive board.

Hubbard's Cupboard Opened.....

By Dr. H. Hubbard, Redlands Community Baptist Church

The way some people beg for money to help them do God's work, you would think that the God of all creation is nothing short of being destitute.

Its hard to imagine that the God who spoke the Universe into existence; the God who spoke the air, seas and firmaments into existence; the God who created mankind from the dust of the ground and yes, the same God who raised his one and only Son from the dead, is poverty stricken and can't pay his bills.

With religion being the largest business in the world, it would be naive not to suspect that it also has it's fair share of charlatans and soothsayers disguised as shephards of the flock, when in reality they are nothing more than wolves in sheep's clothing, but Jesus himself warned of that in his sermon on the mount. "Beware of false prophets, who come to you

Boycott Pretoria's gold

By Julian Bond

It isn't surprising that the Rev. Jerry Falwell has returned from a state-sanctioned visit to South Africa an "expert" on all things African and an apologist for apartheid.

After all, Falwell is a supporter of President Reagan and Reagan's policy in Southern Africa. It is those policies that Falwell is supporting in an attempt to rally conservatives and the religious right-wingers to the defense of the white-supremacist state.

Among other things, Falwell has promised the South African government he will attempt to marshal opposition to a final congressional agreement on the anti-apartheid legislation that has passed both the House and Senate. Most interestingly, he has pledged to urge Americans to buy Krugerrands, the South African gold coin that helps provide American investment for the apartheid system.

The coins are named for Afrikaner Paul Kruger (1825-1904). Kruger once said, "The black man must be taught that he came second and that he belongs to the inferior class and must obey." Today, the coins minted in his name help keep black men and women in the place Paul Kruger's descendants want them to be.

Even though Africans are 72 percent of the population, they are able to live permanently on only 13 percent of the total land in South Africa, and cannot vote or own property.

In 1982, the average monthly wage was $1,136 for whites; for blacks it was $250. In 1981-82, the government spent $1,199 on education for each white child and only $145 for each black child. In 1980, 13 of every 1,000 white children died in infancy; in some rural areas, 240 of every 1,000 black children died in infancy.

Although Krugerrands are legal tender in South Africa, they are minted primarily for the investor market. "More than any other coin, the world buys its gold in the form of Krugerrands," said the International Gold Corp. It should know. The corporation — known as Intergold — is a subsidiary of South Africa's Chamber of Mines, which directs the production of gold. The chamber then sells its gold bullion to the government for export. The government mints Krugerrands, which are then returned to the chamber to be sold through Intergold.

Krugerrands accounted for almost one-quarter of the value of U.S. imports from South Africa in 1983 and 1984. In 1983, U.S. Krugerrand imports were $450.2 million. Worldwide, almost $4.7 million were sold in 1983 for $1.5 billion.

Gold sales are nearly 50 percent of South Africa's foreign exchange: the cash that buys computers, oil, airplanes and other goods the apartheid state needs to survive. In 1983, sales of Krugerrands produced 14 percent of South Africa's total revenues. According to C.T. Fenton, chairman of the Chamber of Mines, "the role of gold has never been more vital."

Gold, Fenton said, provides the state with "much needed financial and economic stability." That gold — South Africa's lifeblood — is mined by 424,539 black miners under the direction of 48,389 whites. The black miners average only $232 a month while white miners earn $1,267. A white miner who contracts tuberculosis is eligible for a lump sum payment of $6,068; a black miner receives $823.

The gold mines' demand for cheap labor helped to create the apartheid system in the first place. Today, most black miners live in company camps far from their families under "pass" laws, which regulate their labor and their travel in the country of their birth.

That is the system that Falwell wants all Americans to support. His argument, like that of the Reagan administration, is that the United States is dependent upon South African gold. But world gold stock is equal to 100 years of South African gold production. According to Alan Davison, precious metals analyst at Shearson Lehman in London, America can easily do without South African gold.

And Jerry Falwell can do without his newly minted association with white supremacists.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

Recently several individuals informed me that this self-styled recall group, ARG, got them to sign their petitions based on misinformation given them by ARG; namely that the "three Councilmembers are in support of a toxic waste site in the City." This is absolutely false! Let's just take a moment and look at the City Council Meeting Minutes of March 12, page 5, item 9.2.1....

"It was moved by Councilmember Lynn and seconded by Councilmember Webb that the Council take a formal position in opposition to a toxic waste site within, nearby or adjacent to the City. During discussion of this motion, Councilmember Horspool questioned whether it would be premature to take a position until sufficient information has been obtained and the council has hired expert consultants. Councilmember Neiburger pointed out that there will be various activities undertaken on a County-wide basis on such things as criteria, as an example; Councilmember Neiburger would not want the Council to be placed in a biased position before it could actually do some work for the community and the County. Councilmember Webb and Scott felt these were good points. The City Attorney pointed out timing... would be a consideration, and it would have greater impact if it were based on solid facts. Since siting criteria and other concerns have not been determined by the County, the City Manager suggested that it may be more appropriate at this time for the Council to express its deep concern over the potential of the dump site, and leave the Council opportunity to take a position when such determinations are made."

Under "ACTION TAKEN: Councilmember Lynn then moved that, as a substitution to his original motion, the Council express its strong sense of concern about the potential for harm in the location of a toxic waste site within, nearby or adjacent to the City of Moreno Valley; Councilmember Webb seconded this motion and it was UNANIMOUSLY carried."

Over the past five months the City Council, including Mayor Scott and Councilmembers Horspool and Webb, have demonstrated a strong concern and have developed recommended criteria to the County which will prohibit any site within, nearby or adjacent to the City of Moreno Valley.

This kind of misrepresentation seriously puts to a question the integrity of the ARG faction. Is the ARG faction uttering this falsehood with an intention to deceive? If so, it is a shamelessly false impression!

Moreno Valley Readers Respond

We (ARG) Alliance for Responsible Government have never stated that these 3 are in support of the toxic waste, but what concrete steps are being taken to fight this site.

COUNCIL MEETING

3/12 - City Manager told to contact TAG (an outside consultant) for doing the work needed to obtain facts.

5/23 - Correspondence

City manager requested from lawyer hired by M.V. for $7,000 what work would TAG do if they were hired.

6/10 Correspondence:

Reply from lawyer to City manager on the scope of work TAG should work on (He stated things are heating up.)

6/25 - Council meetings (Public comments) At this council meeting it was requested by ARG that TAG be hired and that the Council take a stand one way or another (No comment from the council)

The criteria that our city adopted WILL NOT prohibit a site adjacent to the city of Moreno Valley. This is still county property.

IT'S A FACT!

Sweeping out the soot from the steep chimneys of private homes and factories was the job of the chimney sweep in earlier times. It was a dirty and dangerous job, and often involved sending children with brooms up into the chimney.

Today, a modern sweeper can make tough jobs easier. It's a water-powered super broom which cleans concrete, asphalt, stucco, tile, brick, stone and wood. It connects to any garden hose. It also washes away mud, leaves, sawdust, grass clippings and spills on decks and patios. Light weight and versatile, it features a three position adjustable handle. This Hydro-Sweep from Dazey can also clean driveways, sidewalks, garages, basements, vehicles, decks and exterior walls.

Broadcasters Battle Alcohol Abuse

America's broadcasters are doing their part to battle the growing problem of alcohol abuse and alcoholism.

Broadcasters are working with community leaders to fight alcohol abuse.

Alcoholism is a serious and complex problem — an addictive disease, and one which, many experts agree, is not caused or affected by broadcast advertising for beer and wine, as some groups charge.

Making advertising the scapegoat will not solve the problem of alcohol abuse. It might in fact direct attention away from the root causes of abuse, such as peer pressure and the lack of good educational programs.

The problem is not what people learn from advertising, it's what they don't learn from other sources, including family, doctors, churches, schools and the media.

More and more broadcasters are trying to change that, providing public service time and program messages that encourage community involvement in alcohol education. The need is to educate all groups about the dangers and consequences of drinking, and to make everyone aware that effective treatment is available.

This is a job best done at the local level, and local TV and radio stations are lending their support.
