October 31 to November 2

Teaching Skill(s) Studied:

Applying evidenced based practice in social work education.

Impact on Current Teaching (How was this info applied)?

The workshop provided a CD Rom of course materials such as lesson plans, assignments, and activities for instructors to use in the classroom to help students understand how to read research, how to use research, and how to think critically about research. In addition, the workshop helped participants learn how to write a syllabi that would incorporate concepts of research (also known as evidenced based practice in social work) into their course materials. Participants learned about the many tiers of research and what type of research to look for when finding research material to build into lesson plans.
