Dear Diary,

date 8 / 21 / 2020

Today was such a weird day! My best friend turned 20 today. No party, no nothing. Just Bamby, Leslie and I.

Covid-19 has been hard. We barely see each other. Bamby is usually travelling and well Leslie lives w/ her grandparent. I'm consistently working.

However, Leslie's birthday was amazing. We caught up so much. I can't believe Bamby will move to Texas w/ her boyfriend, who I yet have met. I blame covid for this. He sounds amazing. Anyways, us 3 girls decided to do some TikTok videos. Learning dances is so difficult but so fun. I wish we could go out to eat but everything was take-out only.

See you next time,

xo xo

So far, there has been 1 confirm Covid-19 positive customer at work. Changes have been made. We now have installed clear barriers between workers. We are to clean the area everytime we have the chance. We are NOT to give service to those customers w/out a face mask. We have a temp. check in place. Everything isn't the same.

I decided to get tested. It was fun. The weird feeling made me laugh. Now we wait 3 days.

The security guy at the hospital was so cute so I told him. This pandemic has made me more outgoing. With school being online, how else am I suppose to find my future husband? Maybe tinder? I'm thinking about it. Uggghh...

See you next time,

xoxo

Dear Diary,

date 9 / 4 / 2020

I am physically and emotionally drained.

I am tired of waking up at 5am, working and attending zoom meetings.

No where to go. No one to see.

I've been thinking of downloading tinder. maybe I'll meet someone online.

This pandemic has made me go insane.

Update: I now have a tinder.

See you next time.

Last week I forgot to write how alone I was feeling.

This week my best friend, Leslie temporary moved to Utah, so I am so alone.

Ever since I went on tinder, I lost hope/faith in men. But I've made at least 3 friends.

Of course, we haven't met up for obvious reason, covid 19, but I love talking to them.

If we were ever to meet, I will ask for a covid test to be done. One of the guys actually asked me if I will be willing to get tested for covid prior to meeting up which I love.

Work has been so hard lately. New guidelines are implemented every once in a while. Supervisors come often to check on us. It's too much but I'll rather be safe than sorry.

See you next time.

Covid - 19 day 8967931832194567123532...

Tinder is alright. It's been a bit over two weeks. So far, I've made a close friend of mine who knows me more than those around me. Then, it's him. We get each other and were born into the same things. We've spoke about it but were scared of commitment. So as for now we're just talking it out. Who would've known Tinder is where I might find my future husband.

On my days off I've been watching all the Star Wars movies. I am almost done.

There's not much to do. The place where I go to escape this pandemic is a secret. It's in Laguna beach about 20 min. from the main beach. No one is usually there. I spend about 2 hrs reflecting on life and reading.

See you next time,

Online dating is so weird. Some want to hook up while others are looking for a serious relationship. I on the other side want to make new friends and possibly a relationship.

My last relationship ended because of covid and long distance. We both go to CSUB. He lives in Redlands and I live in LA. So the drive would be too long if we wanted to constantly see each other. Covid made it harder because of cases increasing and him living w/ his grandparents. It was not safe. Now, I learned I cannot do long distance.

My life for once feels at peace. Just work, school and myself. I try not to be on my phone alot but it's hard. I went to Barnes & Noble today and purchased two books to read. Maybe that'll help.

See you next time,

I'm back!

Reading has made a big difference in my life. I'm currently reading The Hate U Give. It is about Just and Blm. I feel like prior to Covid I wasn't as interested in global issues. Now I find myself reading up on so many issues I did not know about.

Covid - 19 made me realize of all the shit that goes on in our world.

See you next time,

Nork has not been busy. I work at a fast food restaurant and suprisingly its dead most times.

I have yet to encounter a kaven, or better known a female that are usually white and claim they don't need to wear a mask. My coworker told me he actually had an experience w/ a kaven. She told him next time she comes she will poke holes in his face mask as a favor.

With this pandemic I feel as if people are going insane. Too many kavens and people fighting for toilet paper...

I hope covid eases dekwakes

I miss socializing.

No friends no classmates. It gets to me.

My day goes from work to school to reading to Tik Tok to bed time.

Nothing happened this week

See you next time

I feel as if I am a new person. In March I was immature and too much. Now I know what I want and need.

Corid made me understand myself a bit more. I had plenty of alone time to realize my self love and needs.

I like new me.

Here to more growing

I am now anti-social.

The only interaction I have is n work with my 6 workers.

Now, if I were to go to the store I feel as if I cannot function.

Online ordering through an mobile app has helped me alot. Prior to covid I was not like this. Now, all sudden I cannot function in a social setting.

I miss socializing

See you next time,

Its almost ~~November~~ December!

my mental Health seem to be getting better.
I feel more in control than ever. However, professors expect twice as much which doesn't help.

I decided to overload which was a big mistake.
I feel as if I am reaching myself the material.

Hopefully I pass my 7 courses.

see you next time,

XOXO
