Students protest cuts in Black Studies

Student protests reminiscent of the 60's were held at the University of California at Riverside yesterday. First a rally was held at the Clock Tower followed by a sit-in at the door of the Vice-Chancellor Dr. Charles Bevelle. The students said they are "rightously indignant" over a recommendation by Dean David B. Warren, dean of UCR's College of Humanities and Social Sciences, and Bevelle to eliminate the Black Studies Program.

The students presented a list of demands and walked out. A few hundred people attended the picnic for an increase in the budget for education. Larry King Club, president of the city welfare department, said the students don't disagree with the cuts but they disagree with the method that seems to affect students.

The Pentecostal Community Church to be Presented

The Pentecostal Community Church, better known as PCC will be in concert Sunday, June 6th at 7:00 p.m. at Lovejoy...

Keith Pringle organized PCC in January, 1979. His vision was for a Spiritual Band that would have the ability to play simple music hearing the voices of regular churchgoers. Eventually, the band would grow to include a full-time spiritual leader and eventually another full-time spiritual leader. It was in 1982 when Keith Pringle was nominated for a National Gospel Music Award.

This church has been a part of the community in Northern California and Southern Nevada for over thirty years. The East Coast has been home to some of America's greatest gospel and spiritual artists. Through their music and their messages, they teach the community to love one another. The choir is composed of four to six singers. They sing in a variety of styles, from traditional Spirituals to contemporary Gospel music. The band is composed of four to six musicians. They play a variety of instruments, from traditional spiritual instruments to contemporary Gospel instruments. They have performed at numerous events and have won numerous awards. They are known for their passion and their love for their community. They are a part of the community and they are loved by the community.

Blanche Williams Guest Speaker at St. Paul AME

Annual Missionary Day was observed last Sunday during the morning worship hour. Mrs. Blanche E. Williams of Johnson Chapel A.M.E. Church, Santa Ana, California, was the guest speaker, and the Angelic and Celestial Choirs furnished the music.

The ladies of the Missionary Department were in charge of the entire service. Among various music services were Misses: Louise Hamilton, Joyce Powell, Ann Malden, Ida Dayman, Mary Shoolery, Walter Humphrey, Crystal Bashor, Naomi Cameron, Bernard and Rach Johnsons. Mrs. Williams began her message by using the words of the hymn, BLESSED ASSURANCE, JESUS IS MINE—OH WHAT A FORESTAY OF GLORY EON! The subject of her message was IT TAKES MORE THAN A NEEDLE! In the city of Joppa, there was a woman called Dorcas. She understood medicine and had a great compassion for the people of Joppa and their needs. So for her MISHEN TOOL, she used her NEEDLE, making clothes, etc., for all of those in need. So it was with Sarah, who, with the help of the Antioch, Rev. William Jacks, Pastor of the Baptist Church of Santa Ana took over with a captivating arrangement of its Gospel Ruth, they held the glass feeling and reading—everything they did I enjoyed. I understood that they have an L.P. rarely renamed, perhaps we're be able to review the record for you one day in the near future. I had to leave before the special grand Donation Jackson and the San Bernardino Community Choir was not out done, and this must be true because Bro. Dean of the Antioch Choir called me at 11:00 this evening and told me that I left early. "We really had church," he said.

Roy Fellers says Clerk's Office has Lost Touch

County Clerk Recorder Roy Fellers wants cen­ters in the election past. He says this office "has lost touch with the people, becoming a dynasty passed on from within the bureaucracy." The 6-year decorated Vietnam veteran and Realtor added: "When the last Clerk Recorder recently resigned, he invited a taxicab driver who made no needed changes and who took over as 'acting' Clerk Recorder. Two potential chairs quit the office when the supervisors departmentalized their Clerk clerk and election officer positions - both with big pay raises." Fellers, as the only candidate from the general sector, says if the post were in business, "we would go broke due to poor customer service and other inefficiencies." He said his "almost daily contact with the clerk-recorder office over the past decade - in real estate, income tax consulting and real estate - convinced me that citizens need more service from this elective position."

He stressed that "this position affects everybody from the cradle to the grave - from birth certificates to death records, more service from this elective position."

"People around the county are fed up," he says. "The words of change from the cities to the Sands to the Seas to the Mountains, up and down this county, it will affect us." He advocates: "We teach them about a systems in a foreign country. We help them..."
