Rush advises creation of second newspaper

"...the Pawprint now is... not meeting the needs of this campus. I... suggest two newspapers, one by the Pawprint and one by the group that is trying to put out their own paper. They have proved they can do this. We need two papers, MECHA, BSU, SAC, etc., so they cannot meet their needs through the Pawprint, but could through another paper," stated Skip Rush, ASB president, at a meeting of the Publications Board, held November 16.

"That is a compromising position," Don Dibble, Publications Board/SAC member, replied. "You would make one paper depend on the funds generated against the funds generated against the other... We have not had all the complaints. I can speak for many people who are not satisfied."

Dr. Elliott Barkan, Publications Board member, added, "The only logical reason organizations would say the paper is unsatisfactory would be the editorials... To need two papers because the Pawprint does not represent the groups sounds very fishy.

"With groups," stated Mr. Clark Mayo, Board member, "the problem would be that their meetings or activities are not printed." Rush observed, "I feel Don Lannon has done a good job in some improvements and has made a concerted effort to listen to the many groups as possible. But it has not met the needs of BSU, MECHA, SAC, and other... I feel the only alternative is to have the Board authorize funds for a second newspaper on campus..."

Dibble emphasized, "...if we can come to the consensus that there is a problem... removing Don Lannon as editor, we will not have to go through all that."

Dean Fred Roach, Pawprint advisor, was specific. "I think the Pawprint has improved and will continue to. Don Lannon is making plans for a better staff and organization. Every issue of the paper. In the last year and a half has managed to sligt one someone. I can see no solution to our action... by hiring another editor and staff."

Regarding the publication of the Class Schedule, Don Dibble remarked, "Maybe the Bookstore should bring their grievances at the next (Board) meeting."

"They have no grievance," stressed Dean Kenton Monroe. "They only need to know if the Pawprint is, or is not, going to print the Class Schedule."

"The staff and I have no objection to continuing to print the Class Schedule," Don Lannon, editor-in-chief, stated.

Dibble questioned, "Are we casting the students greater expense or less by having the schedules printed? Could that money for printing in the Pawprint be used elsewhere?"

Ralph Lowery, Board chairman, answered, "It is helping everyone. It is helping the students who are interested in expensive for each student." Rush questioned, "Are we casting the students greater expense or less by having the schedules printed? Could that money go to the Pawprint?"

Dean Fred Roach, Pawprint advisor, was specific: "...I think the Pawprint is going to move... by bringing Don Lannon back."

Ralph Lowery, Board chairman, answered, "It is helping everyone. It is helping the students who are interested... by bringing Don Lannon back."

"They have no grievance," stressed Dean Kenton Monroe. "They only need to know if the Pawprint is, or is not, going to print the Class Schedule."

"The staff and I have no objection to continuing to print the Class Schedule," Don Lannon, editor-in-chief, stated.

Dibble questioned, "Are we casting the students greater expense or less by having the schedules printed? Could that money for printing in the Pawprint be used elsewhere?"

Ralph Lowery, Board chairman, answered, "It is helping everyone. It is helping the students who are interested in expensive for each student." Rush questioned, "Are we casting the students greater expense or less by having the schedules printed? Could that money go to the Pawprint?"

Dean Fred Roach, Pawprint advisor, was specific: "...I think the Pawprint is going to move... by bringing Don Lannon back."

Word of the establishment of the fan club was sent to the vice president, who is staying at the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles, by telegram. Gossett is expecting a telephone call to recognition by the vice president. However, the national republican headquarters has supplied the club with pictures and materials.

As Agnew Fan Club, intended by its founders to give the "silent majority" an opportunity to speak out, is being formed at Cal-State, the founders, Maxie Gossett and John B. Thwing, of Spira T. Agnew Day, to back their new venture, which they hope will become nationwide. With the help of the campus two Republicans, the pair has

The organization to encourage the silent majority to speak out, in protest of the "left turn" on campus and university campuses, they say, has secured an initial supply of buttons on Library construction.

"Sock it to 'em, Spiro"

'Venturesome' to address revolutionaries

Paul Boutelle, black militant recently returned from a tour of commando and refugee camps in Syria, Lebanon, and Jordan, announced his intention to give government attempts to have him banned from campus speaking tours. Boutelle was one of 65 "universities" speakers featured by the House Internal Security Committee and distributed to the press. This was prior to Judge Gerhart A. Gesell's decision in Washington, D.C. that the publishing of this list by HISC was "illegal" and a violation of the Constitutional right of free speech.

Paul Boutelle will be in Southern California Nov. 28 - Dec. 2 and will be addressing students at several colleges during that time. A letter from The Socialist Speakers Forum to all Student Governments in Southern California encouraged students to assist them in their rights to hear speakers of all points of view. Boutelle will be in Los Angeles to address the final session of the Southern California Revolution.

Continued on page 6

'Venturesome' to address revolutionaries

Paul Boutelle, black militant recently returned from a tour of commando and refugee camps in Syria, Lebanon, and Jordan, announced his intention to give government attempts to have him banned from campus speaking tours. Boutelle was one of 65 "universities" speakers featured by the House Internal Security Committee and distributed to the press. This was prior to Judge Gerhart A. Gesell's decision in Washington, D.C. that the publishing of this list by HISC was "illegal" and a violation of the Constitutional right of free speech.

Paul Boutelle will be in Southern California Nov. 28 - Dec. 2 and will be addressing students at several colleges during that time. A letter from The Socialist Speakers Forum to all Student Governments in Southern California encouraged students to assist them in their rights to hear speakers of all points of view. Boutelle will be in Los Angeles to address the final session of the Southern California Revolution.

Continued on page 6

Ashok Shah demonstrates Indian rhythms - Shah was one of several artists featured in this week's "international" concert.
to the Editor:

Women's Lib

Editor:

According to a report in the Pawprint of October 1, 1970 (p. 5) a representative of Women's Lib, the group, has been called to convene Monday, November 3 at 4:00 p.m. for an organizational meeting. It is hoped that all members of Women's Lib will be present to discuss the purpose and future plans of the group.

Inadequate coverage of intramural sports has been an ongoing problem this year. The Pawprint has consistently failed to cover intramural games and programs. As of this date, the Pawprint knows of only one minority activity and/or program not covered, i.e., "Theatro Urbano," sponsored by MECHA. Readers must realize that 9/10 of the Pawprint's circulation is made up of minority students.

Having only five feature and/or news writers, it is impossible to cover all campus events. Adequate coverage under these conditions can be assured only if the group

Women's Lib announces its intentions to be heard. The Pawprint has been the official organ of the student government, but it has long been accepted by the majority of the student body that it is not necessarily the official organ of all members of the student body. The Pawprint is obligated to respect the rights of all students to express their opinions and to present their positions. This is the right of all members of the student body, and it should be respected by all members of the student government.

Richard E. Goodman
Associate Professor of Psychology

ASB victim

Editor:

The Board of Trustees announced last week that the student government, ASB, is now responsible for raising funds for the student newspaper, the Pawprint. This decision was based on the belief that the Pawprint should be a self-supporting organization, and that the funds it raises should be used to support the newspaper.

The decision has been criticized by some students, who argue that the Pawprint should be a free press, not a commercial organization. They also argue that the Pawprint should be able to cover all news events, not just those that are of interest to ASB.

The Pawprint has always tried to cover all news events, and it has always tried to be a free press. However, the Pawprint has also had to make decisions about what news events it covers. The Pawprint has always tried to cover events that are of interest to the student body, and it has always tried to cover events that are of interest to the Pawprint's readers.

The Pawprint has always tried to be a free press, and it has always tried to be a self-supporting organization. The Pawprint has always tried to cover all news events, and it has always tried to be a free press. The Pawprint has always tried to cover all news events, and it has always tried to be a self-supporting organization.

Eddie Philips
Intramural Coordinator
Women's Lib

HIS-story told

By Eric Cazayoux

The Pawprint is attempting to present two biased stories on the subject of Women's Lib. This report basically "supports" the view that's their own thing." for which American women are "pleased with the dominant attitude which some women assume towards men. One member, however, is very strong in her position on women's rights. The group, as a whole, does not agree that action should be taken, and is holding meetings regularly to discuss some of the solutions to the problems of raising pre-schoolers, a time-consuming task. Women could then have the opportunity to pursue other outside interests and careers.

Equalizing the roles of men and women in the family was also a possible answer. By balancing the duties of each partner, each would share in the raising of children, the handling of money, the formulation of decisions. Marriage itself would undergo a change in definition.

Education was also mentioned as an important solution. Kay Wilson remarked, "You've been taught to think one way. It's a learning experience". The relationship of woman to man could be changed if youngsters were "untagged" to fit into specific mommy-daddy roles.

The levels of commitment to the Women's Liberation cause differs among its members, as is the case in most social movements. Some are more extreme in their demands than others. One of the members stated that she was sorry to see the "anti-man" label being placed on this movement. Others were not pleased with the dominant attitude which some women assume towards men. One member, however, is very strong in her position on women's rights. The group, as a whole, does not agree that action should be taken, and is holding meetings regularly to discuss some of the solutions to the problems of raising pre-schoolers, a time-consuming task. Women could then have the opportunity to pursue other outside interests and careers.

Equalizing the roles of men and women in the family was also a possible answer. By balancing the duties of each partner, each would share in the raising of children, the handling of money, the formulation of decisions. Marriage itself would undergo a change in definition.

Education was also mentioned as an important solution. Kay Wilson remarked, "You've been taught to think one way. It's a learning experience". The relationship of woman to man could be changed if youngsters were "untagged" to fit into specific mommy-daddy roles.

The levels of commitment to the Women's Liberation cause differs among its members, as is the case in most social movements. Some are more extreme in their demands than others. One of the members stated that she was sorry to see the "anti-man" label being placed on this movement. Others were not pleased with the dominant attitude which some women assume towards men. One member, however, is very strong in her position on women's rights. The group, as a whole, does not agree that action should be taken, and is holding meetings regularly to discuss some of the solutions to the problems of raising pre-schoolers, a time-consuming task. Women could then have the opportunity to pursue other outside interests and careers.

Equalizing the roles of men and women in the family was also a possible answer. By balancing the duties of each partner, each would share in the raising of children, the handling of money, the formulation of decisions. Marriage itself would undergo a change in definition.

Education was also mentioned as an important solution. Kay Wilson remarked, "You've been taught to think one way. It's a learning experience". The relationship of woman to man could be changed if youngsters were "untagged" to fit into specific mommy-daddy roles.

The levels of commitment to the Women's Liberation cause differs among its members, as is the case in most social movements. Some are more extreme in their demands than others. One of the members stated that she was sorry to see the "anti-man" label being placed on this movement. Others were not pleased with the dominant attitude which some women assume towards men. One member, however, is very strong in her position on women's rights. The group, as a whole, does not agree that action should be taken, and is holding meetings regularly to discuss some of the solutions to the problems of raising pre-schoolers, a time-consuming task. Women could then have the opportunity to pursue other outside interests and careers.

Equalizing the roles of men and women in the family was also a possible answer. By balancing the duties of each partner, each would share in the raising of children, the handling of money, the formulation of decisions. Marriage itself would undergo a change in definition.

Education was also mentioned as an important solution. Kay Wilson remarked, "You've been taught to think one way. It's a learning experience". The relationship of woman to man could be changed if youngsters were "untagged" to fit into specific mommy-daddy roles.

The levels of commitment to the Women's Liberation cause differs among its members, as is the case in most social movements. Some are more extreme in their demands than others. One of the members stated that she was sorry to see the "anti-man" label being placed on this movement. Others were not pleased with the dominant attitude which some women assume towards men. One member, however, is very strong in her position on women's rights. The group, as a whole, does not agree that action should be taken, and is holding meetings regularly to discuss some of the solutions to the problems of raising pre-schoolers, a time-consuming task. Women could then have the opportunity to pursue other outside interests and careers.

Equalizing the roles of men and women in the family was also a possible answer. By balancing the duties of each partner, each would share in the raising of children, the handling of money, the formulation of decisions. Marriage itself would undergo a change in definition.

Education was also mentioned as an important solution. Kay Wilson remarked, "You've been taught to think one way. It's a learning experience". The relationship of woman to man could be changed if youngsters were "untagged" to fit into specific mommy-daddy roles.

The levels of commitment to the Women's Liberation cause differs among its members, as is the case in most social movements. Some are more extreme in their demands than others. One of the members stated that she was sorry to see the "anti-man" label being placed on this movement. Others were not pleased with the dominant attitude which some women assume towards men. One member, however, is very strong in her position on women's rights. The group, as a whole, does not agree that action should be taken, and is holding meetings regularly to discuss some of the solutions to the problems of raising pre-schoolers, a time-consuming task. Women could then have the opportunity to pursue other outside interests and careers.

Equalizing the roles of men and women in the family was also a possible answer. By balancing the duties of each partner, each would share in the raising of children, the handling of money, the formulation of decisions. Marriage itself would undergo a change in definition.

Education was also mentioned as an important solution. Kay Wilson remarked, "You've been taught to think one way. It's a learning experience". The relationship of woman to man could be changed if youngsters were "untagged" to fit into specific mommy-daddy roles.

The levels of commitment to the Women's Liberation cause differs among its members, as is the case in most social movements. Some are more extreme in their demands than others. One of the members stated that she was sorry to see the "anti-man" label being placed on this movement. Others were not pleased with the dominant attitude which some women assume towards men. One member, however, is very strong in her position on women's rights. The group, as a whole, does not agree that action should be taken, and is holding meetings regularly to discuss some of the solutions to the problems of raising pre-schoolers, a time-consuming task. Women could then have the opportunity to pursue other outside interests and careers.

Equalizing the roles of men and women in the family was also a possible answer. By balancing the duties of each partner, each would share in the raising of children, the handling of money, the formulation of decisions. Marriage itself would undergo a change in definition.

Education was also mentioned as an important solution. Kay Wilson remarked, "You've been taught to think one way. It's a learning experience". The relationship of woman to man could be changed if youngsters were "untagged" to fit into specific mommy-daddy roles.

The levels of commitment to the Women's Liberation cause differs among its members, as is the case in most social movements. Some are more extreme in their demands than others. One of the members stated that she was sorry to see the "anti-man" label being placed on this movement. Others were not pleased with the dominant attitude which some women assume towards men. One member, however, is very strong in her position on women's rights. The group, as a whole, does not agree that action should be taken, and is holding meetings regularly to discuss some of the solutions to the problems of raising pre-schoolers, a time-consuming task. Women could then have the opportunity to pursue other outside interests and careers.

Equalizing the roles of men and women in the family was also a possible answer. By balancing the duties of each partner, each would share in the raising of children, the handling of money, the formulation of decisions. Marriage itself would undergo a change in definition.

Education was also mentioned as an important solution. Kay Wilson remarked, "You've been taught to think one way. It's a learning experience". The relationship of woman to man could be changed if youngsters were "untagged" to fit into specific mommy-daddy roles.

The levels of commitment to the Women's Liberation cause differs among its members, as is the case in most social movements. Some are more extreme in their demands than others. One of the members stated that she was sorry to see the "anti-man" label being placed on this movement. Others were not pleased with the dominant attitude which some women assume towards men. One member, however, is very strong in her position on women's rights. The group, as a whole, does not agree that action should be taken, and is holding meetings regularly to discuss some of the solutions to the problems of raising pre-schoolers, a time-consuming task. Women could then have the opportunity to pursue other outside interests and careers.

Equalizing the roles of men and women in the family was also a possible answer. By balancing the duties of each partner, each would share in the raising of children, the handling of money, the formulation of decisions. Marriage itself would undergo a change in definition.

Education was also mentioned as an important solution. Kay Wilson remarked, "You've been taught to think one way. It's a learning experience". The relationship of woman to man could be changed if youngsters were "untagged" to fit into specific mommy-daddy roles.

The levels of commitment to the Women's Liberation cause differs among its members, as is the case in most social movements. Some are more extreme in their demands than others. One of the members stated that she was sorry to see the "anti-man" label being placed on this movement. Others were not pleased with the dominant attitude which some women assume towards men. One member, however, is very strong in her position on women's rights. The group, as a whole, does not agree that action should be taken, and is holding meetings regularly to discuss some of the solutions to the problems of raising pre-schoolers, a time-consuming task. Women could then have the opportunity to pursue other outside interests and careers.

Equalizing the roles of men and women in the family was also a possible answer. By balancing the duties of each partner, each would share in the raising of children, the handling of money, the formulation of decisions. Marriage itself would undergo a change in definition.

Education was also mentioned as an important solution. Kay Wilson remarked, "You've been taught to think one way. It's a learning experience". The relationship of woman to man could be changed if youngsters were "untagged" to fit into specific mommy-daddy roles.

The levels of commitment to the Women's Liberation cause differs among its members, as is the case in most social movements. Some are more extreme in their demands than others. One of the members stated that she was sorry to see the "anti-man" label being placed on this movement. Others were not pleased with the dominant attitude which some women assume towards men. One member, however, is very strong in her position on women's rights. The group, as a whole, does not agree that action should be taken, and is holding meetings regularly to discuss some of the solutions to the problems of raising pre-schoolers, a time-consuming task. Women could then have the opportunity to pursue other outside interests and careers.

Equalizing the roles of men and women in the family was also a possible answer. By balancing the duties of each partner, each would share in the raising of children, the handling of money, the formulation of decisions. Marriage itself would undergo a change in definition.

Education was also mentioned as an important solution. Kay Wilson remarked, "You've been taught to think one way. It's a learning experience". The relationship of woman to man could be changed if younger...
Winter '71

Pawprint plans made

"... We’re making plans now for next year’s Pawprint," Don Lannon, editor-in-chief, noted early this week.

"Next quarter’s Pawprint will be larger ... and more interesting," he added.

Lannon assumed that "the AS Senate will be intelligent enough to return all money brought in through expanded advertising."

"Why the hell should we work one butt's off to bring in advertising and expansion are "directly connected with Pawprint's immediate plans for the use of "speed" (methadrine) as a vessel disease associated with "speed" has been reported by a team of physicians at the Los Angeles County - University of Southern California Medical Center.

This is the first time doctors have been able to detect a specific disease associated with "speed" which belongs to a group of drugs that the disease can cause a fatal blockage of the arteries leading to vital organs. Called necrotizing angiitis, the original study involved 14 patients November issue of the New England Journal of Medicine. The study estimated that between ten and twenty percent of persons shooting speed that there is no correlation between the use of dru-tones as well as the creation of a lively arts and club pages. The "lively arts page," the editor commented, "will appear once a month, that is, twice a quarter. It will consist of poetry, essays, and artwork... freely contributed by Cal-State students. Dates for its appearance will be published in the first issue of next quarter’s Pawprint."

Lannon continued, "The club page, to be called the 'Inner College,' will be published each week. Groups desirous of the page will be left up to the clubs to request it for a specific date on a first-come-first-served basis. In fact, reservations have already been made by several campus groups."

"... We're making plans now to decide page layout." Lannon observed that "the Pawprint staff is, in fact, open to people of all political persuasions. This will require face-to-face confrontations."

The finding of a lethal blood vessel disease associated with the use of "speed" (methadrine) has been made by a team of physicians at the Los Angeles County - University of Southern California Medical Center.

This is the first time doctors have been able to detect a specific disease associated with "speed" which belongs to a group of drugs that the disease can cause a fatal blockage of the arteries leading to vital organs. Called necrotizing angiitis, the original study involved 14 patients November issue of the New England Journal of Medicine. The study estimated that between ten and twenty percent of persons shooting speed that there is no correlation between the use of dru-tones as well as the creation of a lively arts and club pages. The "lively arts page," the editor commented, "will appear once a month, that is, twice a quarter. It will consist of poetry, essays, and artwork... freely contributed by Cal-State students. Dates for its appearance will be published in the first issue of next quarter’s Pawprint."

Lannon continued, "The club page, to be called the 'Inner College,' will be published each week. Groups desirous of the page will be left up to the clubs to request it for a specific date on a first-come-first-served basis. In fact, reservations have already been made by several campus groups."

"... We're making plans now to decide page layout," Lannon observed that "the Pawprint staff is, in fact, open to people of all political persuasions. This will require face-to-face confrontations."

The Madrigal Singers from CSUSB will present a program of Christmas music for Advent at St. Paul’s Methodist Church in San Bernardino at 4 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 29.

CSCSB will present a program of Christmas music for Advent at St. Paul’s Methodist Church in San Bernardino at 4 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 29.

DeSales, Bonite, and Friends will perform at the Swing Auditorium, December 12. Tickets can be purchased at the usual places.

Concert set

The Madrigal Singers from CSUSB will present a program of Christmas music for Advent at St. Paul’s Methodist Church in San Bernardino at 4 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 29.

Introducing

Bud Buckles

Graduate Estate Plan Representative

An insured savings program designed for college students... special benefits... special rates... deferred premiums

Phone: 884-3564 office 882-6521 residence

CHICANOS GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS FOR UCLA

A recruiter for the Graduate Advancement Program will be on campus Monday, November 30, from 9:30 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. at the Library Bldg., Room 114

Information on admissions and financial support is available.

Chinese Component Graduate Advancement Program Graduate Division University of California Los Angeles, Calif. 90024 (213) 825-2525

A-1 on her mind

And A-1 Fore 'n Afts on his body, In no-iron solids, stripes and patterns. Moderately flared, three-button front, hidden pockets. A mind full at only $8 to $11 a pair.

fore 'n aft

blacks for men

INLAND CENTER

94118 San Francisco, Calif. 94118

CHICANOS GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS FOR UCLA

A recruiter for the Graduate Advancement Program will be on campus Monday, November 30, from 9:30 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. at the Library Bldg., Room 114

Information on admissions and financial support is available.

Chinese Component Graduate Advancement Program Graduate Division University of California Los Angeles, Calif. 90024 (213) 825-2525

A-1 on her mind

And A-1 Fore 'n Afts on his body, In no-iron solids, stripes and patterns. Moderately flared, three-button front, hidden pockets. A mind full at only $8 to $11 a pair.

FORE 'N AFT

blacks for men

INLAND CENTER

94118 San Francisco, Calif. 94118

CHICANOS GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS FOR UCLA

A recruiter for the Graduate Advancement Program will be on campus Monday, November 30, from 9:30 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. at the Library Bldg., Room 114

Information on admissions and financial support is available.

Chinese Component Graduate Advancement Program Graduate Division University of California Los Angeles, Calif. 90024 (213) 825-2525

A-1 on her mind

And A-1 Fore 'n Afts on his body, In no-iron solids, stripes and patterns. Moderately flared, three-button front, hidden pockets. A mind full at only $8 to $11 a pair.

FORE 'N AFT

blacks for men

INLAND CENTER

94118 San Francisco, Calif. 94118
Organized sports: the ‘why’ and the ‘if’...

In John Thwing’s recent Pawprint interview with Dr. Pfau, the Cal-State president said, “A continued emphasis will be put on intramural activities rather than intercollegiate…” The question of intercollegiate sports at CSCSB is a major issue. In defending his stand on intramural sports, Pfau feels that students should “participate, rather than become spectators.”

At present, the intramural program enables all students, regardless of physical ability to play in the various sports offered. If Cal-State started an intercollegiate program, many students would be unable to compete due to various conference rules as well as the fact that poor athletes would never make a team. After questioning 50 students of various ages, this reporter found that “most” people would support an intercollegiate team and attend the events. The students favoring a change in the present athletic system all voiced similar arguments.

Sophomore, Tom DeLloyd represents the opinions of those supporting intercollegiate sports at Cal-State. DeLloyd, a political science major, played varsity football in high school. “Football is the number-one sport in the United States. Quite a few people are interested in it, he said.

In response to the question of student participation, DeLloyd stated, “Boys as well as girls could participate as members of a pep-squad, card section, as well as being cheerleaders.”

DeLloyd feels that a football or basketball team would draw definite support from people outside the college community. “The people down the hill in San Bernardino think of us as academic eggheads, attending a sedate, scholarly, ivory tower institution.”

Many of the students questioned agreed with DeLloyd that a sports team, principally football, would offer a common ground between the people of the community and the school. “Even if we had a loser, school spirit would be promoted. Look at the Mets.”

Thus, the replies of these students contradict the administration’s view. However, upon questioning Ed Phipps, Cal-State’s intramural coordinator, this reporter was told that there is a difference between “naive” student exuberance and cold facts.

“The whole story started three years ago this fall,” said Phipps. “The student body was pressuring the administration for an intercollegiate sports program. Dr. Pfau set up a discussion forum and all the arguments were talked over.”

As a result of that meeting, the basic guidelines for the present program were constructed.

These kids don’t realize the fantastic costs involved in fielding a football team. “The only looking at a small part of the picture instead of visualizing the entire issue. This school is academically oriented, we don’t have anything like the money UCLA or Stanford has for this purpose,” Phipps explained.

He feels that in order to start intercollegiate sports, more than half of the ASB funds would be needed to activate any kind of a program.

“I’d like to come out and root for a team too, said Phipps. “But you can’t start big, the program has to be built up gradually.”

Phipps notes that the intramural system is just the start. “Eventually, when we get sufficient interest and money, we can start to think about another program.”

But football, for quite a while, is out. Phipps believes that the first intercollegiate sports should be in a less expensive bracket, e.g., basketball, golf, volleyball or tennis.

“Few people realize that under the present system, any Cal-State student can come and use the gym’s facilities at almost any time. These privileges would decrease if a more organized sports program was initiated,” he noted.

At this time, the intercollegiate sports issue is in doubt. Despite the arguments of the student body, there is no way to avoid the financial issue. Indeed, the student body would have to unite in order to start any kind of new sports program.

As Tom DeLloyd bitterly notes, “You can’t build action on apathy.” Both Pfau and Phipps agree.

Story by Eric Cohen

Photos by Rich
WOMEN CAN BE LAWYERS

Graduating college women! What happens next? Work, marriage, graduate school? Have you thought about going to law school?

If being called to the bar appeals to you, but you still have your doubts as to what it's like to be a woman in a still predominantly male law school, The Woman's Caucus at the University of California, Los Angeles, can help answer your questions.

For further information contact Tamie Jensen, The Woman's Caucus, UCSD School of Law, University of California, Davis, California 95616.

---

ACTIVITIES CALENDAR

WEDNESDAY, November 25

- All Day Agnew Fan Club
  - Blackboard Area

- 9 a.m. History of Civilization Series
  - Noon: Music, History of Civilization Series

- 1 p.m. LECTURE: Mr. Benjamin Abileah, Consulate General of Israel
  - 2 p.m.: Theta Pi Omega Meeting

- 3 p.m. History of Civilization Series
  - 4 p.m. PANEL DISCUSSION: "Need for International Education"

- 7:30 p.m. S.I.M.S. Meeting

THURSDAY, November 26

- 11 a.m.-12 noon Thanksgiving Holiday
- Thanksgiving Outdoor Club CAMPUS

FRIDAY, November 27

- 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Library Open
- 1 p.m. ZPG

SATURDAY, November 28

- 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Library Open
- 7 p.m. Outdoors Club

SUNDAY, November 29

- 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Library Open

MONDAY, November 30

- 7:30 p.m. Trans. Meditation

TUESDAY, December 1

- 8 a.m. History Council
- 10 a.m. Young Democrats
- 11 a.m. La Raza
- 11 a.m. Circle K
- 12 noon Christian Life
- 1 p.m. Phi Delta Canaval
- 4 p.m. A.S. Senate
- 7:30 p.m. Newman Ctr

WEDNESDAY, December 2

- 9 a.m. Civilisation Series
- 10 a.m. Aviation Club
- 12 noon Music, Civilisation Series
- 2 p.m. Theta Pi Omega
- 2 p.m. Aviation Club
- 2 p.m. Civilisation Series

THURSDAY, December 3

- 11 a.m. Community Relations Comm.
- 11 a.m. Business Comm.
- 12 noon Biology Club
- 4 p.m. Psych. Ball Meeting
- 7:30 p.m. Assoc. of Psych.

FRIDAY, December 4

- 10:30 a.m. Bulducken Concert
- 11 a.m. BUU
- 11:45 a.m. Chemistry Club
- 12 noon Players of Pear Garden
- 12 noon Men's Basketball
- 8 p.m. "I Love You, Alice B. Toklas!"

SATURDAY, December 5

- 8 p.m. Christmas Concert

SUNDAY, December 6

- 10 a.m.-11 a.m. Hillside Club
- 12 noon Phi Delta Canaval

TUESDAY, December 8

- 11 a.m. Outdoors Club
- 12 noon Music, Faculty Senate

FRIDAY, December 11

- 7:30 p.m. Hayride
- 8 p.m. C-stables