The Need for Clergy Crusades to Washington, D.C.

BY HON. GUS VAN HtITE
Black Journal

ever elected to Congress"

A gallant contingent of prominent Black ministers from Chicago's Southside and South suburbs came to Washington, D.C., June 19, to battle against proposed cuts in needed social programs to allow increases in defense spending. These men and women, however, felt much more than words printed in the Congressional Record (June 10 edition) which documented their "Clergy Crusade." They also felt deep and lasting importations in the history and on the minds of millions comprising their congregations, including Illinois Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, Majority Whip Thomas Foley, Senators Charles H. Percy and Alan J. Dixon.
The message delivered by these Black ministers is one that must be repeated by our leaders in Black church all across our nation. That point black ministers, the poor and our people of our nation are hurting and we are movin in on any more wars.
A budgetary remedy must be presented as part of the federal budget for fiscal 1985. Why the Black Church?
The Black church has historically been, and continues to be, the very life of the poor. "Faith is made of hope and hope..." the Black Community.
These are precious time economic trends which bring Black communities nearly completely, a weight of a seven depression.
Too many of our people are without jobs, others have lost their homes due to changes in federal mortgage regulations, many of our students are without proper health care and they are worried about the future of Social Security. In the midst of all the other邪恶 propogates to social programs, many of our young people are given up for college due in part to student aid reductions.
As the ministers from the Chicago area noted in a statement: "The Concession of the great nation states that this country was formed to assure democracy tranquility and to produce the general welfare, among other things, all of us. We come to ask you to support your congressional and live up to this mandate by the federal government." The ministers put themselves on the front line of the battle of the budget. The Republicans are working hard for their budget proposal, and we as the Democrats for change. However, the Black Community is left in the cold. The budget proposal offered by the Congressional Black Caucus has been in the works for a year. It has not only called for more social programs, but the smallest number of votes. Unfortunately, the Black Caucus' proposal removed the smallest number of votes.
We as the Congressmen who are concerned of the interest are Black are well aware of the reality that the budgetary war is nowhere near. Washington will consist of many battles down the road. In order to fight harder, we need more troops. We need more men to come to Washington, D.C., to make the banner of hopes and goods, and to promote the need for social justice.
Millions of Black Americans are seeking spiritual shelter today, so they struggle for survival in these times. Now the time comes for the pastors in action for their congregations.
They must come to Washington, D.C., with the understanding that it is still a battle for us as resourceful as little as that number of people to make when much of it can be eliminated.
We must not allow our community to become invisible, we must use to make the battle. The battle of the Black church is a place-standing tall, proud and forever diligent.

By REV. LEVOND CLAY

Rev. Leon Thompson gives us another spiritual uplift message on love. On the theme, "Having Faith to God" found in St. Mark 11:22-11:24, and 12:45-48. He stated that Jesus always gave God the credit for his power. He never boasted, he kept the faith. As we are called Christians today are so weak today in our faith but we have an option on faith. When we pray, we don't have the faith in believing our prayers will be answered. This is a great lesson to learn about laboring a deep prayer from your home. Black America is in need and is waiting.

Did you remember to pray this morning?

...the harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few...

GRACE BELMONT BAPTIST CHURCH
REV. WM SELDON
PASTOR
CHURCH REPORTER: Six Rohrer Seldon

COngratulations to our graduates who saw finna G. Grigson, Donna S. Jenkins and Vincent Russ. We are proud of their accomplishment, and had a special speaker for morning service on Sun. 23, at 10:30. Mr. James Wallace, Marketing Director of "Better Be A System" was in us to share the graduation and street congregation some of his experiences and encouragement with us.

The Lord blessed us with a very spiritual and uplifting service on Sunday, June 26. Our Sunday school lesson pointed out that God has a transformal old nature to a faithful new self. Those of us attending Sunday School have already started up in the spirit by the time morning worship began. We would like to encourage our Inspirational Choir to continue letting the Lord use them as they render songs for the Glory of God!

The month of June was a very busy month for Bro. and Sis. James Langston and family members from Prime Tabernacle AME in Perrin. Sing for the Children’s Sunday by Pastor Jackson. The special was Do You Need Any Help? Taken from John 12:32.

Family Planning Makes Sense

The Supreme Court says it is constitutional. The public supports it overwhelmingly, but just legal abortion is still hotly debated, with opponents led by politicians objecting to the principle of state funding for abortion.

As a result Congress has passed limitations on the use of federal funds. Abortionists claim that allows only poor women some other cause to be previous decisions to do what public opinion on abortion publicly support service.

And the regulations are also trying to rewrite the rules to strictly not only the principal opponents of abortion but also those who respect social freedom of women in public and personal lives.

It appears that the same people who carry out the dangerous exceptions to freedom by contraception in favor of abortion are those who promote women's reproductive rights.

Some see legal abortion as a social evil. The regulation attempts to make it illegal. The problem isn't that people don't want to have children; it's that they won't be allowed to have children.

Under the proposed new rules, most people under the age of 18 cannot obtain abortion services without the consent of both parents. Those over the age of 18 must first obtain informed written consent from both parents and a doctor.

Birth control is often used for personal reasons, and many couples who cannot afford children are forced into unwanted motherhood.

The abortion issue is indeed an issue on the agenda. The Supreme Court has ruled that it is constitutional. The decision was made by a close vote of 5 to 4.

The United States has a long history of freedom of choice regarding reproductive rights. The Supreme Court has confirmed this right, stating that it is a fundamental right protected by the Constitution.

The proposed rule has resulted in a storm of protests and criticism. Many people believe that the regulation is a retrograde step in the fight for women's reproductive rights.

However, the rule has been upheld by the courts, and it is currently in effect.

The full support of the community, the board and the community, we will reach our goal. Basketball star Cheryl Miller and her parents will be special guests at the dinner and Miller will receive an award. Children said. Also on hand will be several guest celebrities. For dinner reservations contact any board or committee member and call the Sickel Cell office at (909)462-4242. The organization, located at 5204 10th Street, Riverside, offers free education on Sickle Cell Anemia to Riverside San Bernardino junior and senior high schools, college classes, church groups, family groups, and special seminars for medical professionals. Screening for sickle cell trait and anemia, counseling, medical referral and an emergency hotline are also offered free of charge.
A summer swimming program for children in Delaware, from beginning to advanced, opens June 30 at Rehoboth Beach City College/City Park.

Adults from one to three years of age, children under seven, youth A through C and older will swim June 30 to July 30 for morning or afternoon sessions.

Courses for ages one to three are taught by the American Red Cross, while courses for older children are taught by the American Swimming and Water Safety Institute.

Other programs include lifeguard training, water aerobics and water safety courses.

The Army has taken this opportunity to encourage young people to join the armed forces, Mr. Smith said.

Graduation

Graduation was a time that comes and goes as it does not last. So it is with me, I find that when I look behind me, I can see the many faces of those who have helped me along the way. Those of us who care must ensure that quality education is made available to all of those who desire it. There are those who will graduate time and again from our system and not know what it feels like to graduate from high school.

I am especially concerned with the high school because this is where most decisions are made by students, parents or district. It is the place where students begin to separate reality from fantasy and where the transition from adolescence to adulthood begins. Students, administrators, teachers and parents must all be involved in the process of change and development in order to serve to meet those courses which lead to success. While attending the graduation of the sixth grade class, the sort of which mostly scrapes and plays at Drug Violation Intermediate School, I experienced a warm feeling of connection with the bright-eyed, smiling youngsters and totally understood their beautiful sense of accomplishment. I could understand the depths of love felt by the proud fathers. I knew the meaning of the word but clearly made the attack of relief from smudged mothers and teachers.

As I walked up to be caught up in the excitement and happiness of the moment, my feelings of empathy went for a few painful moments, replaced, by those of sympathy. I became acutely aware that past and future and potential data have been put on that for variety of reasons some of those precious children will not feel what it feels like to graduate from high school.

This special class who will graduate and then graduate from institutions of higher learning. There, there are those who will get the train of the wrong train along the way. Those of whom care must insist that quality education be made available to all of those who desire it. It is not a responsibility to be borne by any particular person or group of people, but all have roles to play.

The construction of new facilities at the high school and proposed changes in curriculum, can bring with them the opportunity for us to make our school systems one of the most efficient and productive in the country.

Moreno Valley High School: I attended a graduation ceremony June 23 at a special reason for being there other than gathering news. Our last daughter, Laurie D. Ledbetter, finished high school. She was the third child of ours to graduate from Moreno Valley High. Laurie, a petite and a very bright young woman had a special reason for being there other than gathering news.
