“Togetherness” Theme for First Annual Joint Banquet

By Cheryl Brown

"Self Determination" is a major factor in the survival and growth of the Black community," said Councilman David Cunningham of Los Angeles, last week at the first annual banquet of the Knights of the Pythias, Morning Star Lodge No. 401 and the Order of the Calathe, Orange Blossom Court No. 49.

"We must be in control of our own destiny, we are responsible to our own community," said Cunningham, a former resident of Riverside, and graduate of the University of California, Riverside. "We are no longer looking for survival, but control," he said, addressing an audience of over 200 people at the Ram Shanah in San Bernardino.

Cunningham's position was that the lack of control in our own community was responsible for the high death rate of the first Black Governor, Mayor Tom Bradley, who only lost by 5,000 votes.

In support of his claim, Cunningham said long overdue said some of the men and women fraternal groups. As the awards were presented lists of back

Unemployment Up 13.5

Riverside - San Bernardino - In October the unemployment rate was 13.5 percent during the month, according to the State Employment Development Dept. (EDD). This represents an increase of 12.0 percent in September. One year ago the rate was 9.0 percent.

Unemployment in the 10-county area for October decreased from 87,500 last year to 83,100 in September. The jobless total estimated for October 1980 was 87,500.

Call Zenith 12000 to Report Drunk Drivers

"Californians can help remove drunk drivers from the road by calling the Highway Patrol's emergency number, ZENITH 12000," said Supervisor Don Craig today.

"The program is an addition to the anti-drunk driving emphasis which takes place every year but draws greater public attention during the holiday period," he said.

Statistics show a vehicle that they believe is being operated by someone under the influence can dial "O" and ask the operator for ZENITH 12000.

The police confirmed the ZENITH 12000 report, that only a trace of cocaine was found and it was left in the car by a previous rider.

New Law Children Must Wear Seat Belts

"Protests children under four years of age or under 40 pounds when traveling in passenger vehicles or trucks under 6000 pounds."

"Parents must properly secure their children in safety seats when traveling in their own vehicles. When present in a vehicle owned by someone else, parents must properly secure their children in either car safety seats or available safety belts."

"All drivers are responsible for properly securing small children they transport in either car safety seats or available safety belts when the children's parents are not present."

"Car safety seats sold by California retailers must meet federal standards for safety."

FELTUS STERLING, State Grand Chancellor presented a award to Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Armstrong, and Mrs. Simon,

"The maximum fine for the first offense will be $50. The court may dismiss the case or if the parent shows that a car safety seat was already purchased or the child was never seated in it."

"Law enforcement officers may stop a vehicle if they suspect a violation and may issue a traffic citation. Under existing law, an officer may also issue a verbal warning to a driver transporting children aged 4-5 who are not using safety belts."

FELTUS STERLING, State Grand Chancellor presented a award to Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Armstrong, and Mrs. Simon,

"More children are killed in traffic accidents than by any other cause; however, 99.9% of the deaths could be prevented with the use of car safety seats and safety belts. Two thirds of the 10,000 required safety belts for California children every year could be prevented. Unfortunately, less than 18% of our children are provided with the essential protection of the life-belt, the firey darts of the wicked one, described by Apostle Paul."

"Suffering, persecution, being misunderstood, have always come upon the child of God and we must continue to pray for all believers and to forgive others as we pray, that we may be forgiven," said Pat Robertson.

Sister Leatta D. Smith, Principal, sang "Savior Lead Me" during Meditation. Sister Leatta Smith was a wonderful soloist while singing "Savior Lead Me" to God. She will be missed, and members could be heard over the congregation witnessing for the Lord. Pastor Copeland spoke from St. Luke 1:40-47. Theme: My Soul Will Magnify The Lord. We were reminded that during the Christmas season it seems that we as a people forget the true meaning of Christmas. Jesus in everyday struggles, we do not have a story book life written about us, and we are not with Mary, the Mother of Jesus. Surely the life that she was chosen to live is very different from her ideal life. Mary, Jesus, and Joseph were in hiding at the time. And as she was also writing laws, and she had to save her family, our Lord and Savior was still a young child in the family. When Mary was told, "I am the hand of God's choice to: her. As Christians, we should give credit to God for her decision, and we need to be grateful to God for her decision, and we need to make our decision to follow his path. Pastor Seldon reminded us that there is a heaven for those who have accepted him and a beautiful home for those that rejected him will be placed on his left side. Those on the right will be able to attend the kingdom of heaven. Those in the left shall go away into everlasting punishment. We were urged to believe in all the good that we can while we have the opportunity because we do not know who we will be in the future.

NCNW Presents Their 4th Annual Fashion Show & Dinner

By Charles Lethander

The Riverside Section of the National Congress of Negro Women held their fourth fashion show and dinner entitled "Holiday Fantasy at March of 8 and 9 last weekend, featuring entertainment of the latest fashions and the ancient art of belly dancing. The show was under the direction of Lady Grace Kelly, instructor of professional modeling and belly dancing, who was well-organized and professionally entertaining.

The first scene featured American Fashions as "Hats were all to America," the second scene used the theme of the奔放 like奔放 from that part of the world were featured. In this scene a young man showed off in martial arts. Some scenes were intended to tell a story or show a story. In the finality all the models and dancers were featured in "King Frolick Of Hula's chosen in the court."

Between scenes the audience was entertained by the exotic movements of Egyptian Belly Dancers. Gloria Boyd served as mistress of ceremony, Marsha Grant was the chair and Charles Littlejohn was in the position of co-chair.

Fashion Trends

There are a few key changes in fashion - large and small - that will add some of the new-to-your-existing wardrobe and will have a new and far-reaching impact on fashions - that make a difference in the way you look during 1977-78. For the most part, what's new is an emphasis on the waist, the second angled hourglass shape. Small body doses are everywhere.

Another way to accentuate the waist is a new belt, belt, belt - a new trend. A small body dose is in a fencer or in a suede - in stripes, a tiny print, or all one color - a belt that goes over a blazer or over bare skin. There are even one piece blazers and jackets with the illusion of a vest, tiny print, or all one color. The show also used that a woman's new job can no longer be the husband's. She can be her own designer if she chooses a career change, or to seek avenues of personal development.

Consumer Questions and Answers

Family and Consumer Sciences Advisory Committee, University of California.

QUESTION: What happens to a marriage when a woman decides to go back to college or begin a career away from home? Does the marriage fall apart, or does it survive and grow?

ANSWER: A recent study conducted by Dr. Elizabeth Smith at the University of California, Davis, reveals that marriage does undergo stress when the mismatch occurs outside the traditional husband-wife role. The study showed that marriage survival depends on several factors - how well the couple communicate with each other; how well the husband is able to accommodate his own activities and support his wife's new role and how satisfied he is with his own job.

"In some cases," says Smith, "teenagers to college or career without having discussed the consequences of an unforeseen change and perhaps gain new perspective and greater independence," marriages which were bilingual before the wife's decision to return to college or career are more likely to end in divorce." Why? Because these changes heighten any marital stress that already exists.

The study also shows that a woman's new job can no longer be the husband's - he can accommodate his own desires if she chooses a career change, or to seek avenues of personal development.

PLAN YOUR DEFENSE AGAINST RAPE

Despite all precautions, you can be a victim. You can take steps to reduce your risk of rape.

1. Keep your purse, wallet, and keys on chain, and lock the door at all times.
2. Never accept rides from strangers. Always take a cab or a public service vehicle.
3. Be cautious about bars and clubs. If you are alone, make sure there is no person watching your stuff.
4. If you are near a car, make sure it is not going to leave without you.

HOUSE PARTIES: In the past three weeks I have heard of the untimely deaths of two young people in our neighborhood. Both of these deaths were reported to have been associated with parties.

One young man was shot to death and the second seems to have been taken to a party by another youth who left him to walk home. It seems that he never made it home but was found in a ditch dead from over exposure.

I would really consider some of these deaths and meanings of young people which were a direct or indirect result of a party. I am speaking of parties where young people are improperly supervised, where well planned wholesome activities are present. I am speaking of the ones which last from 8:00 p.m. until... . The ones where all the lights are turned out and the kids are wild. The dances are all over the place with God knows who hanging out later than the kids are supposed to have had a walk outside.

I can only try to remember some of these deaths and meanings of young people which were a direct or indirect result of a party. Gas Co. Suggests Holiday Gifts

This year, with holiday happenings again looking for bargains, Southern California Gas Co. has a number of gift ideas which may fit your budget of all because they pay for themselves. Our gift suggestions range from small items that can be in a stocking to much larger items that would delight a Christmas tree. We suggest using Southern California Gas Co. discount moneys, but what they have in common is the ability to save more gas and water spills than they originally.

A night watchmen in the basement, as a gift for the family, for instance, would save the trouble of turning down the heat at night, and it would automatically produce a warm house in the morning. At a typical cost of $65, a water heater thermal insulation kit starts at $15 and can save the family budget up to $154 over the blender's useful life of 11 years.

Other suggested gift items include tinted film which can be applied to windows to block the sun's heat during the summer, and energy-saving showerheads comes in both hand-held and wall-mounted models. They sell for about $20 and can save the family budget $5 a year.

A gift for whole family and guests might be a solar pool cover. This gift not only saves the cost of heating, but also adds safety and beauty, and won't wake you up at night.

With income tax rebates available, customers can receive back 40 percent of the saved energy.

Tips on Relighting Furnaces

If you were one of the thousands of western Riverside County area residents who turned off your furnace in the summer to save money, remember Ben Pruett, district manager of Southern California Gas Co. said that specific lighting instructions are needed to prevent the gas valve from turning off. It is time to turn the pilot back on for winter, and make sure there is no gas odor or the burner has been turned off.

The gas company official stated that new, automatic pilot designs which have been put into service throughout our 50,000 facilities, falling trees and lines and damaged windows, hinges, and clunking and clunks are all symptoms of noise pollution. The most outstanding dedication service award of the evening was presented to Maitland Stokes, Past Grand Chancellor. He accepted the award in his beautiful red fez with the yellow tassel, denoting his past Chancellor status, to an audience on their feet giving him a standing ovation. His award was last and most of the audience thought it was an unplanned delayed action which made the award more fitting and gave an air of excitement.

Others awarded were Dorothy Thomas and Robbie Davidson for outstanding service to the court. Catherine Brown was awarded as a "Real Worker" of the Orange Blossom Court. Mr. and Mrs. Simmie McCoy and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong were awarded for their years of service to both organizations.

The special award presented by the Supreme Lodge Representative of Santa Monica, was presented to Trivel Williams for his dedication and achievement. "He is one of those who never makes the spotlight," said Ollie Fritz.

Robert Williams was also awarded but was unable to attend due to circumstances beyond his control.

The beautiful dinner program was highlighted by using as many Black entrepreneurs as possible to make their goal a reality.

Social Insecurity

Decision time is near for the much discussed social security system. As has been known for years, the social security trust fund is in trouble. Decision makers in government and business are facing the question of whether the social security system can be made solvent. If the system is not made solvent, the consequences could be disastrous.

Perhaps the most important reason for Social Security's current cash problems is that there are more beneficiaries of Social Security than there are workers paying into the system. This means that the system is not generating enough revenue to cover its costs. As a result, the system is in a cash crisis and is running out of money.

Failure to act could result in the system becoming insolvent. If the system were to become insolvent, it would mean that the government would have to find a way to fund the system. This could be done through increased taxes or borrowing, but these options would be difficult to implement.

The government needs to act now to ensure the long-term solvency of the Social Security system. Failure to do so could have serious consequences for both current and future generations.

Conclusion: The Social Security system is in a cash crisis and needs immediate action to ensure its long-term solvency. The government must act now to ensure the system's viability for future generations.
