Martin Luther King, Jr. was born in Atlanta, Georgia, in 1929. Although he earned a Doctor of Philosophy degree from the Boston University in Massachusetts, much of his education was received in the south. He knew the problems and ills in the lives of Black southerners. Dr. King returned to the south and became a leader in his community and improved the functions and organization of his church. In 1964 he received the Nobel Peace Prize, for his efforts toward peace in America. By Charles W. Ledbetter

Dr. King set it motion a movement for social change. His method of action was NON-VIOLENT resistance. The movement confronted the evils of southern practices against Blacks. This was a peaceful form of protest, and there was no attempt to conceal its motives. It grew strong and determined. He courageously stood up to his followers not to physically retaliate.

One of Dr. King's early successes was a bus boycott in Montgomery, Alabama. Black people, although paying the same fare as whites, were forced to sit in the back of the bus. In addition they suffered oral and physical abuse from bus drivers. The boycott became an effective tool of the Black Revolution. Dr. King continued to prove for civil rights in the south, throughout the U.S. and abroad. On April 4, 1968, he was killed in Memphis, Ten.

American Family Mission Church

By Imam Ron El-Amin

The following questions or comments are directed to Imam Warithuddin Muhammad [leader of the American Muslim Mission]. He is the generational leader that, I hope that the answers provided by him will serve to ease the minds of all Muslims and Christians alike.

QUESTION: Do Muslims give Christmas gifts?

IMAM: I know they do, I don’t know if I think of it as a Christmas gift, but I sure do. I do myself.

If I want to give a Christian a gift, I’d like to find a religious or spiritual something to give to them.

During the season, we do “Season’s Greetings” cards to Christians who are my friends, or my family and relatives. I am not sending them the typical Christmas card because that has the Christian tract in it. Our country is made up of people belonging to different religious ideas. Jews, Christians, Muslims and many others, that’s why we have cards that say Season’s Greetings. The manufacturers or publishers know that there are some people who don’t subscribe to the different religious ideas.

So I find that there is no problem selecting a card that doesn’t carry an offensive message or a message that would be in conflict with my religion and I send them to my Christian relatives and friends on Christmas Day.

My wife, I think, has wanted me to give my relations, who celebrate Christmas, a gift on Christmas, but I haven’t been able to do it. They believe that giving my children gifts is Christmas, but I wish they would give my children gifts on birthdays or one of our Eid days.

So I understand the situation: I know they would like to give gifts on their holiday, but I have a problem giving gifts on Christmas, I have a problem doing that.

I believe one time I did give a gift to one of my relations and it was the season’s holiday, but I didn’t do it as a Christmas gift; I sent it just as a gift, and it was after Christmas. I sent it to one of my relations and I didn’t give it to them at a little late - just before New Year’s.

If any Muslim gives their relatives gifts on Christmas, I don’t think they should worry about it - they shouldn’t have any bad feelings because they are celebrating Christmas. They are not encouraging the celebration of Christmas, they are encouraging people to respect the sentiments and the need to make their relations feel good.

Mend A Screen

Once you have even the smallest hole in a window or door screen, it seems that every bug in town tells all his friends about it. But there are ways to mend your screens. If it's just a matter of a small hole or tear, naturally, if they are old, and deteriorating, you should plan to replace them.

Handyman services can be a satisfying chore to do. You are saving wear and making your home a pleasanter place to live at the same time. And, as you can see, it is a simple and easy thing to do.

There are many ways you can save your present home accessories with a little repair job. And many ways you can save money on building or installing home needs yourself. We plan to bring you many helpful hints, and we hope you will appreciate our comments. If you have a special question, or a project you’d like to try in your home, please write to Dan Frazier, Home Centers, Consumer Service Division, 3395 E. Foothill Blvd., Pasadena, CA 91107, attn: Teresa Bushey.

My name is Gretchen Fusilier. I am a member of the Church of St. Paul in Riverside. It is a ministry of the Riverside Church of Christ.

On Thursday, January 27, 1983, the Riverside Church of Christ will be holding its regular monthly meeting at 7:00 p.m. at the Riverside City Hall, 3900 Main Street, Riverside.

The meeting will begin with the singing of Hymns from the Church's Hymnal. We will have the Pastoral Prayer followed by the Pastoral Message. The Pastoral Message will be delivered by the Pastor, Mr. J. H. Whitepiper.

There will be an occasion for the evening's meeting, which will be determined at the time of the meeting. The occasion is to give the performances on Jan. 28, 1983 at 7:00 p.m. at the Banning Community Center.

The occasion will be available for the entire community, and it is hoped that many members of our community will support his efforts.

Thank you, Mrs. Whitepiper. As far as I know, this is a first for our district. I am positive that it is a first for the entire school system for a long time. School systems simply do not have the credibility they once enjoyed. Social Security: In 1935 Franklin D. Roosevelt was inaugurated as President of the United States. He became President because he was able to accomplish many things. Some of these things were the Social Security Act and the National Labor Relations Act. These acts were passed so that workers could have a better life.

The Social Security Act was passed in 1935. It provided for old-age, survivors, and disability insurance. It also provided for unemployment insurance and hospital insurance. The Social Security Act was a major step forward in the fight for a fairer society.

The National Labor Relations Act was passed in 1935. It gave workers the right to organize and bargain collectively. It also provided for the National Labor Relations Board, which is responsible for enforcing the Act.

These acts were a major step forward in the fight for a fairer society. They were passed by Congress and signed into law by President Roosevelt.

Thank you, Mrs. Whitepiper. As far as I know, this is a first for our district. I am positive that it is a first for the entire school system for a long time. School systems simply do not have the credibility they once enjoyed.

Now it is time to share a story from around the world. Stories from around the world will be performed this winter and spring at the University of California Riverside.}

A survey by U.S. News and World Report revealed average grocery prices in eight major cities have increased only 42% since 1973 while the Consumer Price Index has increased 7% and dry milk products and convenience foods along with the associated taxes (paid by three-fourths of the nation's grocery) will probably help Black grocer's profits. The convenience products are usually priced lower, but you pay a premium for convenience foods. The tax on these products can be wiped out in another way.

The Plan For Black People

CREATIVE FINANCING

With interest rates still relatively high, some of the necessities of life for a new home has warmed. Finding favorable financing has overshadowed the actual purchase price of the home in many cases. With the creative financing methods now available, the problem is choosing the type of financing that will fit consumers' budgets today and in future years. There are some of the types of loans available. If you are in the market for a new home, the type of mortgage you choose should depend on the answers to several questions: Will your income increase in future years? Will interest rates decline? Will inflation decline or remain at a moderate level or increase?

A creative version of fixed-rate mortgages is the graduated payment mortgage. Interest rates may increase as much as 7% annually. After about six increases, the payments level off. This mortgage costs more than the conventional mortgage.

The growing equity loans is a variation of the gradated and payment loan. This is a fixed interest loans with usually high monthly payments which can increase at a rate of 3% per year. The mortgage is paid off in about half the time with a conventional mortgage and is mostly chosen for the less affluent.

Then, there is the zero interest mortgage. A very large down payment of 50% and 30% of the purchase price is usually required. The principal is paid off over a shorter period of time. In most cases, the rate is charged, but the rate of the loan is usually higher. The buyer may deduct interest as though a 10% mortgage were taken with the government. In the long run, the interest deduction will decrease the buyer's basis in the home. The result: a bigger gain when the home is sold.

For consumers who think interest rates will decline, there are different types of adjustable-rate mortgages. Interest rates are adjusted approximately every six months. Restrictions on adjustable-rate loans mean that for a maximum of one percentage point to a rate by the lender using his or her own discretion. In some type of adjustable-rate loans, the monthly payments fixed for, usually, three years. Then the fluctuations in interest rates are reflected in the balance. If interest rates decrease, a larger share of the payment goes to principal interest rates rise, the opposite is true.

Then there are equity sharing mortgages where an investor contributes shares of the down payment and monthly payments is exchanged for portion of the tax benefits of home ownership and appreciation in the home.

For borrowers who think their incomes will keep pace with inflation, there are mortgages that allow the rate to increase. These loans are less likely to become burdensome than loans tied to inflation.

Some forms of creative financing are not recommanded. The main caution is that the buyer must determine whether he will be able to live with an arrangement in the future. Economic circumstances change from day to day; so, it is up to the home buyer to determine if that loan “fits” today will “fit” next year.

POISONED APPLES

One of the traditions of this land, no matter where you live in the U.S., is the celebration of the birth of the cinderella story, the story of the Golden Delicious apple.

This is one apple that, no matter where it comes from, is always a welcome sight. In a country of many apples, the Golden Delicious is the apple that all the others try to imitate.

The variety of Golden Delicious apples available is tremendous. Some apples are large, round, with a top that is a light red. Others are more elongated, with a top that is a deep red. Some apples are red and yellow; the others are all red.

The Golden Delicious apple is known for its sweetness, the razor-like bite of the flesh and its firmness. It is unique in the apple family. It is a family that is spread across the country, from the Pacific Northwest to the Carolinas.

As you start to eat a Golden Delicious apple, there is a burst of flavor that you will not find in any other apple. The flavor is intense, the texture is crisp, the color is bright red.

Why shop for a Golden Delicious apple in a supermarket, when you can pick and choose the fruit you want right from the tree? Enjoy the excitement of selecting your own Golden Delicious apples.

Some forms of creative financing are not recommended. The main caution is that the buyer must determine whether he will be able to live with an arrangement in the future. Economic circumstances change from day to day; so, it is up to the home buyer to determine if that loan “fits” today will “fit” next year.

A survey by U.S. News and World Report revealed average grocery prices in eight major cities have increased only 42% since 1973 while the Consumer Price Index has increased 7% and dry milk products and convenience foods along with the associated taxes (paid by three-fourths of the nation's grocery) will probably help Black grocer's profits. The convenience products are usually priced lower, but you pay a premium for convenience foods. The tax on these products can be wiped out in another way.

The Plan For Black People

CREATIVE FINANCING

With interest rates still relatively high, some of the necessities of life for a new home has warmed. Finding favorable financing has overshadowed the actual purchase price of the home in many cases. With the creative financing methods now available, the problem is choosing the type of financing that will fit consumers' budgets today and in future years. There are some of the types of loans available. If you are in the market for a new home, the type of mortgage you choose should depend on the answers to several questions: Will your income increase in future years? Will interest rates decline? Will inflation decline or remain at a moderate level or increase?

A creative version of fixed-rate mortgages is the graduated payment mortgage. Interest rates may increase as much as 7% annually. After about six increases, the payments level off. This mortgage costs more than the conventional mortgage.

The growing equity loans is a variation of the gradated and payment loan. This is a fixed interest loans with usually high monthly payments which can increase at a rate of 3% per year. The mortgage is paid off in about half the time with a conventional mortgage and is mostly chosen for the less affluent.

Then, there is the zero interest mortgage. A very large down payment of 50% and 30% of the purchase price is usually required. The principal is paid off over a shorter period of time. In most cases, the rate is charged, but the rate of the loan is usually higher. The buyer may deduct interest as though a 10% mortgage were taken with the government. In the long run, the interest deduction will decrease the buyer's basis in the home. The result: a bigger gain when the home is sold.

For consumers who think interest rates will decline, there are different types of adjustable-rate mortgages. Interest rates are adjusted approximately every six months. Restrictions on adjustable-rate loans mean that for a maximum of one percentage point to a rate by the lender using his or her own discretion. In some type of adjustable-rate loans, the monthly payments fixed for, usually, three years. Then the fluctuations in interest rates are reflected in the balance. If interest rates decrease, a larger share of the payment goes to principal interest rates rise, the opposite is true.

Then there are equity sharing mortgages where an investor contributes shares of the down payment and monthly payments is exchanged for portion of the tax benefits of home ownership and appreciation in the home.

For borrowers who think their incomes will keep pace with inflation, there are mortgages that allow the rate to increase. These loans are less likely to become burdensome than loans tied to inflation.

Some forms of creative financing are not recommanded. The main caution is that the buyer must determine whether he will be able to live with an arrangement in the future. Economic circumstances change from day to day; so, it is up to the home buyer to determine if that loan “fits” today will “fit” next year.

A Dream Come True

Martin Luther King's dream is a reality. There are still many hurdles that must be overcome before we can secure equality for all, but let us not forget that there are many advances that have been made towards that goal. It is a process.

It is difficult to know how a man will respond to a special situation unless he has tried to be alive to his background. He linked the vital principles of peace and freedom in his speech, and we must decide to function, get something going, speak our minds.

Women of minority races in the U.S. have a higher labor force participation rate than do white women. Single women are more apt to be employed than married women, regardless of their economic status, race, age, marital status, the number and ages of children, sex, and whether she is working. Educated women spend more time in child care than less educated women. Well educated women between the child-raising ages are employed outside the home.
