Riverside NAACP Organization of the Year

The Riverside Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) was named Outstanding Organization of the Year, (1982) by the Black Voice News at their Annual Freedom Fund Dinner last weekend.

In making the presentation, Harry Brown, Voice Publisher, said, in asking various community members what they felt was the organization which most improved their lives, the River­side NAACP was mentioned most often. He continued, ’That because the White House had a closed gate and Sacraments is trying to close its, but thanks to Wilkie Brown it’s not closed, and the couriers and cities are cutting back, we can appreciate the work the NAACP is doing. So is those volunteers who get up in the middle of the night to defend people who won’t even pay $10.00 to join the organization. ’

Speaker, Dr. Wesley Plumb­ton, Director of the Civil Rights Division, U.S. Department of Transportation was unable to attend because of the snow storm which hit the eastern coast.

However in his stead was Grand Chaplain of the Omega, Mrs. Cunningham Scott, she was a member of the Pilgrim Choir. She attended the local elementary and went to Rest Baptist Church in Dallas, Texas, and sang in the Temple, Texas to the parents of Mr. & Mrs. Henry Scott.

Eubie Blake Dies at 100

By Paulette Brown

Five days after celebrating his 100th birthday, the famous ragtime pianist, Eubie Blake died (February 12, 1983).

He was known from composers such songs as the 1920’s "Blue Skies," 1930’s "I’m Just Wild About Harry," 1940’s "You’re Just Like My Baby," 1950’s "Body and Soul," and 1960’s "Summertime." His career spanned from the 1890’s to the 1970’s. During those years he composed over 500 songs and was considered a musical genius.

Blake died at his home in Brooklyn apparently of age but suffered complications from a bout of pneumonia. James Hubert Blake was born to former slaves in Baltimore on February 1, 1883.

His future was set at the age of 16, when he wrote his first work "Blue Skies" which is still commonly sung today.

Blake was once known to have said: "I’ll keep performing until one day, while I’m on stage, the music stops and I say 9:30, ‘you’re out!’

Nina Simone or Nina Louisa Simone was crowned hours before the NAACP Banquet. She refused Richard Williams stopped long enough for the photographer.

Mrs. Ether Scott Succumbs

After her education she married and from that union came two children, Reatha Lee Jefferson of Riverside, and Willie C. Hawkins.

Whitney Young Center Health Fair to be Held at

Don't forget to come out February 29th and 5:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. to the Whitney Young Community Health Fair. You can have your blood pressure checked, cell test looking for some check, Jaszter, and nutrition information. If you are concerned programs are available on Sunday mornings that can be picked up in the Island Empire. The result would provide the sale $2.50 with 12 hours of uninterupted buggy sounds.

Needs to say, Mr. Reagans and I vehemently opposed such a change. We felt that it was totally unfair to the Gospel Announcer, who established a relationship over a period of time in a specific slot, and the mere suggestion of an alteration displayed a great deal of ineptness to the Gospel audience, to all who enjoy real soul music.

It would be a sad geographic phenomenon, in that a move to another slot, would mean the termination of one of the Program Directors, "brilliant" notion that Gospel Music is in itself a "exclusive" which is usually a slot that one can't wait for. These objectives concerning came from a non-Gospel oriented mentally with little or no regard for the transcending message of God's Gospel Power.

At the moment I believe that the Gospel Staff will work very hard with the idea of "exclusive" idea will no doubt happen. During the meeting Gospel Music enthusiasts should voice their concerns immediately to the Station Manager, to insure the programming of Gospel Music at its proper regular time slot.

Recently I have been witnessed by what other Gospel Announcers National wide have told to comb the Airwaves, and in this Gospel Management desire to improve and combustable programming by putting Gospel Music in a viable, understandable time slot.

About a week or two ago (at least that was when it occurred to me) a friend of mine mentioned that other Gospel Announcers have had to deal with "ethical" which is usually a slot that no one else wants. He was discussing the fact that other Gospel Announcers have had to deal with the soul music.

"We want to try to go into our secret closets along about midnight and sing our songs, but the police stop us at 2 a.m. We can't go until about 3:30 a.m."

"That is why you hear the same songs all the time on KJGC."

"We are trying to get a slot that we can go on and play Gospel Music."

"We want to be able to play the soul songs."

Church Reporter:

Rev. William Selden
Pastor

Rev. Selden brought our message today and we were blessed. Rev. 2:10-11 was read for our text and the 12th verse was used for the text which reads as this:

And behold I come quickly, and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be. Rev. Selden admonished us to work for the Lord and our living and work will not be in vain. When Jesus comes back, he will have his reward with him. Jesus is coming back to get the church and those who have accepted him in their hearts will go with him. "The last message" was the subject of the message today, and we are to make ready to receive a message. Those who are unrighteous, let him be unrighteous still; and he who is filthy, let him be filthy still; and he that is righteous let him be righteous still; and he that is holy, let him be holy still. We left the church rejoicing in the spirit.

The Angel Choir has been blessed to have thirteen members since they were organized in December. The Holy Spirit was with us as they sang their special service. The Joyful Voices Choir warmed our hearts as they sang "Christ Has Set Me Free" and Mrs. Evelyn Chatman, Reporter.

We are reminded of great American contributions at this time. Some contributions are:

Otis Boykin, who invented the first electronic control unit for artificial heart and a helicopter Guide Missile, heart stimulators and electronic controlled devices. In addition, he has invented a control unit for the television sets, and other electronic controlled devices. In addition, he has invented a control unit for the television sets, and other electronic, military and commercial applications. At present, some have reduced the cost of production and military and commercial applications. He has had both military and commercial applications.

Lowona Williams Named Black History Queen

By Donnie Brown

To Be Young, Gifted And Black was truly the cases as Lowona Williams of Riverside was crowned Black History Queen for Nichols Park. Included in the queens court are, Phalesia Louder, 1st runner up, Tyra Kelly, 2nd runner up, and Tammy Kendricks, 3rd runner up. Deborah Howard was Miss Congeniality. The pressing fact that Black young ladies needed a supervised outlet in the community to display their artistic talents, refined skills, beauty and charm, generated Mrs. Loretta Thomas to come forward with the idea of a beauty pageant in the fall of 1981. This idea was nurtured during the winter months until the fruits of labor were rewarded with the crowning of the first queen, Bridgette Wills and her court in February 1982.

Fran Ratliff who participated in the 82 Riverside and San Bernardino Black History Parade was the second queen of the pageant. Now in its third year, on a small but sound budget, manned by donations and support by the community, the pageant is thriving.

The Black Community and the Baha’i Faith

Since the Baha’i Faith first reached the United States in the early 1900s the Black community has played an active and important role in its growth and development.

W. E. Dubois named a "praxe" as behoof of his people after the Atlanta Riot of 1906: "the way, O God, show us the way and point the path." Many blacks have found the way and the path in the Bahá’í Faith.

We take pride in relating the achievements of blacks, from around the country, who are exemplars of their Faith and contributors to the advancement of society.

Robert S. Abbott Founder and owner of the first black newspaper in the U.S. still in operation.

Dr. Elza Austin First black woman lawyer in the U.S.

First black Assistant Attorney General in Ohio.

Dr. Wilma Bracy Representative of the Bahá’í community at the U.N.

Matthew Bullock Graduate of Dartmouth and Harvard Law where he achieved fame as a football star. He received honorary degrees from Harvard in 1970 and Dartmouth in 1971.

Baha’i Celebrate Black History

Lorenza Graham of Claremont will be the featured speaker at the Riverside Baha’i observance of Black History Month at the Baha’i Center, 3332 Orange Street, at 7:30 p.m., Friday, February 18. Graham, a lecturer, author and consultant, born in New Orleans, the son of an African Methodist minister was a teacher in Monroe College, N.Y., where he discovered that most of what he had read about the “Dark Continent” was not true. He decided to write books that would describe Africans honestly.

Lorenz Graham stated that during the fire, someone was attempting to steal calves from a resident, but were frightened off by gunshots from a neighbor. Mr. Bowser stated that during the fire, someone was attempting to steal calves from a resident, but were frightened off by gunshots from a neighbor.

The words, “Niggers get out K-K-K-, were written on the side of his house, warmed him apparently an intensely hot fire. Mr. Bowser said that this is not the first time that he has had problems of this nature. He said that his problems of this nature in the area and that it had been pretty quiet.

Frederick M. Jones, 1892-1961

Frederick M. Jones held more than 60 patents in a variety of fields, but his greatest contribution was his development of a refrigeration system for long-distance transportation. This refrigeration system was adapted to a variety of other carriers, including ships and railway cars, and changed America’s eating habits. In addition, Jones invented the first portable refrigerator for military field kitchens in 1935.
