CALIFORNIA STATE COLLEGE AT SAN BERNARDINO

November 1, 1968

The BULLETIN

CITIZENS COMMITTEE SUPPORTS PROP. 3

Ten prominent residents of San Bernardino County have formed a Citizens Committee for Proposition 3.

The College has a tangible stake in Proposition 3, the education-construction bond issue on Tuesday's state ballot. If Proposition 3 receives a simple majority "Yes" vote, the College will gain a new $1,740,000 Creative Arts Center (Music-Drama-Classroom Building). Higher education and public schools throughout California stand to gain $250 million in all, if Proposition 3 is approved.

Earl S. Reynolds of San Bernardino, the recently retired public relations director for Kaiser Steel in Southern California, serves as chairman of the San Bernardino County Citizens committee.

Committee members include representatives from business, labor, finance and the professions. They are Gordon Fields, Robert V. Fullerton, Mrs. James W. Nelson, Mrs. Bennet A. Meyers, Verne F. Potter, Jr. and Earl Wilson, all of San Bernardino; Harold Zenz, Ontario; Leroy Hansberger, Redlands; and Olin Halstead, Victorville.

UNION BUILDING ELECTION FAILS

Although a majority of CSCSB students voted to increase their fees to finance a new College Union Building, the election required a two-thirds majority vote, so the project was defeated.

The vote was 229 for the union and 205 against. On the basis of 434 votes cast, 289 would have been needed to carry.

LOST AND FOUND NOW HANDLED BY COLLEGE POLICE

The Lost and Found Department has been assigned to the office of College Police, PE Building, Room 114.

Formerly, this service was under the Admissions and Records. Found items may still be turned in to the Admissions and Records office as well as the Police office. Lost items may be claimed only at the College Police office between the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

STUDENTS REQUIRE PERMIT FOR WORKING AFTER HOURS

A new pass system has been worked out to permit students to work in classrooms or labs after class hours when the buildings are closed. Students can now be authorized by faculty to work late by means of an After Hours Student Permit.

The new pass requirement has been initiated as a means of increasing personal safety and property security while permitting increased use of College facilities.

The new pass forms can be obtained from the College Police, Room PE-114, or the Division Offices. Each pass must be signed by the Division Chairman concerned.

Students who need to work after 5 p.m. in the three initial buildings (exclusive of Library hours), or after regular class hours in the science buildings, are required to carry an After Hours Student Permit.

MUNER HANAFI,
STUDENT, TO GIVE POETRY READING

A senior student, new to CSCSB and just out of the service, will give a poetry reading next Thursday, November 7, in PS-122, 2:30 p.m.

Muner Hanafi, originally from New York, who has worked with the Carriage House doing Shakespeare in the Park and for the Fantastics, is being sponsored in the reading by William Haney, Asst. Prof. of Art. Mr. Hanafi will read from Bergman, Lorca, William C. Williams, Elliott and some private works. "Things from Me to You" is the title of his presentation.

RESEARCH GRANT Faculty members who wish to apply for the National DEADLINE IS NEAR Endowment for the Humanities research program for projects to begin after March 15, 1969, must apply no later than November 15, 1968. (The deadline is March 1 for projects to begin after June 15.)

The emphasis this year is to be placed on small grants for support of research in the humanities and humanistic social sciences.

The objective of this research program is to stimulate and support research and writing that contribute to the national welfare through the discovery and dissemination of knowledge in the humanities. The Endowment has a special interest in research that has contemporary social relevance, particularly to urban and minority problems.

Additionally, limited support will be available for research related to the Bicentennial of the American Revolution, particularly as such research attempts to relate the significance of the Revolution to the present national life.

For further information and application see the office of the Associate Dean of Academic Administration, Room A-192.
