Maxine Waters Gives Powerful Speech Locally

President Reagan has said he would sign the legislation declaring the first Monday in January a holiday in honor of the civil rights leader. But many people is based on a bloody coup. In an earlier incident Moten kidnapped his wife, dragged her out to a field and down on her chest. He was arrested as she remembers, for the alleged kidnapping and beating, but criminal charges were not filed. He will receive a psychiatric evaluation.

None of the candidates will identify the issue. Unemployment is the #1 problem, make more money. Hence, they have taken those jobs and exposed them to Third World countries, to pollute their environment and exploit their workers. Congressmen Support Federal Low-Income Energy Assistance

Many southern Californians will be unable to afford the cost of heating their homes this winter without increased federal funds for low-income energy assistance.

That's the view expressed recently by representatives of Southern California Gas Co. and 17 community, consumer, ethnic and labor organizations at a news conference in Los Angeles. The coalition announced it is urging Congress to appropriate at least $2.25 billion for federal low-income energy assistance this winter. The coalition also vowed to make sure that an adequate amount of the money is allocated to California.

In addition to the gas company, members of the coalition are: Asian Pacific American Legal Center; Asian Pacific Planning Council; Association of Southern California Energy Programs; California/Nevada Coalition for Community Action; Community Relations Council; Los Angeles City Human Relations Commission; Los Angeles Human Relations Commission; Los Angeles County Federation of Labor; Lutheran Social Services; Mexican American Opportunity Foundation; Metropolitan Council for Opportunity; Planning Council of Los Angeles; Southern California Interfaith Hunger Coalition; and Urban League.

"Many southern Californians will have difficulty paying for energy this winter," said Robert M. McInerney, gas company president and spokesman for the group.

"Such people need federal financial assistance," Mr. McInerney added. "And we urge all members of this coalition, concerned that there won't be enough money available to help them unless all of Congress, increase the available funds."
The California Arts Council has recently awarded 298,034 State Local Partnership grants totaling $1,930,000 to 62 participating California agencies. The grant to San Bernardino County for this fiscal year is $23,033.

Marilyn Ryan, Executive Director of the California Arts Council, said that the State Local Partnership Program, established in 1980, is designed to provide local communities the opportunity to define their arts needs and to implement programs to meet those needs. Each year, the California Arts Council offers participation in the Program to California's 59 counties, and the deadline for submitting applications is November 13. Any community, urban or rural, was one of 14 representatives of local government in an attempt to participate independently. County boards of supervisors in counties, annually designates "local partners" to participate in the Program. "In most cases," Ryan commented, "local government and arts organizations have worked together to support events at the local level, and they have been very supportive of the Foundation, which can be sustained and maintained." Ryan added, "Some of the most common activities of the State/Local Partners would include registering, (the awarding of grants to artists and art organizations), the production of arts calendars, or guest speakers, or performing, to its community of, large;

The Arts Council provides a planning process for local partners to use as a guide in developing arts programs that are suitable to their regions. The process, began in 1981, is divided into three phases: (1) planning phases, (2) planning phases, and (3) planning phases. At this time 23 county partners have completed the process. Local partners are also required to submit annual activity and final reports to the Arts Council.

The projects and programs local partners have engaged in vary from county to county. However, arts needs in the areas of education and facility space have been the most common among all local partners.

The California Arts Council encourages any community to become involved in the State Local Partnership Program. For information, contact Marilyn Ryan, the Executive Director of the Foundation, at 310/220-4336.

They deemed it accidental—cried many had been washed abroad unconscious. But you and I know better Virginia. You, who had tried many times to leave this world, had tried it. No longer will your eyes show sadness from too much giving and not enough receiving. That day I didn't take a last look. I don't remember we—a cold Virginia. Instead I remember the intellectual Virginia, the sensitive, caring, and warm Virginia.

TO VIRGINIA

By Marryetta Felts-Bruce

I never thought of you in black or white.

I remember the first time I saw you, sitting there surrounded by the writers of that day—a part of us.

You had opened your doors to—"Writers Workshop" it was called and we were all part of it. But the poet, John the novelist, Rick the essayist, Dick—Dick—where are they? There you sat with your ears so sensitive and listened to a woman who wrote and sang.

I watched as your diamond splashed images brought the glass to your lips and then waited respectfully for you to take a puff off your cigarette and speak.

I was fascinated by you and hung on to every critical word. You had been a part of the Hollywood stars, the producers, directors, and the writers.

I didn't wait to believe the tales and then one morning just before moon, I saw your hands shake—before you had your first one—and I knew the truth. But I still hung on to every critical word.

You were still the intellectual Virginia, the sensitive, caring, and warm Virginia.

We talked of your depression and you said, "I tried many times to leave this world and he declined me first, taking my children from me.

I know the tears fall.

Depressed women were Virginia when you bought the malt and came to live amongst them.

But your days brightened when you found you had friends and became a part of our world.

But then you suddenly left us to become a recluse.

I went back to the emptiness of Malibu with the house high in the hills, surrounded by trees and no one.

I saw you there too Virginia and saw your hands shake there too.

Smiles were on your face but I looked beyond them and saw eyes glutted by too much giving and not enough receiving. The last time I saw you, we talked of your daughter no longer of this world and all the anger you felt for her taking it, and how you loved her. "I never had the chance to know her as a mother knows a child, and I began to hope you as an adult," you cried out that day.

I saw the tears fall.

At first glance, you might consider the Riverside Area United Way a 1983 campaign goal of $2 million—43 percent higher than the 1982 goal for the year to be a pipe dream, or at least distant hope. After all, this is the economically-stagnant ’80s. But John Treadway says it’s not just a dream. He just sees the old figures as unrealistically low.

“It’s a challenge which all of the figures are clearly is less than within the easy capacity of the Riverside area to fulfill,” says Treadway, the 31st Campaign Chairman. “Only 16 percent of the area’s employee population actually made a contribution to United Way last year. If that number were increased by only 9 percent, we would quadruple their funding by $600,000.”

The Riverside Area United Way supports 41 community service agencies. According to the Chairman, the higher goal is simply a matter of those agencies—such as services with diversified tax-exempt youth programs, Women’s activities, and special interest clubs.“We would like to remind our customers,” the chairman says, “that the weather gets cold, natural gas billing can be increased the same,” he said. “A typical home needs to use seven to ten years of natural gas on a budget, or less,” he said.

ROSE MAYES is a candidate for the Val Verde School District. She is a 3-year resident of Perris in the Mead Valley area.

She is employed by the Wall Street Journal and is the chair of the Black History Month Committee.

Mayes says, "My reputation for being elected to the Board of Trustees of the Val Verde School District is one that has the help of administrators and faculty, to look for and identify the missing ingredients in the school system, that destroys our children's future."

Robert L. Pianalto, a local businessman and long-time volunteer in Riverside Unified School District matters, is a leading candidate for the November 8 Riverside Board of Education election. A Riverside school board member for over eighteen years, Mr. Pianalto has served on over eight key district committees and boards, including the minimum competency standards committee and the district community advisory committee.

Mr. Pianalto was a student of Charles University, a part of the American University system. He claims, is the biggest crime, and our politicians are the servants, they fire them!"

His comments on democracy are interesting. He says, "Democracy is majority rule whether the majority is good or bad. A lynching mob is democracy in action." He refers to both the bible and constitution to prove that democracy is illegal and immoral.

He says that more than 200 million Americans believe that government spends too much money, which contributes to inflation, but that our politicians are so unresponsive that they react except to increase their salaries, expense reimbursement, pensions and welfare benefits. The devolution of our money, through inflation, as he sees it, has created a very sophisticated system of slavery. Our politicians have convinced the public that paper is valuable and money, and he thinks all the government does except sell paper is slaves, because the paper has no initial value and goes down in value every day.

This prisoner claims that he is in jail for refusing to pay his income tax on a Form 1040. He feels that any laws we pay we are a formalized robbery and that American file income tax returns out of fear of being jailed. He then says, "Free people do not fear their servants, they fire them!"

We lease all makes and models, we need your trade, we sell for less and is an active member of the Perris Community, and she plans to attend all City Council meetings.

Jean McHenry is one of the candidates for the Perris City Council. If elected, I plan to bring the citizens of Perris, Mr. Pianalto told the court that the income tax and reporting was voluntary. An IRS agent, under oath, he says, also emphasized that the income tax was voluntary. Therefore, he claims that he is serving time in a federal penitentiary for not volunteering.

The devaluation of our "legal tender" steals billions from us, as he sees it, and is an active member of the Perris City Council.
