Jackson to Visit Inland Empire

Our time has come. From slave ship to championship. Our time has come, fromouthour or two centuries our time has come. From disgrace to adoration, our time has come. We all of us, with all our time. We have 11:30 A.M. to 12:30 P.M. Today. Jack will speak at New Hope Baptist Church 1355 W. 12th Street in San Bernardino. The public is invited.

Jackson's candidacy is seeking a new direction for the Democratic Party through his Rainbow Coalition of Blacks, Hispanics, Aroused and women. This could mean a big move in the state making process. Jackson thinks his candidacy will also increase the number of black, a lack of black, politicians to elected office. On several occasions he has stated the goal is to achieve "parity" in officeholding equal to the proportion of people in the electorate.

Jesse Jackson was born October 28, 1941, in Greenville, South Carolina. After graduating from Sterling High School in Greenville in 1959, he attended the University of Illinois on a football scholarship. He left his freshman year and transferred to North Carolina Agricultural & Technical (A&T) State University in Greensboro, North Carolina, where he received his Bachelor of Science degree in sociology and economics.

While a student at North Carolina A&T, he was active in the six-movement of the sixties to desegregate public forums. Jesse Jackson was also a student government leader, honor student and star athlete. He attended Chicago Theological Seminary for 2½ years. More than 20 colleges and universities, including North Carolina A&T University and Chicago Theological Seminary, his alma mater, Pepperdine University, Opened University, Oral Roberts University, the University of the Rhode Island, Georgetown University and Howard University have recognized his leadership and achievements by conferring an honorary degree.

How to Handle the Temptation to Worry, the message was last Sunday. Pastor Forbes exhorted us to study Jesus for He is our example in everything. When we understand His teachings we are able to walk in His steps, 1 Pet. 2:21. Jesus is touched by our hurts and temptations because He was tempted in every respect as we are, but He was without sin, 2 Cor. 11:31-32.

Jesus was confronted with the temptation to worry about His impending death in the garden of Gethsemane, Matt. 26:36-39. He did not yield, and destroys our peace of mind. The costs of worry are great. Worry chokes and strangles the Word out of us, and cancels the ability to get through,

Bishop Brooksins attends Bethel Perris groundbreaking.

Photos by Ken O'Farrell

Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church, growing and expanding by leaps and bounds, nestled in the gently rolling hills at highway 74 and Sophie street, Bethel is becoming a household word in the homes of many Perris area residents.

The church was established in 1946 in the home of the A.M.E. sisters, the late sisters Gillard and Calloway and sister D. Hampton Jackson who presently resides in San Francisco. The entire church was built and dedicated in November 1970 under the pastorage of Reverend J.N. Harris. Reverend Edgar Jackson is the present pastor of Bethel and under his pastorate the church is experiencing phenomenal growth, with twenty new members added to the roll in the last two or three months. The church is now composed of 160 active members.

The congregation at Bethel is never idle or aloof in its efforts to be a strong asset to the A.M.E. faith and the community. For almost two years the missionary society of the church has financed and conducted a program to distribute butter, cheese and other government commodities to elderly and needy residents of the community. Pastor Jackson said that the distribution program serves sixty families per month and is limited by lack of space to handle and package the foodstuffs. However, the new fellowship hall which under construction will permit expansion of the program.

The hard work and devotion of the Bethel congregation has enabled them to begin construction of a new fellowship hall. On Saturday, Nov. 19, Presiding Bishop H. Hartford Brooksins was on hand to deliver a strong and stirring message in ground breaking ceremonies for the new structure.

The facility will encompass 240 square feet and will consist of one classroom, a complete kitchen, and bathroom facilities designed to accommodate handicapped.

Bethel A.M.E. Church is strongly involved with the growth of the community. There are youth, youth fellowship and training sessions each Tuesday evening, out of town trips throughout the year and a scholarship program in operation.

1984 will be an exciting year for members of the A.M.E. faith. It is the year of the quadrennial conference which is to be held in Kansas City, Kansas in July. This conference is held once each four years and will see representatives from A.M.E. churches throughout the world meeting and greeting one another in the fashion of large family reunions.

Bethel African Methodist Episcopal is a church among churches in the Inland Empire.
QUICK-TO-FIX MEAL takes the pressure off the cook

"Help yourself!" Most often we hear these inviting words at a dinner table. The food is ready for it's consumption and we are not quite sure how to react.

Helping yourself also pertains to the cook, especially when times of the essence in getting the food prepared. When I say get the food prepared, I mean prepped, prepped and prepped some more. Do not put anything in a pan that is not thoroughly clean and dry.

Anytime cream cheese on a platter, spoon the cream cheese on the top with another cream cheese platter to the side. The finished appearance will be attractive and appetizing.

With the satisfaction knowing that a savory meal was prepared with care, you can now take that meal on its own or serve it to a special guest, but make sure to note that the meal is ready to serve.

The PUSH for Excellence (PUSH-Excel) educational program, which Rev. Jesse Jackson founded, is a mass student motivation and parent-teacher mobilization program designed to promote educational excellence in public education through total community involvement. It is seen as one of the most powerful and innovative educational programs in the nation.

He has also renegotiated the economic relationship between Black America and corporate America with several notable successes.

As Jackson has been a much sought speaker, he appears before thousands of groups holding speeches that range from the "rainbow" coalition of women, minority, and other groups to achieve realistic solutions to America's problems.

An integral part of Rev. Jesse Jackson and his leadership in his religious calling. As an ordained Baptist minister since 1970, Jesse Jackson is Associate Pastor of Fellowship Missionary Baptist Church in Chicago. Since 1977, he has delivered the spiritual keynote addresses for the weekly Saturday morning meetings at Olivet Mission PUSH national headquarters in Chicago. He regularly preaches in churches across America on Sunday mornings. In executing his ministerial responsibilities, Rev. Jesse Jackson inspires hope and feeling of self-worth in the destitute and dispelled with his internationally known phrase, "I Am Somebody!"

Rev. Jesse Jackson resides in Chicago with his wife Jacqueline and their five children, Katrina (19), Jesse, Jr. (18), Jonathan (17), Yusel (13), and Jacqueline (9).

Some of his closest friends encouraged him not to run for President because they knew he could not win. Jackson always quipped back, "If you run, you may lose, but if you don't run, you are guaranteed to lose." When Jesse Jackson is running for President Thursday December 8th, he will be running to the Island Empire.

Rep. Brown introduces Bill to Invest in the Nation's Disabled

Washington, D.C. — Rep. George E. Brown, Jr. (D-Riverside/San Bernardino/Ontario) today introduced legislation which would make the purchase of necessary equipment for disabled individuals tax deductible. By enabling sight, hearing and speech impaired individuals to have equipment which would allow them to be employed, the legislation would reduce their reliance on government assistance and aid the national economy.

"Recent technological advances in communication and transportation aids can make many handicapped individuals independent and employable," Brown said. "It is folly to spend our resources only in the moment of crisis. A generous investment in education, communications aids can make many handicapped individuals independent and employable. These savings include reduced welfare payments, increased federal, state and local tax revenues. These savings include reduced welfare payments, increased federal, state and local tax revenues.

The legislation is a step toward achieving independence to meet the test of progress, as defined by Franklin D. Roosevelt. The test of progress is a measure of the freedom with which our people can live their lives, of the opportunity they have to develop their talents, of the degree to which the weak are protected against the cruelty of the strong. The test of progress is a measure of the freedom with which our people can live their lives, of the opportunity they have to develop their talents, of the degree to which the weak are protected against the cruelty of the strong.

Brown also noted the personal benefits of this legislation which allows basic human needs for the severely impaired. Brown said, "This bill exists to meet the test of progress, as defined by Franklin D. Roosevelt. The test of progress is a measure of the freedom with which our people can live their lives, of the opportunity they have to develop their talents, of the degree to which the weak are protected against the cruelty of the strong."

Rep. Brown is a senior member of the House Science and Technology Committee, which recently held hearings on technologies for the disabled. He is also a board member of the Technology Assessment Board, a congressional agency which examines the impact and potential of advancing technologies on society.

Major cost savings are projected from this bill, which is designed to bring about widespread dissemination of assistive aids to severely disabled individuals, thereby allowing independence and productive employment. These savings include reduced welfare payments, reduced Social Security, Disability Insurance payments, reduced Medicare payments, and increased federal, state and local tax revenues. An annual benefit of approximately $15.5 million is projected by the end of the second year, based on conservative assumptions. The savings are expected to increase annually thereafter.
