Gospel X-Pressions

Disnailed was a trial! And if you missed it you'll feel your heart sink. Sometimes it's about as hard as trying to get to Disneyland to draw me there with the wonder that has been in it all these years. I miss being able to spend time with such expressiveness on the "Heaven," so I got a seat to see and hear the gospel长期的预言, F.C. Barnes and2, Barnes. Jackson: What is that? A Time: They were the crowd pleasers. If you wanted to be reminded to, the Barnes and Barnes would do so with their sisters of moving mean- ingful decisions that rang off to Have This one's side of the Mountain.

Rev. Tollette Receives Appointment

Rev. Chester T. Tollette, Pastor of Ame Temple C.M.E. Church of Riverside, was appointed Director of Evangelism of the 5th Episcopal District of the C.M.E. Churches, by Bishop Nathaniel Linus, President of the district. The appointment occurred during the recent Annual Conference held in Oakland, Calif., in the week of August 20-24, 1984.

Last Sunday, the members of Bethel, Pastor gave Pastor Jackson his first pastor's appointment day ever. At first glance, one might expect that Rev. Jackson might not have been the most popular pastor in town. In fact, there could be less than two weeks ago after the announcement of Johnson's appointment, some people have been moving in their churches and community, and we are very much involved in the work that we do. While some members of Bethel's congregation, Mrs. Jackson, and her family have not been to that place. The couple was a big hit along with the choir and the choir rather than taking the show for herself but the world, let her be the one to sing. Master The Temples is Reg- so the world was. When the Clark sisters were part of their parents, I have no idea. The sisters knew where the world came from. The sisters were opened to each other segment much to the delight of the audience. Told her story by Space mountain, to hear these ladies sing to the Lord. One of the sisters said she wasn't going to apologize to the first witnesses. As the audience gathered to the occasion, Mrs. Jackson, William, and the Barnes and Barnes, our next do better with our workmates. We can have fellowship with each other.

CALLING ALL DEMOCRATS...

The election coming up on November 6 is to our city, state, and nation. Such basic issues as the fairness of our tax and economic policies, the direction of our foreign policy and the current affairs of the city, state and nation are the main topics of the election. The Democratic Party is committed to the future of our country.

For too long we have allowed the opposition to control this process in their favor, the major­ity's interests. The primary goal of the Democratic Party is to elect a President who will work for the people and not for the special interests. The Democratic Party has a proven record of leadership and a history of putting the people first. We believe in fair treatment for all people and in the values that are basic to our democracy.

ANNUAL USHER DAY was held on last Sunday. Their theme, "FORM OF A SERVANT," Amos Temple's Usher Board was planned in 1956. Rev. Ray Cunningham was Pastor at that time. The First Annual Usher day for Amos Temple was in 1957, where both Annual Convention and District President were present. Mrs. Grace Winn, President of Amos Usher Board and Committee presented a unique program in the lead. Guest for 11:00 a.m. services was Rev. Joyce Todd Henderson became the first woman to be ordained serving Elmor in Los Angeles at the 74th Annual Session of the California Annual Conference of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church. The event was high which carried over into afternoon services where Rev. Albert Scales, choir and congregation of Victory Land, Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, was in charge. Rev. Scales, who is a dynamic speaker delivered a powerful message entitled "SAINTS WAKES UP, SINNERS RISE UP!" A special dedication song was rendered by Helen Jacobs, accompanied by Mrs. Albert Scales. Bourns Hosts OFCCP Meeting

Remarking the group "laws haven't changed; regulations haven't changed," George Bushal, Assistant Regional Administrator of the office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP), told a group of government contractors his office is alive and well. Bushal said he should close the year with a 100% success rate, with no ongoing litigation.

Dear Editor,

I enjoyed the article on my home town friend Carolyn Green, who was recently promoted Environmental Affairs Manager for Southern California Gas Company. They recognized her outstanding qualities and the Gas Company will be rich to have such a great person carrying on in another location doing so well. Dick Griggs

More About Kim, The Computer Programmer

Kim is explaining her work to her brother, Bobby. She has just explained some difficult terms. Bobby is very impressed with his sister's work.

"Gee! How did you learn so much about computers? It would take me forever to remember so much," said Bobby as if amazed.

"Oh, it's really easy once you put your mind to it," replied Kim. "Once you learn what a job is all about, it is easy. Of course, you have to want to be a computer programmer. The rest is a cinch."

"Are you ready for me to go on now?" Kim asked in a somewhat irritated tone of voice.

"Please continue," said Bobby.

"I use the job description to prepare a chart that shows how all the parts of the job fit together. This is called a systems flow chart. I use symbols to stand for punched cards, magnetic tapes, reports produced by the output equipment and other records. I connect all these symbols with lines to show how the information will flow from the input equipment, through the computer, to the output equipment," said Kim.

"That really sounds complicated," said Bobby.

"Not really," replied Kim. "The systems flow chart helps me prepare another chart. It is called an operations flow chart. This chart breaks the job down into steps that show the exact things the computer must do."

"Why do you need that chart?" asked Bobby.

"The operations flow chart helps me write the instructions that make up the program. I write the instructions on special forms. These forms are called coding sheets. Key punch operators then put the instructions on punched cards. Machines read the cards and send the program to tape units. These tape units record the information on magnetic tape," Kim explained.

"Do you write the program in English?" Bobby asked.

"I write the program in a language made up of certain words and symbols. (Continued on Page 3)"
The ADVANCER

THE AOIP Family & Community Reading Newspaper

The ADVANCER is the property of the national Assault On Illiteracy Program (AOIP) and is its official umbrella-type remediation instrument. In addition to the Title I type classes for which it is designed primarily, it is to be used in all AOIP programs and projects. All literacy enhancement programs and projects of AOIP-participating organizations are considered a part of AOIP.

The ADVANCER is prepared largely by the teachers in the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc. They are assisted, with helpful cooperation, by the teachers and other professionals in Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc.

These highly-trained and deeply-committed teachers—along with others in the more than 80 national organizations comprising AOIP—have far more concentrated experience than any other educators with Title I type students. By focusing the ADVANCER primarily on such extraordinary needs, the supportive concerns of all other students are embraced automatically.

Three Successful Businessmen

ARTHUR GEORGE GASTON, SR., was born in Demopolis, Alabama on July 4, 1892. He graduated from Tuggle Institute in Birmingham, Alabama.

Before becoming a successful businessman, A.G. Gaston was a common laborer making 31¢ an hour in a Birmingham steel mill. But he had a plan to make a lot of money. He started a burial society with his father-in-law, A.L. Smith.

The Smith and Gaston Burial Society grew into the Booker T. Washington Insurance Company. Soon, it became the hub of a group of businesses. These businesses made Mr. Gaston about $24 million. These businesses continued to grow.

Some of these businesses were the Booker T. Washington Business College, the Smith and Gaston Funeral Home, the A.G. Gaston Motel and the A.G. Gaston Home for Senior Citizens in Birmingham, Alabama.

Mr. Gaston is the chairman of the board, president and treasurer of Smith and Gaston Interests and the Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Association.

ROBERT "LEE" DUNHAM was born in Kannapolis, North Carolina on September 12, 1932. He is a former Air Force cook, policeman, machine operator and woodworker.

Today, Mr. Dunham is the president and major stockholder of one of the most profitable McDonald's fast food chains.

Since his restaurant opened in March 1972 on busy 125th Street in the Harlem section of New York City, it has grown into a hamburger haven. It serves more than 3,500 people every day. The restaurant grosses more than $100,000 each month.

During the 1970's Dunham's Harlem McDonald's was the third most successful of nearly 2,800 McDonald's outlets in the United States. Early in 1973, a second McDonald's franchise was given to Mr. Dunham and his partners.

JOHN H. JOHNSON was born in Arkansas City, Arkansas in 1918. He attended the University of Chicago and Northwestern University. A $500 loan started John H. Johnson on the road to success. In little more than 30 years, he has built the largest Black-owned publishing empire in the world.

John H. Johnson is the president of Johnson Publishing Co., Inc. of Chicago, Illinois. He is the publisher and editor of Ebony, JET, Black Stars, Black World and Ebony Junior magazines. Fashion Fair cosmetics is another of the Johnson-Ebony products.

MORE ABOUT KIM...

The language I use depends on the type of computer I'm working with and the job to be done. There are different types of computer languages. I am not going to tell you any more today, Bobby. Maybe I'll take you to visit the computer lab at the library. Then I'll show you all the steps," said Kim.

"Will you Kim? Promise me you will!" Bobby begged Kim. "Will it be this weekend? Oh, please let it be soon!" Bobby screamed.

"Okay, Champ, maybe this weekend. But I have to see a big improvement on your math papers. How about it?" Kim said.

One thing Bobby learned from his sister, Kim, is that before a person chooses a career, he or she should be really interested in that career.
We have been learning about Black Africa. We have learned that Africa is the second largest continent on earth. Do you know which is the largest continent on earth?

The area of Black Africa is over 8 million square miles. Black Africa takes up almost all of the continent of Africa. Black Africa is almost twice as big as the United States. There are over 334 million people in Black Africa. (There are about 227 million people in the United States.)

Today our visitor is a young woman from the island Republic of the Seychelles (say-shelz'). Seychelles is a group of over 100 islands in the western Indian Ocean. Only 46 of the islands are inhabited all of the time. The islands are near Madagascar. Can you find Seychelles on your map?

"Hello, my name is Claire Selika. I live in Victoria (vik-tor'-ee-uh). Victoria is the capital of Seychelles. It is also the place where most of the people live. The city and port of Victoria is located on the largest island, Mahe (mah-hay').

"There are almost 100,000 people living on our islands. We are a people of African and European descent. We call ourselves Creoles.

"Most of our people are Roman Catholics. We speak Creole among ourselves, but some of the people also speak English and French.

"Seychelles became an independent country on June 29, 1976. We celebrate this date as National Day or Independence Day.

"Copra (dried coconut meat) and cinnamon are the crops that we sell to other countries. We have a few small factories that use simple methods to prepare vanilla and other farm products, cinnamon oil, rope and mattress fibers.

"Many tourists come to Seychelles. Serving tourists is a bigger business than farming.

"Our favorite food is rice. We eat it with a delicious sauce made of lentils or vegetables. Sometimes we have fish with our rice. On special occasions we have breadfruit. Breadfruit is the large round fruit of a tree that grows on our islands. The pulp of the fruit becomes like bread when it is cooked.

"Come to Seychelles. I will take you ‘island hopping.' You will have so much fun!"

The primary objective of The ADVANCER is to fulfill a basic part of the reading, motivational, comprehension enhancement and ego-strengthening needs of our young and older adults. It is not designed for use in formalized public school system. Its secondary purpose is to serve as excellent supplemental reading for the large number of young people in public (and other) formalized schools where such help is indicated.

This new learning enhancement tool is being put together on a volunteer basis (there are no paid staff either nationally or locally in AOP) by experienced professionals who often have varying views concerning how (level-wise) such students should be approached. Since many of you, too have opinions as reading specialists, we welcome your comments and would appreciate greatly your suggestions. Also, we invite—urgently need—articles for inclusion in The ADVANCER. Each article must include a set of questions for use in our Tutor’s Guide.

Since we may have to combine similar articles and significantly edit others, we feel it is best to maintain a policy of no credits. The objective of all of us is to do what we can to eliminate the awesomeness of illiteracy wherever it exists.

General Guidelines

This guide is designed to arouse and maintain motivation in the student by continuously highlighting those elements in these articles which focus on issues of major concern to them; address their ego-strengthening needs and sense of self; and convey productive alternatives to preconceived notions and ways of thinking that have hindered us from maximizing our potential.

This orientation can help make the necessary mechanical process that follows more meaningful and acceptable to the student—something that he/she can see as making sense and helpful to them. Accordingly, we suggest that you:

1. Motivate student interest by introducing difficult words in each article with a discussion. If a chalkboard, easel or chart paper is available, write them before or as they are used in context.

2. Guide the reading of each article by posing questions using words in the text. If necessary, take a sentence at a time. As the student progresses, you can take a paragraph at a time.

3. Teach one skill after each article.

4. Have student re-read to put the skill word taught back into context.

For this issue, you might concentrate thusly:

MORE ABOUT KIM—Ask: Why was the tone of Kim’s voice somewhat irritated when she answered Bobby’s question? Do you ever use an irritated tone of voice? What is a systems flow chart? What is an operations flow chart? What language does Kim use? What was the one thing Bobby learned from his sister?

Skill: Make a list of all of the verbs that end in -ed. This indicates the past tense, e.g., I replied, you replied, he (she, it) replied, we replied, you replied, they replied. (Be sure that all of the words ending in -ed are verbs.)

THREE SUCCESSFUL BUSINESSMEN—Ask: Where was A.G. Gaston born? Where did he go to school? Name some businesses of A.G. Gaston. What was Gaston before he became a successful businessman? Where was Robert Dunham born? Where is his business located? What type of business does he have? Where was John H. Johnson born? What kind of business does he have? What magazine does his company publish?

Skill: Make a list of all of the proper nouns in the story. How do you identify a proper noun?

BLACK AFRICA—Ask: Where are Seychelles located? Where does most of the people live? What do the people call themselves? When did the country become independent? What is the favorite food? What is breadfruit?

OUR HISPANIC NEIGHBORS—Ask: What is the name of the two largest islands in the West Indies? Why did Columbus call the islands of the Caribbean Sea the “Indies”? What did he call the people? How was slavery in Cuba different from slavery in the United States?

UNEMPLOYMENT—Ask: Why does Doris need a full-time job? What skills does Doris have? Why isn’t Jose looking for another job? What are discouraged workers? What is the favoriete food?

Skill: Find these verbs in the story: works, needs, wants, expects, collects. Give all the forms of these verbs in the present (now) time, e.g., I work, you work. . .

DRUGS AND YOU—What is salvin? What is quinine? From what plant do we get morphine and codeine? What is a prescription drug? Why should you take drugs only from an adult you trust? What does “O.D.” mean?

THE SOLAR SYSTEM: SATURN—Ask: How many major planets are there? Can you name 6 of them? What is Saturn famous for? What is the name of the largest planet? How long does it take for Saturn to make one complete turn around the sun?

Cuba: Key to the New World

We have been learning more and more every week in The ADVANCER. Did you know that Hispanic Americans are very much like us in many, many ways? Hispanic Americans are Americans whose ancestors came from places like Mexico, Central America and the Caribbean.

Hispanic Americans have a rich and colorful history. Let’s try to learn some important things about them and us each week in The ADVANCER.

Cuba is the largest island in the West Indies. The island is 746 miles long. This is about the distance from New York City to Chicago.

Cuba reflects its Spanish, American Indian and African background. Blacks and Mulattoes (African and Spanish parents) make up 62 percent of Cuba’s population. Mestizos (Indian and Spanish parents), Criollos (Spaniards born in Cuba) and Amarillos (Chinese) make up the rest of the population of almost ten million people.

Two weeks after he first landed in the New World, Christopher Columbus sailed to the northeastern coast of Cuba. He said it was “the loveliest land that human eyes have ever beheld.”

Columbus thought this land was part of the continent of Asia. He thought he had reached India. He called the islands of the Caribbean Sea the “Indies.” He called the people who lived there “Indians.”

Cuban sugar was very important to the world. The sugar planters in Cuba began to bring large numbers of Africans to the island. They made slaves of the Africans.

In some ways slavery in Cuba was quite different from slavery in the United States. Slaves in Cuba could own and sell land. They could buy their family’s freedom. The child of a slave and a Spaniard was born free.

Slavery in Cuba was still cruel and inhuman. Men and women were stolen from their African homes and families and held captives on crowded slave ships. Almost half of the Africans died before they reached Cuba. Some died of disease. Some were beaten to death.

Some took their own lives (committed suicide).

Slaves lived in crude huts called bohios (bow-ee’-os). They had to work long hours in the sugar and tobacco fields. They were cruelly punished. Slavery did not end in Cuba until 1886.

Beginning in 1810, Spain’s colonies in South America revolted against Spanish rule. One by one, the colonies won their independence. The Cubans wanted to be independent, too.

Good Citizens Know About the Issues that Affect Their Lives

UNEMPLOYMENT

Jose Martin was laid off from his construction job. He has been out of work for a month. He expects to be called back on the job any day now. He collects an unemployment check every Thursday. He is not really looking for another job. He knows the construction work will get going again soon.

Doris and Jose are both unemployed. They both need work. There are millions of people in the United States who are out of work.

There are other unemployed people who are not counted in the government's unemployment figures. These people are called "discouraged workers."

A "discouraged worker" is a person who would and could work if a job were available. Discouraged workers are people who have been replaced by machines. They have given up looking for work. They feel it is hopeless.

Are there any discouraged workers in your community? We must help these people. Follow The ADVANCER every week to learn how you can help.

BE HEALTHY

Drugs and You

Don't depend on your friends to tell you about drugs. Depend on the facts. Learn the facts in The ADVANCER.

The first drugstore was the woods. They were full of leaves, seeds, roots, plants and ferns. These were the only drugs for hundreds of years.

The science of chemistry made better drugs from the old plant recipes. The chemical salicin is found in the bark of the willow tree. It is a strong painkiller. Quinine comes from the bark of the cinchona tree. It is used to treat the disease of malaria. Morphine and codeine are powerful painkillers. They come from the juice of a certain poppy (a flower).

What Are Medicines?

Medicines are good drugs. Medicines make changes in the body that help the body. The corner drugstore is full of many kinds of drugs. They help us fight pain and disease.

Hundreds of drugs have been made from plants and other natural things.

They have been put into pills, capsules, or liquid medicines. These drugs are good when used as medicine. But remember—All drugs are bad if they are used in the wrong way or abused.

Prescription drugs are drugs that can be bought only with a doctor's prescription. These drugs are also called medicinal drugs. These drugs could be dangerous. They must be used exactly as the doctor orders. The doctor tells you how much medicine to take and when to take it.

Nonprescription drugs are drugs that do not need a prescription. They can be bought "over the counter." They are called patent medicines, too.

Your family medicine chest is probably filled with many kinds of drugs—pills to ease aches and pain, to relax, to sleep or pills to wake up!

You should never take drugs of any kind from anyone but an adult you trust—your parents, doctor, dentist, or nurse. Don't take vitamins, aspirin, or any other kind of medicine from a stranger, or even a friend. Don't take medicine that the doctor has prescribed for another member of your family. It could be harmful to you.

Taking the prescribed amount of medicine is good for you. Taking too much medicine is called and overdose, or "O.D." This is harmful and can kill you. A leading cause of accidental death among small children is taking an overdose of aspirin.
