Things to do (once it's safe)

- Go to a concert
- Sit in a classroom with 100s of people
- Have a picnic with friends
- Never use zoom again
- Go to an amusement park
- Take a trip by airplane
- Eat inside of a restaurant
- Shake a stranger's hand
- Do karaoke
- Walk around the mall for hours

To a Future Me,

So many things, all out of your control, have caused the lives of millions to change drastically. Because of this, remember to never take frivolous moments for granted. Things you used to avoid are now impossible. If these things are possible again, remember what it was like to be unable to do it. Remember the chaos of the beginning. The not knowing if you'd be able to work on site or learn in a physical classroom. Remember to not be sucked into the chaos. The things that have to happen, will happen. Don't worry about that, only the things you can control are worth the worry.

Sincerely,

You on December 3rd
