One suggestion to lower your electric bill is to seal them carefully. Certain measures may be more cost effective than others, depending upon where you live.

1. High-Efficiency Air Conditioners

When you replace your old air conditioner, choose a high-efficiency air conditioner. It can keep you cool using less energy, and that can lower your bill. And, the added efficiency can even pay for itself in the long run. Plus, Edison helps with a rebate of $42 to $70 per air conditioner.

2. Pre-cooler

If you have a central air conditioning unit and live in a very warm climate, adding a pre-cooler can improve your system's efficiency. Pre-coolers attach directly to the condenser section and pre-cool the incoming air so your air conditioner can work less hard. Edison offers a $100 cash rebate on approved pre-coolers.

3. Central Heat Pump

A heat pump is a year-round heating and cooling system. In the summer, it works as an air conditioner. But depending upon where you live, that can keep you cool using less energy, and that can lower your bill. And, the added efficiency can even pay for itself in the long run. Plus, Edison helps with a rebate of $42 to $70 per air conditioner.

4. Energy Saving Tips Booklet

"Tips for a Cool Summer" will give you even more ways to save on your cooling bill. It covers things you can do to limit your need for air conditioning and tips on the most energy-efficient cooling appliances. Best of all, it's free. Call 1-800-952-5062 and a Southern California Edison representative will send you free booklet right away.
Midnight Star Rocks...

Midnight Star has been in the record business for a relatively short time—five years to be exact. But this nine-member, Cincinnati-based unit put its stamp on the term "techno-funk" in such a way that it has become one of the most recognized dance bands in the United States. Midnight Star’s new album, Planetary Invasion, proves that they are not only "in" on the contemporary "in" music scene. That comes as no big surprise to Reggie Caldwell, coleader and leader of the group, who states: "From the very beginning, it was obvious to us that we had a combination of people with the potential to do many things that had never been done before." An understatement, to say the least! The group’s last album, No Parking on the Dance Floor, produced three hit singles and resulted in Midnight Star being the only Black group to attain platinum sales in 1983, and double platinum sales (2 million in sales) in 1984.

A group that appeals to the body, heart, and soul.

Midnight Star is a group that appeals to the body, heart, and soul. They have been in the record business for only five years (In 1984, the group was awarded "R&B Album of the Year" by the National Association of Record Merchandisers and the "Ampex Golden Reel Award" for their hit single "Operator") but their sound is so well defined that it is hard to believe they have been in the business for so short a time.

The group was formed in 1976 on the campus of Kent State University in Kent, Ohio. Although its members were employed as students, initially, the group would awaken Belinda into Reggie’s dorm room to rehearse at 3:00 a.m. until 4:00 a.m. Their sound was so unique that they were able to tour the United States and Canada before they even had a recording contract.

"Midnight Star" is a group that is not afraid to mix different styles of music. They incorporate elements of funk, jazz, and rock into their own unique style of music. Their sound is so well-defined that it is hard to believe they have been in the business for so short a time.

A special tribute — William E. Douthit, president of the Urban League of Metropolitan St. Louis, was recently honored by business and civic leaders for 25 years of outstanding community service. Wayman F. Smith III, vice president, corporate affairs, Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc., (left) presented a rare, atmospherically powered timepiece to Douthit during the Urban League's special tribute dinner. Douthit will assume the position of chairman of the board and continue to assist the local social service agency with fund raising and development. Right: National Urban League president, John E. Jacob (right) and Mrs. Ina Boon, NAACP Region IV director, join Wayman F. Smith III in presenting Bill Douthit at the dinner predicator hosted by Anheuser-Busch.

Johnson, president, National Council of Negro Women, and Maile Bishop, director of player relations, National Football League, at the Detroit kickoff.

A special cancer prevention awareness campaign for black Americans, one of the nation's highest cancer risk groups, was launched by the National Cancer Institute (NCI) at a Detroit kickoff that attracted leaders from many fields. Officials of NCI, a federal health research agency, are joining those of major black organizations in a Joint Health Venture, a community-based, long-range effort to drive down cancer incidence and deaths among the nation's largest minority group. Recording artist Aretha Franklin, chief campaign spokesperson, currently is featured in television ads urging blacks to place a toll-free telephone call to 1-800-243-CARe for cancer free cancer prevention information.

Dear Tabitha,

I am 16 years old and away from my folks and friends. I've moved from state to state and in its been a real adjustment. I feel too caught up in trying to keep my head above water. I am a very poor student but I am under paid so I just have funds enough to keep and cool a frosty pool so I can run my car out. So, please excuse me.
