O.J.C. COPE Program on the Move...

by Hazel Allen

THE O.J.C. Correctional Officer Program Education provides the opportunity for the first set of cadets, Friday June 21, although this was the end of a vigorous training session, it was just the beginning of a meaningful career.

The COPE program was organized to prepare cadets for the Gulf Academy in the 6 week training session and then on to their job assignments.

Two years of intensive training had prepared them not only physically but academically and psychologically.

Awards were given for most...

A trip which should have been a vacation to Rome was instead a weeklong trip to Addis Ababa. The rains had returned and the sidewalks were green. The streets were beginning to fill up again, there were men now bustling about the roads, the roads were muddy. The farmers had long waited for the rain because it meant that the land was soft and plowed and planted. But the rain came at an unfortunate time, for the crops would rot in the fields.

Tips Brochure...

If your summer electric bills seem to increase with the temperature, here are a few suggestions that could lower your electric cooling costs. But read them carefully. Certain measures may be more cost-effective than others depending upon when you live.

1. High-Efficiency Air Conditioner
   - When you replace your old air conditioner, choose a high-efficiency unit.
   - It can keep you cool using less energy and that can lower your bill. And, the added efficiency can even pay for itself in the long run. Plus, Edison helps with a rebate of $43 for qualified customers.

2. Pre-cooler
   - If you have a central air conditioning unit and live in a very warm climate, adding a pre-cooler can improve your system's efficiency.
   - Pre-cooler attach directly to the condenser section and pre-cool the incoming air so your air conditioner can work on less energy. Edison offers a $100 cash rebate on approved pre-cookers.

3. Central Heat Pump
   - A heat pump is a year-round heating and cooling system. In summer, it works as an air conditioner by removing heat from inside your house and pumping it outside.
   - In the winter, a heat pump extracts heat from the outside air and moves it through your home. This is two to three times more efficient than regular systems. Install a new heat pump and you may qualify for a $495 rebate. Or replace an older model with a new, high-efficiency heat pump for a $425 rebate.

4. Free Energy Tips Booklet
   - "Hot Tips for a Cool Summer" will give you even more ways to save on your cooling bills. It covers things you can do to limit your need for air conditioning and tips on the most energy-efficient cooling appliances.
   - Best of all, it's free. Call 1-800-952-5062 and a Southern California Edison Representative will send you a free booklet right away.

Midnight Star Rocks...

Midnight Star has been in the record business for a relatively short time—five years to be exact. But this nine-member, Cincinnati-based unit put its stamp on the contemporary music scene in a dynamic fashion that Midnight Star has become one of the most notable groups in the record business for a relatively short time—five years to be exact. But this nine-member, Cincinnati-based unit put its stamp on the contemporary music scene in a dynamic fashion that Midnight Star has become one of the most notable groups in the record business.

Midnight Star's last album, Planetary Invasion, is an eight-track collection of dance-and-romance tracks that utilize the very latest in electronic-percussion sounds and keyboard technology. But we concentrate more on energy and good music than on special effects," says Bobby Lovelace, the group's newest member. "He must come from the heart.

Midnight Star's music comes from the body, as well, judging by the album-opening "Body Snatchers," a hard-driving bit of electro-boogie. Other cuts guaranteed to turn out your next house-party are "Duration," a funky, synth-crafted attack on Mr. Bell, and "Courious," with its subtle love-to-low grooves. Listen to Midnight Star's new album, Planetary Invasion, and prove that Midnight Star is a group that appeals to the body, heart and soul.

The group was formed in 1976 on the campus of Kent State University in California where its members were enrolled as students. Initially, the group would sneak Belinda into Sigma's dorm room to rehearse "at librarian radio volume," but in 1979 the group left school to pursue music on a full-time professional basis. Upon learning of their desire to perform for record company A&R reps at a trade convention in New York City, the group really decided to make the big move. "We decided that the Belyt Hillfils." Jeff Cooper recalls. "All our equipment, stereo, dress, you name it—were stowed into one truck.

Word of the group's performance at that showcase reached Solar President, Dick Griffey in Los Angeles. He went to see them for himself and was impressed with the group's incredible showmanship, songwriting skills, and mastery of a large array of instruments. Subsequently signed them to a recording agreement, and while the group's first three albums made an impact on the charts, it was Midnight Star's fourth album, Planetarian Invasion, that brought new listeners into the Mid-night Star fold.

Midnight Star was awarded "R&B Album of the Year" by the National Association of Record Merchandisers and the "Ampex Golden Reel Award" for their hit-single "Belinda," with its subtle love-to-low groove.

"Today My Love," the duet by Belinda Langston and Melon Green on that album sums it up with a classic wedding-day song, proving that Midnight Star is a group that appeals to the body, heart and soul.

The group has been featured in an hour-long video produced by Gary Dellatto (in conjunction with Black Entertainment Television), the video is available for sale and is distributed by Home Video U.S.A.

Discussing the new album, Roger describes Planetarian Invasion as "a communication of our desire to please our audience and bring new listeners into the Midnight Star fold." In essence, Midnight Star wants to "Rock the World."

Religious Leaders Rally in Support of Church of Scientology

Los Angeles - Emmanuel Baptist church director Father Paul Ryan, in Los Angeles to confer with the National Church of Scientology officials, spoke at a rally of more than 1,000 people who gathered at Scientology headquarters here.

Father Ryan, principal of the downtown Los Angeles Baptist ministerial study groups, and one of the top six nationalists in the state, announced that he was about to fly to Portland for an emergency meeting of religious leaders who will be assembling in that city to formulate specific plans for preserving religious freedom in the face of the allegedly unconstitutional decision rendered by a Portland jury against the Church of Scientology.

Also speaking at the rally was Reverend William Luke, pastor of the Western Avenue Church of God in Los Angeles and secretary of the California Committee on Religious Freedom. Reverend Luke also announced his participation in the emergency meeting in Portland later today.

"Religious leaders all over the world look to the United States for the essential model for its freedom of religion as a traditional standard," Father Ryan told the crowd. "I am here because I am deeply concerned about the fact that a jury has been allowed to render a decision concerning the religious activities of Scientology's disciples and thereby threaten this church, religious freedom. If this decision is allowed to stand, there is no religion in the world that can hope to preserve its own religious liberty."

Father Ryan said he was hopeful that the upcoming meeting of religious leaders in Portland would result in the formation of an international watch-dog commission to protect religious freedom.

"Only a worldwide, interdenominational watchdog organization can ensure the preservation of religious liberty," Father Ryan said.

"This is a situation that must be dealt with by every religion in the world, and I intend to try to promote this at the meeting in Portland this afternoon."
