The Seven-Up Co. First To Sell Major Franchise To Black Businessmen

Flint, Michigan, June 10, 1985 - The Seven-Up Bottling franchise in the United States to be owned 100 percent by Black Businessmen.

The announcement of the historic sale to Michigan Businessmen M. Barnett, Mel Farr and Charles L. Wills was made today by Edward W. Frenkel, president and chief executive officer of The Seven-Up Company.

"At The Seven-Up Company, we are sensitive that our business activities make good social sense," Frenkel said. "We are interested in making sure that our efforts with Black and minority America have economic opportunities in one of this country's major economic and commercial industries. We are talking about economic trade, not economic aid."

B. Barnett, Mel Farr and Charles Wills have ownership of the nation's first 100 percent Black-owned soft drink franchise.

Chuck Wells is successful business executive in the state of Michigan.

The purchase of the Seven-Up Bottling Company of Flint is not only an historic occasion for the soft drink industry, but also one which has a $22 million economic impact on the Flint/Saginaw area.

The new bottling company is named Barnett, Farr & Wills Seven-Up Bottling Company of Flint. Its central Saginaw/Flint territory encompasses six counties - Genesee, Oakland, Saginaw, Shiawassee and Tuscola, with a population of nearly one million people. All soft drink products are bottled fresh at a 90,000-square-foot bottling facility at 2035 West Road in Saginaw.

Midnight Star Rocks...

Midnight Star has been in the record business for a relatively short time - five years to be exact. But this nine-member, Centennial-based unit has its stamp on the term "R&B-rock" in such a dynamic fashion that Midnight Star has become one of the leaders on the contemporary music scene.

That comes as no big surprise to Reggie Calloway, co-founder and leader of the group, who states: "From the very beginning, it was obvious to us that we had a combination of people with the potential to do many things..."

An understatement, to say the least! The group's last album, No Parking on the Dance Floor, produced three hit singles and resulted in Midnight Star being the only R&B group to attain platinum sales in 1983, and double platinum sales in 1984. Midnight Star's newest album, Planetarian Inversion, is an eight-song collection of dance-and-romance tracks that utilize the very latest in electronic percussion sounds and keyboard technology. "But we concentrate more on energy and good music than on special effects," says Bobby Lovelace, the group's newest member, "we make music..."

Midnight Star's music comes from the body, as well, judging by the album-opening "Body Snatch," a hard-driving bit of electro-boogie. Other cuts guaranteed to turn out your next house-party are "Openers," a funky synth-crafted attack on Ms. Bell and "Courtesan," with its subtle lover-to-lover groove. Listen to Midnight Star switch moods as easily as it eases into the deliciously sweet "Today My Love." The dart by Belinda Mansion and Malcolm Gentry on that ballad turns it into a classic wedding-day song, "I'm not going to be a Fool" that Midnight Star Is... a group that appeals to the body, heart and soul.

The group was formed in 1976 on the campus of Kentucky State University in Frankfort where its members were enrolled as students. Initially, the group would sneak Belinda into Reggie's dorm room to rehearse at "low-powered radio volume," but in 1979 the group left school to pursue music on a full-time professional basis. Upon learning of a chance to perform for record company A&R reps at a time of extreme in New York City, the group really decided to make the big move. "We looked like the Beverly Hillbillies," Jeff Cooper recalls. "All our equipment, stereo, dynamic - you name it - were stuffed into one truck.

"We judged the performance at that showcase reached to the blockbusting "Freak-A-Zoid," "Slow Jam" and title cut) that put them on the map. "R&B Album of the Year" by the National Association of Recording Industry (NARAS), the group would earn Gold and Silver awards for the hit-maker status. Also, the group has been featured in an hour-long video produced by Gary Calamar (in conjunction with Black Entertainment Television), the video is available for sale and is distributed by Home Video U.S.A.

Discussing the new album, Reggie discloses Planetarian Inversion is "a communication of our desire to please our audience and bring new listeners into the Midnight Star world." In essence, Midnight Star wants to "Rock the World."
Religious Leaders Rally in Support of Church of Scientology

Los Angeles - Ernest J. Washek, the legal director of the Church of Scientology in Los Angeles, California, was joined Thursday by more than 1,000 religious leaders who gathered at the weekend meeting of religious leaders who are meeting in Los Angeles to support the Church of Scientology.

Father Ryan, principal of the Jesuit Theological College in Australia and one of the top six religious leaders in the country, offered a prayer for the church's freedom and highlighted the importance of religious freedom in the face of the increasing hate crimes.

The rally was convened by Reverend William Lake, pastor of the Western Avenue Church of God in Los Angeles, and secretary of the California Committee on Religious Freedom. Reverend Lake also announced his participation in the emergency meeting in Portland later today.

Fish are still biting at Sadeh's Catfish pond. I have spent part of these 3 Saturdays fishing in this beautiful pond and was successful each time with two catches of 20 fish in the two poorer class and several in the pond to prove and a half.

Last Saturday my wife Blime and I went with our long time friends, Bob and Adele Hudson of Sunnymead, up to the pond to fish and even managed to catch both fish and fishing Bill at Steve and his lovely wife Ruby's Oasis. Steve's pond is located at 21533 Yucca Road. The phone number is 714/877 8884.

Ruby Ollet is a delightful lady who works in the snack shop where fishing tackle, bait, cold drinks and sandwiches are available.

The pond is open from 7 to 7 on Saturday and Sundays. There is an entrance fee payable that comes over me when I visit Steve and Ruby's early in the morning when the sun is cool and fresh, the birds are singing and the fish are biting. The area is spacious and quiet power is good for the body and mind. I recommend trying it at least once, its excellent therapy and the fish are delicious grain fed channel catfish.

Improving Education Is Everybody’s Job

The Department of the Interior recently announced that it was making a major effort to improve the arts in schools. The Interior Department has long been a source of controversy and criticism for its role in the National Endowment for the Arts. However, the decision to fund arts programs in schools is a welcome step in the right direction.

Some may argue that funding arts programs is a waste of money. They may say that the arts are not as important as other subjects, such as math and science. However, I believe that the arts are just as important as other subjects, if not more so. The arts provide a way for students to express themselves and to develop their creativity. They also provide a way for students to learn about different cultures and to develop an appreciation for the arts.

Furthermore, arts programs can help to improve students' academic performance. Studies have shown that students who are involved in arts programs tend to have higher grades and to be more engaged in school.

In conclusion, I believe that it is important for schools to improve their arts programs. By doing so, we can help to ensure that all students have the opportunity to develop their creativity and to learn about different cultures. We can also help to improve students' academic performance and to ensure that they have a well-rounded education.

Tall tales live on by Julius Bond

Some of our state’s most cherished myths are not credited with much longevity. This is probably because they are not grounded in fact. Yet, there are some myths that have persisted for a long time.

One such myth is that the minimum wage is a job stimulant. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the average minimum wage in 1985 was around $5.15 per hour. However, this wage is not enough to support a family, let alone a single person.

Another myth is that teenagers are a drag on the economy. However, teenagers have proven to be a valuable resource for businesses. They are often willing to work for lower wages, which can help businesses to keep their costs down.

In conclusion, myths can play an important role in shaping our beliefs about the world. However, it is important to be critical of the myths we accept and to question the facts behind them.
