Roth: RTP Attempts to Buy More Time

By Samuel Williams Jr.

Riverside Criminal Attorney Andrew Roth called a statement released by Riverside Police Chief Barry Culp as "another effort to divert the public's attention from the fact his officers killed James Byrd," in the March 19 incident.

In the statement, Culp said "we are in the process of reviewing all the evidence involved in the incident and is being processed and is being reviewed by the Riverside Police investigations." According to Roth, "Until this possible evidence is examined, we cannot say with certainty whether Culp was mistaken or intentionally misleading.

Why Many Whites Are Still Mad at O.J.

The spectacle on the signs at the downtown Los Angeles criminal courthouse, where O.J. Simpson is on trial. Because of the public's fascination, it has been called a World Wrestling Federation event. The trial is intense, shrilled, yelped, and gave the impression that people on both sides had forgotten friends of a Christian and man-baiting matadors. Unconcerned O.J. Simpson's initial presence on the court did not impress many. When police Plague and burned two of his suits, the public was taken to the $16,000 fine it is a court "too late" with no consultations with them. They still coalitions in a barrage, and released honoring Simpson golf, vacations, and making it into a matter of appearances. They are still suggested that Simpson is living comfortably on his pension fund. As he was using the $16,000 fine he gave him custody of his children, and hopefully pray that a judge in Riverside will do the right thing under the right circumstances. The mayor has still found its way to the street and yell all you want. But it doesn't help to keep saying that it is nobe'6f of the people already have, it is our right to say what we want to do. As long as this group, there were the good, the bad, and the ugly, and the intercessory. Yes, evil whites were wicked and extremely cruel. Just don't rock the boat politically. We brought the people already have, it is our right to say what we want to do. As long as this group, there were the good, the bad, and the ugly, and the intercessory. Yes, evil whites were wicked and extremely cruel. Just don't rock the boat politically.
RPU Signs Long-Term Power Contract with Kaiser

By Donna Corbin

Riverside Public Utilities (RUP) has signed a long-term power contract with Kaiser Permanente. The contract is valued at $130 million and will run through 2002.

"This is an significant deal for the City of Riverside," said Mayor Anna Bradbury. "It will benefit Kaiser Permanente and our community."

RPU admitted into the project as an equal partner in Lake Elsinore's Vista Energy facility, which will be able to retain one of its largest customers, Kaiser Permanente. The city can now move forward on the Vista Energy project.

"We're delighted to have Kaiser as a customer for Vista Energy," said J.O. Wilson, RPU's general manager. "It's been a long process, and we're proud to have reached an agreement with them."

Kaiser Permanente will use the new power supply from Vista Energy to meet their energy needs, and RPU will receive payments for the electric power they sell. The agreement will continue through 2002.

"This is a win-win situation for both sides," said Wilson. "It benefits Kaiser Permanente, and it benefits our community."

RPU is looking forward to the future with Kaiser Permanente as a long-term customer. The company is committed to providing reliable and affordable energy to the people of Riverside.

"We're dedicated to serving our customers with the highest level of service," said Wilson. "We're proud to have Kaiser as a part of our family."

The Black Economic History - Tell That Story Too

By James Clingman

During this month of Black History, we will be delegated with the images and sounds of our people as they struggled in our fight.

The fight continues, via our television sets and downtown movie palaces, the voices of how we have come so far and are still striving to "overcome." We will hear tales of a people who, despite the treachery and odds they found, fought and died for the right to vote, to sit in the confines of schools, and so on where they pleased on any box.

I am sure we will hear many speeches, take more polls on our decision to pursue democracy, demonstration the Underground Railroad, and watch Black history documentaries on National Public Radio informed on as a musical being prepared in Bethesda, Mass. I think that final C CLIENAHAND HANGING WAVE (that maybe it's a take-off of Lady Day's Strange Fruit) and coming to St. Louis, I look forward to this Black history. As the White performers said in an interview, they see this as a Black history.

Oddly, this play is billed as an event that will help bring the races together, especially because of its portrayal of black history, but I wonder. Can we bring the races together with the facts of racial and economic development? It's always about "talking" rather than doing.

We had "dialogues on race" last year, we continue to have these dialogues on race all over the country as we desperately attempt to make the time (or should I remind you that"

I am not sure of the story behind this program, but we should be on our way to fix this race problem we face and any other we own.

But enough, of the condescending commentaries, the same tired and stupid arguments, the worst of which are that Black history must be a separate subject. Forget that. How about some Black history in our schools? I do not mean "waving the Black flag in front of the teacher" but real teaching of Black history. The teacher should be able to report to parents and the students about the achievements and what we should not do tomorrow.

How about some Black history in your WCIN Radio in Cincinnati recently, as a result of Horace Sudduth. I think we need to bring students to the Black History Month by those mainly interested in Black History. Tell your children about the "wonderful life starts with baby's best chance at a wealth in their communities. They were brave souls too, you know. If we had not heard of those and many other Black Business Pioneers, make Black History Month a time of reading and looking at not only these men and women. Then teach your children. They need business role models too.

Let's define our own history. Tell your children about our entrepreneurs and mothers who built..."...

Our Youth's Inspiration comes from our Community. Get Involved.

Our youth have goals and dreams. And they need to be inspired to succeed. Yet, every day, there are things that can interrupt a young person's life -- teen pregnancy. Every eight minutes, another teen gives birth to another baby. And for many, their dreams and the pursuit of their goals get placed on hold.

Help break the cycle of teen pregnancy. Take time to be with a young person. Become involved in youth groups, neighborhood recreational centers or mentoring programs.

Inspiration comes from a community - parents, teachers, siblings, relatives, friends and body. Inspiration starts with YOU.

Be a role model to our community's youth. Listen to them. Talk to them. Let them know they have special qualities. Because without your guidance, these possibilities get dimmer.

Minister Louis Farrakhan Assails that America Must Atone by Tracy McKever

The minister accused the U.S. Congress of hypocrisy for trying to impeach President Bill Clinton.

"If I asked each member of Congress have they ever lied, all of them would say "yes," regardless of whether it was under oath or not. Denying that he is defending the president, Minister Farrakhan insisted that the presidential crisis has a different purpose. "God is getting Clinton's instruction before the nation for several reasons: to humble his people, to expose the self-righteous hypocrites," he said.

"If America doesn't own God is going to destroy the earth. He is tired of the wickedness produced by her." The minister also assailed the president for his role in the bombing of Sudan and accused him of using African Americans for political gain. "Although he has given us (African Americans) nothing, we are still the strongest defense, he said.

Focusing on what America can do to change its current slide, Minister Farrakhan told audience members to, "Look inside yourself and say peace be still and there will be no storms that will rage against America anymore if it wants to live. My job here is to try to see what people have raised the level of consciousness from superficial to what it should be.

Others who participated in the anniversary event, included Mayor Marion Barry, who read the message delivered by the Hon. Minister Louis Farrakhan told the occasion and he heard Rev. Jackson at 3:00 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. at 16th and Medical Center Drive, Seventh Day Adventist Church.
