Holmes said that the officer then accused him of being under the influence of drugs. The officer repeatedly told him to look at his eyes as a test for drug use.

Holmes said he told the officer before and after that he had used any illegal drugs. When the officer then instructed Holmes to unbutton his pocket jacket on the inside of his pants, Holmes refused. After Holmes refused, the officer continued to repeat that he was under the influence of drugs. Holmes was then told to take a seat in the patrol car. After Holmes refused, the officer then told him to take off his shoes and socks.

Holmes was arrested and taken to the Riverside Police Department where he was held for nearly five minutes. After that, a judge ordered Holmes to be held on $20,000 bail.

City Councilman Has Surgery

By Cheryl Brown

Amiel Moore, second Ward Councilman is home resting after surgery that will reportedly keep him out of the City Council for four to six weeks said his wife, Warren. "He is doing very well, very well. The Lord has really blessed him. He doesn’t even look sick,” she exclaimed. She was reflecting on how far the Lord had brought him. Not wanting to be specific about the surgery she said he will talk about it when he is fully recovered.

SB 989 by Senator Byron Sher marks an important step forward in California by phasing out MTBE, a gasoline additive that has caused significant environmental problems. The alternatives for coming up with a new formulation for gasoline are limited, but SB 989 is an important step in that direction.

The bill ensures that there will be no loss in air quality in the process of coming out of the governor's office to eliminate MTBE or transition it to a gasoline additive. This is especially important now when maintaining the gains that have already been achieved under the Clean Air Act and the Reformed Fuel Program is critical to the success of California's long-term battle against smog. Meeting those high standards won't be easy. But after all the controversy over MTBE, we cannot afford to choose an alternative unless we are assured that it won't create more problems of its own and that the risks associated with its use have been thoroughly evaluated. That's why SB 989 is so important.

Water pollution from leaking underground fuel storage tanks is also a major concern for many communities. In addition to the guarantees for clean air, SB 989 also requires that critically important improvements be made to underground fuel storage tanks in order to prevent future leakage gases.

Together these provisions promise to deliver real progress on a critical issue for all Californians.

- Keep our current air quality standards, so we will continue to reduce smog and air pollution in California.
- Fix underground gasoline containers that are leaking chemicals into our soil and water supplies.
- Ensure that gasoline will continue to be available at reasonable prices.
- Ensure that gasoline will meet clean burning air quality standards as the state of California phases out MTBE, a gasoline additive.

SB 989 has passed by both houses and now awaits the signature of Governor Gray Davis. What you can do to get the bill signed into law:

- Call your legislators in Sacramento at 916-445-2811 and urge them to support SB 989 so we can continue to make progress towards a clean and healthy environment for all Californians.
- Write to your state legislators and urge them to support SB 989.

Harris Hit in Head on Collision, Still Plans Husband's 18th Anniversary

The Black Voice News

The Master's Men Ministry is a new organization at St. Paul AME Church. The pastors eagerly anticipate the growth of this ministry, and those wanting to be officers be trained. The third day of the 28th Annual Harvest Celebration was "Family Harvest at Wind of the Spirit." Pastor Donald Ball from Faithful Central Baptist Church Los Angeles California. Pastor Bell is Known for his radio program "Let's Talk Underwood." Pastor Bell has appeared on the Oprah Winfrey show. This year’s theme, for everyone spiritual minded "The Harvest and come directly at her. There was nowhere for her to go. As he hit her, her car rolled over and over and over the embankment until it came to a rest. "I could neither hear nor see. At the beginning of the year, my husband was transferred to Los Angeles. When she came to a rest, she looked at him and realized he could n’t help her. The car landed upside down and she used the chief exit on the left to pull her self out so she could pull herself out of the car. She also got some help from a woman who was driving behind her. No one, the driver who hit her, the police or the paramedics could believe she walked out of the car alive. Someone had a cell phone and I called my husband who was asleep and came directly to her."

Carroll and Brother Roy Harris

"In-fact he couldn’t believe it and he got nervous. I told him that the hospital they were taking her to and the man hit her," Harris said and related.

In the meantime she is hoping to facilitate her husband's 18th Appreciation Service at Temple Missionary Baptist on October 17 at 6:00 p.m.

Harris is the pastor of Tabernacle Mt. Calvary Holy Church and the host of The Original Gospel Hour 9:30 A.M. Pastor Ray Turner is also explaining hers went a little deeper. "This was mandatory training for each of my ministers and they have to now come back and teach the Trustees and the Stewards in the church. Leadership is more than membership. It is easy to be a member but leadership takes training and talent," she said.

"The workshop was also mandatory for the other churches as it prepared them for the new millennium.

Rev. Smith said, "The (Ingram) was challenging and thought provoking. I stimulated our men to take on new leadership roles in the church and in the community, and gave a new focus to officers."

Sugar Shane Says Move over Oscar and Tito

Mosley knocks out Rivera.

By LELAND STEIN III
Black Voice News Sports Editor

TEMECULA - Many of the 3,647 in attendance at the Pechanga Entertainment Center thought Sugar Shane Mosley should have engaged an easier opponent for his first fight in the welterweight division.

Don't question Mosley!

He and his father, who doubles as his mentor, knew exactly what they were doing when they relinquished the IBF lightweight title belts he successfully defended eight times.

In his biggest payday to date, $760,000, the Pomona native knocked out Puerto Rican fighter Wilfredo Rivera, now 30-4-1, in the 10th round.

Mosley, 28, is now pushing for big-time paydays with Felix "Tito" Trinidad and Oscar De La Hoya.

In fighting Rivera, Mosley (32-0, 30 KO's), had to gain 12 pounds. Convention wisdom says when a fighter moves up in weight that drastically, they usually lose some power.

In this fight Mosley proved that he still has the hand quickness and foot speed. He also showed all, that he can power punch with the best in his weight class.

Said Mosley: "The best welterweights in the world are now Trinidad, Oscar and Sugar Shane Mosley. I showed I have welterweight hitting power tonight."

Who's to doubt him now? Mosley has now elevated himself in the consciousness of the fight aficionados throughout the country. With this rise in acknowledgement, Mosley is primed to join the ranks of multi millionaire boxers.

MOVING ON UP: Mosley and his Dad gambled on a move up from lightweight to welterweight. They were so confident in themselves they gave up the IBF lightweight title to compete in the lucrative division with De La Hoya and Trinidad.

BATTLE ROYAL: Rivera had only lost to Pernell Whitaker and Oscar De La Hoya in his outstanding career. He gave Mosley a tough battle in the loss.

Los Angeles - Just what an styling and trusted football team needs! A little bit of drama into the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum before 43,795 came the Oregon State Beavers. This was an opponent the USC Trojans really wanted and needed to see.

"Yes," the Beavers were 1-1 coming into the game. However, there is a USC memory of the back of the Beavers' that's as high as a 30-foot brick wall.

If any college team has ever had a personal "beat," it's the Trojans versus Oregon State. The numbers are staggering:

- USC leads the series 52-7-4 since 1914.
- USC has won 25 consecutive games, dating back to 1966.
- The Trojans have not lost to the Beavers in the last 15 years. Since 1985.

On this historic, lingering "beat," the Trojans needed to reaffirm their identity and their legacy. As the clock ticked away, the Trojans needed to nail the Beavers down on their home turf.

Aretha Franklin tells all in From These Roots, her own moving words, the earned her mythic status. Now, in tells it like it is, the way she sees this century's most fascinating revealed. The result is of .gospel, anointed the successor some famous rivals.

Her soulful, soaring voice has earned her mythic status. Now, in her own moving words, the woman behind the myth is revealed. The result is Aretha: From These Roots (Villard Books), a captivating self-portrait of one of this century's most fascinating artists, as Aretha Franklin as it was, as the songs she sang. And it tells it like it is, the way she sees, the way she lived.

For the first time anywhere, Aretha tells the story of her meteoric rise from singing gospel in her father's church in Detroit to topping the charts and winning fifteen Grammys, the most ever for a female performer. It's all here -- the triumphs and the heart-breaking pits.

Born three months after the attack on Pearl Harbor, Aretha was a child prodigy of the golden age of gospel, anschul the same age as Mahalia Jackson and Clara Ward. The daughter of a world-famous preacher, her father always believed in her and her gift, telling Aretha that "someday you'll sing for kings and queens." As Aretha writes, "Prize was something Daddie gave us in abundance. I never felt inferior or less than. I was blessed to grow up in an environment where self-worth was understood."

In Aretha: From These Roots, the singer paints in rich detail a vivid picture of the Detroit of her childhood, a Detroit long gone; the storefront churches, the basement parties, the evenings at the Aretha roller rink, and the explosive R&B shows. She documents her life as a single teenage mother, working while attending school and coping with two challenging marriages and, later, romantic relationships that saw the woman of both tremendous joy and unshakable heartache.

Along the way, we meet the characters who lit up her life: her charismatic father, the Reverend C.L. Franklin, "the man with the million-dollar voice," Sam Cooke, the man of her dreams; her singing sisters Erma and Carolyn; her manager brother, Cecil, the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr.

Aretha Franklin signed with Columbia Records where she recorded several albums (with a few minor hits) and toured extensively around America. She wrote, "I'm back, I'm back, I'm back." She was also developing a vocal signature. It wasn't anything I did consciously. And it wasn't part of a plan. It was simply me."

At age twenty-four, she switched to Atlantic Records and it was here that Aretha blossomed as a musician. Playing the piano and handling the arrangements herself, she sang songs that shook the world to its roots. In Aretha: From These Roots, Aretha Franklin emerges as a triumphant woman of rare wit, willing to share with us her passion for grace music, great food, and great love affairs. Her book does more than illuminate some of the most exciting songs ever sung; it lays you on the heart and mind of the mesmerizing woman who sang them. Simply put, this is the journey of Aretha's life as it was.

Her book tells the story of her meteoric rise from singing gospel in her father's church in Detroit to topping the charts and winning fifteen Grammys, the most ever for a female performer. It's all here -- the triumphs and the heart-breaking pits.
