Information Management

by Greg Timpany

As the world moves into the 1980's, changes will come and they will go, with very few things remaining the same. One of the few things that will remain the same is the need for information. Society has in the past, and will continue, to thrive on information. Information of all types is needed daily by business, government, and the general public to make necessary decisions.

The need for information will remain, but the methods of gathering and preparing information are changing. According to Business Week Magazine in 1980, there was one electronic work station for every 23 white collar workers employed in the economy. It is projected that by 1989 there will be one electronic work station for every two white collar employees. This will create a tremendous demand for employees who have at least some knowledge about computers and their peripheral devices.

To prepare students for this onslaught of information, the School of Business and Public Administration has developed a new concentration. The Information Management Concentration was developed by Dr. C.E. Tapie Rohm, Jr. The curriculum was designed to prepare students in the methods of using mainframe and microcomputers for decision making purposes.

The concentration will be offered at three levels. At the Bachelor of Arts level there will be four required and two elective courses. At the Bachelor of Science level there will be six required and three elective courses. Three courses will be required at the M.B.A. level. Courses cover topics such as Information Systems Planning (Admn 471), Information Forecasting (Admn 473), Decision Support Systems (Admn 477), and other areas.

The concentration will fall under the auspices of the Marketing and Management Science Department. At present there are two full-time faculty designated to teach the courses. If you have any questions, phone or stop by the Marketing and Management Science Department in Administration 135.

In a related story, the School of Business and Public Administration has received 24 IBM Personal Computers. The PC Lab will be open during the fall quarter. Currently the cont'd on page 3

Costs for Pharmaceuticals at the Health Center

Starting July 1, 1984, the Health Center Pharmacy began charging for Pharmaceuticals. Presciptions will be charged at actual acquisition cost. Over the counter products are charged at actual acquisition cost plus 6% sales tax.

The following are some examples of both presciption and over the counter product prices: one hundred Tetracycline (250 mg.) - $1.60; one cycle of Ortho Novum - 90¢ or $1.00 depending on strength; one hundred Aspirin (5 mg.) -.45¢ plus tax; 100 Tylenol (325 mg.) - .85¢ plus tax. Sales receipts are issued and all prescription drugs are tax deductible.

At this time there are no other fees for any of the other services rendered by the Health Center. The Health Center is open from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. thru July. We will be closed for the month of August and reopen Sept. 3rd.

Students registered for Summer Session and those students who attended Spring quarter and plan to return for Fall quarter are eligible to use the Health Center during the Summer.

The staff at the Health Center wish you a Happy, Healthy summer.

Media Commission Seeking Editors For New Publications

Along with a new designation as a university this fall, Cal State, San Bernardino, will see in action a new organization on campus with the beginning of the 1984-85 school year. During a meeting in May of the Cal State Publications Board, it was unanimously decided to change the name of the Board to bring it into line with some of the new roles it would be undertaking in the forth-coming years. The new Media Commission will have the administrative responsibility for all student publications and broadcast activities under its own code.

The commission anticipates in the years ahead, with the establishment of the new Communications Major, the establishment of a University radio and/or TV station.

Both entities, of course, will provide greater service to the School's area of responsibility. The communications department is also chaired by the newest faculty member of the Commission, Dr. Fred Jandt. Two other new members were selected from the several students who filled out applications in the Spring Quarter. Those new members are Carole Leish and Jose Benavides, who, along with Dr. Jandt, will serve 2 year terms.

At the last meeting of the Spring Quarter the outgoing Commission voted to approve the publication of a summer newspaper of up to six issues. This will enable the students to reap some further benefits from the Associated Student fees they pay.

During the last meeting an excellent presentation was made by the Jolsten organization on preparing a yearbook for the first year that Cal State is a university. At the conclusion of the presentation, the commission voted unanimously to begin advertising immediately for an Editor in Chief for the Yearbook. Josten's has indicated that they are prepared to render every assistance to ensure the delivery of a quality product to the students. The difficulty will probably be in the late start of the yearbook if an Editor is not selected during the summer or early fall. Any individuals who are interested in serving on the Yearbook staff or working as Editor in Chief are urged to contact the Student Union desk for an application. It can be anticipated that the position may receive a

Additionally, specific recommendations were also sought on how best to make it a successful effort on the behalf of the students. Unfortunately, only four responses were elicited from the 38 letters which were sent. The Chair of the Commission was particularly disappointed that the Department of English (his own major) failed to respond in even a negative manner. The Commission has begun to advertise for interested people to be the Editor in Chief of this new publication for the forthcoming school year. Applications are available at the Student

Games Magazine Invites You To Hit Us With Your Best Shot

A close-up of an elephant's eye. The inside of a blender. A shadow cast by a parking meter. The underside of a starfish. For the past seven yuears, the Eyeball Benders section of GAMES, featuring these and hundreds of other surprising and beguiling photographic images, has been one of the best received features of the magazine. For photographer and solver alike, the aim is to see a common object in a new way.

Now GAMES challenges one and all to stump the stumpers by entering "Photo Synthesis," the Eyeball Benders Contest in the July issue of the magazine. Take any object. Zoom in on it. Get inside it. Chase its shadow. Above all, make us see it in a fresh way.

Send in 35mm transparencies or black and white prints (4 x 5) or larger). Each slide or print must have the netant's name and address and the answer on the back (not on separate sheets). Entries will be judged for originality and puzzle value and become the property of GAMES. The best Eyeball Benders produced will be immortalized in a future issue. Grand prize is a JVC videocassette recorder and a video camera. Ten runners-up receive GAMES T-shirts.

Deadline for the contest is October 15, and all entries should be mailed to: "Photo Synthesis," GAMES Mag-azine, 515 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10022.

Safety Award

A faculty member of Cal State, San Bernardino has received a Governor's State Employee Safety Award for 1983.

Dr. David Null of Wrightwood, assistant professor of health science, received the award during a recent ceremony in Sacramento.

Dr. Null was recognized for providing the college with professional assistance in the health and safety field. His services have ranged from environmental monitoring to interpretation of state and federal safety regulations.

"Despite a demanding instructional schedule, Dr. Null has always been a readily accessible resource. Much of the progress seen in the safety management program is due to his generous effort," said Art Butler, director of the Department of Public Safety at Cal State.

Dr. Null joined the Cal State faculty in 1977 after serving as an industrial hygienist at EG&G Idaho, Inc., and Aerojet Nucler, Inc. In addition to environmental health sciences, his areas of expertise include industrial toxiology and nuclear biology.

He earned his bachelor's degree in zoology from UC Riverside, his master's degree in biological sciences from Cal State. Hayward and his Ph.D. in environmental health science from UC Berkely.

Student Union Hours The Student Union will be open from 8:30am to 4pm, Monday thru Friday, for the summer sessions.

Child care will be available this summer for students attending Cal State, San Bernardino.

The Children's Center at the college will offer an enriched program for children of students, staff, faculty and the community. This is the first time summer child care has been available.

Hours are 7:45 a.m. to 5:15 p.m., Monday through Friday from June 20 to July 26. A minimum enrollment of one day per week for two hours per day is required, said Pam Dortch, director of the center.

A morning and afternoon snack will be provided, but parents must provide a sack lunch. Children must be from two to 14 years of age, toilet trained and in good health, she said.

Full-time fees are $50.00 per week per child and $45.00 per week for each additional child in the same family. Part-time fees are $1.50/hour per child and $1.00/hour for an additional child in the same family.

Dear Editor,

I have never seen so many red light runners than here in San Bernardino. It is unbelievable. I have missed a countless number of accidents at intersections.

The worst intersection I have driven through is at the corner of Highland and Arrowhead. The light will turn green for the Arrowhead traffic and it never fails - for the next ten seconds or so cars are going through the red light on Highland. I am amazed that there are not more accidents in this area. Perhaps, like me, drivers have become more cautious, out of necessity, and look both ways before proceeding through a green light.

People should not need to be afraid to drive through a green light. What happened to driving etiquette?

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

I am writing in regards to the June 6, 1984 issue of the Cal State Chronicle. My specific concern is the articles discussing gay right.

Although I am a "straight" person, I believe there could have been a certain amount of validity in the argument for gay rights, had some evidence been presented to back it up. For example, in the section entitled "Straight Talk", the following figure was given: "1 out of 10 men and women are gay or lesbian." Where did this come from? The United States Census Bureau? I sincerely doubt if there has been a nationwide study which has confirmed that statistic. If there is, prove it.

Question 3 discusses the changing of sexuality. One respondent answered to the change of sex by saying: "No, I wouldn't. I am not proud to be gay per se, anymore than a straight person is proud to be a heterosexual." This reflection is clearly a contradiction to the other references in the article which describe the "flaunting of heterosexuality."

In the section on religion and homosexuality, the writer quotes the following passage from the Bible: "Thou shalt not lie with a man as thou would with a woman", and goes on to refer to the other prohibitions; eg. no pork, no lobster, etc. Do these other prohibitions make the earlier one less effective? If so, how?

I have never "seduced" anyone into heterosexuality, as the article accuses, and I do not appreciate being included in this gross generalization or the paranoid conclusion that non-gays are the oppressive majority.

Perhaps if all the inconsistencies and contradictions were cleared up, a case could be made for gay rights, but as it stands, I am to remain a closed minded heterosexual.
