New President

Judy Jones

Thank you. Thank you. Thank you! I am very grateful to those of you who supported me in the general election.

I have already begun to work toward the goals I set in my statement of candidacy (15 April issue).

There have been suggestions and a committee formed to put the survival manual together.

On students at-large serving in A.S. committees, I'm looking into how we can re-work by-laws to include you.

I am adamantly in favor to include of incorporating ASB and the Student Union this coming year.

I want to educate the new officers to the ways and means of ASB before they take over in the fall.

Juan has begun to find people who are interested in joining the Activities Committee.

Accountability will be my guide in these days of Nixon, Dean, Mitchell and the Watergate Hotel.

To start, I spent a total of $10.00 in campaign materials. Hopefully ASB mailboxes will be strategically placed around campus for your comments, questions, suggestions and suggestions. Naturally the trailer door will be open for you to come in and voice your opinions.

I encourage you to investigate ASB and suggest ways of improvement.

Before joining the Cal State faculty in 1970, Dr. Liu was a staff physicist at the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center, where he was involved in research in high energy physics.

The scientist received his undergraduate degree from Presidency College in Calcutta, India, and earned his doctorate in physics from Purdue University in 1965.

As part of the $1,000,000 cost savings program, Mrs. Josten also has the right to back up each policy.

The low student term rate is applied to all of the 50 states, the District of Columbia and 8 of the Canadian Provinces.

The company guarantees that coverage is both renewable and non-cancelable as long as premiums are paid. Rates are guaranteed and cannot be increased; restrictions cannot be added to or premiums reduced.

The student term rate is applicable until the student's studies have been completed, but not later than age 33.

Any student enrolled full time or in night school is eligible for the plan, but the insurance does not start until the student's term coverage has begun and has been increased; restrictions cannot be changed.

A copy of the Life Insurance Plan is enclosed in this issue of the PAWPRINT, if you are interested. Questions about the plan? Contact the PAWPRINT.
Free Summer Class At Cal State L.A.

Students currently enrolled at Cal State San Bernardino will be permitted to attend the Summer Quarter at California State University, Los Angeles, without filling a formal application form, without having to pay an application fee, or without having to pay tuition fees. The plan, now in its fourth year, allows any student in good academic standing at any state university or state college campus to attend Cal State L.A. at age 18 or under. This completely non-discriminatory program can be applied for during the current academic year. The only requirement for admission is that the student be in good academic standing at any state university or state college campus to attend Cal State L.A. at age 18 or under.

Dear Students and Parents:
The enclosed folder explains the United States National Student Association Life Insurance Plan available through the Student Government of Cal State, San Bernardino. The plan was endorsed this plan only after careful consideration of all other plans. Final selection was based on the findings and recommendations of qualified attorneys, accountants and actuaries. Coverage is available to any Cal student at age 18 or over. The complete non-discriminatory plan provides unrestricted access to insurance at budget rates. The folder will enable you to consider the merits of the plan and how it may be incorporated into your family insurance program.

We wish to emphasize the fact that neither Cal State nor the Student Government or the PawPrint is selling insurance. Cal State, as a member of USNSA, is simply making the USNSA Life Insurance Plan available for your consideration.

In conclusion, as we did, that this plan constitutes a substantial savings, send your application directly to USNSA Insurance Trust. A postage free envelope is enclosed.

Student Union Progress Report

The proposed construction of the facility will begin in the summer of 1975 with completion scheduled for the spring or summer of 1977. The materials used in the construction of the facility will go well with the existing buildings on campus. Large laminated beams will run throughout the building, with glass in designated areas used to add to the overall feeling of openness while retaining a feeling of warmth and beauty.

This truly will be a building that will complement the campus and add to the recreational and leisure time activities of Cal-State, San Bernardino's students.

NEED A SHRINK?

Client simulators are needed by the San Bernardino State College Community Counseling Center. As a supplement to our clinical training program, we want to provide our students with an opportunity to be helpful to persons with minor personal concerns.

We are seeking individuals who are regularly active in the study of psychology, who are able to come in for a graduate student in supervised clinical training.

Any interested parties are asked to call the College Counseling Center and no payment is involved.

For More Information, Please Contact: Professor Bruce Allen at 887-6311, extension 480.

SUMMER SESSION AT C.S.C.S.B.

It'll be three-day weekends throughout for students attending the 1974 summer session at California State College, San Bernadino.

An Interview With John Denver
by Bruce Scott

While partaking of a seminar in RCA Records' Studio A in Hollywood one recent Saturday, a group of radio broadcasters and media critics were blessed by a visit from America's guru of the ski set, John Denver. Denver, who was working in nearby Studio B on a new album to follow up his recent chart successes (Rocky Mountain High, Farewell Andromeda, Greatest Hits), waxed on rapidly and smoothly (albeit shallowly), barely skipping in his Southeaster as he fielded a series of questions.

Aside from mentioning that he likes Red Zinger tea, skiing while stoned, and has a slight penchant for making contradictory statements, several interesting Denverisms came through. Excerpts from the interview follow.

Did you enjoy your work in "McCloud"? Was it your first television role?

Denver: I had a real good time. I really love to work with Weave...lot. He's been a vegetarian for six years. It wasn't my first acting role. I did an Owen Marshall show last fall. I just--I wanted to try it and see if I could do it. It was a tough role. I think I'd like to play the bad guy, the mean hombre. If I had the idea about doing a movie playing Johnny Appleseed. Where do you get the ideas for your songs?

Denver: Well, "Annie's Song" -I wrote this on the chairlift in Aspen, on the way up. I fell in love with Annie. A part of that love is that we've always told each other how we feel. I'm very interested in life and what works. And that is what makes it work. This song was written on the chairlift. It takes maybe 12 minutes for the lift. "Farewell Andromeda" was written out of something called EST, Erhard Sensory Training. It's a situation that allows people to get in touch with each other and to play. As I said before, I'm interested in what works. The song came out of the EST experience. I may be in touch at any time in your life when you feel empty, or don't feel good, maybe you should take a chance to take the lift into it. A lot of people who've been through EST training think I've written "Rocky Mountain High" after the EST training. I'd say that's not altogether sitting back with some time to spend...Then I decided to do the EST. One of the experiences of life is listening to yourself, finding yourself--getting in touch with where you are in the universe.
