Friday Night Prohibition

Student Union board members voted Oct. 1 to stop serving alcoholic beverages in the Pub after 8 p.m. on Friday nights when campus dances are in progress. "The main reason for the new policy is that last year we (SU and PFM) almost lost our liquor license because of incidents in the Pub which resulted in fighting," stated AS president Sheryl Hammer.

Crystal Kollross, associate food service director, informed board members that Friday nights have drawn little business. Ms. Kollross suggested, "Since 75% of dance attendees are under the drinking age, more revenue would be made if the Pub were open to all students and only non-alcoholic beverages are served." The SU receives a percentage of the profits from the Pub.

"Campus police have asked individuals attending the dance to leave because they have brought cans and bottles of alcohol on campus, and though they obtained these off campus we are still liable," asserted Lt. Pam Stewart of CSUSB police. If the Pub does not serve alcoholic beverages on these evenings and an alcohol related incident occurs, "We could show proper diligence, which is the key," added Doyle Stansel, Associate Dean of Students.

An evaluation of the new policy will be presented at the December board meeting. SU director, Helga Lingren is in charge of designing the evaluation system. Associated Students movies previously shown in the Student Union lounge will be shown in the Pub during Friday dances. "This will free the lounge area for students attending the dance to get together," suggested Ms. Hammer.

Board members approved a write-off of $31.90 for a debt incurred in December of 83. Ms. Lingren stated that dance organizers hired three night managers who were all paid in cash, according to the organizers and some witnesses. The night managers, who have worked part time for the Student Union in the past, informed the coordinator they had not been paid. When they discovered dance organizers were claiming the night personnel were paid in cash, they told the former coordinator that it is the Union policy not to accept cash payment, and that they claimed the hours worked on their time sheets.

"Because there remains no way to determine what occurred on that evening," stated the director, "I feel the board should authorize writing off the debt as uncollectable." Board members unanimously approved the write off.

Other Agenda Items

The remaining agenda items included: Re-keying the Student Union building; committee appointments; health plan resolution; a pay increase for SU employees which will be researched by a committee still to be appointed by the SU chairman; discussion of a change in SU board members was tabled; price changes for Pub and snack bar, installation of new equipment, air conditioning repair, typewriter purchase, versateller installation at SU building, resignation of Patty Mendoza, SU clerical assistant; SU scheduling policy, and service agreements bidding policy were all tabled until the next meeting because of time constraints.

Student Union board meetings are open to students and are generally held on a monthly basis. "I urge all students to check the agendas and attend the meetings, it is there to serve you," stated Ms. Hammer.

Computerized Registration

by Greg Timpany

Registration is over for another quarter, but the memories of the heat, confusion, and endless lines still remain. The current system of registration, which so many students have grown accustomed to, will be a part of history soon. For the past several months the Task Force for Early Registration has been working with the problems associated with creating a new registration system.

The committee, under the direction of Cal State's Registrar Ms. Ann Van Wald, has been studying the computer assisted regis­ traction and has been a solist with the University of Redlands Vocal Scholarship in 1983, in a new season of "Tea Concerts" given free to the student, have been divided into subcommittees in order to work on the various intricacies of the new system. The committee hopes to have the system in place for use in the Fall 1985 registration process.

According to Admissions and Records Director Ms. Cheryl Weese, "the system will be ready to begin operation in late April." A major sub-factor in the new registration system will be the Priority System. According to Ms. Weese the priority selection system is not yet complete, but students can now begin to play an important role in the priority process.

Advising will give the school deans a greater knowledge as to what classes need to be dropped, added, or dropped in some other way. The school deans will receive the schedule information with approxi­mately one to two weeks after the advisement period. This will allow the deans greater flexibility in the scheduling of classes.

At this moment many of the components of the CAR system are not yet complete, or are pending final review. According to Ms. Weese the tentative calendar calls for students to be notified by mail, about their fall class schedules around the third week of August." At this time students will be required to pay the remaining balance of their fees, and if necessary make adjustments in their schedules. Ms. Weese also assures that "more informa­tion will be passed along to students, faculty, parents, and other concerned parties on a continual basis."

Seminar On Mental Health

Northrop University School of Law is sponsoring a free series of presentations for the public on various aspects of law. Topics will range from "Why Bankruptcy and 'Winning in Small Claims Court' to 'Tax Planning for Closely Held Businesses.' There are 13 more presentations scheduled between now and April 27, 1985.

The series is presented every other Saturday, at 10 a.m. with each seminar lasting about 90 minutes. Presentations will be held in the Northrop University School of Law, Moot Court, Room 213, located at 5800 West Arbor Vitae Street, Los Angeles. Admission is free.

"Tea Concerts"

October 14 marks the opening afternoon of a bright new season of "Tea Concerts," given free to the public at 3 p.m. at the San Bernardino County Museum. The Inland Master Chorale, co-sponsor of the series, is proud to present the young baritone, Kevin Grochowski, who was the recipient of the Chorale's Vocal Scholarship in 1983, in this the first concert of the year.

Kevin is a vocal student at the University of Redlands and has been a solist with the Chorale and in the Inland Empire. Art songs, arias and show tunes will present this young artist an opportunity to exhibit his voice in many moods.

Sharing the afternoon in the grand piano will be John Redford. John, also a student at the University of Redlands, will play selections by Chopin, Poulenc, Shumman and Liszt.

The next concert is November 18, featuring soprano, Susan Comstock and clarinetist, John Gates, accompanied by Elvin Rodriguez.

The Riverside Symphony

The Riverside Symphony Orchestra is beginning its second quarter century. The next event on the Sym­phony's calendar is the Concert for Kids. This will take place on October 13 at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. at the Mission Inn in Riverside. Tickets are FREE, and can be picked up at Alan Dale's Baby News store, Harris Company, John Van Dam, Agricultural Cooperative Extension, congratulates the 4-H leaders of San Bernardino County. "We are proud of the 4-H program in Extension services. The horizons yet to reach by 4-H youth are constant and ever-expanding with each year of increasing technology," said Van Dam. "4-H will continue to grow with our youth, and our youth will continue to grow through 4-H." Parents and leaders haven't changed much. They have changed in that in having their youth develop into responsible adults for a long, long time. In 1902, in the Midwest, a boys' and girls' agricultural club was organized which was the beginning of 4-H. Over the last eight decades, 4-H has developed into not only a national organization, but internationally with over 85 different countries partici­pating in the 4-H program. 4-H has grown with activities for rural America; growing corn, planting a garden, testing soil, raising livestock; and still continues in these projects. Today, 4-H remains a program for organizations, and electricity, nutrition, an photography projects have also become part of 4-H. In San Bernardino County, there are several 4-H computer science projects. Two of the most active are Apple Valley 4-H Club which is the largest group and is led by Art Richardson, and the Redlands 4-H computer science group led by Sherm Sallee. 4-H lets everybody build on experience. Call the Extension Office at 887-3874 and learn, how you can support 4-H, be a member, volunteer leader, or through your business. 4-H for youth...for America.

NOTICE: the deadline for The Chronicle Wednesday at 3pm. No Exceptions!
On Tuesday, September 25, Cal State, hosted a meeting of the Inland Empire chapter of the World Affairs council which featured a panel of editors and journalists from Newsweek magazine. The panel received questions from the audience, covering a broad spectrum of national and international issues, ranging from the national debt to the recent terrorist attack on the American embassy in Beirut. The program began at 6 p.m. with a no-host reception, during which guests were free to get acquainted. Dinner was served in the Commons then the panel assembled to field questions. The panel consisted of Maynard Parker, Editor; Nicholas M. Horrock, National Security correspondent; Gerald Lubenow, San Francisco Bureau Chief; Susan Dentzer, General Business Editor, and Thomas DeFrank, White House correspondent. The questions put forward by the audience included several interesting comments and predictions by the panelists. When asked about the upcoming Presidential election, the panel agreed that Ronald Reagan seems to have it wrapped up. Mr. Lubenow predicted that Mr. Mondale would do worse against Reagan than McGovern did against Nixon in 1972, describing Mondale as "Hubert Humphrey on an off day." The relative tranquility and prosperity that the nation is now experiencing, combined the growing conservative political climate, was cited as the main reasons Reagan was expected to win re-election in November.

Ms. Dentzer, as Business editor, was confronted with several questions pertaining to the economy. When asked about the interest rates, she predicted that they would take a slight dip after the November elections, but would rise again after the first of the year. Like most other economists, she also saw the massive federal deficits as the major cloud on the nation's economic horizon. The only way to decrease the deficit, as she saw it, was to revamp the tax system to increase revenues. On the international scene the big topic was Soviet-American relations. The panel saw Reagan's recent trip to the Soviets as an election necessity, and were critical of President for relative inaction the last three years to improve ties with two countries. The panel brought some interesting facts to light concerning the Korean jetliner that was shot down by the Soviets last year. They felt that the American government was not being totally candid with the American people when the details of the incident were announced. Mr. Horock pointed out that the U.S. had the time to warn the jetliner that it had strayed into Soviet airspace, due to the recognition planes in the area. He also believed that more information would become public in the near future. The World Affairs council hosts speakers at several colleges and universities in the area, including the University of Redlands and UCR. The purpose of the council is to offer an opportunity for residents of the area to broaden and enrich their view of the world by hosting prominent speakers. Past speakers include General Alexander Haig, Alexander Ginzburg, and Arthur A. Hartman, the United States Ambassador to the Soviet Union. The membership cost for joining the World Affairs council is $30, but students may join for only $10. For more information, call them at 787-5744.

Dr. Stella Clark New Acting Dean Of Humanities

For the second time in its 20 years, Cal State, San Bernardino will have a woman serving as acting dean of a college. Dr. Stella Clark, professor of Spanish, becomes acting dean of the School of Humanities. She will succeed Dr. Irving Buchen, who leaves Nov. 30 for a position as vice chancellor of academic affairs at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point. A national search will be conducted for a permanent replacement.

Dr. Clark, joined the Cal State faculty in 1971 after completing her Ph.D. at the University of Kansas. The following year, 1972-73, she served as associate dean of academic instruction. She has been on the College Evaluation Committee serving last year as chair; was acting chair of the Department of Foreign Languages in spring 1980; and was the scheduling coordinator for the School of Humanities for six years. In announcing her appointment, Acting Vice President for Academic Affairs Ward McFee expressed confidence in Dr. Clark's abilities. "An acting position is a delicate one, but Stella has the proven personal tact and business-like ability to meet this challenge."

"The support I have received from people all over the campus is overwhelming," Dr. Clark commented. "I very much look forward to representing the School of Humanities faculty and staff for whom I have a great deal of respect. I can only promise them my best efforts to bring the job the energy and enthusiasm Dean Buchen demonstrated."

Outstanding Professor Award

Each year the CSU System selects two professors from among the participating campuses to be named Outstanding Professors of the year. The persons selected receive a substantial cash award and a certificate of recognition. This year, each local faculty member will also receive a cash award. Last year, Dr. Robert Blackley was the nominee from CSUSB. Any member of the college community may nominate a tenure-track professor or administrator who holds faculty status. Because the primary criterion used in selecting an Outstanding Professor is superlative teaching, student and alumni participation is particularly encouraged by the Selection Committee.

Complete statements of nominating criteria and procedures and all necessary petition forms are available at department offices, at the Circulation Desk of the Library, at the office of the Associated Students' Board of Directors, at the Student Union Information Desk and at the Alumni Office. The deadline for the submission of completed nominations is 4:30 p.m., October 31, 1984 at the Faculty Senate Office, BI 21.

Thank you for your interest and attention to this matter. If necessary, contact me at 887-7369 or PS 320.
Blood Drive

by Greg Timpany

Serious illness and injury are not very pleasant topics. None the less they occur everyday to all types of people, even our friends and relatives. One of the best ways to prevent unneeded complications from these afflictions is to donate blood. Fresh blood is needed on a continual basis, to replenish supplies used by hospitals and clinics.

Using a worst case scenario; a friend, relative, or even yourself may be in serious need of blood due to an injury or illness. What happens if the blood that is desperately needed, cannot be found? This possibility is remote, but still very real. How can you lessen the possibility of this scenario occurring? You can donate blood!

The Cal State Health Center will be sponsoring its Fall Blood Drive on October 16. The blood donated at the Health Center will be set aside, in a special reserve, for Cal State students, faculty, staff, and their dependents. The blood will be kept in the reserve for a year, after which it will be released for general use. All donated blood is used and none is ever wasted.

You are eligible to donate blood if you are between 18-65 years old, and weigh at least 110 pounds. Anyone who has ever had syphilis, hepatitis, or jaundice is permanently ineligible from donating blood. People with significant diseases of the heart, kidneys, lungs, and liver are also permanently ineligible to donate blood. If you are suffering from a cold, the flu, or an active allergy you may be temporarily deferred from giving blood. If you are currently on medication, it is wise to consult your physician or the Health Center before donating blood.

The process of giving blood is not as terrible as many may think. If you are afraid of needles, do not look! Bring along a friend who has donated before. When coming to donate blood set aside approximately one hour for the entire process. This will allow time for preliminary screening, and a rest period where juice and cookies will be available. It is recommended that you EAT a light meal 2-4 hours before donating blood.

Remember, donating blood is serious, but not solemn. It is serious because lives, your’s, a friend’s, or maybe a relative’s, may depend upon the donation. For that reason, giving blood is a satisfying, rewarding, and enjoyable experience. If you would like more information about the facts surrounding the donation of blood, then contact Dorinda in the Health Center at 887-7641.

Business Management

by Greg Timpany

The purpose of the Business Management Club (BMC) is threefold: It's primary purpose is to provide to it's members a better understanding of management, and how the student can better work in the management field. Secondly, the BMC provides an opportunity for students to hear speakers from management fields and to gain a better understanding of real-world management practices. Thirdly, and possibly most important to the student, it provides a social and professional environment which works to augment the student's life at school, as well as providing an avenue in which the student can meet contacts that lead to possible employment when the student completes his/her academic goals.

With the change from college to university status, the BMC also hopes to change and grow along with it. A proposed name change to Management Association of Cal State is to be put to vote as a primary goal. The club will also be actively involved in all campus events, so as to heighten its own awareness as well as to stimulate members involvement in the campus community.

Club membership is open to all members of the campus and the fees are minimal to promote student involvement. Fees run $5 per quarter and other interested persons may contact Jack Vaughan (President) at 862-6843, Dr. Raul Khan (Vice President) in SS 129, and Steve Levy in SS 128 (Faculty Advisors).

Information can also be left in the club's campus mailbox in the Student Union.

Workshop For Clubs

by Elrond Lawrence

The Activities Department, together with the Committe for Clubs, will sponsor workshops. The first workshop will be held on Monday, October 22, in Biology 101. The workshop will run from 2:45 to 3:45 p.m., while workshops on how to come up with ideas for fundraising events and how to organize and produce the events will be held. The guest speaker will be Dave Livingston, General Director of the YMCA in San Bernardino. He has previously spoken at CSUSB for the Business Management Club, and has considerable experience raising large funds for organizations.

Finance Association

by Greg Timpany

Once again in accordance with the long held tradition of high standards of excellence, the Cal State Finance Association is proud to announce that it will hold an opportunity to obtain membership and reap the bounty of professional enhancement through contacts with area business leaders. Engagements with area financial intermediaries augmented with guest lecturers will again be on this year's Finance Association agenda.

Over the summer months Dr. Raul Khan, Chairman of the Finance and Accounting Department, has accepted the position of club advisor. Dr. Khan brings professional and academic expertise that can only stimulate a higher level of awareness of the Association's objectives.

Recent Alumnum of the Finance Association that are now employed in the financial sector of the economy cite the Association as a pivotal stepping stone in their quests for locating and obtaining their current positions.

Not to be outdone, the Finance Association is constantly involved in campus-wide activities. Acting as a cohesive unit many events rely on our steadfast support, so make sure you don't miss any of your activities.

The club will meet October 11, 4 p.m., Room A of the Student Union. If you feel like you're in a pool of academic, professional or social stagnation come to the meeting or call John Higgins (President) 382-6536. The next move is yours!

President Evans Speaks to Alpha Kappa Psi

by Greg Timpany

Alpha Kappa Psi held its first meeting of the year on Wednesday, October 2. The guest speaker was Dr. David T. Bristow, President. President Evans discussion concerned itself with the opportunities facing students at San Bernardino.

President Evans opened his discussion with a review of last year's major achievements. The elevation to University status has had a most profound affect on the campus as it relates to the student. Another major appeal that is being used by the administration is the intercollegiate sports. As a result of the many and varied appeals the school's FTE was up 10% last year, according to President Evans.

As a result of this year's prospective efforts, the campus has added 39 new faculty members. Currently President Evans is lobbying for a new faculty office building. The building when completed will house the Schools of Education and Social and Behavioral Science.

President Evans then turned his attention to the regional situation, particularly as it affects the region's high dropout rate among high school students, especially minority students. President Evans wants to see the campus work much more closely with local school districts to correct the problems. President Evans also sees an expanded role for student clubs, associations, and fraternities in attracting and retaining students to Cal State. President Evans held his discussion by emphasizing the cooperation of all campus elements to keep Cal State on a growth track.

MovIE REVIEW

Irreconcilable Differences

by Dexter Wash

With fall here and school back in session, we will see the increase of films that are trying to beat the deadline for their release, thus many films will be premiering during the next few weeks. Irreconcilable Differences is such a film.

The film, written by Nancy Meyers and Charles Shyer, tells the story of the divorce case of Brodsky vs. Brodsky and Brodsky. What makes this case so special is that ten year old Casey Brodsky is suing her parents for divorce under what is known as the Emancipation of Minors Act in California. This act states that a minor may legally sue parents for divorce if the separation can be proven to be in the minor’s best interest.

Ryan O’Neal, Shelly Long and Drew Barrymore star as Albert, Lucy and Casey Brodsky. As the film develops and each Brodsky has their turn at the witness stand, we hear their story and through a series of flashbacks, we see how Albert and Lucy meet, get married and become a very successful motion picture writing and directing team. All is not roses however, as they become consumed by fame and fortune.

The story takes us further into the lives of the Brodsky family as we see their ups and downs, and watch as Albert and Lucy are married to their careers, lose themselves and down around them, and they use their daughter, Casey, to get the best of one another, making her feel “like a pet or doormat that you never notice until you step on it.”

In another departure from the standards of modern metal music, Iron Maiden has actually taken the time to develop some catchy lyrics. Many of their songs tell of distant lands and noble heroes. Good escapist type material.

The album has a few notable tracks. On the first side, “Two Minutes to Midnight,” the album’s first single, carries a beat that is like the right times, often with the standard of modern metal music. Iron Maiden has taken the time to develop some catchy lyrics. Many of their songs tell of distant lands and noble heroes. Good escapist type material. The album was a whole Not set out to point out any girl at anyone or to find a bad guy in the parents. Of course we know that Casey is not treated right and that Albert and Lucy are not good parents, but they are good people. Each parent has been married to their careers and even Casey sees that this is the best thing for them. They all have a great deal of love for each other but they don’t have what it takes to be a family. They are three people who are too independent for that, yet they can be friends. Charles Shyer and Nancy Meyers, who also together wrote and produced “Private Benjamin,” do a fine job of showing us back from the flashbacks at just the right time and not letting us lose track of the past and present. My main complaint with the film, (and my only one), is that we did not see enough of the present to know where the characters are today, aside from court. I wanted to know what each one was doing now in their careers and I wanted to know how the trial had affected their lives. We are given bits and pieces of this but not enough to complete a proper picture of where they are. Yet we are left with a good feeling for each of them, and the ending though somewhat predictable, is enlightening as well as emotional. Shyer and Meyers showed that they could take a serious subject, such as divorce and place it into a comedy format. It was enjoyable and funny, as well as believable and emotional. This is definitely one of the better films of the season. On our movie G.P.A. rating scale, I give “Irreconcilable Differences” a 3.5.

Music Review: Captured Live

By Peter Tosh

He was once called the "Prince of Reggae"—heir to Bob Marley's Jamaican throne. Since Mr. Marley's untimely death, Peter Tosh has truly become the king. His latest album, "Peter Tosh Captured Live" is a collection of the music that put him up there. All selections were recorded at Los Angeles' Greek Theatre.

The opening song "Coming in Hot" is probably the least exciting song on the LP. The following tunes, however, are true to Tosh's live performance—full of life, energy, and inspiration. "Bush Doctor" taken from the album of the same name, is a strong voice for the legalization of marijuana (the weed is sacred to the Rastafari religion, which is synonymous to reggae music). The last two tracks on side one are taken from the 1977 album entitled "Equal Rights." This version of "African" features a tasty steel drum solo. "Get Up, Stand Up" a tune Tosh co-wrote with Marley before their estrangement, sounds less rebellious this time around. It is more thoughtful, soulful than past renditions. Tosh's interpretation of Chuck Berry's classic, "Johnny B. Goode" sets the second side off with intensity. The song, through Tosh, is fast becoming a anthem for reggae audiences as it has been for generations of rock and rollers. The political side of the artist reveals itself once again through a medley featuring "Equal Rights/Downpressor Man." The bridge between the two songs, a sweet keyboard piece, is unusual for Tosh. This goes to show the man's versatility and brings an element of class to the medley. The final song to adorn this slab of vinyl is entitled "Rastafari is" which features the best guitar work on the album. The solo, which is played by Tosh, testifies that the artist is ever improving as a musician.

The entire album is produced with a clarity of sound that is often lacking from live efforts. Thanks to producer Michael C. Collins for an excellent job. Fine production linked with extraordinary talent of the artist make this album a rarity.

Trivia Question:
Peta Tosh and Bob Marley played together in a legendary reggae band. What was the band named and who was its founder?

Answer: The Wailers, founded by Bunny Wailer.
by Robin Porter

CSUSB soccer coach Chef Zen takes exception to the San Bernardino Sun newspaper article of Sept. 27, "The Fever Isn't Catching at games," Zein said. "We had good crowds at each (soccer game), though the crowd arrived a little late for the 10 a.m. games," Zen said. "Of course, who wants to get up that early on a Saturday morning?" he added.

Fever: a condition in which the body temperature is higher than usual; 2 disease in which nervous excitement: to be in a condition of mental or physical activity.

In the Scholastic Dictionary of American English, in case anyone is interested. As many people are aware, the coyote generally travels in packs, not six packs, but a large number.

Here at CSUSB, coyotes can be seen roaming the campus wearing shades of pastels or Michael Jackson jacket imitations. These coyotes are students, and one must be cautious, for in attacking one, the whole pack may converge upon an unwary victim.

In studying the individual coyote one may not notice any distinct indication of fever. But when observed in the pack, their behavior changes to that of a highly explosive and competitive nature.

Despite the fact that CSUSB has no coyote fight song or logo, the cute Wyle E. Coyote stuffed animal has brought luck to the fields, tracks and courts it has chartered. CSUSB's athletics teams are beginning the season with a 6-2 record (not including Oct. 2, soccer games). "That's very good considering the soccer team, for example, began practice only two weeks before the first game," commented coach Zen.

Fever Races at Glen Helen
by Dave Bristow

The annual Budwieser canoe race, Cal State's answer to crew, was run last Friday, September 29, at Glen Helen regional park.

Eleven teams, composed of one male and one female, thrashed their way through a rigorous course set up by Joe Long and his wild intramural staff. After everyone paddled through the course once, the top 8 teams went at it again in the finals. The awesome team of Jan Bruderman and Marianne DuBois burned up the course and took the first place honors. Second place went to Dave Evanovich and Andrea Johnson. Third was Sherry Arnold and Captain Beethoven, and the fourth place spot was wrapped by Dan Schaefer and Judy Braesch. The top 4 all won beer steins donated by those great guys at Budweiser, Riverside.

Football
by Alex Kalmopulos

P.E.P.M. was led by a two touchdown performance by Kurt Otterbein and Wendell Lake, who added a touchdown and 2 point conversion. Pat Lynch and Oscar Hernandez scored for the Shandinis, who battled back and took the contest at halftime. In other action, Friday, Replay II defeated Movers 46-6 and Mixed Company won by forfeit over Frat Brats.

Sports Tournament

Coordinator of the sport-related activities is the topic of a course, designed for educators, which is offered by Extended Education at Cal State this fall.

"How To Administer Sports Tournaments, Conferences and Workshops" will meet 6-9 p.m., Tuesdays, beginning Oct. 16 in the Multipurpose Room of the Riverside County Schools office.

Emphasis in the seven-week course will be on planning, budget, promotion, organization, delegation of responsibilities and evaluation. Tom Edison, physical education instructor and testing coordinator for the Riverside County Schools, is the instructor.

Two quarter units may be earned, fees are $76.

For further information, call the Extended Education at 887-7527.

Volleyball
by Al Kalmopulos

A very spirited CSUSB crowd came out Tuesday night to cheer the woman's volleyball team or to victory over Pomona Pitzer, defeating them 3 games to 1. Emotion ran high from the players to the fans, who consisted of faculty, students, alumni, and avid volleyball fans from off campus.

In game one, CSUSB took off to an 8-2 lead, before Pomona came back to tie the score 9-9. The Coyotes then ran off six straight points to take the game 15-9. In game two, the Coyotes had to come from behind to defeat the Sageshens 15-12. Pomona then won game three convincingly 15-4, before CSUSB ran away and iced it with a 15-0 final for game four.

CSUSB, coached by Naomi Ruderman, played very well at the net, served, and exhibited excellent teamwork throughout the match. As the players congratulated each other and celebrated, a sense of pride could be felt for our school and the wonderful beginning of our Athletic programs at the intercollegiate level.

In mens football action Friday, the Hustlers led by Stuart Kesselhaut’s three touchdowns defeated the Renegades 40-6. Hustler quarterback Kevin Young also connected with end John Toscano for two touchdowns and a two point conversion as well as Steve Klemroth for a touchdown and conversion. Toscano had a third touchdown called back on an offsied penalty on Kesselhaut. Steve Kanouse scored to take game three 15-9. In game four, Cal State battled stubbornly and bravely before losing 15-9.

Cal State’s next home match is against Life Bible College on Saturday, October 13 at 7:00 p.m.

Cal State University's International Program

A total of 434 California students are studying abroad with the California State University's International Programs, Chancellor W. Ann Reynolds announced today. This is the largest enrollment in the program since 1970.

The International Programs, established in 1963, enables students from the CSU's 19 campuses to study for a full year in any of 16 countries while they earn credit at their home campuses in California.

Participants in the unique program are selected in statewide competition based on their academic abilities and background. Many receive financial aid to help support the costs of their study.

Over 7,300 CSU students have participated in the International Programs since its inception 21 years ago. Programs accommodating students in the sciences, social sciences, arts, humanities, and commerce are offered in affiliation with universities at special CSU study centers in Australia, Brazil, Denmark, France, Germany, Israel, Italy, Japan, Mexico, New Zealand, Peru, Quebec (Canada), the Republic of China (Taiwan), Spain, Sweden, and the United Kingdom. Students are immersed in the cultural and social life of their host country and receive instruction from local faculty.

Language instruction is required in all non-English speaking countries.

Students interested in learning more about the International Programs (IP) should contact the IP representative at their CSU campus for details on qualification and application.

Minority Fellowships

Program: Three-year graduate fellowships in science and engineering fields offered by the National Science Foundation. Open to persons who are at or near the beginning of their graduate study.

Eligibility Requirements:
1. Applicants must be United States citizens or nationals who are members of one of the following ethnic minority groups: American Indian, Black, Hispanic, Native Alaskan (Eskimo or Aleut), or Native Pacific Islander (Polynesian or Micronesian).
2. Fellowships are awarded for study or work leading to master's or doctoral degrees in the mathematical, physical, biological, engineering, and social sciences, and in the history and philosophy of science.
3. Applicants must not have completed, by the beginning of the Fall 1984 term, more than 20 semester hours, 30 quarter hours, or equivalent, of study in the science and engineering fields listed above following completion of their first baccalaureate degree, or its equivalent. No individual will be eligible who, at the time of application, has earned an advanced degree in science or engineering.

Stipend and Cost-of-Education Allowance:
The stipend is $11,100 for a twelve-month tenure. In addition, NSF will provide fellowship institutions, on behalf of each fellow, a cost-of-education allowance ($6,000) in lieu of all tuition costs and assessed fees.

Application Deadline Date: November 21, 1984
Announcement of Awards: Mid-March 1985
Starting Date: Awarded may begin fellowship tenure with the first academic term following announcement of awards, but must enter on tenure no later than the beginning of the 1985-1986 academic year at their fellow's estimated starting date.

Proposition 36 Impacts CSU System

Trustees of the California State University today voted overwhelmingly in favor of Prop. 36, the Jarvis tax initiative on the November 6 general election ballot.

"Proposition 36, though largely billed as a property tax measure, has a strong potential to wreak havoc with the already complex fee structures on the 19 CSU campuses," Chair Wallace Albertson of Los Angeles said.

"Many provisions of Prop. 36 are ambiguous and their subsequent interpretation could lead to even further harmful restrictions for the CSU. But assuredly they limit the ability to set student fees which cover the actual cost of providing services." CSU, viewed as a state agency under Prop. 36, would face issues in such areas as block scheduling of classes, enrollment counseling, and a series of countries while they earn credit at their home campuses in California.

Adult College Opportunity Program

The Adult College Opportunity Program is designed to ease the entry of older students into the school community through block scheduling of classes, counseling, and a series of seminars addressing the interests of the older student.

The seminars are a wonderful opportunity to meet other students and to build a group of friends with similar interests and concerns.

The seminars for this quarter are scheduled as follows:

Oct. 1: Life Planning: How to figure out where you want to go and how to get there.

Oct. 18: Stress Management: Relaxation techniques to help you deal with school stress.

Oct. 25: Myers-Briggs Type Inventory: Learning about your personality type.

Nov. 1: Strong-Campbell Interest Inventory: Where can your interests take you?

Nov. 8: Assertiveness in the Academic World: How to take control of your education.

Nov. 15: Patterns of Adult Development: How people change over time.

Nov. 22: Getting Ready for Final Exams: You don't have to pull your hair out! Techniques are from 2:00-3:00 p.m. and meet in PL-241. If you have any questions concerning the seminars or the Adult College Opportunity Program, please call Dr. Martha, Rice, 887-7636.

Letters To The Editor

In Conclusion

Dear Editor,

Not only did you miss the point of Professor Wilson R. Turner's letter, you completely ignored mine. The point of Dr. Turner's letter is: Homosexuality is not terminal, it can be remedied, and goes on to provide a hot line that can be called if practicing homosexuals wish to change their lifestyle. Dr. Turner was not quoting the Bible for the purpose of "using the Bible as a tool against certain groups of people-namely homosexuals." Ms. Lang accused in her editorial, but was simply stating the fact that practicing homosexuals will never enter the Kingdom of God.

In my letters which you apparently conveniently overlooked, there was not any quoting from the Bible. It was simply an appeal for homosexuals and their sympathizers to stop comparing the Civil Rights Movement, which is an entirely different ball of wax, and stop imposing themselves on the rest of the public in the manner they did in the June 6 issue of the Chronicle.

In the future, Ms. Lang, you should read respondent's letters more carefully before responding with such false accusations and I saw in your Oct. 3 issue.

Sincerely,
Chris Ellis

Remember The Worms

Dear fellow body members,

I disagree with Wilson R. Turner's letter which is often easily overlooked and is bypassed even more so in this year of electoral issues of urgency! It is important to remember the worms. They move stuff, they are very good dancers, if you listen longer one might even hear them singing.

Sometimes when the sprinklers are left on too long at night the worms' little underground homes become flooded and they rise to the surface for air and go out on the sidewalks to get away from the overflow inundating their sleeping rooms. If their homes aren't drained before the sun rises they can still be seen promenading along the walkways—if they stay out there very long they dry out and die. The next time you see one of these friendly little folks squirming along the walks with the sun rising and getting hot, you think it would be downright neighborly if one of us human types picked him and/or her up and deposited them back on the grass. I am sure if we were in their shoes (or casings) we would appreciate the same. They may not have a lot of funny stories to tell but they really are good dancers and they never shot anybody.

Just a reminder from a friend of the dolphins,

S.R. Stelle

Bad Breath For Cheerleaders

by Anony M. Thomas

Cheerleaders are the motivators at sports events, however, CSUSB cheerleaders lack motivation among themselves. The main purpose for their position is to catch everyone's attention which has not been exploited at CSUSB games. Dressed in vivid color uniforms they perform gymnastic steps and movements to captivate the spectators and get the fans cheering. By displaying energetic bending, twisting, and lifting, they provide support and confidence from the team. With loud rhythmic sounds from enthusiastic cheerleaders, the fun of being there is overwhelming.

Intercollegiate sports are on campus this year, which includes cheerleaders as side line participants. The woman's first volleyball game also meant the first performance from the fresh group of cheerleaders. Our team won their ability, alertness, and confidence and not by accurate coordinated support from the cheerleaders. They were hardly seen and heard during the games. The cheers from the crowd drowned the cheerleaders casual go-team-go support.

During the two soccer games at home, CSUSB cheerleaders were involved. For a few minutes out of each game they quietly supported the team. Not much effort was put forth in physical movement. They moved their arms a few times to swat flies, but other than that, every limb seemed dead. As for using their vocal cords, one woman out the entire group was heard overall. Her sneezing drowned noises on and off the playing field. This is a bad beginning for CSUSB cheerleaders. They have acted inexperienced and inconfident. Their inability to endeavor responsibilities and provide a rim of support has been an exhibit of ironic apathy.

More effort shown in supporting the teams will be encouraging for everyone at the upcoming games. Take advantage of your important titles cheerleaders.
