Mr. Dickens Comes To Riverside for 10th Anniversary Celebration

By Cheryl Brown

Riverside welcomed Mr. Charles Dickens to the city for his 10th anniversary celebration of the famous author. The city has been hosting Dickens for 10 years and looks to continue this tradition for years to come.

The event included a Dickensian ball, a Dickensian play, and a Dickensian tea. The city also paid tribute to the author by naming a street after him.

"If history is a people's memory, and without a memory man is history's dead end," Malcolm X said in his "Drum Beat" column for the New York Amsterdam News. "Should the black man forget his heritage or even try to erase it, then he should not be a black man at all."

Many Quotes of Malcolm X

By Harriy Brown

Many thoughts cross my mind each day and everyday but during Black History Month I try and focus on some of the things I was taught in my upbringing. This happened during my younger years. I thought of learning about those times in the history of our state of North Carolina and the moments of King, Washington and many others. But there is another means of thought from today is Malcolm X. I was reading some information about him recently and I want to share that with you at this time.

Malcolm X was gunned down on February 21, 1965 while addressing a community meeting in Harlem. He was a voice from the past, a voice from afar. Elijah Muhammad and The Nation Of Islam in 1965 and went to Moskva and later converted to Orthodox Islam and joined the Organization of Afro-American Unity. Some of Malcolm X's words:

"Once our freedom is lifted from the confining civil rights label to the level of human rights, our struggle then becomes international - or world."

This situation is extreme and any black man who really feels about this situation our people are confronted by, his feelings are extreme. You can't cook soupry and curesome one who has pneumonia."

"In a people's memory man is history's dead end," Malcolm X said in his "Drum Beat" column for the New York Amsterdam News. "Should the black man forget his heritage or even try to erase it, then he should not be a black man at all."

"It doesn't mean that I advocate violence, but at the same time I am not against violence in self-defense. I don't even call it self-defense. I call it intelligence."

"When you respect the intelligence of black people in this country as you do that of white people, then you realize the reaction of the black man to oppression will be the same as the reaction of the white man to oppression."

"It is always better to form the habit of learning how to see things for yourself, listen to things for yourself, and think for yourself; then to have someone else tell you what you should think."

"I'm not going to sit at your table and watch you eat, with nothing on my plate, and call myself a diner. Sitting at the table doesn't make you a diner. You must be eating what's on the plate."

"The greatest mistake of the movement has been trying to organize a sleeping people. You have to wake up the people first in their humanity and in their heritage. Then you'll get action."

"I'm not a racist, and I do not subscribe to any of the tenets of racism. My book has given me a new insight into the true brotherhood of Islam, which encompasses all the races of mankind."

"I'm the man you think I am, if you want to know what I'll figure out what you'll do. I'll do the same thing, only more of it."

"We didn't realize that as soon as we were made to hate Africa and Africans, we also hated ourselves. You can't hate the real and hate the unreal."

"We are anti-American or anti-American. I think there are plenty of Jews in this country who are as white as a sheet and are Americans."

"Those are the tenets that we believe in, and if you believe in them you can be anybody you want to be."

"The one that most people remember and quote the most is 'I'm the man that every man is and the only one that every man is."

"As we study and remember our history then we look at what we want to contribute to the history of our people in the world."

"I am not anti-American or anti-American. I think there are plenty of Jews in this country who are as white as a sheet and are Americans."

Dickens wrote the epilogue with the story in mind: "The Republic of My Life," a tale of his family history.

Dickens was a community activist, and his book included "Struggles for the Rights of the Coloured People of Philadelphia," a City Railway Carriages (1874).

Williams, himself a Dickens scholar, began his research in 1973, which he completed in 1978, the year of Dickens' death. The research was never published.

Dear Dr. Lee: I've been a hospital volunteer for 16 years. Helping patients and hospitals is one of the most rewarding of all experiences. I hope "Our Bodies," will help spread the word.

Dear E.S.: This poem submitted by a 12-year-old cancer patient kinda sums up the value of hospital volunteers. "For Mr. Lee:"

The people who volunteer at hospitals are special.

Mr. Lee is a hospital volunteer. He's always smiling.

He brings a smile to my face even when things are sad.

He stops by my room just to talk and listen.

He helps put my mom and brother at ease with a warm, friendly hello. When my dad visits, they talk about fishing.

Hospitals can be a scary place for a 12-year-old.

Mr. Lee reminds me God is watching over me.

He's never too tired to pray with me or bring me a snack.

He assists my nurse when I spill juice on the bed sheets.

Sometimes he takes me to various areas of the hospital by wheelchair.

He helps me walk when my legs are really weak.

Mr. Lee is a volunteer I trust that means he works for free.

He helps many people every day including patients, hospital workers, visitors and other volunteers.

He cheers me up before a big test.

"You can do it," he shouts!

For my twelfth birthday, Mr. Lee dressed up like Batman.

He admires, the real Batman is a lot younger and stronger.

Yep, Mr. Lee is 88 years young.

He has no plans to retire.

He's been a hospital volunteer for over 16 years.

Why would he leave this place?

It seems to me he's having too much fun.

Most in the church and he said there are rules for the redeemed. Your money, for instance. He said we must give God his tithe. "God tests us through your finances so be careful not to lay up for yourself treasures on earth. Don't judge people. Sometimes people will come to the church and members sometimes act like they don't like what they are wearing. If you don't like their clothes buy them some new ones," he said.

"The worry rule" - "We worry about everything. Children, clothes, buying the rent - we must give over to Jesus and not worry. Pray. If you mess the other half up make sure you know about this one. It takes you to another level. Ask, seek and knock and it will be given to you," he said. "You must go into your secret closet," he continued. "The devil can't get in your secret closet when you commit with God."

Black History Month, February 2003
Buffalo Soldier: A One Man Show Comes to Redlands

The true story of the Black Soldiers written and performed by Robert J. Harper as told by an old soldier will be re-enacted as the Redlands Footlighters presents a one man show, "The Buffalo Soldier" on February 14th and 15th beginning at 8:00 p.m. The Buffalo Soldier written and performed by Robert J. Harper deals with the Red Army War, the incident on the Arkansas River, the troubles at Fort Sill, the Salt War, the inci­dent at San Angelo, Texas, the Spanish American War and more as historian Harper brings this part of history alive.

Harper is an historian of the American West in particular and world history in general. His interest in the American West and the role played by African Americans in the settling and development of that territory dates back to 1977. This history, though mostly forgotten or untold, Harper finds fascinating and always takes advantage of an opportunity to tell the tale.

Garbed in Calvary uniform Harper tells the story of the 9th and 10th U.S. Calvary from its inception in 1866 and their cam­paigns in the American West through their involvement in the Spanish-American War in the 1890’s. Harper tells his story in the guise of "1st Sergeant Shreve Shopshire" who actually served with the 10th Calvary from 1867 through 1898. The recollec­tions of Sergeant Shopshire are exciting, inter­esting and entertaining for all ages.

Harper wrote this tale based entirely on mil­i­tary archival records and reports turned in by the actual soldiers who lived them. This is the straight story and completely true. At the shows completion, Harper will step out of character for a brief time to answer questions about the B uffalo S oldiers.

Harper has been a featured speaker at sev­eral "campfire talks" at the San Bernardino National Forest and an invited guest on the "PBS" local station talk "Continental Line" speaking about the histo­ry of the Black Cowboys. Harper also was an invited guest speaker at the Grand Canyon National Park speaking on the same subject.

Besides his interest in history, Harper is a classically trained Shakespearean actor appearing in such productions as Twelfth Night, Comedy of Errors, Othello, Romeo and Juliet, also he has appeared in several dinner theater productions as well as performing at The Renaissance Pleasure Faire for five seasons. The Redlands Footlighters Theater is located at 1810 Barton Rd., Redlands. Tickets are $10.00 for all seats. For inform­ation and reservations, call (909) 793-2909 or visit www.redlandsootlighters.org.

Tell a young woman close to you about the importance of going to the doctor the moment she even thinks she's pregnant, even if she feels fine. SCE Offers Support to U.S. Military Personnel

Southern California Edison (SCE) is offering assistance to its customers, who, as United States military personnel, might be facing financial hardship at a time when the free world is battling global terrorism.

Any SCE customer in the military whose family is having difficulty paying an electric bill should call SCE at (800) 655-4555 as soon as possible. Payment arrangements can be made or extensions granted. SCE also offers special programs and credits.

Some of the SCE programs and services available to military families to help lower their electric bill or help manage costs include:

- CARE: Provides a 20% discount on the electric bill if the income guidelines are met. For an application, call (800) 447-6620, or visit www.sce.com (under Rebates & Offers).
- Friendly Reminder: Designates a friend or relative to be notified when an electric bill becomes past due (this person is not responsible for paying the bill).
- Level Pay Plus: Levels out the monthly bill by paying the same amount each month.
- Medical Baseline: At a full-time resident of a home requires electrically operated equipment or has an illness requiring heating and cooling, they may be eligible for this additional baseline allocation which can help lower the bill.
- Free Home Energy Audits: Customers may call (800) 736-4777 or visit www.sce.com for this free service that gives a customized view of their home energy use and compares it to their electric bills for the past 12 months.
- Energy Efficiency Tips: Customers may call (800) 736-4777 or visit www.sce.com for a virtual encyclopedia of valuable home energy tips that are affordable, practical, and easy to employ.

SCE also provides the names of agencies that can provide additional assistance.
