The Ceramics department has received a new image-in the form of a new Ceramics sign in front of the Ceramics shop in the Visual Arts building. The sign, reading simply "Ceramics," is made of ceramic slab, and is high-fired with a gold luster. Designed by Robert Downs and Barbara Goldstein, the sign was created by eight advanced students: David Cocheteufeld, Evelyn Crawford, Howard Duckworth, Kathy Lee, Dora Pickery, Mike Scorzell, Mark Vergefront, and Anje Wenzl. Each student was assigned an individual letter. Department Tech Bruce Decker was also extended a special thanks for his involvement and assistance.

The Ceramics and Glass Club sponsored a ceramics workshop, held November 16-17. Fred Olsen, author of "The Kiln Book," supervised the "hands-on" workshop, where the attending students built a 16 cubic foot updraft salt kiln.

Also, the Ceramics and Glass Club will be holding a Christmas sale in front of the library on Wednesday, November 28, and Thursday, November 29. Items to be sold will include hand-made ceramics, blown glass, hand-made wood objects, and graphic prints. A 10 percent discount will be given to all faculty and staff members. So don’t miss out—take this opportunity to do some early Christmas shopping. You might even find something special for yourself.

Computer Director Named

Frank Slaton has been given new administrative responsibilities at Cal State, San Bernardino and has been designated as director of computing. Slaton, a certified public accountant, a data processor and an internal auditor, came to Cal State in February 1975 as manager of data processing services. He has taught evening computing classes there before the computer center grew to its present proportions.

The new title will formalize some of the service Slaton has been providing to the campus community in the past. He will provide assistance to all computer users on campus, both microcomputer and those with terminals attached to larger equipment. Part of his responsibilities will include development of training courses for faculty and staff and furnishing of technical advice in the selection of equipment and software for administrative and academic uses. He will also be the liaison with the CSU Chancellor’s Office on computer matters.

Slaton, retired from the Air Force, holds a B.S. degree in accounting from the University of Kentucky, an M.S. in computer science from Stanford and an M.B.A. from Cal State, San Bernardino. He has published articles and has given numerous demonstrations on the use of computers and robots and is the originator of the successful ME (Microtechnology for Everybody) Festival held at Cal State the past two years.

Slaton and his wife, who have four children, live in Redlands.
The Communication Department is looking forward to hosting this event since it promotes the department and will give higher visibility to our university as well as put us on the map for future tournament sponsorships. 300 students from high schools ranging from Las Vegas to San Diego will be competing. The winners will receive a plaque and awards will go to everyone who makes it to elimination.

The competition allows students the opportunity to broaden their background in intellectual creativity and increase their critical thinking skills while enhancing their spirit of competition.

The debate will be done "Oxford style," two debaters on two. The policy question this year will be, "That the Federal Government should provide employment to all employable US citizens living in poverty."

This tournament also gives high school students a chance to experience the college atmosphere during their two-day stay and the tournament itself will be a service to the community, providing educational experience for the local high school youth.

The winners will be in good company since L.B. Johnson, Richard Nixon, and John Kennedy, some of our more recent presidents, were also great debaters. James Foiles of San Gorgonio High School will be assisting Jay Danley in running this tournament, and the judging philosophy for the critics working at the tournament will be made available to each volunteer at the time of registration. This permits the students a better opportunity to adapt to their audiences.

New A.S. Positions

by Robin K. Perl

A.S. President Sheryl Hammer is looking for an assertive, independent thinker who has training as the legislative director who will take Ken Whitson's position in the spring. Applications are now being accepted in the A.S. office (in the Student Union building). The director is the president's spokesperson and representative in statewide issues pertaining to the Cal State University system.

By attending statewide meetings one weekend a month the legislative director gains experience dealing with students from all parts of the state. CSSA (California State Students Association) meetings are held at different campuses during the year and all expenses are paid by A.S.

Miss Hammer appoints one individual from all applications received. The application deadline is Nov. 30.

"This is a very important position for Associated Students (A.S.). You need to be the type of person who gives a good impression," said Miss Hammer.

"We want someone for this position for the next year," she added. The annual stipend is $750 which is paid in thirds, one for each quarter.

Another incentive to apply for this position is that each year the legislative director travels to Sacramento and will possibly be sent to Washington D.C. to lobby at the state and national level on behalf of Cal State students.

Other A.S. positions will be opening during the year and interested students should inquire at the A.S. office. President Hammer stated that more people are needed for involvement in everything from dances to aerobics and to serve on committees with faculty and administrative personnel.

"Having a position with A.S. can build leadership and character and be a lot of fun! I would highly recommend and challenge everyone to get involved," she said.

High School Speech And Debate Tournament

by Linda Riddell

December 14-15 marks the date for the First Annual CSUSB High School Speech and Debate Tournament.

The tournament will offer a novice and an open division for five individual events: Extemporaneous, Dramatic Interpretation, Humorous Interpretation, Oratory, Expository Speaking, as well as novice and open divisions of Debate. states Jay Danley, Forensic Tournament Director and also one of our part-time faculty members in the Communication Department.

Greyhound Student Discount

Greyhound Lines has begun a major new discount fare program for college students. The special college fare provides a 15% discount off standard fares for college students at selected campuses, and will last through June 15, 1985. To take advantage of the 15% discount, travelers must present a valid student identification card.

For further information, students are advised to contact their local Greyhound office.

The Imaginational Players (The IMPS), under the direction of Dr. Amanda Sue Rudisill, Department of Theatre Arts, will perform on campus in the Creative Arts Theatre on Wednesday, November 28, 1984, from 7:30-9 p.m. There is no admission charge, and the performance is a part of the program of a first, first seated basis. Join us for an hour of fun and bring every kid you can find. All ages are welcome.

IMPS is a touring company of CSUSB students who perform children's literature, readers theatre style, in the elementary schools. The company releases a total of 30 hours during the first five weeks of the quarter. The last five weeks are spent touring and performing. The IMPS perform for an average of 10,000 elementary school children each year. Enrollment in this company is open to all CSUSB students, regardless of major; previous acting experience is not necessary. This class will be offered again in Spring quarter, 1985. Students should enroll in Theatre Arts 102B. Two course credits are offered, and Company members receive 2 units of credit in Theatre Practice.

The following ten students make up the Fall 1984 Company: Barbara Beecham, Liberal Studies; Lance Biber, Liberal Studies; Mark Duncan, Theatre Arts; Frank Flanagan, Natural Science; Laura Henry, Music Education; James Long, Liberal Studies; Linda Proctor, Liberal Studies; Jacque Rosales, Theatre Arts; Scott Roenig, Theatre Arts; Ed Savala, Theatre Arts.

The performance will feature folktales from Ethiopia and China, as well as some old favorites, such as "Rumpelstiltskin," "Simpleton," "The Little Engine That Could," and "Chicken Little." A question and answer discussion with the audience will follow.

The Imaginational Players perform without charge; however, we appreciate contributions of any amount to this program. Patrons of the IMPS (those who contribute $25-$50) and sponsors of IMPS (those who contribute $110 or more) are listed in the department's production programs. All contributions are tax deductible.

Afer a year of writing to get on its feet, the Graphic Artists Group is now concerned with establishing itself as a noticeable part of the CSUSB campus. By offering its services to help different clubs' images through logos and buttons, the Graphic Artists Group wants to help expose future Graphic Artists, i.e. freshmen, sophomores, to the different forms of Graphic Arts, and to help clubs communicate their ideas and purposes through logos. The Group plans to create posters and logos for various clubs, from the drum major to even buttons. The prices will vary, depending on the individual clients' needs and the size of the Group at that particular time.

The Graphic Artists Group has also hosted a few activities. The group hosted a booth at the Fall Finest Festival, and now is persons interested in joining leave a listing of their Wants in our mailbox, and we offer suggestions.

The Group has now planned a Tamalé Lunch Sale, to be held in front of the Library on November 28, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. These homemade tamales will be sold, as well as buttons.

The Group would like to become more active on into the year, and to do that bring up the needs for more members in the next quarter. All students with an interest in Graphic Arts are welcome to join. So, if you are in a club that is looking for a special image, contact Teresa in AV Building. This is so a more convenient meeting time can be planned, as opposed to the current time 4 p.m. on Thursdays in the VA building.

Early Registration Forum

The University is planning to implement an early registration process for the Fall Quarter 1985. A task force has been working on this project for approximately one year and is now prepared to share this information with the campus community. The forum will be held in the Hall of Counseling and Testing, Tuesday, November 27 from 10-12 p.m. in the Lower Commons, and Tuesday, November 27 from 1-3 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building. Everyone is strongly encouraged to attend.

Stress Management Seminar

Do you stress manage, or does stress manage you? While a little stress in the life of a college student is normal, an excess of stress is unhealthy. While a little stress manage you? While a little normal, an excess of stress can be harmful, both emotionally and physically.

If you want to learn how to cope with stressful situations, come to the Learning Center in PL 37B, November 28 from 12-1 p.m. Learning Assistance Services and Counseling and Testing are co-sponsoring a seminar on Stress Management. The third in a series of Learning Assistance workshops that will give early recognition to those who are building club activities on campus. The event is set for mid-January and information will be forthcoming from A.S. Services Office and from Club Activities Office.AS. Activities Office and from Club Activities Office. Clubs may contact either office to offer suggestions.

Semi-formal Winter Ball

Serrano Village Council and Associated Students are joining forces to co-sponsor a Winter Ball. This semi-formal dance will be held on January 25, from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the CSUSB Commons Dining Hall.

Ticket Sales will begin the final week of November and will be available in the SUMP and the Serrano Village Housing Office. Prices have been set at $10 per couple or $7.50 per person. This evening of entertainment, provided by a disc jockey, includes a buffet. This social event promises to be a highlight of the Winter Quarter. "We are very excited about this activity and hope that you all will join us," invites Veda Hunn, Serrano Village's Assistant Housing Director.

For further information, contact Veda Hunn at 887-7405 or Don Rodriguez, A.S. Activities Coordinator at 887-7405.

Computers Think?!

Can computers think? Are our minds just complex machines, or do they have unique characteristics? How do we learn to speak? Can computers talk? How does language differ from other forms of communication? The Philosophy Department is offering two new courses in Winter Quarter, which will study various answers to these questions. Minds and Machines will study whether computers can think, and what similarities there are between computers and human minds. This course, of interest to students in Computer Science, Social and Behavioral Sciences, and Philosophy, is scheduled from 9:30-12:30, MWF, Philosophy 330, scheduled from 4:50-7:50, TTh, will study the relation between language and other forms of communication, as well as the language of science. Readings in this course will include writings of philosophers as well as non-philosophers such as Helen Keller, Lewis Carroll, and John McPhee. Students in Communication, English, and Social and Behavioral Sciences as well as Philosophy should find this course of interest. Both courses have no prerequisites and are open to all students.

Children's Center

by Dianne Hamre

On Nov. 15 Pamela Dorch, Director of the CSUSB Children's Center, led a parent workshop on the prevention of child sexual abuse.

The workshop, held in the Lower Commons from 7-8:30 p.m. was attended by 13 parents. It was the second of two conducted to inform parents of the sexual abuse prevention training children receive at the Center.

"If you don't teach your children what to do in this situation they will teach them what they want them to do," Ms. Dorch said.

She stressed that the Center teaches the children that their body belongs to them and that they have the right to say "no." Children are taught the difference between "okay" touches and "not okay" touches and are encouraged to speak up if they feel something is not right.

Guest speaker Marilyn Greening, a social service worker in child welfare, reinforced the importance of what is being taught at the Center.

"The defenses your children learn now will be with him or her forever when you can't," she said.

The parents viewed a film, "Chicken Little." A question and answer discussion followed.

For more information about the prevention of child sexual abuse, you may contact Ms. Dorch at the Children's Center.
The university offers a student accident and sickness plan for Cal State San Bernardino's students. This plan provides partial coverage if a student requires hospital care or emergency treatment resulting from accident or sickness. This plan is designed to complement the Student Health Center by providing coverage for services not offered at the Health Center.

When the deductible amount is used up, there is a major medical benefit that covers 80% of the costs up to $20,000. The deductible amount is $2,500 including the basic benefits ($2,500).

Brochures and further information may be obtained at the Student Health Center, or at the Associated Students Associated Students Office in the Student Union.

Cost is $122. That covers the student from September 1984 to September 1985, or $33 per quarter. A student may also insure his spouse and family.

The Student Health Center is very satisfied with this plan and the company that underwrites it. It is a very good plan for students with no other insurance coverage.

Question: When should a breast lump be biopsied?

Answer: This is a very important question—especially since breast lumps are discovered by women who have been taught self-examination, or by physicians. In truth there is no simple rule. The doctor's judgment is a very important part of the decision.

If there is a history of cancer in the family—mother, grandmother—then risk is higher. If there is any question about the lump, then mammography, a breast x-ray, is very helpful. Should either of these tests be suggestive, most physicians would recommend excision of the lump for biopsy purposes.

Remember, early detection and early intervention gives the best chance of a cure.

The Wooden Nickle

by Linda Riddell & Lisa Board

Long before the Student Union Pub was established, The Wooden Nickle was the hang out for CSUSB students. Although now much of the campus population prefer the pub to straying off campus, some still enjoy the nostalgic wilderness saloon for their amusement and meals.

For instance, groups of staff members call in their food orders before leaving the campus for lunch, and members of the drama club converge at the Nickle several times a week to play cards and unwind.

This cozy family establishment offers simple, but good food; wine and beer, for those of age, pool and a juke box that offers selections by Micky Gilley, Kenny Rogers, The Romantics, and oldies but goodies by the Righteous Brothers.

Bill Patrick, the owner, is a warm and friendly guy who came to California from Indiana twenty-five years ago. Bill has been operating The Nickle for twelve years and considers it a family establishment where anyone can bring their kids, wives, or girlfriends without the cause to worry about disturbances from rowdies. He emphasizes the informal family-type atmosphere, and works hard to maintain it by getting to know each of his customers personally.

Perhaps many of the students already know Bill because he is also the man who furnished the refrigerators for the dorms, and was instrumental in getting the dorm vending machines installed. Bill says he started with as few as a half dozen refrigerators and... now supports approximately 100. He anticipates that figure to grow to 200 with the development of the projected new dorms. He even considers supplying refrigerators/microwave units at some point in the future, if he "can make the details work out."

The Wooden Nickle is located at 842 Kendall Drive and is open from 10 a.m. to 2 a.m. seven days a week, and Bill welcomes not only members of the community, but CSUSB staff, faculty, and students as well to come in, relax, and socialize.

It's not the Chandler Pavilion, but you're guaranteed to enjoy yourself, leaving with a full stomach, and almost feel as though you've taken a break from civilization, and visited a Dodge City saloon in its prime. Oh, by the way, please remember to leave your horses tied securely outside.

Tired of Smoking?

The Health Center will be offering a program to stop smoking next quarter in mid-January. There will be no charge for the program. Days and times will be announced at the beginning of next quarter. For any further information, please contact the Health Center on Tuesdays, from 11:45-1:00, and Thursdays, from 8:30-11.

All American Music Pageant

In making the announcement, Elise Neal Davis, National Contestant Coordinator, and Angellette Richardson, State Director for California, said the competition will begin locally through the nation's radio stations. Those eligible are single young women between 18 and 28 years of age as of April 15, 1985, who have never had a child, and have never been married.

Each contestant must submit a completed application, a photograph, and an audio or video tape of her talent to her radio station no later than December 31, 1984. In addition to the application, she must send a check for the $25,000 entry fee, made payable to AMERICAN BEAUTY SEARCH, P.O. 41060, Nashville, Tennessee 37204 or call 1-800-823-1564.

Press Release: Public Affairs

Two games and a three-day tournament are on tap for the Cal State, San Bernardino's men's basketball team, which opened its premiere season at the university Nov. 16.

Saturday, Nov. 24 the Coyotes face the University of Redlands as the second part of a home double header. Monday, Nov. 26 they travel to Occidental to play at 8 p.m.

The only tournament appearance of the year, Cal State joins seven other teams in competition hosted by the University of Redlands Nov. 29-Dec. 1. Other schools participating are: Azusa Pacific, Bola, Cal Baptist, Los Angeles Valley, David Parker, and West Coast Christian College.

Women's Basketball

Press Release: Public Affairs

Cal State, San Bernardino's women's basketball team will kick off its inaugural season with a home game against Fresno Pacific Saturday, Nov. 24 at 6 p.m.

The Coyote men's team will complete the night's double header, hosting the University of Redlands at 8 p.m.

Gale Fitzgerald, the women's coach, describes the Coyotes as a small but well conditioned team. "We have a good group of athletes with a lot of camaraderie," she said.

Fitzgerald has only one community college transfer on the team. Lori Dietsche, the tallest player at 6 feet transferred from San Bernadino Valley College. Dietsche also played volleyball for the Coyotes.

Four freshmen make up the bulk of the squad. Two of them, Becky Carranza and Sayori Thomas, played at San Gorgonio High while Keisha Lee played at Bloomington High and La Tonya Johnson at Rowland High. Completing the roster is Michelle Williams, Bloomington High; Rhonda Smith, Franklin High in Stockton; and Sherry Sturkey, Kearny High in San Diego.

After hosting Fresno Pacific, the women will travel to Los Angeles to play Occidental College Monday, Nov. 26 at 6 p.m. The Coyote men's team will be at Occidental at 8 p.m. that same night.

Coach Fitzgerald feels that "we have a good schedule; we play schools our own size with the exception of UC Riverside. I feel our schedule will allow us to get to .500, which is realistic for us. It will take us about three years to get things underway. We hope the community will get behind our program and support it. That will be important for the girls."

Women's Basketball

Press Release: Public Affairs

Head Coach Jim Ducey and his assistant, Craig Williams were able to sign some quality players to the Coyote's den. Five community college transfers bring valuable experience to the squad. These men include Carlton Bell, San Bernardino Valley, Reid Burns, Southwestern Community College, Dan Healy, Citrus; Matthew Howell, Chaffey College, and Julius Skelton, Victor Valley. In addition, Ducey and his squad added talent from area high schools.

"Our goal for this season is for the guys to learn to play together as a team, play for each other and perform to the best of their ability. I am confident that we will accomplish these goals this season," said Ducey.

The Final events in CSUSB's Intramural Sports Program for the Winter Quarter are Arm Wrestling, Street Hockey, Basketball, Ski Racing, Wrestling, and Poker. Spring Quarter Activities include Volleyball Triples, Softball, Archery, Table Tennis, Golf, and a Car Rallye. A more complete list may be obtained from the Intramural Activities Office in the P.E. Building.

Also, those who participate in Intramurals have a chance to win a Participant of the Week Award. The weekly winner's picture is posted in the display case in the hallway adjacent to the Student Pub.

Student Long, Director of Intramural Activities.

Sports Coverage

Dear Editor:

I would like to congratulate you and the Chronicle staff for the improvement of the "Sports" section in our school paper. I think that my editorial is more or less in agreement with your statement that I was pleased to see several articles of our intercollegiate teams, as well as the wonderful photos that were provided in the Oct. 24 issues of the Chronicle. The same issue in which my editorial on the lack of sports coverage was printed.

However, disadvantages once again because of the lack of sports coverage on our intercollegiate teams: women's volleyball, cross country, and men's soccer and cross country, I think. It is disgraceful that our sports teams got more public articles than a San Bernardino newspaper than in our own school paper.

Our men's soccer team completed a record of 13-2-1, just missing the play-offs for Division III teams. Our women's volleyball team completed their season with a 9-4 record. And our women's and men's cross country teams finished 6-0-1 and 8-1, respectively.

The outcomes of all our intercollegiate teams this fall is fantastic, considering it's their first year as a team here at CSUSB. Those solutions cast new light on the question of what type of education the students will receive in the future.

Signed

- Millie Paulino
