The role of husband and father is a special role and one you become either by your responsibilities or are clear. Fathers are required to have their wives as children loved the church. That is a tough order because he gave his life for the this is also seen in the scriptures that say, "for an etch every moment, but not in the world, and chiselled it." in other words take care of the one you would yourself. When it comes to your children you are not to provoke their wrath but you are required to bring them up in the admonition of the Lord. You are to train to be good citi­zens. You are to read to them. You are to talk with them. You are to provide shelter for them. You are to provide for them. You are to provide health care for them. You are to pro­vide clothes for them. In other words, their every need the father’s responsibility; Some fathers abandon their responsibility allow the donating of the sperm. This is not a father. Some people the responsibility when they get separated from the mother. This is not a father. Some get mad at the children once abandon. their responsibility when they get separated from the marriage the child was conceived in. Most of the time this is not a father. Some fathers decide to cut out if the child goes in a different direction. There was such a man who gave his son his share of his inheritance. The son went out and lost it all. When the son found himself and came back some of him in and restored him as a good host. Now that is a REAL Father. Have a Happy Father’s Day to the real Fathers.

Martha Stewart

When the Euren scandal breaks trouble into the news every few people advocated at the time that the executives should go in jail even though Euren had squeezed thousands out of their hard earned money. We said it and then say it now that the many. Most of the time we do not know it. The govern­ment has been slow to indict or go after these crooks who rob their employees and stockholders’ investments. Yet our govern­ment has spent our precious resources to go after Martha Stewart, aiglent compared to the giants that have lied and stole and cheated from banks and employees. We all know that the leaders of Euren were telling the employees that every was an attorney, just as if all of their holding company the scandal of bankruptcy surfaced. Some have said that part of the reason the government is after Stewart is because she is a woman. Oprah Winfrey, who is a real benevolent individual that things about the safety of the beef industry that barred bars to be sold in a Texas courtroom.

That brings me to the question, why are they going after Martha Stewart and not Euren? I speculate that some is a diversion strategy to take attention from the real thieves of Wall Street who have to happen. These guys have reputa­tions and are in jail. 3 Bush economic plan gives no relief for Black families

The latest unemployment figures show a disappointing trend in African-American communities. According to a government report released today, the unemployment rate for African-American teenagers is now at 17.5%, the highest rate of joblessness in the country. The report also shows that the unemployment rate for African-American women is nearly 13%.

The problem is not just limited to youth. Overall, 9 million people are out of work as the job market continues to shrink under the Bush Administration. Since the President took office in 2001, 30 million people have lost their jobs. The Bush economic record is almost 50 years. Forty-eight of the fifty states have more unemployed workers than when President Bush took office. And the unemployment rate is at the highest since July of 1982 – nine years ago.

"The Bush economic plan is a national emergency," President Bush said. "America is nearly $3 trillion deeper in debt, and has lost more than 10 million jobs." House Democratic Leader Nancy Pelosi said. "And what is the Republican plan? More of the same. A recklessly irresponsible, fiscally unscrupulous, unfair tax cut that benefits those who need it least and does not create jobs. And to make matters worse, in the dead of night, they took the expiration of the child tax credit leaving behind millions of Latino children from working and military families.

African-American families and children are among the hardest hit by this President’s dismal economic policies, Pelosi said. In last minute negotiations on a $350 billion tax cut, House Republicans chose not to expand the child tax credit to lower income families, leaving behind 12 million children from working and military families.

"Whether it is excluding working and military families from the child tax credit, delaying employment insurance or eliminating overtime pay, and cutting the family friendly, Republicans are taking money out of the wallets of everyday Americans. Republicans must join the Democrats and act immediately to help America’s working families.”

The Democrats have an economic growth plan that would help African-American children and families by creating more than 1.3 million jobs and putting purchasing power into the hands of consumers while providing tax breaks and promoting growth for small businesses.

A new data shows 3.1 million private sector jobs lost since beginning of Bush administration

Los Angeles

Congresswoman Maxine Waters has expressed extreme disappointment that new reports of data by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) show that 3.1 million private sector jobs have been lost since the beginning of the Bush Administration, and that the unemployment rate in the state had risen.

In addition, the national unemployment rate continued to climb during the month of May. According to BLS, unemployment rose from 6.0 percent in April to 6.1 percent during the month of May. This is the highest unemployment rate since July of 1994—nine years ago. It was also announced that there are now nine million unemployed workers nationwide.

According to the latest available state figures, the number of unemployed workers in California is now standing at 1,180,000. That means 373,300 Californians who had jobs forced to the office. The unemployment rate in the state has risen by 4.7 percent in January 2001 when President Bush was inaugurated to 6.7 percent during in April of this year. Indeed, the number of unemployed workers has risen from 48 of the 50 states since January 1991, the worst month of any president in nearly half a century.

"The staggering unemployment rate here in the Los Angeles area, in across the country, is proof positive that Republican economic policies are a failure," Waters said. "Unemployment is increasing, and lasting longer for more workers. And the lack of jobs is affecting every category of employees—from white-collar executives to blue-collar laborers. Democrats will continue to fight for elements of our economic growth plan, designed to create more than one million jobs this year without costing taxpayers one penny."

Despite a staggering job loss of 3.1 million private-sector jobs since the beginning of his term, President Bush signed a tax bill last month that focused more on tax relief for the wealthy than creating jobs. Waters supported an economic growth package unveiled by House Democrats that would have created 1 million jobs this year by providing tax cuts to middle-income Americans and small businesses that drive the economy, providing relief for states and the unemployed, and investing in highways to create good-paying jobs and strong communities.

Waters says she will continue to push for elements of the Democratic plan, including targeting tax cuts and the child tax credit to families who will spend the extra income, giving businesses incentives to hire the long-term unemployed, opening up federal construction projects, investing in education, and giving tax breaks to companies that manufacture products in the United States.

There is a popular belief that women are the prefect audience for fairy tales. Does every woman know how successful still have that little girl inside, who wants to be rescued? Summertime is ushered in on the mountaintop with live blues, spicy barbecue and mild breezes. High above the June gloom, the 7th Annual Open Sky Music Festival in Big Bear Lake takes place on Saturday, June 21, 2003. Tickets are now on sale and may be purchased by phone with a major credit card through the Big Bear Chamber of Commerce (909) 866-4607 and at the Tail of the Whale Lakeside Lounge (909) 866-5514.

This year's line-up features the Grammy Award winning songwriter Dave Alvin. His recording "Public Domain" was awarded a Grammy in the Best Contemporary Folk album (2001). Alvin was a founding member of The Blasters and he is one of the key architects of the roots-rock revival that set up the playing field for today's alternative country performers such as Lucinda Williams, Wilco and Ryan Adams. Though Alvin's performing crosses the lines between blues, folk and roots music, his ability to deliver a story by song is both captivating and unique. His performance in Big Bear this year will provide an intimate visit with the gay-targ. The festival's 2nd headline will be the popular Cafe R&B, who are slated to close out the day's music. Led by the dynamic vocals of singer Roach, Cafe R&B returns to the Open Sky Music Festival on the heels of their latest recording "Blues and all the Rest." Hits Magazine describes the singer, "Imagine Etta James riding a Harley out of an active volcano Mississippi Delta and found its way to the big city, guitar-singer Harmon leads the MidSouth Blues revue through a traditional set of stinging Chicago-style blues. Opening the show will be Brother Yusef who makes his sophomore return to the festival. Performing on acoustic guitar in a country blues mode, Yusef adds his own twist to the music, performing timeless classics with a mix of distinctly original songs.

It will be an afternoon of blues-tinged music and New Orleans-inspired edibles, from Noon-6:00 p.m., Saturday, June 21, 2003. Doors open at 11:30 a.m. blankets and lawn chairs are welcome, no coolers please. A variety of freshly prepared foods are available on the grounds including; steaming jambalayas, garden salads, cool watermelon wedges, corn on the cob, peel and eat shrimp, pecan pie and a menu of grill items. A complete selection of beverages will also be on sale. The event takes place at scenic Whaler Pointe Lakeside Park (500 Aldon Road, Big Bear Lake) by the water's edge, with an expansive view of crystalline Big Bear Lake, surrounded by pine covered mountain vistas. Tickets for the main event are $20 in advance and $22 on the day of the show. Children 10 years of age and younger are admitted free of charge. Parking is available on site for $3 per vehicle. Special Open Sky Lodging-ticket packages are available by calling 18004BIGBEAR. This year's official sponsors include KBHR-FM, Union Bank of California, The Arts Council of Big Bear Valley, BigBear.Net and Blue Whale Lakeside. A New recipe for greens

As one of this country's best-known African-inspired foods, cooked greens are practically mandatory at summertime celebrations across the land. In fact, there's a law requiring a bowl of cooked collards to join the ham, barbecued chicken, ribs, cornbread, baked beans, potato salad and beans pudding on the buffet table, thereby making the menu complete.

As the community gathers in parks, picnic areas, backyard and pools to celebrate freedom and emphasize achievement on June 19, collards will play a role in reminding us of our history, and linking us to the culinary traditions of the past. Journey of course also marks the unofficial start of family reunion “season,” which swells into high gear as far-flung and extended families come together to reconnect during the summer vacation months. Reunions mean potlucks, and potlucks mean good food, so greens will star as a versatile side dish throughout the season.

But there's more to cooked greens than collards. Mustard, kale, turnip, spinach and chard join in as flavorful cousins of collards, and some people find they actually prefer these varieties once they taste them. So if you have always made only collards for your offering at the potluck or picnic, it's high time to branch out and push your culinary envelope this year. Strip just a bit from your traditional family recipe.Try a new cooking green this summer - mustard, for example, with a recipe for Creole Mustard Greens. Or pair mustard with spinach in March Count Mustard and Spinach Greens flavored with peppercorns and hot. Get adventures with various greens available at the grocery store from Cut 'n Clean Greens, the nation's largest grower-packager of cooking greens. It takes the drudgework out of cooking greens by eliminating the washing and cutting steps. They offer 1- and 2-pound bags of ready-to-cook fresh greens - collards, mustard, curly mustard, flat mustard, spinach, kale, green Swiss chard, red Swiss chard and rainbow chard. The greens are packaged in special breathable bags, have been triple-washed, trimmed and cut into thin strips for immediate use, which saves home cooks time, effort and eliminates waste. Each 1-pound bag contains the equivalent of about 2 1/2 bunches of greens. And since many people combine more than one type of green before cooking anyway, Cut 'n Clean Greens also offers Country Mix, a more traditional combination of collards, mustard and turnip greens.

The exchange process may take up to 3 hours.

Sex Can Change Everything, Especially Your Future.

Did You Know...

• 8 out of 10 teen pregnancies are unintended.
• 1 in 4 people will get a sexually transmitted infection (STI) in his or her lifetime?
• Only 1 out of 3 teen moms will ever finish high school?
• There's a place to go for confidential, no-cost, and personal health services?

If you're planning to have sex, or are already sexually active, there's a new teen health program that offers information and counseling services to help you make smart decisions. Family PACT (Planning, Access, Care and Treatment) is a program provided by the California Department of Health Services that offers no-cost, personal and confidential services for low-income and uninsured California men, women and teens.

Deciding to have sex is a big responsibility. It can lead to an unintended pregnancy: something that the nearly 53,000 California teens who gave birth last year are dealing with today. It's up to you to make smart decisions so that you can go to school, spend time with your friends, play sports and go to the movies, instead of spending your time caring for a baby.

Smart decisions can help you in other ways as well. When you choose to be sexually active there are things you and your partner need to think about. STIs like Chlamydia can harm you if they go untreated. This can prevent you from having a family when you decide you are ready. You may not even know you have an STI. In fact, up to 85 percent of women and 40 percent of men who have Chlamydia do not show symptoms.

By signing up for Family PACT you will have access to counseling, birth control methods including condoms, the skin patch, birth control pills and the vaginal ring as well as STI and HIV testing. And through Family PACT, you'll also have access to emergency contraception, which can prevent an unintended pregnancy when used within 72 hours after unprotected sex.

For more information, or to find a Family PACT provider near you, please call 1-866-FAM-PACT or visit the Web site at www.itsuptome.org.

AQMD Expands Successful Lawn Mower Exchange Program

Following two successful events in Fontana and Inglewood this spring that exchanged 2,000 gas-powered mowers for non-polluting electric ones, the region's air quality agency has announced plans to expand the program to Riverside and Orange counties.

The South Coast Air Quality Management District will exchange a total of 1,500 mowers this month (370 at each location) at the University of California, Riverside on Saturday, June 21 and the Arrowhead Pond in Anaheim on Sunday, June 22. The Move Aces Air Pollution 2003 program is part of AQMD's mission to encourage consumers to do their part for cleaner air.

"An older gas-powered lawn mower operates as much in one year of typical use as a new one driven more than 86,800 miles," said William A. Burke, AQMD Chair. "As a result of the 2,000 mowers we've already exchanged, consumers will remove nearly 10 tons of smog-forming volatile organic compounds emissions from the air each year."

"With the additional 1,500 mowers we plan to exchange this month, we will eliminate more air pollution than that generated by all of the area's oil refineries in two days."

Modelled after highly successful programs in Sacramento, San Diego and the Bay Area, AQMD will offer consumers the opportunity to purchase a $449 Black & Decker 24-volt, cordless rechargeable lawn mower for $150 in exchange for a working, gas-powered mower.

The two lawn mower exchange events will be held out or show in the following locations starting at 7:00 a.m.:
Saturday, June 21, UC Riverside, UCR Parking Lot #5, Downstream from Martin Luther King Blvd. (near Canyon Crest Drive intersection) west of Riverside (68) Freeway.
Saturday, June 28, Arrowhead Pond of Arbina, Pond Main Parking Lot #4, Directions: Entar from Ball Road south on Phoenix Club Drive east of Orange (57) Freeway.
No access from Katella Avenue.

At both events, mowers will be available on a first-come, first-served basis to the first 750 people (one per customer) at each location. Residents drive through a series of stations in a process that may take up to three hours due to the high demand. Participants must be residents of AQMD's four-county jurisdiction, which includes all of Orange County and the non-direct portions of Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

Mowers are drained of hazardous fuels prior to their destruction at a metal recycling facility.

The program is supported by Home Depot, Black & Decker, UC Riverside, the Arrowhead Pond and Pick Your Part Auto Wrecking.

Information about Move Aces Air Pollution 2003 can be found at www.aqmd.gov/2003 or by calling 1-888-6-CLEAN (1-888-625-3407).

"Consumers can make a huge difference when presented with a viable option," Burke said. "Those who participate in this lawn mower exchange will save $300 on a top-of-the-line cordless electric mower and will do their part to improve air quality each and every time they mow their lawns."

AQMD is the air pollution control agency for Orange County and major portions of Los Angeles, San Bernardino and Riverside counties.

A Brotherhealth Health Fair & Forum

The Black Voice News

Congresswoman Diane Watson & Councilman Bernard Parks

Last Saturday, the Brotherhood Crusade, along with Mothers in Action, the California Endowment and the Los Angeles County Department of Public Social Services sponsored a community action forum and health fair in collaboration with L.A. Care, T.H.E. Clinic and Lewis Metropolitan CME Church, who was also the host of the affair. KJLH's Jacquie Yokomizo was the moderator of the forum. Both Congresswoman Diane Watson and Councilman Bernard Parks stressed the importance of the community to always participate in this kind of forum, and they also commended Danny Bakers, President of the Brotherhood Crusade for his leadership role in serving the community in critical areas of need. Councilman Parks further focused on the issues of the community in the areas of health, governmental services, and access to local, state and federal funds. There were several representatives from the Department of Public Social Services (DPSS), including the Director, Bryce Yokomizo. DPSS is the Brotherhood's biggest supporter in the Los Angeles County and they have always been there to assist the Brotherhood Crusade in serving the community. They spoke about real bread-and-butter issues and the impact on everyday people; they also expounded on the Cal WORKS, Welfare-to-Work and GAIN programs, and how the overhaul of the welfare system has placed the responsibility on its participants to recognize the 60-month time limit. Other elected officials sent representatives with words of support to the attendees; and they also commended Brenda Marsh Mitchell, President of Mothers In Action who was the driving force behind the entire program. Representatives were from the offices of Supervisor Vincent Rougeau -Brown, Speaker Harrietti Wesson, Assemblyman Mark Ridley-Thomas, and Senator Diane Feinstein. While the forum was underway, there were workshops, fine health screenings, vendors, kids' land and free food. T.H.E. Clinic provided the community with eye exams, dental checkups, diabetes screenings, mammograms, immunizations and many more services. The community residents showed their full support for the event by showing up with their entire families and participating in all the activities. It was a fun-filled day for the entire family.
