CSUSB
Fireball kicks off...

A day of fun and excitement is planned for the A. S. B. sponsored Fireball 75, a two-day Cinco de Mayo celebration to be held at Cal State, San Bernardino, on May 5 and 6. The festival, which starts at 10 a.m. both days, is sponsored by the Cal State Student Government and will feature Mexican food and crafts, entertainment, and sports competition. The event will be held in the gymnasium and on the south lawn of the campus.

On Saturday, May 5, the festival will open with a dance from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. At 12 noon, a band contest will be held in the gymnasium with a performance by the Riverside City College Band. At 1:30 p.m., a mariachi band will perform in the gymnasium, followed by a children's dance at 2 p.m. At 5 p.m., the Roto Rooter Good Time Band will perform in the gymnasium.

On Sunday, May 6, the festival will continue with a dance from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. At 12 noon, a band contest will be held in the gymnasium with a performance by the Riverside City College Band. At 1:30 p.m., a mariachi band will perform in the gymnasium, followed by a children's dance at 2 p.m. At 5 p.m., the Roto Rooter Good Time Band will perform in the gymnasium.

New complaints procedure set up

The Associated Student Body (A.S.B.) has implemented new procedures for handling complaints and grievances. The new procedures were established in response to a survey conducted by the A.S.B. to improve its handling of complaints. The new procedures include a new system for filing complaints, a new process for investigating complaints, and a new process for resolving complaints.

On the A.S.B. election ballot, there is a measure asking students to ratify an amendment passed by the A.S.B. senate, that allows student to arbitrate disputes involving students and A.S.B. officers or employees.

This constitutional revision, engineered by the Chief Justice of the Judicial Board Dave Fowler, will give back to the Judicial Board the power to discipline A.S.B. officers or employees who purposely misuse their offices.

The Judicial Board is the means by which an individual student can present a problem about his/her student government and get some action to have the problems solved. An example of a problem would be a A.S.B. regulation that discriminates or an elected A.S.B. person who is misusing funds.

Currently an executive order from the Chancellor’s office, supported by former governor Reagan, prohibits students from handling any discipline problems, except those occurring in the dorms.

Dave feels “that the Judicial Board operating under the proposed amendment will enforce a little responsibility in student government which is a good thing. If the measure is passed by a simple majority of the students, then they will have the power to withhold money from the people who blew it (A.S.B. leaders etc.).

Dave feels that there has been a need for the new regulation several times this year. “It took 6 months to organize the board this year because the A.S.B. officers there were elected in spring of last year that they did not have the Board meeting every week. I applied to be appointed to the Board working in March of this year.”

ASB Elections will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, April 30th and May 1st. Pictures and statements by candidates on pages 4 and 5.

George Wallace poses threat to U.S. stability

If you think that George Wallace doesn’t have a chance in the ‘76 elections, take a look at his wheel chair, his Southern drawl, the erroneous assumption that he has made on race relations, his romance with Ted Kennedy, and his gold brick constitutents deserves serious attention as to their potential to come to this country.

George Wallace has always campaigned on the platform that he is a Populist candidate, and the Populist who is concerned about the common person, the farmer, the truck driver, and the barber.

But upon closer analysis, this myth is quickly dispelled. He has always promised on the national campaign trial tax reform that will benefit “the little person”.

Veterans’ Corner

by Hank White

OK, Veterans, it’s time for, are you ready for, this, the first ever Marvel’s DO YOU KNOW SHOW. Sponsored by the Veterans Who Care Committee and the “Get Our Checks Back from the Vet Rep who’s touring the Baldwin’s Society (of course it didn’t happen)".

As we tune into the station we find that the show has been censored and interrupted by re-runs of the 1915 Mickey Mouse Show and finally replaced by World War II Educational Films. So, all that’s left of the program is the quiz that follows the show. Let’s now take the quiz and see what we’ve missed, if anything.

Do you know how many wars are in the Middle East?
Do you know that you can have your discharge upgraded?
Do you know that you can obtain a VA loan to purchase a mobile home and land to put it on?
Do you know that you can have your VA benefits if you are on food stamps?
Do you know that you can receive medical treatment at VA hospitals?
Do you know that preference is given to veterans applying for government employment?
Do you know how many legs the African Golden frog has?
Do you know that there are VA agencies that can provide job assistance?
Do you know that if you are disabled you may be eligible for Vocational Rehabilitation Benefits?
Do you know that I’m just as sick of writing these “do you know" questions as you are of reading them?

So, I’m going to stop now. If by any chance you answered “no” to any of the above questions, feel free to stop in the Veterans Affairs Office and we will try to answer any question you may have, we’re just dying to try out some of our new lines on someone.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

For sheer misunderstanding and avoidance of an important issue, I am writing to the Pawprint to pass along Wallace’s new, recent article on how Bishop Mahler’s decision to exclude certainte NOW members from the sacraments (Pawprint, April 12, 1975).

When John XXIII “opened the windows” at the Second Vatican Council, he never intended the Catholic Church to abandon her commitment to equitable moral truth, valid for all times. As part of that commitment, the Catholic Church has always opposed the killing of unborn children as I had, until recently, practically every other Christian denomination and as many still do. Bishop Mahler is responsible in his diocese for teaching and maintaining this truth, wholly and without reservation. He is also responsible for defending the sacraments, the “life-blood” of Christian worship, from misuse and blasphemy.

The leadership of NOW and the majority of its membership have consistently and loudly supported abortion. A short time ago, a NOW chapter in Ohio expelled a member for opposing abortion. More recently, for political reasons, NOW has hedged by advocating the woman’s “right” to abortion rather than supporting abortion itself, but this distinction is sophistical and of no value. A parent might as well argue that he has the right to murder his son.

Mahler’s decision is appropriate, sensible, and in line with the church’s teachings. The Supreme Court decision allows for the religious freedom of those who cannot defend abortion in conscience. Mahler’s decision is a reaffirmation of that right in the Catholic Church and of the church’s right to bind its members.

Sincerely,

F. F. Campbell,
Assistant Professor

Looking for “any student off the street who has a problem with financial aid,” to testify. She added, “The success of our hearings depends on getting real students to talk about their real problems and to recommend changes.” Kavrell noted that very few mechanisms exist to appeal financial aid decisions but “this is certainly one of them.” The California hearings will be part of a nationwide series sponsored by the College Scholarship Service Educational Fund. Other hearings will focus on all other monetary aid programs including state scholarships, grants, Basic Opportunity Grants, loans and work-study.

In the past, hearings have focused on a number of central questions. Among these are how students establish independent status, how students learn about financial aid programs, the lack of appeals mechanisms, and problems students have with specific programs, such as qualifying for loans.

The results of the Hearings will be reports recommending changes and improvements. They will be times to coincide with the development of a master plan for student aid in the state which will be written this summer. The national report will be sent to Congress before the completion of the revised student aid legislation in mid-1976. The Hearings in Los Angeles will be in the form of a legislative hearing. Witnesses will be asked to present written testimony, make an oral statement to the panel of students and policy-makers, and then answer questions on their own experiences.

All CSUSB students who are interested in trying to do something positive to shed light on financial aid dilemmas are most welcome to come and testify.

\section*{Where's the aid in finance?}

The dark cloud of confusion that surrounds people trying to make sense out of financial aid applications can be cleared up by students themselves.

Hearings are going to be held in Los Angeles on May 9 by student groups who want to gather evidence on problems people experience in learning about, applying for, and obtaining financial aid.

Kim Kavrell, Hearings Coordinator, emphasized that they are designed to appeal financial aid dilemmas are most welcome to come and testify.

\section*{Quit Smoking Clinics planned by American Cancer Society}

A series of jointly sponsored Quit Smoking clinics is planned for May by the American Cancer Society and the San Bernardino County Heart Association.

Susan Harris, Education Director, the American Cancer Society, and Joan Kozel, Education Director with the Heart Association, are working together to bring a new concept in stop-smoking programs to the San Bernardino Valley. Based on the national Quit Smoking program of the Cancer Society, this free pilot program will feature the group method approach to the problem. There will be no physical conditioning, but participants will outline their reasons for quitting and enumerate resources for helping individuals quit the habit.

Persons interested in taking such a program are asked to call Ms. Harris at 887-3791, or Ms. Kozel at 887-2241.

"If enough people are interested," Ms. Harris said, "programs will be scheduled at their convenience. We hope to have from four to eight programs during May, but where and when will depend on the calls we receive from people interested in quitting smoking. Call now to get on the list.

Ms. Kozel added that if this program is successful in San Bernardino Valley, it may be expanded countywide. "Age is not a factor in our program," Ms. Kozel said. "We are interested in reaching anyone who wants to quit."
A.S.B. Elections — Wed. & Thurs., April 30 & May 1. DON'T FORGET TO VOTE!

Raul Ceja
A.S.B. President

My name is Raul Ceja and I'm a candidate for the office of A.S.B. President. I am deeply concerned about the future and stability of our college here in Cal-State. During this past year, I have worked very closely with the President and the A.S.B. Government. I believe that I have witnessed several instances of abuse on the part of this administration. I believe that the office of the President is one where there is a need for leadership, and that the office of the President demands that the officeholder be sensitive to the needs of the students. I believe that I can bring a fresh perspective to this office, and that I can make a difference in the lives of our students.

Kevin Gallagher
A.S.B. President

My name is Kevin Gallagher and I am running for the office of A.S.B. President. I have been involved in student government for many years, and I believe that I can bring a unique perspective to this office. I have been involved in many different projects, and I have a good understanding of the needs of our students. I believe that I can bring a fresh perspective to this office, and that I can make a difference in the lives of our students.

Arnoldo Resendez
A.S.B. President

My name is Arnoldo Resendez and I am running for the office of A.S.B. President. I believe that this Student Government is the most effective of any student government at Cal-State. I believe that the office of President comes with a large responsibility and need for experience. I feel that I have acquired the necessary experience to do the job. I have been a member of the A.S.B. Government, and I am a member of the Finance Board. I have also been a member of the Educational Opportunity Program advisory board. Presently I am a Junior Class Senator, and within the Senate I am a member of the Rules Committee, and an alternate member of the Finance Board. I have a good understanding of the needs of our students, and I believe that I can bring a fresh perspective to this office, and that I can make a difference in the lives of our students.

John D'Silva
A.S.B. President

A great decision will have to be made of this college on election day: to elect John D’Silva, A.S.B. President, or to reject time Student Body Officers which would lead to the continuation of an inefficient Student Government. I believe that Student Government does not understand the needs of all of the students at this college.

Examples of this inefficiency range from the weekly arguments in the College Government and Student Government meetings to inflated budget request by some student leaders. Arguments about who gets the money is our student government. I believe that the future of many of the policies of the A.S.B. Government is uncertain. There are many special interest groups who have to send in recommendations for the money. Some of these groups are more influential than others. The Student Government must make sure that the needs of all of the students are taken into account, and that the money is allocated properly. The need to change these present policies is urgent, and the need for a more efficient Student Government is paramount to the interests of the students on campus. Surely, this election is an important decision for students who are to change the present Student Government Officers who try to resemble "actors", than serious, concerned "politicians." The need to change these present Student Government Officers is urgent, and the need for a more efficient Student Government is paramount to the interests of the students on campus. Student Government can be for me, John D' Silva, for A.S.B. full potential of this college's day (April 30 and May 1) to vote other colleges in the State as the an abounding interest in the College whose student leaders take full realization of a new creativity, focus here on the needs, concerns, very capable leader dedicated to the goals, and interests of the Student Body will be electing a directly. In sum, the main em­ money back, to the students who have paid through their necessary student activities. have through their efforts the student who through their efforts services are offered the general student. I appreciate your interest and continuing support. Thank you.

Horace Finkleberg — Junior Class
Sergeant at Arms

Although only current Juniors may vote for next year's Senior Class officers, this position entails membership in the general A.S.B. Executive Board, thus affecting the total student body. In addition to several programs geared specifically to Seniors, I would continue to work on projects I began as A.S.B. Senator-at-large. Hopefully, interest in Student Government will continue to increase as more programs and services are offered the general student. I appreciate your interest and continuing support. Thank you.

Pat Egetter — A.S.B. Vice President

As an A.S.B. Vice Presidential candidate I am aware of the duties of the office I would fill upon my election. The main duty of the Vice President is to preside over the A.S.B. Senate and be responsible for communication between the Senate and Executive Cabinet. The office of Vice President requires approximately 20 hours a week to spend on A.S.B. Government af­ fairs and meetings.

In this past year I have been a senator in the A.S.B. Senate with perfect attendance at all meetings. Several times in the ab­sence of the Vice President I presided over the Senate. As a junior I am serving on several important committees. I am the Chairman of the Appropriations committee which reviews monetary expenditures before their presentation to the Senate. I also am a member of the Senate Rules committee for which I wrote the Graduate Amendment to the Constitution and all necessary Bylaw changes involved with this Amendment. Another major item which I worked on was the Judicial Board Amendment to the Con­stitution. I also wrote a resolution detailing operating con­struction of the Childcare center on campus. The resolution does not guarantee the construction but will help bring it to reality when the trustees meet in May for the final decision before con­struction. I also am a member of the A.S.B. Finance Board.

Next year the A.S.B. Govern­ment needs to continue the fight for the Childcare center on campus. To date, the trustees have blocked every move, but perhaps next year they may be persuaded to change their minds. The A.S.B. student services need to be reviewed and centralized but most of all im­proved. Next years' activities must be increased over what this Quarters activities have been and activities for nit time students must be provided. The student union proposal will be up before the trustees next month and if they allow construction to begin then the A.S.B. Government must update its services and structure by incorporation to maintain a continuum with the Student Union for the next year after when it opens. Next year can be a very good year and I hope to make it a good one, with your vote.

Paul Martines — Sophomore Class President

Hello, my name is Paul G. Martines and I am an eligible candidate for the office of Sophomore Class President for the year 1975-76. Through my work in the Student Government for the past two years, I have gained experience in the functioning and involvement, as well as responsibility of maintaining an A.S.B. office. As President in 1974 at San Bernardino High School, and former Freshman Class President here at San Bernardino Call State this year, I have really enjoyed as well as been inspired to continue my leadership role as an A.S.B. officer.

So, vote on April 30th for Paul Martines, the Candidate who believes in a Unified and fully represented class.

Judy Bain — Senior Senator

I feel my qualifications for this coveted position speak for them­selves. Included are: Former Advisor to the Faculty Senate Golpher Extinction Committee; three depletion winners of the Congressional Medal of Honor (posthumously) and Director of Students for Per­version, Sub­version, and Aversion.

In addition to these outstanding achievements are the following: Security guard at Milhouse Dick Grammar School; member of the 6th Day Preventist Church; Vice President, Treasurer, Secretary and Fellowship Chairman of the "People Without Friends" club and Weight Watcher at large.

My campaign is one of com­mitment and involvement. As a card carrying member of LODI (Lei Oliers De It) my activism is apparent. My platform has length and depth. If I'm elected I will promise: A Day Care Center for indoor plants. I will appoint a special investigating team of 8,000 to decode and decipher the graduation requirements.

You will see $1,083.25 million allocated for humanitarain aid to airlift victimized students from boring classrooms. There will be a grade allowance program and special student passes for three packets of sugar at selected restaurants throughout the city. Clearly a vote for Finkleberg will cast a gaint shadow.

Stephen Waterbury — Senior Class President

Pat Egetter — A.S.B. Vice President

Horace Finkleberg — Junior Class
Sergeant at Arms

Once there was a band called The Yardbirds which spawned a multitude of imitators, such as the Jeff Beck, Eric Clapton, Jimmy Page and a singer, Keith Relf who after leaving the group during the pre-Renaissance, later searched for three musicians to form a new, innovative version of the band. Armageddon is the result of that quest, featuring musicians from Captain Beyond, Renaissance and the highly acclaimed (in England) Steamhammer.

Their name implies a powerful, monolithic force and their music reflects this image with little time spared for calmer moments. Generally it's up front, razor edge hard rocking with roots firmly planted in 60's R&B. Relf's distinctive harmonica playing is the catalyst for this sound and when he opens up on "Buzzard" it's straight back. His fears of the dynamo barge of "Five live Yardbirds!" The arrangements are carefully structured with an eye to detail and though their tidal wave of sound is sometimes too enveloping, their dexterity as musicians always compensates.

Martin Pugh's lead guitar is one of the best I've heard. He whips them to incredible energetic highs and also carefully guides them through their lighter journeys. "Silver Tights" is the one contemporary composition and it's a tranquil and sound this masterful approach. A drifting piece leaves me wishing there were more of these explored with such fine musicians compositions at greater length. But hard rock sound seems to be their forte, as with for example. A roaring, cracking guitar opens the track for Bobby Caldwell to come thundering in with some rousing drumwork and "Buzzard" begins to soar with an awesome driving power. For sheer energy it's one of the most potently numbers I've heard in a while. Armageddon have produced an impressive debut album which is an exciting addition to the genre of hard, pummeling rock.

The Last Straw

Dear Last Straw:

The last straw has got to be that mini parking lot behind the Student Union, Faculty, and students with offices and classes in LC like to park there and so do the library patrons. Everyone knows why it isn't expanded?

Dr. S.

Dear Dr. S.,

The parking lot isn't expanded because technically it doesn't even exist, at least not according to the Master Plan of CSCI. Joseph Thomas, Vice President of Administration says the original design designates the perimeter of the campus as the place to place your cars.

The "mini lot" you mentioned was actually a temporary facility but because of its convenience and popularity it has already been enlarged twice. Originally the lot allotted less than 100 parking stalls, but it will now hold about 175 vehicles.

Inspite of the increased use, there are no further plans for expansion, according to Thomas, primarily because of safety factors. The road leading to the narrow niche is not considered wide enough to handle and heard the extra traffic which would necessarily result if the "mini" became "maxi.

The road would have to be widened if the parking lot were to be lengthened, an inconceivable concept of the Master Plan. No other alternatives to the original outline are being considered at this time. While Thomas says the lot itself will stay, he also said it will stay as is.

Sorry, Dr. S., like it the first 175 people who like to park there will do just that: pushing other patrons out to the perimeter.

Dear Last Straw:

People who disobeys the No Smoking signs in class rooms and light up really get me upset. Medical studies have proven that cigarette smoke is harmful to nonsmokers. What are your rights concerning this issue? Should I say to these idiots and what can be done legally with them?

L.M.

You have a right to be upset. Non-smokers are helpless victims when an inconsiderate addict lights up in a closed room.

Unfortunately, the school is also helpless to take disciplinary action against the few people who continue to ignore other people's rights. Joseph Thomas, Vice President of Administration said the "No Smoking Please" signs are posted in every classroom and from time to time friendly notices are sent out to remind students to honor the rule.

This has not deterred the persistent smoker, however, so Last Straw thinks you are completely within your rights to politely ask the person to pollute his lungs elsewhere. As for legality, Last Straw cautions against extreme measures such as assault and battery. A nice "Please stop trying to poison me too" should suffice.

In light of the studies that non-smokers are also subject to harm from the nuisance fumes, an all out student effort against smoking in the classrooms seems in order. Thomas explained that it is finally the scholars, not the administrators, who got rid of smoking pot. Pets used to roam the campus despite rules elsewhere. As for legality, Last Straw cautions against extreme measures such as assault and battery. A nice "Please stop trying to poison me too" should suffice.

Let's all hope that it won't take anything as drastic as a non-smoker collapsing in the classroom from emphysema before smokers become aware of the damage they are doing to others as well as themselves.
