Fireball kicks off ...

A dunking concessions, with family members as targets, is one of the numerous activities at Cal State, San Bernardino’s festival for all ages, Fireball ’75, Saturday and Sunday, May 5 and 6.

Cal State students are inviting the community to join in the two-day event, which features a variety of attractions, including food and game booths, exhibits, sports competition and dancing. An area of the school’s gymnasium has been set aside for the let’s-get-acquainted festival.

Starting time both days is 10 a.m., with Saturday activities scheduled through 1 p.m. the following morning and Sunday events continuing until 5 p.m.

Saturday highlights are a 5 p.m. barbecue, for which tickets at $1.50 must be purchased in advance, and a dance from 5 p.m. until 1 a.m. Performing will be Dr. Demento and the Roto Rooter Good Time Christmas Band.

Exhibits from various academic departments at the college will be set up in the gym (Room 129). They will open at 11 a.m. each day. The student-planners feel the presentation will give the community an idea of the programs offered by the school.

Performing will be Dr. Demento and the Roto Rooter Good Time Christmas Band.

Performers will include Melody Kids, Dr. Demento and the Roto Rooter Good Time Christmas Band.

On the A.S.B. election ballot there is a measure asking students to ratify an amendment passed by the A.S.B. Senate, that allows students to arbitrate disputes involving students and A.S.B. officers and employees.

This constitutional revision, engineered by the Chief Justice of the Judicial Board Dave Fowler, will give back to the Judicial Board the power to discipline A.S.B. officers or employees who purposely misuse their offices.

The Judicial Board is the means by which an individual student can present a problem about a higher student government and get some action to have the problem solved.

An example of a problem would be an A.S.B. regulation that discriminates against an elected A.S.B. officer who is missing funds.

Currently an executive order from the Chancellor’s office, supported by former governor Reagan, prohibits students from handling any discipline problems, except those occurring in the dorms.

Dave feels “that the Judicial Board operating under the proposed amendment will enforce a little responsibility in student government which is a good thing.

If the measure is passed by a simple majority of the students, then they will have the power to hold money from the people who blow it (A.S.B. leaders etc.).

Dave feels that there has been a need for the new regulation several times this year.

On Wednesday and Thursday, April 30th and May 1st, pictures and statements by candidates on pages 4 and 5.

ASB Elections will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, April.

George Wallace poses threat to U.S. stability

If you think that George Wallace doesn't have a chance in the '76 election, think again. He's in his wheel chair, his Southern drawl, the erroneous assumption that he has no chance of winning. He's among the most clear and reasonable of race relations, his romance with Ted Kennedy, he and his gold brickling constituencies deserves serious attention as to their potential impact on the country.

George Wallace has always campaigned on the platform that he is a Populist candidate. This is a term that he has come to be concerned about the common person, the farmer, the truck driver, the businessman. But upon closer analysis, this myth is quickly dispelled. He has always promoted on the national campaign trial tax reform that will benefit the “little person.”

Veterans’ Corner by Hank White

OK, Veterans, it’s time for, are you ready for this, the Bishop Marvel’s DO YOU KNOW SHOW. Sponsored by the Veterans Who Care Fund, and the “Get out our Checks Back from the Vet Rep who’s Touring the Bahama’s” Society. As we tune into the station we find that the show has been censored and interrupted by re-runs of the 1951 Mickey Mouse Show and finally replaced by World War II Educational Films. So, all that’s left of the programs is the one that follows the show. Let’s take the quiz and see what we’ve missed, if anything.

Do you know that many voters in Mississippi after the 1974 census?
Do you know that T.U. TU’s should be allowed?
Do you know that even if you’ve used your VA once before to buy a home, you may be able to buy another using the VA?
Do you know that if you can’t find the Vet Rep in his office you can find him at the nearby Coke machine?

Do you know that within a year from separation, honorably discharged Vietnam-era veterans with no more than 14 years of education may be hired in civil service at grade 5 without competing in civil service examinations?

Do you know that free tutorial help are available?
Do you know that rabbits don’t use calculators to multiply?
Do you know you can have your Discharge upgraded?
Do you know that you can obtain a VA loan to purchase a mobile home and land to put it on?
Do you know that the African elephant was wearing 3 white tennis shoes and one yellow one?
Do you know that you can receive medical treatment at VA Hospitals?
Do you know that the preference is given to veterans applying for employment?
Do you know how many legs the African Golden frog has?
Do you know that there are VA agencies that can provide job assistance?
Do you know that if you are disabled you may be eligible for Vocational Rehabilitation Benefits?
Do you know that I’m just as sick of writing these “do you know” questions as you are of reading them?

So, I’m going to stop now. If by any chance you answered “no” to any of the above questions, feel free to stop in the Veterans Affairs Office and we will try to answer any question you may have, we’re just trying to pray out some of our new lines on score.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

For sheer misunderstanding and inaccuracy, I’m quite entitled to surpass the Pawprint’s recent article on Bishop Maher’s decision to schedule certain NOW members out of the sacraments (Pawprint, April 22, 1975). When John XXIII “opened the windows” at the Second Vatican Council, he never intended the Catholic Church to abandon her commitment to objective moral truth, valid for all times. As part of that commitment, the Catholic Church has always opposed the killing of unborn children (as had, until recently, practically every other Christian denomination and as many still do). Bishop Maher is responsible in his diocese for teaching and maintaining this truth, wholly and without reservation. He is also responsible for defending the sacraments, the “life-blood” of Christian worship, from misuse and blasphemy.

The leadership of NOW and the majority of its membership have consistently and loudly supported abortion. Abortion is most certainly an evil, as the Catholic Church has always taught. NOW has hedged by advocating the right of women to choose to obtain the means of sanctioning a pregnancy, of their own “right” to choose.

Finally, the Pawprint’s superficial association of the issue of abortion with the issues of war and capital punishment is unjustified. It is an attempt to move discussion away from the issues at hand to a smoke screen “I’ve mellowed.”

Sincerely,
F.F. Campbell,
Assistant Professor

Poem to the Editor.

The Great Rape Case (at Ole Bo, the Deacon). Justice was served in the courtroom today, Twaas townsey Homeboy in the air of month of May. Momma was there, so was her lawyers, A couple of partners and some barefisted warriors.

“You’re fried if you’re lucky!” said a voice from afar. A smile lit up as the boys from the bar themselves did realize what fools they’d been To think that he was his son.

“ar WHAT might you say in your behalf?” said the judge with a laugh to ole Be, the Deacon. Now the Deacon be a righteous fart and he just stood there grinnin’. That bright orange suit of San Berdoo was now just dirty and blue. And no one said a word just then, as if it didn’t happen. But Bishop Maher made him move And that he’d caught ‘em nappin’.

The D.A. stood and said, “I Object!” While the Deacon stood there shackled. The legal battle went into confusion When the dudes just howled and cackled. by Nobody C ±

Where's the aid in finance?

The dark cloud of confusion that surrounds people trying to make sense out of financial aid applications can be cleared up by students themselves. Hearings are going to be held in Los Angeles on May 9 by student groups who want to gather evidence on problems people experience in learning about, applying for, and obtaining financial aid.

Kim Kavrell, Hearings Coordinator, emphasized that they are looking for "any student off the street who has a problem with financial aid," to testify. She added, "The success of our hearings depends on getting real students to talk about their real problems and to recommend changes." Kavrell noted that very few mechanisms exist to appeal financial aid decisions but "this is certainly one of them."

The California hearings will be part of a nationwide series sponsored by the College Scholarship Service Educational Fund. Other hearings will focus on all other monetary aid programs including state scholarships, grants, Basic Opportunity Grants, loans and work-study.

In the past, hearings have focused on a number of central questions. Among these are how students establish independent status, how students learn about financial aid programs, the lack of appeals mechanisms, and problems students have with specific programs, such as qualifying for loans.

The results of the Hearings will be reports recommending changes and improvements. They will be timely to coincide with the development of a master plan for student aid in the state which will be written this summer. The national report will be sent to Congress before the completion of the revised student aid legislation in mid-1976.

The Hearings in Los Angeles will be in the form of a legislative hearing. Witnesses will be asked to present written testimony, make an oral statement to the panel of students and policy-makers, and then answer questions on their own experiences.

All CSCSB students who are interested in trying to do something positive to shed light on financial aid dilemmas are most welcome to come and testify.

A series of jointly sponsored Quit Smoking clinics is planned for May by American Cancer Society and the San Bernardino County Heart Association.

Susan Harris, Education Director, the American Cancer Society, and Joan Kozel, Education Director with the Heart Association, are working together to bring a new concept in stop-smoking programs to the San Bernardino Valley. Based on the national Quit Smoking program of the Cancer Society, this free pilot program will feature the group method approach to the problem. There will be no physical conditioning, but participants will outline their reasons for quitting and enumerate resources for helping individuals quit the habit.

Persons interested in taking such a program are asked to call Ms. Harris at 887-3791, or Ms. Kozel at 887-2241.

"If enough people are interested," Ms. Harris said, "programs will be scheduled at their convenience. We hope to have from four to eight programs during May, but where and when will depend on the calls we receive from people interested in quitting smoking. Call now to get on the list!"

Ms. Kozel added that if this program is successful in San Bernardino Valley, it may be expanded countywide. "Age is not a factor in our program," Ms. Kozel said. "We are interested in reaching anyone who wants to quit."

Metropolitan is looking for students

Invitations to meet with recruiters from Metropolitan Life, Property, and Liability Companies on May 8th are going to selected students of the CSUSB campus. However, any student interested in exploring career opportunities as a field representative of Metropolitan is still free to schedule an appointment with the recruiters.

Metropolitan, which has been in the life insurance business for over a century, has long offered health insurance and pensions in addition to its basic life programs. However, the company is currently moving in new directions and expanding its automobile and homeowners coverage. Consequently, a number of new openings exist which offer enhanced income benefits leading to management positions, if desired.

Metropolitan also offers its new representatives an intensive training program designed to lift their knowledge and skills to professional levels in basic areas within the relatively short period of one year.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the Placement Office, Room 5-122, or phone 887-7551.
A.S.B. ELECTIONS — Wed. & Thurs., April 30 & May 1, DON'T FORGET TO VOTE!

Raul Ceja — A.S.B. President

My name is Raul Ceja and I am a candidate for the office of A.S.B. President. I have been very closely involved with the programs and activities of the A.S.B. president, and I have witnessed several instances of abuse on the part of this administration. I believe that the students deserve a better fate. I believe that lawyers and business people are the seeds to a prosperous representative governmental body. These things have been lacking and I intend to do something about that!

The following is a list of specific things that I, as A.S.B. President, will institute during the 1975-76 school year.

1. Child Care Center — This service should be offered for all students who have dependent children at a reduced rate.

2. Less money for A.S.B. Government — Presently, the A.S.B. Government has been budgeted approximately $18,000. I feel this is not only inflationary and unnecessary, but it limits new progressive programs that should be created to meet the students' needs.

3. Tutorial Program — One of the new programs that should be initiated is a tutorial program for the students who will need help with specific classes on a one-to-one basis.

4. Evening Students — An increase in the services offered for a substantial segment of our student body; the evening students.

5. Rapport between A.S.B. Government and Students — An explanation of all facets of planning should be made available for all students at Cal State.

6. Monthly Open Door Policy — As a member of the Student Union, I have been very closely involved with the officers and agencies of the finance board. I propose to continue to try to give any student access to the officers. I have been deeply concerned with grievances with A.S.B. Officers which will help supplement Student Union Fee monies, will help to hold the present fee open at the fall of 1976.

7. Other things that more need student input and concern press registration and scheduling, and also the expanding of the Biology Building parking lot which is obviously too small.

As A.S.B. President I was the only one on the Executive Board to have three percent attendance record.

My goals for next year if I am elected as President are primarily to give the student more for his money. To do this I think that we should provide more and better quality activities.

My name is Arnold Resendez and I am running for the office of A.S.B. President. I feel that with the office of President comes a large amount of responsibility and need for experience. I feel that I have acquired the necessary experience to do the job. I have been v.p. and president of M.E.C. H.A., president of the Interorganizational Council and a representative to the Campus Council. I have also been an member of the Educational Opportunity Program's advisory board.

Presently I am Junior Class Senator, and within the Senate I am Chairman of the Rules Committee, member of the Appropriations Committee, and an alternate member of the Finance Board. While in the Senate I have worked on a number of projects that benefit the students, such as Graduate Student Representation, more funds for the Emergency Loan program, and a number of by-laws giving the students a better Student Government.

A.S.B. offers such services as car pooling, Housing Referral, Student Teacher Evaluations, etc. Unfortunately these services are conducted by various A.S.B. offices and agencies. I propose to centralize these services into one office. This centralization of A.S.B. services will create a real and powerful judiciary for students with grievances. A.S.B. Government is not a political party, it is a government. I helped and looked for the Graduate Student representation, authored by Pat Eggetter, to the A.S.B. Constitution. This amendment, if adopted, will create a real and powerful judiciary for students with grievances with A.S.B. Government. I have been involved in intergovernmental disputes. I helped with grievances with A.S.B. Officers which would lead to the creation of a Publicity Office. The sole purpose of this office would be to publicize widely anything of interest that is happening on or off campus.

Publicity office — One of A.S.B.'s most obvious problems is a lack of communication. I propose to create a Publicity Office. The sole function of this office would be to publicize widely anything of interest that is happening on or off campus.

Student Government can be the full potential of this college's other colleges in the State as the San Bernardino will be known by students of that College. an abounding interest in the College whose student leaders take President. With your support the College as a whole will come to the students, and whose concerns focus here on the needs, concerns, and problems of this College. will be a productive change in the office, and professional in attitude to the students, and College as a registration fees for these money back, to the students who phasic will be in redirecting the emphasis will be in student activities b^re on campus. Trips around the State will be minimized, and direct student related activities like: sports—intramurals; forensics; student newspaper, student government, films, dances, and school social outings will be maximized. Finally, with the correct budgeting some tuition scholarships could go to student who through their efforts help the students, and school most directly. In fiscal planning the emphasis will be in redirecting the money back to the students who have paid their registration fees for these necessary student activities.

By electing me A. S. B. President the Student Body will be electing a very capable leader dedicated to the goals, and interests of the students, and the campus focus here on the needs, concerns, and problems of this College. Within one month of office there will be a productive change in the Student Government, and the College as a whole will come to the full realization of a new creativity, and revitalization.

The California State College at San Bernardino will be known by other colleges in the State as the College whose student leaders take an abounding interest in the students of that College. I look for your support on election day (April 30, and May 1) to vote for me, John O. Silva, A. S. B. President. With your support the full potential of this college's Student Government can be achieved. Thank You.

Pat Egetter
A.S.B. Vice President

Although only current Juniors may vote for next years' Senior Class officers, this position entails membership in the general A.S.B. Executive Board, thus affecting the total student body. In addition to several programs geared specifically to Seniors, I would continue to work on projects I began as A.S.B. Senator-at-large. Hopefully, interest in Student Government will continue to increase as more programs and services are offered to the general student. I appreciate your interest and continuing support. Thank you.

Horace Finkleberg

Hello, my name is Paul G. Martinez and I am an eligible candidate for the office of Sophomore Class President for the year 1975-76. Through my work in the Student Government for the past two years, I have gained experience in the functioning and involvement, as well as responsibility of maintaining an A.S.B. office. As President in 1974 at San Bernardino High School, and former Freshman Class President here at San Bernardino Call State this year, I have really enjoyed as well as been inspired to continue my leadership role as an A.S.B. officer.

So, vote on April 30th for Paul Martinez, the Candidate who believes in a Unified and fully represented campus.

The Vinyl Shortage

by John Woodhouse

Once there was a band called the Yardbirds which spawned a number of great soloists like Jeff Beck, Eric Clapton, Jimmy Page and a singer, Keith Relf who after JW opened the gate for the Prog Rock and Renaissance, later searched for three musicians to form a new, innovative band and to display the talent. Armageddon is the result of that quest, featuring musicians from Captain Beyond, Renaissance and the highly acclaimed (in England) Steamhammer.

Their name implies a powerful, monolithic force and their music reflects this image with little time spared for calmer moments. Generally it's up front, razor edge hard rocking with roots firmly planted in '60s R&B. Relf's distinctive harmonica playing is the catalyst for this sound and when he opens up on 'Buzzard' it's straight back. All fears of the dainty boogie of "Five live Yardbirds." The arrangements are carefully structured with an eye to detail and though their tidal wave of sound is sometimes too enveloping, their dexterity as musicians always compensates.

Martin Pagli's lead guitar is one of the best arguments for hiring the harmonica player who whips them to incredible energetic highs and also carefully guides their collective emotion. "Silver Tightrope" is the one cookbook for the band's strongest assets; he would have explored such tendencies as "Voodoo" and "Dear Mr. Fantasy" and the whimsical mysticism of "40,000 Headmen." Add Dave Mason's classic, "Feelin' Alright" and you have a priceless gem in your possession. Traffic has always been one of the best bands around and this album proves it.

"Heavy Traffic" United Artists

Traffic could almost be submitted, "The best of the best" of Traffic's early excursions into producing superb and mercurial popular hit material. From a synthesis of jazz, R & B and some soul, four highly gifted musicians created some of the greatest and most tantalising music which was ever heard in the late '60s. Combine one of the finest white blues singers and organists, Stevie Winwood, with an equally fine guitarist and song writer, Dave Mason and sheer excellence was the result.

The diversity of the material compiled here is staggering; there's the cool funk of "Medicated Geor,"; the amusing non-dated homages to psychedelic flower power in "Paper Sun" and the beautiful, "Coloured Rain." the power ballad, "Rain," the powerful, moving, "Law of the Land" and the really very lucid, "Deuce Mr. Fantasy" and the whimsical mysticism of "40,000 Headmen." Add Dave Mason's classic, "Feelin' Alright" and you have a priceless gem in your possession. Traffic has always been one of the best bands around and this album proves it.

Applause in San Berdo

Lawrence Kashia, celebrated Tony Award-winning Broadway producer-director, will direct "Applause," the Bernardo/Caldwell production of the musical. Kashia has been associated with such Broadway notables as Harold Prince, is returning to the LCO stage after a 12-year absence and a string of musical hits spanning from New York to London. The noted director staged Civic Light Opera's first production of "The Sound of Music." Since that time, Kashia has chalked up one success after another in New York and London. His most recent Broadway hit was "Seesaw," which he co-produced. In London, he directed the burlesque "Babes in "Penny Farthing," and the long-running Broadway hit, "Mame." His New York directing credits include "Lovely Ladies, Kind Gentlemen," "Bajour," and "Showboat." He also directed the award-winning Off-Broadway production of "Anything Goes," and the National Touring Company of "Cactus Flower," "Star-Spangled Girl," "Cameo," and "Lil Abner."

"Applause," winner of seven Tony Awards, including "Best Musical of the Season," is the musical version of the Academy Award-winning film, "All About Eve."

Tickets for "Applause" are on sale and can be purchased at the Civic Light Opera Box Office, 209 N. 3rd St., San Bernardino, phone 882-2545; Harris', San Bernardino, Harris', San Bernardino, Redlands, and Riverside, all Mutual Agencies.

The Last Straw

This one started it all! Gerard Damiano's first film has become an erotic, comedy classic.

The Last Straw

The last straw has got to be that mini parking lot behind the Cal State, San Bernardino, Faculty, and students with offices and classes in LC like to park there and so do the library patrons. Even why isn't it expanded?

Dear Dr. S.,

The parking lot isn't expanded because technically it doesn't even exist, at least not according to the Master Plan of CUSB. Joseph Thomas, Vice President of Administration says the original design designates the perimeter of the campus as the place to place your cars.

The "mini lot" you mentioned was actually a temporary facility, but because of its convenience and popularity it has already been enlarged twice. Originally the lot allotted less than 100 parking stalls, but it will now hold about 175 vehicles.

Inspite of the increased use, there are no further plans for expansion, according to Thomas, primarily because of safety factors. The road leading to the narrow niche is not considered wide enough to handle the extra traffic which would necessarily result if the "mini" became "maxi."

Egos, the road would have to be widened if the parking lot were to be lengthened, an inconceivable concept of the Master Plan. No other alternatives to the original outline are being considered at this time. While Thomas says he himself will stay as it is. So, Dr. S., it looks like the first 175 people who like to park there will do just that, pushing other patrons out to the perimeter.

Dear Last Straw:

People who disobey the No-Smoking signs in class rooms and light up really get me upset. Medical studies have proven that cigarette smoke is harmful to non-smokers. What are your rights concerning this issue? Should I say to these idiots what can be done legally with them?

Dear Last Straw:

You have a right to be upset. Non-smokers are helpless victims when an inconsiderate addict lights up in a closed room.

Unfortunately, the school is also helpless to take disciplinary action against the few people who continue to ignore other people's rights. Joseph Thomas, Vice President of Administration said the "No-Smoking Pledge" signs are posted in every classroom and from time to time friendly notices are sent out to remind students to honor the rule.

This has not deterred the persistent smoker, however, so Last Straw thinks you are completely within your rights to politely ask the person to pollute his lungs elsewhere. As for legality, Last Straw cautions against extreme measures such as assault and battery. A nice "Please stop trying to poison me." should suffice.

In light of the studies that non-smokers are also subject to harm from the noxious fumes, an all out student effort against smoking in the classrooms seems in order. Thomas explained that it was finally the scholar, not the administration, who got rid of smoking children. Pets used to roam the campus despite rules, so there is no reason why students can't do the same as others as well as themselves.

Children's Art Fair planned

Children from the ages of 3 through 10 will have an opportunity to paint, paste, sew or create their own projects during an Art Fair Saturday, May 3, at Cal State San Bernardino.

Twelve art projects will be provided for the youngsters by the sponsors, which include Cal State Faculty Wives, the President's Club at the college and the Arrowhead Allied Arts Council. All children between the ages of 3 and 10 are invited to participate. Admission is 10 cents per child to cover the costs of some materials.

The only requirement imposed by the sponsors is that one adult must accompany each child in order to keep the officers from being overcrowded.

Tours of the campus will be available for parents while the children are in their projects. Hours for the event, first held several years ago, is 1 to 3 p.m. The activities will be in the outdoor area between the Administration, Fine Arts and Student Services Buildings.
