Every so often there emerges an individual who appears to defy all human limitations. A person who has seemingly done it all. One such person is George Plimpton.

A writer, adventurer, intellectual, and athlete, George Plimpton has truly done things that most of us only dream about.

CSUSB is honored to welcome an individual of his stature to campus. On Thursday, October 10, at 7:30 pm, the Student Union Multi-Purpose room will become the site of George Plimpton’s presentation, an "Amateur Among the Pros."

George Plimpton has received degrees from Harvard University and King's College, Cambridge University. He has written eighteen books and numerous articles pertaining to his experiences and many interests. His film appearances include "Reds," "Lawrence of Arabia," and the current release "Volunteers." In 1953 he founded The Paris Review, a literary quarterly of which he is still editor, and he has been associate editor at both Horizon and Harper's magazines. His interest in fireworks has prompted him to his present position as fireworks commissioner of New York city. The list goes on.

Bringing George Plimpton to campus is just the first of many major events which the A.S. Special Events Committee hopes to sponsor this year. Sandy Weiser-Doyle, the coordinator of the year-old committee states, "the Special Events Committee will play a strong role in sponsoring events which appeal to a wide variety of interests." The committee sponsors events independently and solicits ideas from campus organizations and individuals. The SEC offers a new potential for funding major events on campus. As CSUSB Activities Director, Jeanne Henson, said in response to the committee’s role, "it is really exciting to see the campus start to draw big names, we’ve wanted to see this change for a long time."

Tickets to see George Plimpton are on sale at the Student Union desk while seating is available ($2.00 for CSUSB students with I.D. and $3.00 general admission). For more information call the Student Union at 887-7757. George Plimpton’s reputation as an entertaining speaker and his appeal to a wide variety of audiences should prove to make his appearance one of the most memorable events to take place on campus. Joanna Koch, director of Alumni Affairs and former Special Events coordinator, said it best in stating that "George Plimpton has the suavity to appeal to students, faculty, and staff, as he is an intellectual and at the same time a sportsman and adventurer-he is someone we can all look up to."
Student Exchange Adds Emphasis

Current Cal State students have the opportunity to pay CSUSB fees while attending a college in another part of the country. The National Student Exchange program adds an exciting dimension to this campus, according to Theron Pace, the director of the program.

"Can you imagine attending the University of South Florida and paying only CSUSB tuition rates?" Dr. Bill Bennecke, the University of Northern Colorado and again at the CSUSB bargain tuition rate?"

"There are over 75 colleges and universities participating in this exchange program. The student applying must have a 2.5 grade point average. It is a program designed for the student so that there is a minimum of red tape," Pace continued.

You are invited to follow Keisha and Lisa and explore this possibility for yourself. Theron Pace is the person to see and his office is in the Activities Center next to the lunch machine room in the library. It is also the Services to Students with Disabilities office, the telephone number for Theron Pace is 887-7662.

Bennecke joins Mayor's Staff

Richard Bennecke, who has been employed at the university since his graduation here in 1967, has resigned to join the staff of San Bernardino's new mayor, Evelyn Wilcox.

The first student body president and a member of the graduating class, Bennecke had served in a variety of positions, primarily in the Student Services area. He had been a student activities advisor, the first director of the Student Union, director of alumni affairs and a financial aid advisor. Bennecke, who once ran for mayor himself, will be assisting the mayor with office management and community relations projects.

Library Receives Trial Computerized Reference System

The Library has received a 60-day free trial of InfoTrac, an automated reference database system which has access to information from 1000 periodicals (from 1982 to the present) and two encyclopedias (past 60 days).

Provided by Information Access Company, the two-station system allows two users to search the database simultaneously and receive printed copies of the search results. The InfoTrac database is updated monthly.

There will be no charge for the use of InfoTrac during the trial period. Students will have to be in the top half of their class to enter a user education program, and later, to be recommended for a state teaching credential. They also will be required to demonstrate teaching skills in addition to subject matter competency.

The 19 CSU campuses turn out more than 6,000 candidates, 1600 teachers each year, more than half the state's total output. The newly adopted standards are considered minimum for the system, and campuses are encouraged to add to them.

CSU Trustees Adopt New Teacher Standards

For the first time in 20 years, CSU trustees adopted tough new standards, which will go into effect next year, for anyone seeking to become a public school teacher. Students will have to be in the top half of their class to enter a teacher education program, and later, to be recommended for a state teaching credential. They also will be required to demonstrate teaching skills in addition to subject matter competency.

The 19 CSU campuses turn out more than 6,000 candidates, 1600 teachers each year, more than half the state's total output. The newly adopted standards are considered minimum for the system, and campuses are encouraged to add to them.

HEALTH CENTER OFFERS LOW COST SERVICES

The staff of the Student Health Center wants to welcome you back to another year of intellectual challenge and personal growth at CSUSB. This promises to be an exciting year since our campus will be celebrating its 20th anniversary.

Your Health Center is here to help you learn how to protect and enhance your health so that your time here can be productive. One way in which we try to carry out this role is through weekly articles in this newspaper. We are beginning our third year of enhancing your health so that your time here can be productive. As a result, they become foods, lose sleep, or don't exercise in this newspaper. We are this role is through weekly articles about the services available at the Health Center as well as other programs in the community, and with information about those factors that influence your health and what you can do to maintain it. We hope you will find it helpful and will help support topics you would like to see us address.

Many times students worry too much about exams, eat the wrong foods, lose sleep, or don't exercise enough. As a result, they become exhausted and get ill just in time for finals. This year, don't do that to yourself. Play it smart and concentrate on wellness and remember, your Student Health Center can help you in this endeavor. You might be surprised to know that aside from the routine diagnosis and treatment of illness, your Health Center offers nutrition and diet information and counseling, men's/women's health care, immunizations and much more. So before you get too bogged down with school work, stop by the Health Center and learn how it can best serve you.

We encourage all students to use these services because in today's time of tight budgetary constraints, it is important that students use all available resources to save money ($$) and help survive the academic year. Health care is an area that can be very expensive to a student unless you have insurance coverage and/or have access to free or inexpensive health care. Although in-patient services are not provided, the Health Center is just the place for emergency treatment resulting from sickness or accidents. The plan is designed to complement the Student Health Center by providing coverage for services not offered at the the center. It is available at a cost of $158.00 per year or $41.50 quarterly. The enrollment deadline is 30 days from the opening of each quarter, so don't delay. Further information and applications can be obtained at the Student Health Center. By the way, no insurance is necessary in order to go to the Health Center. Its services are available to all enrolled CSUSB students who possess validated I.D. cards.

The Student Health Center has a Supplemental Student Accident and Sickness Insurance Plan available for CSUSB students and their dependents. This plan provides insurance coverage if a student requires hospital care or emergency treatment resulting from sickness or accidents. The plan is designed to complement the Student Health Center by providing coverage for services not offered at the center. It is available at a cost of $1495.00 for a portable with 512K & 2 drives. We welcome special orders of software & will be glad to assist you in filling your needs. Some examples of available software are:

AGNES OF GOD

by John Purlcot

From its opening moments, Agnes of God is a gripping film. Centering around a young nun who give birth, the film quickly develops into a dilemma for the viewer.

A nun giving birth is shocking enough, but after seeing Agnes the idea of her becoming pregnant seems ludicrous—at least by natural means. Meg Tilly is tremendous as Agnes, successfully portraying a woman who from her first to last scene, seems to be the most innocent woman to grace this earth since Mary, the mother of Christ.

Jane Fonda and Anne Bancroft take sides in a debate that starts out as one over Agne's innocence or guilt and escalates to a war of words over scientific fact and a belief in miracles. Fonda and Bancroft are equally brilliant.

Fonda plays Dr. Martha Livingston, a psychologist appointed by the court to decide whether Agnes is sane and can be held responsible for the killing of her child. Dr. Livingston is not content to confine her investigation to Agnes' sanity. After talking with the young nun, Dr. Livingston decides that Agnes may be a victim rather than a criminal.

Dr. Livingston is determined to find the truth and her efforts clash with the Mother Superior of Agnes' convent, portrayed by Anne Bancroft. Sister Miriam Ruth is not a typical nun. She is a down-to-earth woman who long ago convinced herself that miracles don't happen anymore, yet she finds herself wanting to believe that Agnes' pregnancy was just that.

Fonda and Bancroft have their best moments during the frequent confrontations their characters share. While nothing is left sacred during these quarrels, the two always seem to end up laughing and gaining respect for each other. One particular argument ends with Dr. Livingston sneaking a cigarette to the Mother Superior.

John Purlcot's screenplay adapted from his own stage play is most enjoyable since it makes the viewer question whether Agnes really could be the mother of God's child. It makes the viewer question his own beliefs—not just whether we believe in miracles, but whether we want to believe a miracle could happen.

There are over 100 Alpha Phi collegiate chapters at various campuses in California. Alpha Phi is dedicated to providing an environment where collegiate and alumnus members may grow to meet the challenges of today.

The Alpha Phi colony at San Bernardino began last June, when several female students at the university contacted Alpha Phi International Fraternity and asked for their help in organizing the first sorority on the Cal State campus.

An Apology to the Patient

Dear Editor,

When I enrolled at CSUSB a few weeks ago, I came with the assumption that the men of my daughter's generation had grown up with more enlightened attitudes about women than their fathers had. Apparently I was mistaken.

Imagine my surprise when a young stranger with whom I had spoken briefly over the microwave in the Pfau building said to me, "You being a housewife, I guess you know all about microwaves." I informed him coldly that I was not a housewife. I was so taken aback by his obvious assumption that middle aged women are housewives, I rudely accused him of an acute case of testosterone poisoning by loudly proclaiming "OINK—OINK—OINK!!" to his face.

My poor manners were inexcusable. I can only plead momentary shock. You see, no one had said anything like that to me for ten or fifteen years. I certainly didn't expect it from a man who grew up in a world where his female counterparts, on the main have not been denied their civil rights merely because of their sex.

I would've explained to him that stereotypes are detrimental to us all. Perhaps I might've reminded him that many of us nearly destroyed our personal and professional credibility to stand alongside Steinem, Abzug, Greer et al. before feminism was chic, as earlier we had lain our lives on the line to march with King in Alabama because we believed stereotyping was wrong.

That's what I should've said.

Chauvinism Lives?

Dear Editor,

When I enrolled at CSUSB a few weeks ago, I came with the assumption that the men of my daughter's generation had grown up with more enlightened attitudes about women than their fathers had. Apparently I was mistaken.

Imagine my surprise when a young stranger with whom I had spoken briefly over the microwave in the Pfau building said to me, "You being a housewife, I guess you know all about microwaves." An Apology to the Patient

Letter to the Editor:

As continuing students know, the Program Change (Drop/Add) - Late Registration procedure changed this fall. The implementaion of a new student data base system necessitated our changing to on-line processing of program changes. In anticipation that this process would be slower, we increased our windows from two to four and added two hours to our evening hours on Thursday and Monday. Unfortunately, the terminal response time was even slower than expected. This fact, coupled with an unexpected 13% growth in enrollment and the loss of the up-to-date display of closed classes, resulted in excessively long lines and waiting. I am sure that many students missed classes, appointments, and work. I would like to take this opportunity to apologize to those students and to all the others who waited so patiently in those long lines. I would also like to commend them on their good humor and acceptance of the situation. There were no unpleasant scenes.

We are already reviewing the procedure and looking for ways to shorten the lines and improve our service in the future. Please bear with us through our "growing pains."

Thanks again to all for their patience.
