Campus braces for trick-or-treat invasion

On October 30, the day before Halloween, CSCSB will be awash with high school students out to discover, through Career Day, how a college education can provide them with future wealth and wellbeing.

Faculty members from different academic departments, like hucksters at a fair, will try quite disinterestedly to sell these innocents on the idea that their own discipline can best lead to promised lands, pots of gold, financial security in a troubled time, exciting and worthwhile careers, and the like.

These claims may — to be charitable — seem somewhat exaggerated. But we should not be prematurely harsh. There are students with future wealth and wellbeing.

Halloween, CSCSB will be aswarm with high school students out to peddle them for maximum art, and foreign languages will doubtless help the enterprise. The place to smuggle pornography into these days, in the Middle East. A background in art and anthropology should be able to cash in on the demand for Inca, Aztec, and Maya treasures or, more modestly, to recreate Zuni silverwork, Kwakiutl totem poles, and old-time Pueblo bakery. If your genius is for administration rather than creation you can oversee large-scale forgery operations in exotic lands and then manage the sale of these forgeries to leading American museums — or, if you have a yen for authenticity, get into the rob-the-ruins racket, in which you will doubtless meet many other interesting and enterprising people.

writer it is not necessary that you know how to write, though a certain basic literacy (of a sort theoretically gained in introductory English classes) probably doesn't hurt. What is essential is a good gimmick and a flair for self-promotion. Poetry and fiction will get you nothing: you must recognize that your vast potential audience is a mass of malcontents eager to improve their lives and willing to buy any book that tell them how to do it — how to make friends, how to get rich in the commodities market, how to improve their sex lives, how to save (or, perhaps, dissolve) their marriages, how to build a big cabin. Psychological selfhelp books are probably the current winners in our insecure and introspective society. Take a few psychology courses (to establish your credentials), sit on your gimmick ("Transvalational Introdynamics," or the like), invent a few spacy case histories, and look forward to a rich and happy life as a talkshow guest.

Student Senate holds closed meeting

By John Whitehair

Quoting Roberts' Rules of Order as their authority, The Student Senate closed their meeting to all visitors and reporters and approved several student government appointments and tabled others during the regular Senate meeting on Oct. 22.

All Elections Committee positions were approved, with Maria Padilla appointed chairperson and Aurora Sanchez, Amelia Sanchez, Steve Jacobsen and Judy Barbo seated on the committee.

Paula Rainsberger's appointment as Junior Class president was also approved. However after hearing arguments from two of the four treasurer candidates, the Senate postponed their decision on filling that position.

The Executive Cabinet chose Debra Urquijo to fill the treasurer's slot, however the Senate must give final approval to all Executive Cabinet nominations.

Andy Butts and Jane Cecil argued that they were qualified for the position and persuaded the Senate to table the matter until all four candidates can be interviewed at the next regular Senate meeting.

In other business several financial matters were taken care of, an Activities expense account was transferred, a Drama Department request for $200 was tabled for a week, Andy Butts request for $50 for the Model U.N. was approved and a request for funding of an Indian concert was put off for another week.

Rules committee chairperson Judy Blair reported that she was studying the request made by representatives of a Student Dental health plan last week that the ASB sponsored their program. Senator Blaine will make her findings known at the next Senate meeting along with a report on new elections rules and other bylaws changes.

Senator Cecil dominated the second half of the meeting, reporting on various actions of the appropriations committee of which he is a member.

A travel request from the Disabled Students Association was sent to the appropriations committee, $500 was transferred to the ASB phone account, $250 was approved for Friday night films, and in Emergency action, Activities Advisor Richard Benecke was granted $500 for the Outdoor Leisure Program.

Mike Lambert reported that he was working on a solution to the night fighting problem on campus.

CSO students vs campus cops battle set for Nov. 6

A donkey basketball game between a group of Cal-State students and a team made up of Campus cops is planned for Thursday, November 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the Cal-State gym.

The object of the game is to make baskets and score points in a friendly, competitive environment.

The tickets, at $1.50 for adults and $1.25 for children may be purchased at the door. Advance tickets may be secured through the Cal-State activities office for $1.00.

Students participating are Mark Caouette of Crestline, Norman, students dedicated for the most part to studying, it is said, have Rainberger, China Lake; Cheryl Hill, Bishop; Judi Jones, Loma Linda; Kim Werner, San Diego; Cheryl Crane, Gary Crump, Sol Irving, students in the art of John Herrick, Kevin Gallagher and donkey basketball. Players and Steve Burt, all of San Bernardino, mons will become acquainted for the first time at the event.

The students will have a slight edge on the cops as they become.

Increase Student Union fees

Governor Brown's veto of a bill that would have increased student fees to construct and run the Student Union was a disappointment to many students who have waited patiently for the Union for a number of years now.

The construction of the Union will hopefully go ahead as scheduled despite the vetoed bill. Dean of Students, Kent Monroe, who is in charge of the Union construction, will submit a plan to the Board of Trustees soon that will allow the construction to proceed. However due to inflation the student union fee now set at $6.50 will have to be increased in the near future. Operating costs, salaries of Union personnel and other expenses will not be met with the fee set at the current level. Many cut-backs to the original proposal have already been made. These deletions will not be necessary if Brown had not vetoed the bill.

If the students want a Union and one that is fully equipped and staffed they will have to face reality and have the fee increased. If students in the past had the foresight to consider rising inflation costs, the Union would have been constructed by now.

If you are concerned that Cal-State students have a Union that they can be proud of, you should join in the movement to raise the fees to any amount necessary and get the Union built now!

Announcing: Creative issue

The last issue of the Weekly PawPrint this quarter, which will be published on the ninth of December will be a creative issue.

All students, faculty and others are encouraged to submit poems, prose, drawing or pictures. If an excessive amount of material is submitted the PawPrint's faculty advisor will choose which entries are published.

So get those typewriters typing and speed ball pens drawing and submit your best works for publication.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:
The time has come to take pen in hand and express the grievances collectively of many students who participate in sports on this campus. Especially, I wish to voice a complaint concerning the overwhelming abundance of non-students who have over-run our facilities which should be reserved for paying students. The tennis and racquetball courts have become the haven for the over-running racquetball groupies, one of them said I deserved sugar in my gas tank. Needless to say, this has got to stop. These incidents are light threats compared to some far more hostile complaints concerning the over-running tennis courts. Yesterday, for example, when I asked two high school students (with skate-boards in tow) to please vacate the court, they stormed off indignantly, appalled.

I am requesting responses and hopefully solutions to this increasing annoying problem.

Sincerely,
Linda Wattson

Actually, putting out a newspaper is fun and exciting, I don't mind a bit, some people even say my bags are becoming expanding, but I could use help! How 'bout it?

Activities Committee needs leadership

By Frank Sheeran

Curious why you haven’t read anything about concerts, movies, guest speakers, and special events at Cal State? Then perhaps we can throw some light on the outlined chair positions in the ASB Activities Committee and furnish some insight on how our campus Activities Office and the Activities Committee function to provide students with an activities program.

Two weeks ago the Pawprint reported that an Activities Chairperson would be appointed shortly and work started on film orders, concert and dance schedules, and guest speakers. As yet the position is unfilled and the activities calendar bare. And belief it or not, you can blame it all on politics. It appears that difficulties have developed in the establishment of a dual chairmanship. Factions in the ASB government favor two different candidates, and since compromise is an alternative to conflict resolution, here’s what they propose: two chairpersons.

Barring, of course, the appearance of a third party candidate Cal State will have an Activities Committee soon. Politics, as we all know, takes time.

Assuming the appointments will be made before too much time has passed the Activities Office is ready with some helpful information. The Activities Office works closely with the ASB Activities Committee to provide students with a well balanced entertainment program. Richard Bennecke, activities advisor, views the Office as a facilitator to the ASB Committee. “The Activities Office creates a continuity of programs from one year to the next,” says Bennecke. “The Committee has access to all the activities information in the office. For example, we collect information on bands interested in performing on campus. Then price becomes the screening device. Obviously if their fee is $1000 the budget wouldn’t allow it.” The information is put in a booklet for consideration by the Committee. The Activities Office makes the necessary arrangements for special equipment, custodians, and campus security.

Last year the Activities Office and Committee conducted a study to determine what student interest is in the area of activities. The results provide a balanced program for students. This year the Activities Committee has a budget of $12,000 for the three quarters. But according to ASB Vice-president Pat Eggert that budget is based on a student enrollment of 2500 students (currently student pop. is 3000), so he expects the Committee to request an increase in funds. Already $4500 is held for film orders, with remaining money to cover concerts, lecture series, and costs for security and publicity.

Our College Plan.

$1 a month buys all the bank you need.

Bank of America's College Plan is a complete banking package just for students. It's simple, convenient, economical and includes everything you're likely to need. Here's what makes it so useful:

1. The College Plan Checking Account. Unlimited check writing for just $1 a month. With no minimum balance required. And no service charge at all for June, July, August, or for any month a balance of $300 or more is maintained. You get a statement every month. And the account stays open through the summer even with a zero balance. saving you the trouble of having to close it in June and reopen it in the fall.

2. Personalized Checks. Yours inexpensively. Scenic or other style checks for a little more.

3. BankAmericard. For students of sophomore standing or higher. Who qualify the College Plan can also include BankAmericard. It's good for tuition at most state schools, check-cashing identification and all types of purchases. Parental guarantee is not required. And conservative credit limits help you start building a good credit history.

4. Overdraft Protection. Our Instant Cash helps you avoid bounced checks, by covering all your checks up to the limit of your available BankAmericard credit.

5. Educational Loans. A Bank of America specialty. Complete details are available from any of our Student Loan Offices.

6. Savings Accounts. Lots of plans to choose from, all providing easy ways to save up for holidays and vacations.

7. Student Representatives. Usually students or recent graduates themselves, our Reps are located at all our major college offices and offer individual help with any student banking or financial problems.

Now that you know what's included, why not drop by one of our college offices, meet your Students Rep, and get in on our College Plan. $1 a month buys all the bank you need.

Depend on us. More California college students do.

Parapsych Seminar Planned

By Dan Jack

You live in the present, and you've probably studied about the past. How about taking a look into the future?

Since current general interest in many of these fields is growing on a daily basis, Parapsych seminar participants are assembling a fun, people-to-people workshop for Saturday, November 1, starting out in SH-16 at 10:00 a.m. There will be a general orientation, which will hopefully include a few special guests. Arrangements are being made to have an expert in the field of consciousness and meditation, a UFOlogist, and an EEG specialist, a Pyramidalist, and maybe even a "sensitive" of two (sensitive is a new, more humanistic term for one with psychic abilities).

Of equal interest is the seminar moderator, Nikolai Khokhlov, who is well known in the higher circles of Parapsychology. He obtained his doctorate at Duke University, and while there he worked on the third dimension in Experimental Parapsychology. He obtained his doctorate at Duke University, and while there he worked on the third dimension in Experimental Parapsychology.

The workshop is open to anyone with an interest, and involvement will be the key word. Participants attending the sessions will be invited to participate in a number of experiments.

Avid futurists seem to feel that Parapsychology looks in this direction on a continuing basis. Most people are quite surprised when they learn that an upper division course entitled "Sensitivity in Experimental Parapsychology" is offered by the Cal-State Psychology department.

But...wait a minute, just what is that thing called Parapsychology? Simply, it is a rather eclectic para-science, which delves into the world of the unknown, especially in the area of Telepathy.

Some of its fields of concentration are: extra or higher sense perception (ESP-HSP); Kirlian photography and aura; X-energies and plant communication and pyramid power; Astrology; UFO's; consciousness; and many, many more.

On-going experimental work into pyramid power, ESP, Kirlian effect, plant communications, aura-color-music phenomena, and other areas will be explained, explored, and demonstrated.

Several ESP tests will be given throughout the day, including outdoors when the weather is nice. Here everyone will have a chance to participate in a large-scale, scientifically controlled test of telepathic communications.

If results are significant, they will be reported in a future issue of the PawPrint. Everyone is invited, but if you can't make it...send a couple of thoughts!

Local sports hero interviewed

By Joe Long

Our interviewee for this week is Ernie Fischer, alias Don Moss, alias Mathama Kay Ganjeeves, who played in the Indian League with the Plains Indians. He is also known for his presence in the Sandlot League for a sack of potatoes ($1.00) and five checkered (yellow and orange) umbrellas.

During this interview it was quite interesting to comment on Don Moss's appearance, as he looked somewhat different than in his baseball card pictures. Don started that after a quiet and quiet ball season, he passed a test and is now appearing in Police Story and has his first starring role in a movie. One recent film Don starred in was Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid.

Don is here in San Bernardino on a scouting job, and will soon open a franchise in Colton, as he's heard there are a few good ball players nesting in the hills of San Berdo.

Don's team plans to use Tennis Balls in this "The People's Tennis Ball League," of the International Stickball Federation. Some of Don's friends who plan to help collect money for this League include Ballard, Red Ruffing, (an old friend who owns the famous dance hall off of Mt. Vernon), and well known athlete from CSCSB, Monte Pearson (Don roomed with Monte when he was a scouting job, and will soon open a franchise in Colton, as he's heard there are a few good ball players nesting in the hills of San Berdo.

RAIDERS BOYCOTT END
ZONE GET BLITZED 42-0

The Raiders can now say they have something in common with Star Kidmore. Near the end of the game this defense was being attacked by a gun, it's another Cavalier touchdown! It seemed to be the only response printable that the Raiders could muster on that gloomy day.

Kurt Nelson, Mary Schanback (TEAM), Jeff Keith, Jennifer Lankford (OUTSIDERS), Robin King and Kris Crudp (MILK DUDS),"Hopalong" Cassidy and Tom Alio which allowed Ernie Fischer, Mike Ainesworth, and John Nagel to run devastating sweeps through the Raider defense. The Cavalier defense was anchored by Mike Ainesworth, Chris Nelson, and Stan Kidmore. Near the end of the game this defense was being accused of assault and battery among other things. The Raiders only "shining moment" was when injured, but still hustling Al Diaz would carry the ball. All in all the Raiders should've stayed in bed and phoned in their results.

Unfortunately for the Raiders they were on the receiving end of a 42-0 beating by the Cavaliers.

Student government openings

Students interested in running for an A.S.B. Office should pick up a petition from either the ASB office or from the Activities office.

Petitions will be available beginning Monday October 27 through October 30.

Positions available include Freshman Class President, Vice-President, two Senators, Secretary and Treasurer.

The Graduates Class has an opening for a President, and two Senators. Three Senator-at-large positions on the Student Senate are also open.

Campaigning for the positions will begin on November fourth and will end on November 18.

Elections will be held on November 12 and 13 with polls located near the Library and opened from 8 a.m. till 7 p.m.

Students who decide to run for any of the positions should contact the managing editor of the Weekly PawPaw as soon as possible so that their campaign speech and picture may be printed in the November 15 special election issue.

Term paper help available

Sweatin' out that first term paper? Hang in there, help is in sight! The Library and the Learning Resources Center have pooled professional know-how and have come up with a special class on researching and writing term papers. The Dynamic Term Papers class is not a class in the sense that you have to attend, it's there for you to use and benefit from in your other, more formal classes.

The next session of Dynamic Term Papers will be held tomorrow (Oct. 29) at 2 p.m. in Room LC-210. This particular session will be on "Indexes and Abstracts," first appearing in the Journal Literature." Both Ms. Linda Miller, External Affairs Librarian, and Ms. Diana Pelletier, Learning Center Instructor, who are conducting the class, urge students who are facing that first term paper with dread to give it a try. They don't guarantee straight A's, but they agree that if you take the class seriously you'll boost your GPA as far as term papers are concerned.

The good thing about the class is that you can pick it up at any of the sessions that might most benefit you. Other upcoming topics, times, and places are:

"Documenting the Paper," Thursday, Oct. 30, 2 p.m., LC-27.
"Working Bibliography," Wednesday, Nov. 5, 2 p.m., LC-27.
"Writing & Revising the Draft," Thursday, Nov. 6, 2 p.m., LC-27.

Audio-Visual facilities provided

The Audio-Visual Committee of the Campus Council wishes to inform the student body of the audio-visual materials available to them through the audio-visual department in the basement of the library. LC 87 887-7206

Students are able to do anything from video taping off the television to making slides and super 8 movies. Many classes use the facilities to record lectures or to tape interviewing techniques in a simulated T.V. studio. Everyone is invited to see and use these facilities.
