Hold on to your hot seat!

WALLY GEORGE TO ATTACK ISSUES
by John Purcell

Wally George, the epitome of neo-conservatism, will be appearing at California State University, San Bernardino on Thursday, November 21, from 8 to 11 pm in the SUMP. Admission is free.

George, perhaps best known for his television show, HOT SEAT, which appears on channel 56 is known for his staunch conservatism. The show usually consists of George, engaging in discourse with various liberals.

Not a man with a long temper, George is known for his tendency to throw guests off his stage when they become, as he says, "LUDICROUS." He has also at times flipped his desk over in disgust.

The "HOT SEAT" talk show on KDOC-TV is in its third year and is syndicated on 135 cable television systems in 30 cities nationwide, Stewart said.

George is a veteran broadcaster of 35 years, having begun his career in the 1950s.

Administration Looking for Three New Deans
by Melissa E. McDowell

Administration is currently searching for a dean of not one but three schools here at Cal State. Applications for Dean of Humanities, Social and Behavioral Sciences along with Business and Public Administration are being taken until the end of January, 1986.

Qualifications, duties and salary have been listed in ads placed in newsletters and journals circulated throughout the college and university systems.

J. Cordell Robinson, Associate Vice President of Academic Personnel and coordinator of the three search committees organized to fill the positions, says the University is still in the advertising stage of the process.

"After the deadlines for receiving resumes," he says, "each selection committee will narrow the candidates down to five or six finalists."

The committees consist of faculty from the respective school, academic personnel, as well as a student representative. Committee chairpersons are J. Cordell Robinson, Social and Behavioral Sciences; Dr. Amer El-

Administration Looking for Three New Deans

Abraf, Business and Public Administration; and Dr. Jerrold Pritchard will chair the Humanities committees.

The finalists, Robinson says, will be subject to an on-campus interview from the committee. Their final recommendation will then be presented to Vice President, Deitweiler, and President Evans. Final selection of any dean is Evans' decision.

Both Dr. Prieto and Dr. Clark are presently the acting deans of Social Sciences and Humanities. Hal Hoverland, Dean of Business and Public Administration, will be resigning at the end of this year to resume teaching.

Hoverland, Robinson says, will be using his "retreat rights", going back to the department of history.

"Retreat rights are a way out for those in administration," laughs Robinson. "When you're sick of it, you can go back to what you started doing--teaching."

Screening, interviewing and final selection for each position Robinson hopes will go quickly.

"We are shooting to have all the positions filled by perhaps March of next year," he said.

GREAT KINGS OF AFRICA DISPLAY
by Steve Karen

The reception for the Great Kings of Africa Art Exhibit (sponsored by Anheuser Busch), which is being housed in the University's Learning Center, was held on Sunday, November 10 in the Student Union Multi-Purpose Room.

The reception was hosted by Dr. Marian Talley, the director of the learning center. Guest speakers included University President Anthony H. Evans and Hardy Brown of the San Bernardino School Board. Afterwards the audience of roughly a hundred people was treated to the spiritually moving music of the Voices of Christ Choir. Then the highlight of the afternoon arrived as the refreshments were served.

President Evans commented on one of the paintings in which there was a map of Africa in the background with the city of Timbuktu represented on it. It reminded him of the time he and...
HOWERLAND TO STEP DOWN AS ADMINISTRATION DEAN

Dr. Hal Hoverland, who has guided the growth and development of the School of Business and Public Administration for the past 13 years, will step down as dean June 30 to return to full-time teaching.

In announcing his resignation, Dr. Hoverland said, "I had been looking forward to returning to the classroom and doing research projects with faculty. I have developed a regular basis because I enjoy contacting the students and seeing their successes."

Hoverland joined the Cal State faculty in September 1972, as the third chairman of the Department of Business. The department became a school, introduced the second master's offered on campus (first an M.A., then the M.B.A., and M.P.A.) and grew to the largest school in terms of majors (now with approximately 26 percent)

Active in the community, Hoverland served on the San Bernardino Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors for seven years, first as vice president for economic development, and then as treasurer for three years. He has been a member of the Rotary Club of San Bernardino since 1976, serving as program chair and in the Rotary Life Scholarship Program. He praised the community support of the school. "We've gotten tremendous backing from both the private and public sectors, from CPA firms, private corporations, public agencies—all vital to the school and its growth."

Hoverland brought to his Cal State post teaching experience (Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey, University of Aix in France, San Jose State and University of Michigan (illinois)) business experience (Ford Motor Co, Proctor and Gamble and General Electric) and academic credentials from Miami University in Ohio, B.S., University of Illinois, M.S., and University of Michigan, Ph.D.

Help Arrives for Students with Poor Placement Test Results

The new Intensive Learning Experience Program at Cal State San Bernardino has been developed to assist new students to improve their placement test scores on their English and Math Placement Tests.

Program Director Milton Clark says the program is designed to help students become proficient in their lower level English and Math skills. Two subjects that are vital elements of most classes regardless of major was appropriated the funds last August, in an effort to reduce the extremely high drop out rate of these students.

Mr. Clark believes that we are very fortunate to be one of the 12 out of 19 Cal State campuses awarded the funding for this program. The funds have made it possible to limit the class size to only 12 students, allowing a more individualized learning experience. The teachers for the program have been selected because of their exceptional teaching abilities, and dedication to helping the individual student learn through whatever teaching method the student needs.

career as a radio announcer at the age of 14.

He has been named "newsmaker of the Year" for 1985 by the Orange County Press Club as well as the most outstanding television show host for 1985 by the Citizen Newspapers of Southern California.

During his appearance at Cal State, George will begin by discussing his views on the Soviet Union, about the war in Afghanistan, gun control and the death penalty for about 30 minutes, according to Harry Stewart, who is George's agent. Then he will open the forum to questions from audience. A microphone will be available near the audience seating area and individuals will be allowed to ask one question.

Also to be present at the CSUSB version of "HOT SEAT" will be four fraternitymen--Delta Sigma Phi, Kappa Delta Phi, Phi Beta Sigma, and Sigma Chi Omicron—as well as the Alpha Phi sorority, to help in ushering and possibly crowd control.

Would you like to take Wally off? If you are up to the challenge, or if you aren't, don't miss this enjoyable, though predictably one-sided appearance.

Wally Clark is free, donations will be requested at the door to help support future special events on campus. The event is sponsored by the Associated Students Special Events Committee.

Class Teaches Personal Finance Management

If you have the desire to take control over your personal financial future, then a new G.E. elective, Personal Finance, may be just what you need. This course covers the basics in such areas as personal income taxes, retirement planning, insurance coverages, and investment planning. Personal Finance is the perfect course for any student, regardless of major, who want to gain a basic understanding of personal finance planning.

According to Dr. Raf Khan, Department Chairman of Accounting and Finance, FIN 201-Personal Finance will make its debut on campus during the Winter Quarter of 1986. Aspects of the course will seek to stress the need for individual financial planning and then provide the basic knowledge needed to carry out that planning successfully.

Khan views the course as an important addition to the G.E. course offerings as it incorporates the realities of personal financial planning, especially in today's economy with its bewildering array of investment, insurance, tax opportunities, and personal retirement options.

Students who are in need of a highly practical and rewarding General Education elective, or are interested in taking greater control over their financial future are encouraged to consider FIN 201-Personal Finance and its benefits.

This course will be offered Winter Quarter, 1986 on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 10:00-11:50.

HELP FOR INCOME TAX RETURNS

The Cal State Accounting Association would like all Administration students to consider getting involved with the Volunteer Income Tax Program (VITA) in the Winter Quarter. The course is a two unit, independent study class in the Winter Quarter. The program is sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service and the California Franchise Tax Board. Spanish speaking students are needed to help in preparing taxes for the Spanish speaking community.

Classes will be held on Friday from 5:00-8:00pm and Saturday from 9:00-12:00 noon, for three consecutive weekends beginning January 17 and 18, 1986. Actual tax preparation workshops for the public will be held three days a week-Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, starting February 5, and 6, 1986, and will run for five consecutive weeks. The first week (Feb. 4-6) will be from 6:00 to 8:00pm and thereafter will be from 4:00 to 6:00pm.

To register for the class, ask for the two unit independent study card for VITA at registration in the ADMN booth. For further information contact the Accounting and Finance Dept., AD-162.

Workshop on Writing Skills

Milton Clark, the new ILEP Director, believes that older students who are experiencing difficulty with the essays or research papers needed for most classes and have not taken writing courses for some time, should consider English Workshop 300. This course is designed especially for their needs.

Returning or older students who have achieved Junior standing, should consult with lecturers of their department requiring a 495 writing course, to see if they need English Workshop to sharpen their skills before taking the required 495. English Workshop 300 is not offered every quarter. Students may call the English Department at 887-7446 to see when it is scheduled for this year.

SUCCESSFUL SUPER SPORTS

This year's Buid Super Sports was a smashing success. Over 100 people converged on the P.E. facility for a fun and healthy competition. When all was said and done, the winners were TEAM 8 AMERICA'S TEAM. Thanks to all the teams that participated this year. SEE YOU NEXT YEAR!!

Be Robin Hood for a Day!!!

On Nov. 26, 1985, there will be an archery (real archery, not the carnival game we usually do) contest at the P.E. fields from 11am-12:00pm and 1:00pm-2:00pm. Any CSUSB student is eligible to participate. Intramural sports provides all the equipment and the price is free. T-shirts for male and female winners. For more information, contact Joe Long at 7564 or 7561.

Thursday, Nov. 21st is the Great American Smoke Out.

ATTENTION BSN CLASS OF 1986

Why wait to start your nursing career? The Air Force has a special program for 1986 BSN's. If selected, you can enter Air Force active duty soon after graduation - without waiting for the results of your State Board exams. To apply, you must have an overall "B" average and meet other basic officer entry requirements. As a newly commissioned nurse, you'll attend a five-month internship at a major Air Force medical facility. It's an excellent way to prepare for the wide range of experiences you'll have serving your country as an Air Force nurse professional. For more information, contact:

BOOKS AND PENCILS FOR PEACE

BOOKS AND PENCILS FOR PEACE campaign is a direct response to Nicaragua's critical need for educational aid, a humane and rational alternative to the Contra aid being supplied by the U.S. government. Its message is one of peace, instead of undeclared war and destruction.

Nicaragua desperately needs books, pencils, paper, and we can do something about that. Our goal is to raise money for books, 5 million pencils and paper to be delivered to Nicaragua later this year.

What Can We Concerned Americans Do:

- Send tax-deductible contributions to the Books and Pencils* Campaign. Please make out checks to:
  CARIN/FACHRES-CA
  929 Fresno Ave.
  Berkeley, CA 94707
- Alert your friends, schools, churches, clubs, and other groups to this campaign. Encourage them to help in any way they can.
- For further information, please contact Prof. Tom Meisenhelder (887-7224).

THANK YOU FOR HELPING MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

FACULTY FOR HUMAN RIGHTS IN EL SALVADOR AND CENTRAL AMERICA
(FACHRES-CA)

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN FOR EDUCATIONAL AID TO NICARAGUA

"The purpose of our education is to teach people to value the things which benefit society as a whole and to develop in our young people a love of fraternity and justice.

We need books and paper, but our most serious need is for pencils. At the beginning of the year, each student gets one pencil and it has to last all year. We would like to be able to give them at least one more."

Fernando Cardenal, SJ
Minister of Education, Nicaragua, June 1985

Nicaragua's successes in the field of education are many:

- Schools have been built
- Illiteracy reduced from 80% in 1979 to 12%
- Adult education programs established
- 1.2 million people, 37% of the population, are in school, including 250,000 adults who never before had access to education.

In stark contrast to these achievements is the tremendous damage caused by U.S.-backed Contras.

- They have destroyed 14 schools, forced 360 others to be closed
- 300 teachers have been deliberately sought out and assassinated
- 840 Adult Education programs have been forced to close
- Funds to fight the Contras have been diverted from social programs, including education. Last year two new classrooms were constructed every day; this year not a single classroom could be funded.

CUTTING THE RED TAPE

Editors Note:

This is the return of a weekly column, created last year to ease student's worries, answer nagging questions, and generally to make life at CSUSB a little more bearable. If you have any suggestions for future information, please contact the Chronicle office.

by Jackie Wilson

The end of the quarter is approaching, and if you are a transfer student, it is time for you to get your Credit Transfer Summary in to Admissions and Records for evaluation. If you are having problems understanding and reading your credit summary, hopefully this information will be of some help to you.

The credit summary form translates a transfer student's past coursework from other colleges into CSUSB equivalencies. It tells both student and advisor which requirements have already been met and which ones still need to be fulfilled. A special team of evaluators review your transcripts to determine which courses from other colleges are equivalent to the ones offered here on campus so that you may receive credit for them.

The arrangement of the credit summary conforms to the three parts of a college degree: general education, major requirements, and electives. The upper left hand section relates to the General Education Requirements. It lists all of the requirements a student may need to complete. The bottom left hand section contains major requirements for the student's declared major. If you have previously taken an equivalent course, this information will be written on the appropriate line of the form. The upper right hand section contains general education requirements. Military service credits, G.P.A., and a summary of the graduation requirements.

A student may apply up to 105 quarter units (70 semester units) of community college coursework to a baccalaureate degree. Any credit beyond 105 units is deducted in determining "total units allowed." No upper-division credit may be allowed for courses taken in a community college and no credit may be allowed for professional courses in education at a community college, other than an introduction to education course.

If you haven't received an official Credit Transfer Summary, please contact the Admissions and Records Office. Also, if you have any questions about the credit summary, please contact an advisor in the Advising Center or Admissions and Records, and they will gladly help you.
Apartheid issue examined

by Dan Williams

A panel of political activists from CSUSB and UCR claimed the United States is not helping South Africa's moral problems by investing in the apartheid government.

Panelists at the Round Table Discussions, held November 12, included Cal State's own Dr. Clifford Singh, who recently visited his parents in the strife-torn country. Also present were Dr. David Horne, Dr. Edna Bonacich, and Chris Dodson, each from the University of California, Riverside.

The participants were asked to give their views on the topic, "South Africa: Country in Crisis." Afterwards, questions were fielded from the audience of students and faculty. Dr. Horne, an ethnic studies professor who teaches papers and taught classes on South Africa, opened the discussion by explaining that the word "apartheid" is a concept which advocates separation. Horne's main concern is that every American will be affected if the situation continues to worsen. As having World War III begin in South Africa," Horne said, "The problem is not racial, it is a moral situation."

Horne said the bottom line in all wars is money, and that a lot of money is at stake in the South African government.

Dr. Edna Bonacich, a sociology professor with a Ph.D. from Harvard, began her talk by describing some of her personal experiences in South Africa between 1950 and 1960.

"South Africa: Country in Crisis"

She painted a verbal picture of the tension between segregation of whites and blacks. Whites were typical middle-class citizens, while blacks lived poverty-stricken, in what she calls "ghetto ghettos." Blacks had no shoes, tattered clothing, and no running water in their homes. The "ghetto ghettos" are editions which replace the word "apartheid" is a concept which advocates separation. The majority of the items will be sold at 50 cents for hardcover books, 30 cents for large paperbacks, 20 cents for small paperbacks, and 5 cents for loose magazines and pamphlets, Tibbals said. A few unusual books will be specially priced.

During the final hour (4:30 p.m.), a special clearance sale will be held for the remaining books at $2.00 per bag. All proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase new books for the CSUSB library.

The book sale will be held in the basement of the library near the elevators. Those attending the sale should enter via the stairways which lead to the basement on either side of the library.

What is worse the panel claimed, is that the United States is supporting this government by investing money there. Big businesses supply the South African government with equipment of all kinds. "Firms put profits over people...there and here," Bonacich said.

She feels that we need to start fighting for human values. We are as responsible people. The economic and political changes in the South African whites are.

Chris Dodson, external programs coordinator, and author of anti-apartheid bills at UCR, was the final panelist to offer his thoughts. He began by explaining why students are becoming involved in the apartheid movement.

Student fees invest money in companies which support apartheid. If students can influence universities to divest their money, then the corporations would be forced to pull out of South Africa, calling the government there to re-evaluate its position.

Dodson then reinforced his reasons why anti-apartheid is not political, as much as moral, citing a large response by UCR's non-political student body as evidence.

New instructor brings broadcasting background

by Shawn Baker

Dr. David Bennett brings an eclectic professional and educational background with him as the newest member of the communication faculty.

Bennet is launching the Cal State Radio station which will be completed by the Winter Quarter of 1986. The radio station will be sponsored by the Communication Department. Bennett will teach the practical and theoretical aspects of radio broadcasting.

Bennet recently arrived from Athens, Ohio, where he attended Ohio University, and completed his doctorate in organizational communications and telecommunications.

Bennet worked in radio for two years doing sports play-by-play and various other projects. He also worked seven years at Channel 13 in Indianapolis, Ind., covering everything from field reporting, to weather and special feature stories.

Along with Bennett's media work he has experience in business communication, in advertising and public relations. He has also worked in sales promotion.

Among Bennett's duties next quarter is a class related to the differences and similarities between men and women, which he will be co-teaching with Dr. Dorothy Mettee. The class will examine gender communication, both verbal and non-verbal, and will discuss the psychological and the physiological aspects of the way men and women communicate.

Dr. Bennett is currently serving on several departmental and school committees. He plans to continue his research in organizational communication, and is working on an article for publication now.

Library has bargain books

Bonus for bookworms starts Thursday

by Elrod Lawrence

One of Cal State's largest book sales will be held by the library Thursday, Nov. 21, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Hundreds of new and used books on a variety of topics will be on sale to the public general, said John Tibbals, head of patron services at the CSUSB library. In addition to books, a number of loose magazines and pamphlets will also be available for purchase.

The "newer books generally are those that have been donated to the library, but turned out to be duplicates of books already on the shelves," Tibbals explained. "Over the years we've had nearly 35,000 books donated and, of course, as the library grows, it becomes even more likely that we will receive duplicate copies of books. We simply don't have the room to keep two copies of everything."

"The older books are editions which have been replaced by newer copies, he added.

The majority of the items will be sold at 50 cents for hardcover books, 30 cents for large paperbacks, 20 cents for small paperbacks, and 5 cents for loose magazines and pamphlets, Tibbals said. A few unusual books will be specially priced.

I was called back to San Bernardino from a delightful weekend in Nice last week to take part in a very puzzling case. It was causing some anxious moments for a student who was unfortunately confronted with a most heinous D on his grade report last quarter.

The grade of D, unlike the "gentleman's C," is a nasty little fellow that we should all try to steer clear of. In some extreme cases he can be quite damaging, if he is allowed to show up too often in someone's (otherwise respectable) transcript.

Well, to get back to the case of this particular introducer. Although the D was not in the student's major, he was nevertheless worried that it may necessitate a repeat of the class that produced the grade. He proceeded to check available sources for reassuring evidence to the contrary.

The student spoke to one of his teachers, and together they decided to go by doing what every good detective does, going to the right person to ask questions. I spoke to Dr. Diane Halpern, associate dean of undergraduate studies, who was a most cooperative expert.

Dr. Halpern explained that the key word in both items 6 and 7, is average. Therefore item 6 is not redundant, because a student may be transferring units from another college that fulfills the requirements of a major, and if that is the case those units must average 2.0 to count toward the student's major if the degree is awarded by CSUSB.

This requirement is also true of units in the student's major that were earned at CSUSB.

Item 7 does not call for a C grade to be earned for each individual class, only that the cumulative average of all classes attempted must be 2.0 in order to count toward graduation at CSUSB.

Our worried client received my findings with much relief. His overall GPA is 2.5, so unless he drops that to below 2.0 by inviting more D's either in his major or other units this quarter, he is assured of graduating on time.
THE FINAL ISSUE OF FALL QUARTER WILL BE NOV. 27. THE CHRONICLE WILL RESUME PUBLICATION ON JAN. 8.

AS ALWAYS, WE AT THE CHRONICLE ARE TRYING TO IMPROVE THE QUALITY OF YOUR STUDENT NEWSPAPER. YOUR INPUT IS HIGHLY VALUED, AND GREATLY APPRECIATED.

BARYSHNIKOV: An "Old Pro"

Dear Editor:

For your information, Mikhail Baryshnikov did not make his acting debut in the film, "White Nights." I believe he was also one of the principal performers in "The Turning Point," along with Anne Bancroft, Shirley MacLaine, and Leslie Brown. Really! This sort of faux paus has no place in a university newspaper. I'm sure dancers all over campus hang their heads in shame to see your boo-boo. Or maybe you thought Mikhail made his debut in "White Nights" because his acting was so bad in "The Turning Point," that it didn't even make it to the screen. The school has even gone so far as to allow fraternities and sororities on campus to inject life into the students, and yet the exception of the groups can be labeled as lukewarm at best. "Backwater" or "respectable," you decide.

Everyone I talk to, from students, to faculty, to the people I work with, all espouse on Cal-State's potential. Well, let's exploit it and start carrying ourselves like big-time college students.

LET'S BE "...Big Time College Students"

Letter To The Editor:

In response to Chris Ellis's editorial (CSUSB Hits The Big Time-Nov. 13, 1985), he makes the comment that Cal-State has evolved from a "sleepy little backwater college into a respectable institution". Well frankly, Cal-State's ability to bring in excellent speakers hardly dents our "teachers college" name. Let's examine the facts. Cal-State went in a positive direction by allowing NCAA sports teams, some of which are not bad at all. Unfortunately, intramural sports gets all the good news coverage and participation on campus, not mention, the spectator!

Once in awhile we get to listen to well known speakers talk on various subjects. But what of the other weekends on campus, specifically the Friday night costume party the high school kids have in the SMP? The school has even gone so far as to allow fraternities and sororities on campus to inject life into the students, and yet the exception of the groups can be labeled as lukewarm at best, "Backwater" or "respectable," you decide.

Sincerely,
A Concerned Ex-Dancer

If Not, Here's How to Fight Back

Record company big wigs want you to pay a tax on every blank tape and every time you play audio recording equipment. They're pushing Congress to raise this tax. And so send them the money.

A dollar or more on every blank tape (10-25% on cassette decks, boom boxes, portable systems, or anything else you use to record). The record companies say home taping hurts them. The truth is they can't be hurt; too much. Last year, they hit new highs in sales and profits. Maybe they see rare to take a few bucks from your pocket to put in their own.

What do you think?

Do you want to pay them a tax to cap a record or you plug it in your tape? Or do you want to pay them a tax when you tape a lecture? How about a tax for the tape you use in your photocopying machine, or the tape of your daughter's first trumpet solo? Can you stop this tax? Yes! Here's how.

What is the benefit of all these taxes?

The Audio Recording Rights Coalition (ARC) is a coalition of consumer, retailer and manufacturer of audio products dedicated to preserving your right to use these products. ARC works with Congress, the Administration, the Federal Communications Commission and the Federal Trade Commission to fight against unfair taxes. ARC works closely with the Coalition Against Anti-Consumerism (CAAC) to keep taxes on consumer products such as audio equipment.

If you are a consumer, use your votes by writing your Senator in Washington, D.C. and your Congress person in your city or state. Do you want your tax money to go to the capital instead of your pocket? Do you want to pay more taxes every time you buy audio recording equipment? Do you want your children to pay more taxes for the tapes they want to listen to? Do you want to pay more taxes for the tapes of your daughter's first trumpet solo? Can you stop this tax? Next time you're in Congress, tell them about the ARC and how they want to help keep your taxes low.
