WALLY GEORGE TO ATTACK ISSUES
by John Purcell
Wally George, the epitome of neo-conservatism, will be appearing at California State University, San Bernardino on Thursday, November 21, from 8 to 11 pm in the SUMP. Admission is free.

George, perhaps best known for his television show, HOT SEAT, which appears on channel 56, is known for his staunch conservatism. The show usually consists of George, engaging in discourse with various liberals.

Not a man with a long temper, George is known for his tendency to throw guests off his stage when they become, as he says, "LUDICROUS." He has also at times flung his desk over in disgust.

The "HOT SEAT" talk show on KDOC-TV is in its third year and is syndicated on 135 cable television systems in 30 cities nationwide, Stewart said.

George is a veteran broadcaster of 35 years, having begun his career in broadcasting.

Administration Looking for Three New Deans
by Melissa E. McDowell
Administration is currently searching for a dean of not one but three schools here at Cal State. Applications for Dean of Humanities, Social and Behavioral Sciences along with Business and Public Administration are being taken until the end of January, 1986.

Qualifications, duties and salary have been listed in ads placed in newsletters and journals circulated throughout the college and university systems.

J. Cordell Robinson, Associate Vice President of Academic Personnel and coordinator of the three search committees organized to fill the positions, says the University is still in the advertising stage of the process.

"After the deadlines for receiving resumes," he says, "each selection committee will narrow the candidates down to five or six finalists."

The committees consist of faculty from the respective school, academic personnel, as well as a student representative. Committee chairpersons are J. Cordell Robinson, Social and Behavioral Sciences; Dr. Amer El-Ahrafi, Business and Public Administration, and Dr. Jerrold Pritchard, Humanities.

The finalists, Robinson says, will be subject to an on-campus interview from the committee. Their final recommendation will then be presented to Vice President Dr. Dwivers and President Evans. Final selection of any dean is Evans' decision.

Both Dr. Pierce and Dr. Clark are presently the acting deans of Social Sciences and Humanities. Hal Hoverland, Dean of Business and Public Administration, will be resigning at the end of this year to resume teaching.

Hoverland, Robinson says, will be using his "retreat rights", going back to the department of history.

"Retreat rights are a way out for those in administration," laughs Robinson. "When you're sick of it, you can go back to what you started doing—teaching."

Screening, interviewing and final selection for each position will be made.

"We are shooting to have all the positions filled by perhaps March of next year," he said.

GREAT KINGS OF AFRICA DISPLAY
by Steve Karen
The reception for the Great Kings of Africa Art Exhibit (sponsored by Anheuser Busch), which is being housed in the University's Learning Center, was held on Sunday, November 10 in the Student Union Multi-Purpose Room.

The reception was hosted by Dr. Marian Talley, the director of the learning center. Guest speakers included University President Anthony H. Evans and Hardy Brown of the San Bernardino School Board. Afterwards, the audience of roughly a hundred people was treated to the spiritually moving music of the Voices of Christ Choir. Then the highlight of the afternoon arrived as the refreshments were served.

President Evans commented on one of the paintings in which there was a map of Africa in the background with the city of Timbuktu represented on it. It reminded him of the time he and

HOWERLAND TO STEP DOWN AS ADMINISTRATION DEAN

Dr. Hal Hoverland, who guided the growth and development of the School of Business and Public Administration for the past 13 years, will step down as dean June 30 to return to full-time teaching.

In announcing his resignation, Dr. Hoverland said he is looking forward to returning to the classroom and doing research projects. "It has been a regular basis because I enjoy contacts with the students and seeing their successes," Hoverland joined the Cal State faculty in September 1972, as the third chairman of the Department of Business. The department became a school, introduced the second master's offered on campus (first an M.A., then the M.B.A., and M.P.A.) and grew to the largest school in terms of majors (now with approximately 26 percent).

Active in the community, Hoverland served on the San Bernardino Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors for seven years, first as vice president for economic development and then as treasurer for three years. He has been a member of the Rotary Club of San Bernardino since 1976, serving as program chair and in the Rotary Life Scholarship Program. He praised the community support of the school.

"We've gotten tremendous backing from both the private and public sectors, from CPA firms, private corporations, public agencies—all vital to the school and its growth."

Hoverland brought to his Cal State post teaching experience (Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey, University of Aix in France, San Jose State and Universities of Michigan and Illinois), business experience (Ford Motor Co., Proctor and Gamble and General Electric) and academic credentials from Miami University in Ohio, B.S.; University of Illinois, M.S.; and University of Michigan, Ph.D.

Help Arrives for Students with Poor Placement Test Results

The new Intensive Learning Experience Program at Cal State San Bernardino has been developed to assist new students to improve their SAT scores by working with higher test scores on their English and Math Placement Tests.

Program Director Milton Clark says the program is designed to help students become proficient in their chosen English and Math skills. Two subjects that are vital elements of most classes regardless of major are English and Math. Appropriated funds last August, as an effort to reduce the extremely high drop out rate of these students.

Mr. Clark believes that we are very fortunate to be one of the 12 out of 19 Cal State campuses awarded the funding for this program. The funds have made it possible to limit the class size to only 12 students, allowing a more individualized learning experience. The teachers for the program have been selected because of their exceptional teaching abilities, and dedication to helping the individual student learn through whatever teaching method the student needs.

"Wally" from pg.1 career as a radio announcer at the age of 14.

He has been named "posterboy of the Year" for 1985 by the Orange County Press Club as well as the most outstanding television show host for 1985 by the Citizen Newspapers of Southern California.

During his appearance at Cal State, George will begin by discussing his views on the Soviet Union, about the rhetoric, school, gun control and the death penalty for about 30 minutes, according to Harry Stewart, who is George's agent. Then he will open the forum to questions from audience. A microphone will be available near the audience seating area and individuals will be allowed to ask one question.

Also to be present at the CSUSB version of "HOT SEAT" will be four fraternities—Delta Sigma Phi, Kappa Alpha Psi, Phi Beta Sigma, and Sigma Chi Omicron—as well as the Alpha Phi sorority, to help in ushering and possibly crowd control.

Would you like to take Wally out? If you are up to the challenge, or don't want to miss out, don't miss this enjoyable, though predictably one-sided appearance.

While admission is free, donations will be requested at the door to help support future special events on campus. The event is sponsored by the Associated Students Special Events Committee.

Class Teaches Personal Finance Management

If you have the desire to take control over your personal financial future, then a new G.E. elective, Personal Finance, may be just what you need. This course covers the basics in such areas as personal income taxes, retirement planning, insurance coverage, and investment planning. Personal Finance is the perfect course for any student, regardless of major, who wants to gain a basic understanding of personal finance planning.

According to Dr. Rauf Khan, Department Chairman of Accounting and Finance, FIN 201-Personal Finance and its benefits. This course will be offered Winter Quarter, 1986 on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 10:00-11:50.

Encouraged all students, faculty, and staff along with members from large from the community (especially students) to come and tour the art exhibit in the Learning Center.

Many of the artists are black American artists commissioned by Budweiser to do these paintings. Many of the great black rulers of ancient times were commissioned by such as Cleopatra (Queen of Egypt) and Hannibal (the ruler of Carthage). This gives the artist a great appreciation of the art of the past. Evans commented.

Dr. Talley was recently quoted in a press release as saying "Part of the reason for the special events at the Learning Center is to introduce the surrounding communities as well as the university faculty and staff to our faculty and the new comprehensive computerized system, Plato."

HELP FOR INCOME TAX RETURNS

The Cal State Accounting Association would like all Administration students to consider getting involved with the Volunteer Income Tax Program (VITA) in the Winter Quarter. The course is a two-unit independent study class in combination with actual tax preparation experience for the low income and elderly. The program is sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service and the California Franchise Tax Board. Spanish speaking students are needed to help in preparing taxes for the Spanish speaking community.

Classes will be held on Friday from 9:00-12:00 noon, for three consecutive weekends beginning January 17 and 18, 1986. Actual tax preparation workshops for the public will be held three days a week: Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, starting February 4, 5, and 6, 1986, and will run for five consecutive weeks. The first week (Feb. 4-6) will be from 6:00 to 8:00 pm and thereafter will be from 4:00 to 6:00 pm. To register for the class, ask for the two unit independent study card for VITA at registration in the ADMN booth. For further information contact the Accounting and Finance Dept., AD-162.

Workshop on Writing Skills

Milton Clark, the new ILEP Director, believes that older students who are experiencing difficulty with the essays or research papers needed for most classes and have not taken writing courses for some time, should consider English Workshop 300. This course is designed especially for their needs.

Returning or older students who have achieved Junior standing, should consult with lecturers of their department requiring a 495 writing course, to see if they need English Workshop to sharpen their skills before taking the required 495. English Workshop 300 is not offered every quarter. Students may call the English Department at 887-7446 to see when it is scheduled for this year.

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN FOR EDUCATIONAL AID TO NICARAGUA

The purpose of our education is to teach people to value the things which benefit society as a whole and to develop in our young people a love of fraternity and justice.

We need books and paper, but our most serious need is for pencils, just plain lead pencils. At the beginning of the year, each student gets one pencil and it has to last all year. We would like to be able to give them at least one more."

Fernando Cardenal, SJ
Minister of Education, Nicaragua, June 1985

Nicaragua’s successes in the field of education are many.

- Schools have been built.
- Illiteracy reduced from 50% in 1979 to 24%.
- Adult education programs established.
- 1.2 million people, 37% of the population, are in school, including 250,000 adults who never before had access to education.

In stark contrast to these achievements is the tremendous damage caused by U.S.-backed Contras.

- They have destroyed 14 schools, forced 360 others to be closed.
- 840 Adult Education programs have been forced to close.
- Funds to fight the Contras have been diverted from special programs, including education. Last year two new classrooms were constructed every day; this year not a single classroom could be funded.

Apartheid issue examined

Round Table discussion

Apartheid if the situation continues

Apartheid issue examined

Round Table discussion

by Dan Williams

A panel of political activists from CSUSB and UCR claimed the United States is not helping South Africa's moral problems by investing in the apartheid government. Panelists at the Round Table Discussion, held November 12, included Cal State's own Dr. Clifford Singh, who recently visited his parents in the strife-torn country. Also present were Dr. David Horne, Dr. Edna Bonitidi, and Chris Dodson each from the University of California, Riverside.

The participants were asked to give their views on the topic, "South Africa: Country in Crisis." Afterwards, questions were fielded from the audience. The panel included Cal State's own Dr. David Home, Dr. Edna Bonitidi, and Chris Dodson each from the University of California, Riverside.

"South Africa: Country in Crisis"

She painted a verbal picture of the treatment of segregation of whites and blacks. Whites were typical middle-class citizens, while blacks lived poverty-stricken, in what Home described as "ghettos." They had no shoes, tattered clothing, and no running water in their shacks. There were separate facilities for everything—buses, stairways, restrooms, "It was planned humiliation," Bonitidi said. "The government closes its eyes and ears to the real world. It thinks things are fine."

What is worse, she claimed, is that the United States is supporting this government by investing money there. Big businesses supply the South African government with equipment of all kinds. "Firms put profits over people...there and here," Bonitidi said.

She feels that we need to start fighting for human values. We are as responsible as the South African whites are.

"South Africa: Country in Crisis"

If students can influence universities to divest their money, then the corporations would be forced to pull out of South Africa, causing the South African government there to re-evaluate its position.

Home reinforced his reasons why anti-apartheid is not political as much as moral, citing a large response by UCR's non-political student body as evidence.

New instructor brings broadcasting background

by Shawn Baker

Dr. David Bennett brings an eclectic professional and educational background with him as the newest member of the Communication Department. Bennett is launching the Cal State radio station which will be completed by the Winter Quarter of 1986. The radio station will be sponsored by the Communication Department. Bennett will teach the practical and theoretical aspects of radio broadcasting.

Bennett recently arrived from Ohio University, where he attended Ohio University, and completed his doctorate in organizational communications and telecommunication.

Bennett worked in radio for two years doing sports play-by-play and various other projects. He also worked seven years at Channel 13 in Indianapolis, Ind., covering everything from field reporting, to weather and special feature stories. Along with Bennett's media work he has experience in business communication, advertising and public relations, and has also worked in sales promotion.

Among Bennett's duties next quarter is a class related to the differences and similarities between men and women, which he will be co-teaching with Dr. Dorothy Mettey. The class will examine gender communication, both verbal and non-verbal, and will discuss the psychological and physiological aspects of the way men and women communicate.

Bennett is currently serving on several departmental and school committees. He plans to continue his research in organizational communications, and is working on an article for publication now.

One of Cal State's largest book sales will be held by the library Thursday, Nov. 21, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Hundreds of new and used books on a variety of topics will be on sale to the general public, said John Tibbals, head of patron services at the CSUSB library.

In addition to books, a number of loose magazines and pamphlets will also be available for purchase.

"The newer books generally are those that have been donated to the library, but turned out to be duplicates of books already on the shelf," Tibbals explained. "Over the years we've had nearly 35,000 books donated and, of course, as the library grows, it becomes even more likely that we will receive duplicate copies of books. We simply don't have the room to keep two copies of everything."

There were separate facilities for everything—buses, stairways, restrooms. "It was planned humiliation," Bonitidi said. "The government closes its eyes and ears to the real world. It thinks things are fine."

Ds--dastardly but not deadly

I was called back to San Bernardino from a delightful weekend in Nice last week to take on a very puzzling case, one that was causing some anxious moments for a student who was unfortunately confronted with a most unusual problem on his grade report last quarter.

The grade of D, unlike the "gentleman's C," is a nasty little fellow that we should all try to steer clear of. In some extreme cases he can be quite damaging, if he is allowed to show up too often in someone's (otherwise respectable) transcript.

Well, to get back to the case of this particular introvert. Although the D was not in the student's major, he was nevertheless worried that it may necessitate a repeat of the class that produced the grade. So he proceeded to check available sources for reassuring evidence to the contrary.

The student spoke to one of his instructors at the end of the quarter, and together they decided to ask the professor to drop that item 6 appeared to be redundant item 6. Earn a grade-point average of 2.0 (C) or better in all units used to fulfill the requirements of the major.

6. Earn a grade-point average of 2.0 (C) or better in all units attempted, and in all units attempted at the college.

Both student and teacher failed to find an answer, and thought that item 6 appeared to be redundant.

The two amateur detectives came to the conclusion that in order to receive a degree from CSUSB, students must get the grade of C or better in all units attempted at the college, major and otherwise.

The student was desperate to avoid repeating the class. His graduation (he hoped) would occur at the end of this quarter, so he brought the case to Cloussine to unravel.

I cracked the case in record time by doing what every good detective does, going to the right person to ask questions. I spoke to Dr. Diane Halpern associate dean of undergraduate studies, who was a most cooperative expert.

Dr. Halpern explained that the key word in both items 6 and 7 is average. Therefore item 6 is not redundant, because a student may be transferring units from another college to fulfill the requirements of a major, and if that is the case those units must average 2.0 to count toward the student's major if the degree is awarded by CSUSB. This requirement is also true of units in the student's major that were earned at CSUSB.

Item 7 does not call for a C grade to be earned for each individual class, only that the cumulative average of all classes attempted must be 2.0 in order to count for graduation at CSUSB.

Our worried client received my findings with much relief. His overall GPA is 2.5, so unless he drops that to below 2.0 by invading more D's either in his major or other units this quarter, he is assured of graduating on time.
THE FINAL ISSUE OF FALL QUARTER WILL BE NOV. 27. THE CHRONICLE WILL RESUME PUBLICATION ON JAN. 8.

AS ALWAYS, WE AT THE CHRONICLE ARE TRYING TO IMPROVE THE QUALITY OF YOUR STUDENT NEWSPAPER. YOUR INPUT IS HIGHLY VALUED, AND GREATLY APPRECIATED.

BARYSHNIKOV: An "Old Pro"

Dear Editor:

For your information, Mikhail Baryshnikov did not make his acting debut in the film "White Nights." I believe he was also one of the principal performers in "The Turning Point," along with Ayme Baskack, Shirley MacLaine, and Leslie Brown. Really? This sort of faux paus has no place in a university newspaper. I'm sure dancers all over campus hang their heads in shame to see your boo-boo. Or maybe you thought Mischa made his debut in "White Nights" because his acting was so bad in "The Turning Point," that it didn't appreciate.

Sincerely,
A Concerned Ex-Dancer

DO YOU WANT TO PAY A TAPPING TAX?

If Not, Here's How to Fight Back.

Record company big wigs want you to pay a tax every time you buy a blank tape and every time you snap audio recording equipment. They're pushing Congress to tax you. And to pay a tax every time you buy audio recording equipment.

Do you want to pay them a tax to copy a record or you play in your own? Do you want to pay them a tax when you tape a lecture? Do you want to pay them a tax for the tape you use in your stereo sound recorder? The tape of your daughter's first softball game? Can you stop this tax? Yes! Here's how.
