The shooting that took place in Jonesboro, Arkansas at the middle school on January 25 was a stark reminder that gun violence is a reality in some parts of the United States. The two boys who pulled the trigger had a legal right to do so, but they also had the guns given to them by people who were concerned until it happened in Jonesboro. People settle their racial differences in this country by buying guns, and community norms. Freedom to bear armed ones is a right that was recognized in the U.S. Constitution, but its impact varies across the country. The shooting that took place in Jonesboro, Arkansas at the school was one of the recent incidents that have highlighted the need for more comprehensive gun control policies. The school was surrounded by police and security personnel, and the investigation into the incident continues. The shooting has sparked a debate over the role of federal and local authorities in preventing such incidents in the future. The school district and the state are working to ensure the safety of students and faculty members. It is crucial to keep the conversation going and find solutions to this pressing issue.
"It is safe for everyone, including pregnant women and children," said San Bernardino Municipal Water Department General Manager Bernard Kersey in reaction to a story in a recent issue of the medical journal Environmental Health Perspectives.

The study suggested a weak link between high exposure to total trihalomethanes (THMs) and miscarriages. It was conducted by the California Department of Health Services Division of Environmental and Occupational Health.

High exposure for pregnant women would be characterized by drinking more than five 8 ounce glasses of water per day with THMs of 75 parts per billion (ppb) or higher. The study is preliminary and the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) does not recommend more research on the subject.

"THMs in our water supply have averaged 4.2 ppb for the last four years, a very safe level even by study," said Kersey. The state maximum contaminant level for THMs is 100 ppb and the threshold for possible problems is the contaminant level for bottled water is 0.0 ppb.

"Even though we have very low levels of THMs in our water, the water department takes this study very seriously," said Kersey. The findings are called, while preliminary, show the need for further study.

THMs are caused when chlorine is used to treat water which contains bromides, salts and organic materials. Chlorines used to remove disease causing bacteria from water. San Bernardino’s water comes from deep underground wells, not from surface water sources. It has very low salt and organic materials, hence very low levels of THMs," said Kersey.

"Providing safe and healthy drinking water is the number one priority of the City of San Bernardino Municipal Water Department. Our water meets or exceeds all local, state and federal standards for clean, safe and healthy drinking water," said Kersey, who is a 24 year resident of San Bernardino.

The City of San Bernardino Municipal Water Department serves 120,600 San Bernardino residents.

They Don't Work

They Don't Even Go To College
But They Are The Community's Most Valuable Asset

Nothing is more important to Miller Brewing Company than the community we serve.
Especially the people of the community.
The young man, who, while messing around with tadpoles and butterflies, saw dreams of a college education.
The young lady eager to know about the history of her people, her heritage.
The aspiring athletes, eager for inspiration and information, and insights about the hero's who have gone before them.
And, finally, the not-so-young. They have dreams for their children, and their children's children. They want the young to know and benefit from the battles fought and the struggles they've endured.

Be a part of Miller Brewing Company's ongoing commitment to inform, nurture and support the community. And we do this because we are them. Friends, strangers, neighbors - as a most valuable asset. Enriching the community, and the lives of others, with their very presence. achievement and success.
Even if it's the simple pleasure of catching butterflies.
I have come to the people of the Island Empire on a mission of mercy and understanding. A mission from God, and the understanding that hematites will understand their plight and lend a helping hand.

Bishop Samuel and Sister Henrietta Kendrick's have blazed the distance from Ohio, Rios, Jamaica — utilizing the platform of Sister Barbara Jenkins' Gospel Radio on KHPY-1530 AM — on the mission that, "God has called them to share the good news of their ministry in helping destitute and abandoned children. To help feed, clothe, and provide special counseling," says Bishop Kendrick. "We need help from the people of God. These children have no joy, and no hope. At present, we are in the process of negotiating to purchase a new mission site that sits on six acres of land in the district of St. Mary, Jamaica. On this property there is a man house with two bedrooms and a small cottage already furnished and ready for operation. It is our goal to house 100 children from ages 3 to 15.

This mission will serve as a training center for our underprivileged youth and a place of refuge for the old and broken-hearted. We have seen infants left on doorsteps of churches, police stations, schools, etc. We want to train these kids in the way they should go. We have called upon our project "Helping Hands" and all we are asking is that you and God's hands extended, reaching out to the oppressed," stated Bishop Kendrick.

Born in Frederic, Oklahoma and relocating to California, Samuel Kendrick left California in obedience to the call of God for Jamaica in August, 1939, where he met his Jamaica born wife, Henrietta affectionately known as "Sister Henny." Bishop Kendrick worked with various church groups and organizations, taking on active roles and finally accepting chairmanship and leadership as Presiding Bishop for Covenant Ministries after a number of years with Covenant the Rock. Bishop and Sister Kendricks started Christian Community Center in St. Mary, using their home as a base. As a Christian center, their mission is in reaching out to the community with an emphasis on children, youth, and senior citizens.

The Kendricks are asking for a $10.00 donation to be sent care of Christian Community Center, 15142 Jamaica, Jamaica, West Indies or to

Temple Missionary Baptist Church of Ecclesia Christian

New Voice In Town

By Lee M. Ragan, Jr.

There's a new voice in town and that voice belongs to Sister Barbara Jenkins. Bringing her own unique brand of journalism and ministry to the Island Empire, Sister Jenkins hosts the Good News Hour on KHPY-1530 AM Tuesday through Thursday from 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 a.m.

A devout God-fearing Christian woman, Sister Jenkins accepted Jesus Christ through watching a television program on the gospel station. Through this experience, she realized that there may be more people who may not have the means to attend a local church and needed to know about Jesus Christ. Through her radio program, she wants to provide a vehicle for people to know and learn about Jesus. In a sense, Sister Jenkins is an evangelist, spreading the word of Jesus Christ through her radio program.

An active member of Temple Missionary Baptist Church in San Bernardino, Sister Jenkins is not afraid of spreading the news of Jesus Christ and with her new radio program, that is just what she plans on doing.

Smith's Comeback 'Cats Catch Utah

Smith leads Wildcats to sev­

SAN ANTONIO - Four was the hard way. Each of the teams that were fortunate and had a few breaks go their way during the NCAA Tournament that started with 32 teams in the New Year's Eve edition of the Final Four is the ultimate test of skill, heart, teamwork, luck, timing, coaching and almost always, the all important players who rise to the occasion to produce a sinculating tournament series.

The Underdog Utah Utes beat tough Stanford 86-85 in a nail-biting overtime game. Every coach Tom Smith capped and pushed the Wildcats to the win. Winning Coach Rick Majerus is in his first year as head coach after the departure of Rick Pitino to the Boston College Cardinals. The Wildcats are another young team - Utah's only seniors are Andre Miller in check. the national title along the River Walk.

"We know how we did it, we just had to roll up our sleeves and get the job done, said Utah's forward Britt Johnson. "Our offense stood up when the defense had to work."

"Utah played hard and we played hard, said Utah's forward Andre Miller. "The defense held them and we had to do our part to win.

An Evening With Nancy

Song Stylist Nancy Wilson in Concert April 25th

Sultry song stylist Nancy Wilson, whose eclectic career encompasses 60 albums, a Grammy, an Emmy and other honors, will perform at 8 p.m. April 25 in the Bingo Palace at Fantasy Springs Casino near Indio.

When she celebrated her 60th birthday last year, Wilson released her sixth album, "If I Had My Way" that includes the classics "Hello Like Before" and "A Fool In Love." Out of the age of Ella Fitzgerald, Sarah Vaughan, Carmen McRae, Dinah Washington, Peggy Lee, she scored her first hit in 1962 with Cannonball Adderley and "Save Your Love For Me.

By the mid-60s, Wilson had risen to become one of Capitol Records' best-selling artists, second only to the principal of its roster singers who excelled in the standard ballad repertoire. She found herself in the company of such music superstars as Frank Sinatra and Peggy Lee and surrounded by collaborators who cherished lyrics and songs at a time when a new musical form called "rock and roll" was establishing a beachhead it would never yield in the public's consciousness.

Wilson now moves to Fantasy Springs Casino, a broadcast service from the University of Redlands, a glance at the talent and style of such musical legends as Nat King Cole, Billy Eckstine, Louis Jordan, Dinah Washington, Ruth Brown and Bobby Scott.

Born in Chillicothe, Ohio in 1937, Wilson remembers knowing at the age of four that her goal was to become a singer. In Chillicothe and, later in Columbus where her family had moved, she sang in church choirs, honing her skills while drinking in the glorious voice and heart of the last great singer of the golden era.

Unwilling to rest on her laurels, Wilson now moves ahead with a new album reflecting the unique ability to inject a lyric with magic that emanates from the self-consciousness. From the moment your children were born, you've worked hard for them, putting the needs of your family and the wants of your future take on their future. With all you've given up for them, why wouldn't you let secondhand smoke take away your child's health? Don't let what you don't know hurt your family . You may think your child has the pox or a cold, but smoking around your children cause serious respiratory problems, like asthma, bronchitis, pneumonia, or even Sudden Infant Death Syndrome. You brought your children into this world. Don't let secondhand smoke take them out.

Valles Plans One-Stop Shop for San Bernardino

Post News

San Bernardino Mayor Judith Valles has announced plans to open the first ever One-Stop Shop for all planning, building, and development-related services. "We believe that making City Hall more business-friendly is a key to meeting the needs of our community," said Mayor Valles.

The key to Valles’ plans is the merger of the Planning and Building Services and the City’s Planning Department. They will be located in an existing building. The mayor said that this merger will allow the city to save money as well as improve services to the public.

The One-Stop Shop will provide a number of services including:

- Planning
- Building
- Code Enforcement
- Zoning
- Development Services

The shop will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will be staffed by a full-time planner and a part-time code enforcement officer.
