The explosion Friday killed at least 112 people in Nairobi, including the 12 Americans and 33 Kenyans who worked at the embassy, and injured another 5,000 people in a simultaneous attack on the U.S. Embassy in neighboring Tanzania killed at least three Americans.

The Kenyan death toll was lowered from 200 due to a double counting error between Kenyans and U.S. Embassy officials. The bodies were to be flown to Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland via RyanAir from Air Force Base in Germany, where they arrived early Tuesday.

A military color guard holding flags stood at attention, eight on either side of a ramp, as the coffins were carried to waiting vans. They will be kept at the nearby U.S. Embassy.

Simon Foundation Event A No Go

By Kwasi L. Drubr

MOMENTO VALLEY

More than the spigot was thin in Momento Valley when Joe Simon, chairman of the Simon Foundation, announced that the foundation had withdrawn from a scheduled concert in the city next month.

No doubt, this action caused much consternation. George Holloway, an attorney for the foundation, said: "We're firing a $10 million lawsuit against the City of Momento Valley. No one is sorry to go forward with the event and have all issues of concern in place. But if we're not allowed to do so, we will be held by the City that we needed to come up with $10 million more and now it's $100 million. This is what we were after and we told them that the $5 million coverage was sufficient."

The Rev. Joe Simon, Grammy award-winning R&B singer now exalted evangelist and co-founder of the foundation, said: With a number of African-American churches and prominent religious leaders making stops in Momento Valley during the weekend, Simon's announcement could have implications for upcoming political events in the city.

Simon Foundation officials did not respond to queries about the lawsuit. According to the Simon Foundation's website, the lawsuit is "a major threat to the foundation's ability to fund programs in Momento Valley and throughout the United States."

Mockery, the Foundation's Director of Public Relations said: "We had anticipated potential lawsuits if we were to come up with $10 million in a timely manner, but we presented the lawsuit to the police and the public for review."

The lawsuit, which was filed against the City of Momento Valley, claims that the city failed to meet a myriad of the City's other public safety requirements and insufficient insurance aggregate - did not meet the City of Momento Valley's public safety requirements and insufficient insurance aggregate. The foundation's own insurance agreement, Goldware and Taylor Insurance in Riverside, also informed the Foundation that its current level of insurance - $1 million per occurrence and $5 million aggregate - did not meet the City of Momento Valley's standards.

According to the statement, the groundwork for the lawsuit was laid by the city's original decision to award the concert site to the Simon Foundation.

"Despite the assertions that the City could not meet these public safety requirements, we presented a plan to the city to meet these standards," Mockery said. "But the city did not respond, and we were forced to file the lawsuit.

Statement from the City of Momento Valley

Late start: The Simon Foundation came to the City of Momento Valley in the late afternoon on Thursday, July 30 - only one week before their event was scheduled. This late start made it difficult to work through the details of the proposed event and to ensure that everything was handled properly.

Fire Danger: The Simon Foundation did not prepare the Momento Valley concert site according to safety standards. Due to the late start, the City had no time to work with the Foundation on the morning of Saturday, August 8, 1998, to try to ensure that all safety regulations were followed.

It should be noted that the Simon Foundation later advertised that the new venue for the concert, the Glen Helen Bostock Park in Devore, was prepared to the same standards.

City staff from Planning, Fire, Police, and Public Works on August 8, 1998, in an effort to review the application, City staff member womanly climbed the wall of the Momento Valley City Building. The city had no time to review the plans for the new venue and the application for the required permits and licenses for the event. However, by 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, August 8, 1998, at the center of the scheduled event, the Foundation had not fully submitted the public safety and insurance requirements, so the City did not issue the Temporary Use Permit applied for by the Foundation.

On Monday, August 10, 1998, the City of Momento Valley refused the Simon Foundation's request to proceed with the event. Simon Foundation officials decided to proceed with the event, but the city refused to continue with the event.

It should be noted that the Simon Foundation later advertised that the new venue for the concert was the "Moreno Valley Mega Center." No such facility exists in the City of Momento Valley. The Foundation continued to assert that the concert site was ready for the concert, however, the representation of the artists stated they would not be performing at the Simon Foundation event.

Event a No-Go: The Simon Foundation failed to meet a myriad of the City's other public safety requirements and insufficient insurance aggregate. Reporting that the event was canceled, the Foundation's own insurance agreement, Goldware and Taylor Insurance in Riverside, also informed the Foundation that its current level of insurance - $1 million per occurrence and $5 million aggregate - did not meet the City of Momento Valley's standards.

FCC Attempts to Regulate Black Broadcasting Firm

The Punishment Doesn't Fit the Crime, But It Helps the Politicians

Last week the New York State Legislature passed a bill that eliminates parole for first time offenders in this state. We call it "Ernie's Law" after Ernie Ford, a Black youth from upstate New York who was shot to death on a farm in 1995. Those dollars translate into the loss of health care services, community programs, and positions of leadership in our neighborhoods and tax base.

On the other hand, Parkview is community-based. Our dollars spent at Parkview are revisited in this community to make Riverside a better place to live and work. Under the banner of "Guidelines," these politicians -- button issuers when they see it -- have been working at KFC since 1985. Well, John decided to fight back. He hired a lawyer and filed a lawsuit against KFC. John was fired because of this lawsuit and lost all benefits including his pension, stock, investment, and retirement savings for the last 12 years. The irony of this is that the Black community is the sole reason that KFC has such an astronomical sales total.

Encephalitis Found in County Park

Riverside Department of Environmental Health found evidence of encephalitis in blood samples collected from chickens at McIntyre County Park, a county recreational facility in Blythe. Mosquito-borne encephalitis is caused by a virus. The common reservoirs for mosquito-borne encephalitis are wild and domestic birds. This disease can involve parts of the brain, spinal column, and meningitis. The symptoms in man range from simple fever and headache to combinations of these with drowsiness and gastro-intestinal disturbances followed by muscle lethargy, speech difficulties and mental disturbance, tumors, convulsions, and other ongoing symptoms. The positive confirmation for encephalitis was reported by the California Department of Health Services Laboratory. Based on these findings, the County Environmental Health staff have posted the areas involved and will continue to provide mosquito control as needed. For further information please call 1-800-971-2230.

County Environmental Health recommends the following recommendations to campers and all other visitors planning to use the Blythe Recreational area:

1. Avoid areas with high mosquito populations.
2. Practice personal protection by using mosquito repellents and wearing loose-fitting long-sleeved shirts and pants.
3. Exclude mosquitoes from home, tent, or camper with screening or netting.
4. Use indoor aerosol insecticide sprays to kill mosquitoes.
5. Use outdoor aerosol insecticide sprays to help kill mosquitoes around your home or camp.

The Word "Prejudice"

Prejudice is often a term that has given people the feeling of a "feeling intolerance" when they hear the word. In the sense of "feeling intolerance" when they hear the word, it is the same as the word "prejudice." The root of the word is from Latin and means "to see before." In saying that people are prejudiced, they are saying that people see things before they have a chance to think about them. In the sense of "feeling intolerance," it is the same as the word "prejudice."

A Windfall Waiting to Happen for Blacks
The Black Voice News

By William Reed

Black Americans are not making their elected officials accountable on an issue that could make more money to each and everyone of us than all alternative active programs combined. The issue is Black Reparations.

While considerable evidence shows blacks still suffering residual effects of slavery and racial discrimination, African-American members of Congress have signed on to this issue from Republicans.

"I only have two kids of my own, I have always enjoyed working with youth, so I have been a father to many kids all Democratic, play us like chumps. Its time to pay attention to what is actually happening. Affirmative Action laws, to right the wrongs of the past, are now passe'. The majority recipients of Affirmative Action benefits were White women. The President's Dialogue on Race has turned into a discussion about everything but us, and our long and unfair struggles in this country. It got so ridiculous, even after all that has happened to us, blacks have been surpassed by gays in action on discrimination issues. Instead ofлаггing аlоng, everybоdy else's 'cаms' are 'tаke саre of the nation's business', the current coalition, say, our counsellors, mayors and state-level legislators need to "take care' of our cause in this area. This is a time our representatives spoke the overwhelming will of our peers and stop begging for affirmative action-oriented crumbs and simply, do their obligations and right ancient Congressman John Conyers has introduced H.R. 40 every year since the 94th Congress since 1994. But, less than 25 percent of African Americans in Congress have signed on as co-sponsors. If we are to ever get our just due, Conyers bill is something one of us should understand and support. It would acknowledge slavery as one of the cruellest and most inhumane institutions created by humanity.

A Midsummer Night's Music Weekend Full of Magic

UNCF the beneficiary of weekend filled with philanthropy efforts.

By LELAND STEIN III
Black Voice News Sports Editor

INGLEWOOD - In today's news we are bounteared with repeated stories about what today's athletes do not do. However, I think, an in-depth inspection would unveil that overwhelmingly the athletes of today are staying more and more doing more in his or her communities; conversely, there is always more work to be done by not only the athletes themselves.

One long-standing and constant of sports merging with philanthropy is “A Midsummer Night’s Magic”. For the 13th straight year, the Universal Amphitheatre, former Atlanta Mayor Andrew Young; Ambassador to the United Nations and former Atlanta Mayor Andrew Young; and it’s for a worthy cause. "Anytime you can increase the well-being of humankind, it means a lot to participate in a game like this," Rose said. "Anyone you can help give opportunity to others that is less fortunate, it is a plus for all involved." Added Webber: "It's good to play in a benefit that will assist the UNCF schools. Everyone, not just athletes should want to be a part of charities like this because it has so much meaning for so many young people that seek higher education."

Mardi Gras Saturday: Mardi Gras was the theme of the day, and the organizers did a masterful job of recreating the famed New Orleans style celebration. First, the evening started with a VIP reception and party at the Sony Plaza. The food of the evening had a distinctly Latin American theme, as is most necessary.

These opportunities will be available to disadvantage children of the future generation for the past twelve years. Magic has raised more than $100 million for UNCF. As a result of his (Magic's) support, UNCF can continue to move forward with educational opportunities to more than 54,000 students and help them raise their ambitions and achieve their goals."

This year’s “A Midsummer Night’s Magic” weekend produced a cavalcade of events that was not only fun for the participants, but again raised noteworthy philanthropy efforts. "Biggie" Smalls. "To the Roof Off: Frankie Beverly and Maze were the amphitheatre's featured attraction. The UNCF schools will benefit from the evening. It was an exciting evening. Their time and celebrity to assist the UNCF can continue to provide education to many minority athletes. Most do care and are minority athletes. It is an important role for the athletes to play.
