November 19th 1986

CSUSB

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarworks.lib.csusb.edu/coyote-chronicle

Recommended Citation

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Arthur E. Nelson University Archives at CSUSB ScholarWorks. It has been accepted for inclusion in Coyote Chronicle (1984-) by an authorized administrator of CSUSB ScholarWorks. For more information, please contact scholarworks@csusb.edu.
Now that the Coyote Chronicle has been underway for nine (shudder) issues so far, the more substantial comments - and criticisms - are beginning to come in. And while I am very happy to hear any comments regarding the newspaper's quality - or how we can improve ourselves - quite simply, I have found many comments to be rather disturbing.

Simply put, the comments and criticisms we receive can be put into two categories: one, we don't run enough features or articles on Cal State San Bernardino itself, or two, we run far too many. The latter has been more of an ongoing comment. The former arrived with our recent decision to publish stories that had more to do with the CSUSB community, rather than just the university.

Both disturb me, and not for reasons you might think. You see, in recent years I have been a first-hand participant in professional newspaper polltaking - so I'm used to answers of extremes. However, the readers of this newspaper are in a vastly different position than the readers of most newspapers - our readers have the opportunity to actively assist their paper in its quest for top quality. Unfortunately, rarely anyone has so far. It doesn't take a third-year journalism student to discover that that doesn't help anyone.

At some point during the 1985 Spring Quarter, it was decided that the Chronicle would only concentrate its attention on CSUSB-related subjects, and nothing else. As you might imagine, it had quite an unpopular result.

So, with the change in editorial staff this quarter, it was decided that we would live up to our motto on page one - to serve the community of Cal State, San Bernardino. We're not living in our own fantasy world, folks. Third-year journalism students have the opportunity to actively assist their paper in its quest for top quality.

Unfortunatly, rarely anyone has so far. At least you'll be immediately separated from the crowd of apathetic crybabies that turn tail and run the minute they're asked to back up their words with actions.

Before I get any more hot-headed, I'd rather just sum this all up with two words: get involved. Don't wait for others to solve your problems; get off your duff and do something yourself! In the long run, it will benefit everybody... and it will be one more step in helping to make the Chronicle a first-class news source for the CSUSB community.

Oh, while I've still got some space to ramble in, I'd like to mention that, in honor of an auspicious birthday that just happens to coincide with this issue's publishing date, any presents or monetary donations will be accepted at the Chronicle office (at the Editor's desk) all day long during regular business hours.

Well, I had to give it a try, right?

Jerry Lewis
"To Gillian"
International Programs
Boo Bear's Den
Health Corner
Sports
Cover

In the play "To Gillian on her 37th birthday" Rachael played by Wendell Theroux wishes her dead mother Gillian played by Mary Anne Gotheridge, Silver (above) a happy birthday on the 2nd anniversary of her week.

(Photos by Mary Anne Gotheridge).
Student wants more activities on campus

To the Editor,

Although CSUSB is often thought of as a commuter school, I am one of the students who is on campus quite a bit besides when I am in class. My question to the person in charge of this is, where are the activities a college student usually enjoys? Where are the activities on campus? Furthermore, I must present my views. That's a lot more than yoursdf. Then I thought, "Huh, I live in my book. You don't walk away from it, not the administrations."

Student sympathizes with editor

To the Editor,

Elrood, I can and do heartly empathize and applaud your Nov. 12 article on the senseless butchering of innocent names. However, do you think anyone else has a top 5 list of misspellings? Well I counted all the different ways people had (miss) spelled my name.

1) Collie (or Cally)
2) Collie 7 (or CalU)
3) Collie 8 (or Kally)
4) Collie 9 (or Kally)
5) Callee
6) Cally
7) Kally
8) CalU
9) Callie
10) CalLee
11) Kalli

Yes, all these (mis)spellings have been attributed to my unique four-letter name. Can you guess my name yet? Well, it is Kali, that is Ka-(pretend you have a boston accent and say Artis (or Abi) Li (common Chinese surname—Lee—). The pronunciations have ranged from Kelley to Kolleen and hit lots of places in between, as I'm sure you, El Ron, can imagine, including Kahlua. This is not to mention all the witty people who think themselves terribly clever when they come up with wonderfully original name associations such as Collie dog you know, like Lassie and the slightly, but not much, better, cauliflower. I really didn't mind the first hundred or so times, but hey, that was all before second grade! The most original, however, had to be the second grader named Pablo, when I was twelve.

Fidelity

Faithfulness is an art created by those who have sculpted success. Must Det or bra da ur bra du jag sa glad du ar min van i liv Jag ville du vet att jag ar lycka ockert fikas a min van idag
att jag vet att liv det ar bra

In My Life

Suanger in my life, once a friend
now a shadow of some distant dream...

Path

Select your course your path for life and find you might the goals for which you strive...

Poems by John Cloud

Aalborg
rolling hills of green and white the warmth of a danish culture...

On
On the spot
On the line
On the earth
On the mind...

About the students in the dorms who have extra time and are close to any activity on campus? What about those of us who want our college years to be full of fun times?

Well I think it's about time more students (mis) spell their names right when I say it for them or pronounces it correctly when it is spelled. Very, very rarely (I can count 'em without using my toes). Someone manages to spell and pronounce my name correctly. I love 'em for it.

I have never in my life written a letter to the editor not I have ever seen a more appropriate article. Much thanks to giving this subject the attention it deserves.

Perhaps (but I doubt it) people will take a few extra seconds to try and say names like ours correctly (or at least get it right after being told fifteen times).

Yours truly,
Kali (Cal Lee)

Student wants more activities on campus

To the Editor,

Although CSUSB is often thought of as a commuter school, I am one of the students who is on campus quite a bit besides when I am in class. My question to the person in charge of this is, where are the activities a college student usually enjoys? Where are the activities on campus? Furthermore, I must present my views. That's a lot more than yoursdf. Then I thought, "Huh, I live in my book. You don't walk away from it, not the administrations."

Shandinista defends letter

First off you are not my friend or my brother and second off I was unfortunate enough to have my name missprinted from originally "Shandinista Rebel", to "Sandinita Rebelen", to "Sandinita rebels", sorry Sandinita's Sandinita refers to the Shandin Dormitory on this campus. Furthermore, I must commend you on your effort taken in writing a rebuttal. I was surprised to even get one reply. Maybe you're the only one that's literate? I may come off a little one-sided but then I'm perfect aren't I? I still present my views. That's a lot more than yoursdf. Then I thought, "Huh, I live in my book. You don't walk away from it, not the administrations."

Shandinista Rebel
WHAT NEXT FOR SOUTH AFRICA?

by Donald Richard

When is the Reagan Administration going to wake up and realize that the present government of P.W. Botha in South Africa is on its way out? The Administration's way of handling the situation in South Africa is analogous to two people attempting to bail out the Titanic as it sinks to the bottom of the ocean.

First off, let's take the sanctions issue. The Reagan Administration states that sanctions would not have any effect on South Africa's policy of apartheid, or racial separation. In fact, the Administration claims that sanctions would only hurt the blacks who reside in South Africa. To this I would only say over 70% of the population of South Africa are already suffering. How much worse can it get? What about the round-up of men, women, and children from their families by the Prussian-like South African police; the detention and torture of these people, sometimes for months on end? How much worse can it get? What even discords when children are separated from parents who must travel from the abominable conditions of the black homelands to cities, to work for scant wages in deplorable conditions of the white homelands that they are told to return home? The African National Congress-or the ANC-will bring in mass demonstrations at all levels, forcing the whole world to see the ignominious behavior against the inhabitants of that nation. This aspect is irrelevant. What it would do, is to put the current occupants of the South African government on notice, that one of it strongest allies has had enough of its ignominious behavior against the majority of its citizens. That's what sanctions against South Africa would do.

Hey, I am not advocating forceful revolution in South Africa, but change is going to occur there whether any of us want it or not. If it is a bloody overthrow, don't blame the black South Africans; you can place the blame squarely at the feet of the whites in that country. Don't you think that the U.S. should be prepared for that change when it takes place? Don't you think America should stand on the side of freedom and righteousness and not on the side of tyranny and gross injustice? Then turn off those idiot-producing, phalum-spewing television sets and Wake Up America!

ADVISEMENT

ED. SCHOOL OFFICE OPEN FOR WALK-IN

The School of Education announces the opening of their advisement center which is available on a walk-in basis to students with questions about M.A. and credential/certificate programs in the School of Education. The center is primarily for students who are within three quarters of enrolling in School of Education programs.

The SOE Advisement Center is located on the fifth floor of Pfau Library across from the School of Education office. Hours for the Advisement Center are 1-6 p.m. Monday through Thursday and the phone number is 867-7571, Ext. 15.

YES, VIRGINIA, THERE REALLY IS A SANTA CLAUS

The Future Teachers Club is sponsoring a "Letter from Santa" this year. If you're a student who has a child or children at CSUSB day care, we have a Santa Mailbox and the application on the sign-in list that is not limited to children at the day care. The cost per child is $.50 to cover postage and handling. So drop by, pick up the application and drop it in Santa's mailbox. Give your child a memorable Christmas this year from CSUSB's Future Teachers Club.

Commentary

Racial prejudice not limited only to traditional areas of bigotry

I recently read in the October issue of EBRON magazine that many administrators at Black colleges were outraged that some white students were attending their colleges and universities. It seems that the legislatures of Missouri, Tennessee, and Alabama have ordered state-funded Black colleges to integrate as required by the landmark 1954 Supreme Court Case, Brown v. The Board of Education, Topeka Kansas. Quote Greg Can, a 21-year old student of the Student Government Association at Tennessee State University, "We feel that this is clearly an attempt by Whites to wipe out the historically Black colleges. First they bring in White administra­tors, then they bring in more White students, then they raise admission standards and the tuition fees. I don't know what once was a Black school is gone. Can one imagine the cries of outraged Black students of racism that would emanate from the knee-jerk liberals in this country if the above statement had been made by a White student?"

The application of sanctions against the government of South Africa by the Reagan Administration may or may not have a visible effect on the inhabitants of that nation. This aspect is irrelevant. What it would do, is to put the current occupants of the South African government on notice, that one of its strongest allies has had enough of its ignominious behavior against the majority of its citizens. That's what sanctions against South Africa would do.

The campus community is invited to the lecture and the reception. The show will be up through Dec. 4.

Letter: Cont.

know then, as a matter of business ethics, it is not wise to put down people you must deal with. I would suggest to Mr. Grote to steer away from the ever-present negative things and focus on the many positive features of institutions such as the valuable service provided by the department of Public Safety.

The villain's response, Sincerely, the villain

"PRIMITIVE" PAINTINGS ARE SHOWCASED HERE

An unusual exhibit of "native" or "prIMITIVE" paintings by three contemporary artists opened Thursday, Nov. 6.

The artists' works tend to be eclectic combinations of Old Master imagery with objects and visions from the surrounding environment, explained John Nava, gallery director. The exhibit includes the works of David Settino Scott, a former San Bernardino resident, and the Rev. Howard Finster, a 70-year-old fundamentalist preacher, and Gaylen Hansen, who is well known in the northeastern United States.

The campus community is invited to the lecture and the reception. The show will be up through Dec. 4.
Congressman Jerry Lewis (35th District) will be at CSUSB Monday, November 24, at 11 a.m. to answer questions during an Open Forum in the Commons Panorama Room. The congressman, just elected for his fifth term, serves on the Appropriations Committee and is chair of the House Republican Research Committee which meets regularly with President Reagan on strategy. Lewis graduated from UCLA with a B.A. degree in government, was awarded a year-long Coro Foundation Fellowship in Public Affairs. He served ten years in the California State Legislature and is owner of a successful life insurance business.

PSI CHI

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY IN PSYCHOLOGY

PRESENTS

"WOMEN'S ISSUES IN THE 80'S"

A PANEL FEATURING GUEST SPEAKERS:
DR. GLORIA COWAN
DR. GERALDINE STAHL
DR. MICHAEL WEISS

WITH MODERATOR EDWARD SCHNEIDERHAN

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 19
AT 2 PM IN THE SUMP

REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED
THERE IS NO CHARGE
ALL INTERESTED STUDENTS AND FACULTY ARE INVITED TO ATTEND

THIS EVENT WILL BE VIDEOTAPE FOR FUTURE
ACCESS IN THE A.V. FACILITY

ASSURED MINI

STORAGE

CLEAN OUT YOUR CLOSETS!!!!

502 W. 40TH STREET
886-8493

JUST AROUND THE CORNER
FROM CAMPUS

SIZES 3'X 6' TO 10'X 15'

OR

2180 W. HIGHLAND AVE.
SAN BERNARDINO 887-2411

SIZES 5'X 5' TO 10'X 30'

LARGE ENOUGH FOR BOATS AND CARS.

NO SECURITY DEPOSIT.

WE ALSO ACCEPT

VISA/MASTERCARD

$5.00 OFF ANY UNIT WITH THIS AD.
To Gillian on her 37th birthday, a two-act play that ran three nights last week, and will continue for three more this weekend, is a sad tale about a widower rediscovering life and love after the tragic death of his wife, who died in a boating accident two years to the day before the fictional weekend that this play spans, and on her birthday.

The play opens with David, her former husband, torn between the love of Gillian and the needs of their child, Rachel. Their daughter, though, has become invisible since the death of Gillian (figuratively), so serious is David with keeping the memory of Gillian.

David dreams of Gillian, at night he comes out of the house and talks with her, playing the games that only people in love can enjoy, and sadly, they never touch

"Misshapen, misapplied, anguish," Gillian tells David. Why doesn't he forget? Gillian was a very dominating woman. She was sassy, she was independent, she lived life hard and she died because of it. Besides, as she explains to David, "I am very, very, very, very dead."

But Gillian was a captivating one, and Tami Silver portrayed her with a sense of genuine joy that lit up the stage and blew away the rest of the incredibly white cast. Indeed, you begin to realize why David misses her, even if the hope is so futile.

The confrontation comes when Esther, Gillian's sister, comes to the birthday remembrance with a badly named girl called Kevin who is a former close friend of David's, in the hope that she will bring David out of his monk-like rut.

All of the performances are well-done, especially the part of Paul, played by Peter Hughes, and the role of Cindy, who is played by Karen Hanson.

Dagmar Handlos, who played Esther, gave the play an earthy sense of reality, often jolting the audience into a realization that this is not quite the Cleaver family, no matter how hard they try.

The show is well-done, and worth seeing. It is filled with many sad and tender moments, as well as some that are funny and bawdy.

Brad Weisberg of Redlands, played the role of David with a keen eye for the type of retreats that people can develop for themselves, and a knack for burying these retreats only enough to make them real.

The play will be on stage this weekend in the Cal State theatre from November 19 to the 22nd. General admission is $5; $2.50 for students. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. For more information call 887-7452.

African art exhibit displays "native" pointillism

by Sharna Wilson

African Art is the subject of a new exhibit on display through Nov. 21 in Gallery II at Cal State University, San Bernardino.

The paintings were created by senior art student William W. Moore, of Victorville, who has been concentrating on African art history in his work toward a bachelor's degree at Cal State.

The paintings stem from the vast area surrounding the Niger and Congo basins. They are inspired by the conceptual and often abstract characteristics which are typical of African art, according to the artist.

"The vital force and energy emanating from African art captured my imagination," said Moore. "Normally, this style is synonymous with Negro African art, which derives its abstract manner from wooden carvings used in religious ceremonies to communicate with the spirit world."

Many of the bright, colorful paintings utilize dots to create their images, and they range in size from 18" by 18" to 4' by 9'.

Moore has had other works on display in Apple Valley and Encino, and one of his African paintings is currently on display in the San Bernardino County Museum as part of the 21st Annual Juried Exhibition of the Fine Art Institute.

The exhibit can be viewed from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday.
Laughter and claps cure ills, frowns

By Seth DeLord

The best medicine? Penicillin? No. Tender Loving Care? No. Try laughter. "Sure, it won't cure AIDS, and it won't make your long lost leg grow back, but it sure can bring you out of the doldrums pretty fast—sometimes even if you happen to have one of these problems."

We often forget how therapeutic a night at the club, a few laughs, and a couple of drinks can be.

Friday, November 7, the recently opened Laff Stop in the Montclair Entertainment Plaza (not the old Laff Stop in the boiler room in Claremont) featured a two-hour show with headliners Roger and Roger, and warm-up men Evan Sayett and Jack Mayberry.

Roger and Roger, who have worked extensively in Las Vegas, ended the show with an amusing array of comic impressions and send-ups that included Edith Bunker finally telling Archie just what we've all wanted to hear for years (even if we are unable to print it).

Moving on, we got to see Mr. T as a phlegmatic and Redd Foxx singing a commercial for Eldorado (left doo-wopping between Couch).

After getting good response from this topic, Mayberry moved on to the subject of religion, saying that one day a man knocked on his door and asked him if he (Mayberry) intended on going to heaven. He had not yet woken up.

"Did you hear about Jack?"

"No."

"Pause."

"He was squashed."

"Pause."

"He was squashed."

"Pause."

After getting good response from this topic, Mayberry moved on to the subject of religion, saying that one day a man knocked on his door and asked him if he (Mayberry) intended on going to heaven. He had not yet woken up.

Mayberry's funniest bit was about getting squashed, or sucked into it." He then hit on it again, saying "It should have a sign on it 'Brains washed 254'."

"The Laff Stop is open seven days a week. There is a sizable menu that includes both drinks and food items, including pizza, hamburgers, nachos. It is located in the Montclair Entertainment Plaza just off the I-10 freeway, (See coupons)."

This Is Where It's At!

CLUB METRO

10 BARS
3 DANCE FLOORS
3 DISC JOCKEYS
3 DIANT METERVISION VIDEO SCREENS
AFTER HOURS DANCING
(If day & Saturday)
CAPACITY 2000 TO 2000
18 & OVER INVITED
FULL SERVICE RESTAURANT

CHOOSE OF—
Rock & Roll, New Wave & Funk Music

"THE FINEST IN THE INLAND EMPIRE"
Are you one of the many San Bernardino residents turned students, who have never ventured out of the county (except for the occasional visit to Las Vegas or the beach)? Do you feel as if you need a change in your life, but you're not sure where you want to go? Are you looking for a challenge...an excitement...an experience? Well...here it is! You've found it.

The CSU system has an International Program (IP) for students who want to study in fifteen different countries. You can choose from Brazil, Denmark, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Mexico, New Zealand, Peru, Quebec, Taiwan, Republic of China, Spain, Sweden, and the United Kingdom.

Each country is unique in its offerings of majors and cultures, yet all have certain characteristics that apply to all countries. They include:

- Financial Aid
- Tuition
- Exchange rates
- Program deadlines

Students do not pay any overseas tuition or administrative costs. Students will pay only the regular CSU campus fees. (Sounds great, doesn't it?)

Students are enrolled for a full academic year and earn resident credit for the coursework.

Financial Aid at a CSU campus is applicable overseas. Students with dependents (spouse and/or children) can take the family along.

To be eligible, students must be enrolled in the CSU system no later than Spring 1987; have a cumulative grade point average of 2.25 (or better); be on regular campus fees. They must have a personal interview with a staff member at CSUSB, to show that they meet all of the prerequisites, including college level foreign language wherever required.

Most interested students will be concerned with the cost of studying overseas, all should be prepared to plan for the cost of a single student for the academic year range from $4,755 to $10,000, with an average of approximately $6,768. Now you might be thinking that that's a lot of money. (Am I right?) Well, it's not really when you compare what a student spends for the year at CSUSB ($4,755). The cost varies widely because of several things. They include the cost of living in the particular host country. In addition, the year of the academic year, the currency exchange rate, the rate of inflation, and the student's own habit when it comes to spending money.

All types of expenses are included in the total cost, such as fees, student identification and local trips, personal expenses and housing and meals are estimated into the total cost.

Another good feature about the program is the fact that a student does not have to pay for everything all at once. A student will pay what must be, or can best be paid according to a group rate, as agreed upon. The actual advance amount depends on the country that you choose. Other expenses will be paid on the day that they are needed overseas.

When the academic year ends, students will receive a refund (from the office of the IP) of any money that was not spent on their behalf.

Just think, you might even have money left over. Are you mentally packing your bags yet...getting excited, well...wait there's more. You need to know how to apply.

The deadline for submitting applications for the 1987-88 academic year is February 11, 1987.

After the completed application is sent off, a board of faculty and staff at CSUSB will hold a personal interview with the student. From this interview, the board makes a recommendation to the IP main office.

Once the applications from all 19 CSU campuses are received, a statewide faculty committee looks over the recommendations of the different school boards and makes the final selection.

In April, students will be notified of the selection result.

Applications and more information can be obtained from Dr. Rowland, Coordinator of the program. His office is located in SS152.

Now that you know more about the International Programs, I bet you want to know even more. (Where do I live, What kind of classes are offered? What's it REALLY LIKE?)

For those of you who are really interested in this opportunity, you are encouraged (GO) to attend the IP orientation session that is being held on Tuesday, November 25 from 11-3. It will be in PL241.

Student representatives who have participated in this program in the past will be on hand so that you have the chance to ask questions.

A slide show, depicting each country, will also be featured.

The location will be open-house style so that students can come and go as their schedule permits.

If you are one of those students who get to participate, don't forget about those at home. While you are enjoying yourself, which I'm sure you will...remember to drop a postcard now and then (they make great gifts). Oh...and don't worry about old San Berdo, will still be here when you get back...so will Las Vegas, the beaches, and all the rest of Mexico's wonderful culture that you wish they would of at least applied.

Special thanks to Kith Mele, IP Rep., who helped me with obtaining this information. Look for her story (Mexico) in next issue.

Students: Travel, Romance, and Study

GERMANY

Two different cities in West Germany have universities designed for international students.

The University of Heidelberg is located on the Neckar River midway between Frankfurt and Stuttgart. The countryside surrounding it is covered with orchards, woods and vineyards.

Students must have completed two years of college, level German by the end of Spring term, 1987 to attend the university. A wide variety of courses is offered.

The University of Tubingen is located on the Nector River south of the Black Forest.

The program is intended for students with less than a year of elementary German language required.

Total estimated cost is $7,570. Does not include vacation expenses spent between $300 and $1,700.

Departure date from L.A. is July 21, 1987 for Tubingen and July 28, 1987 for Heidelberg.

JAPAN

The Waseda University is located in Tokyo, one of the world's largest cities.

Waseda is a private, non-sectarian institution. It is one of the largest and most renowned universities in Japan.

The International Programs are offered in cooperation with Waseda University. The International Division offers a program of Japanese language, history, culture and society.

Students are required to study the Japanese language as a major part of their academic program. Other than language courses, all instruction is in English.

The university will not sponsor you for visas, female students 30 years or older, or male students 35 years of age or older.

The estimated cost is $9,305. Does not include vacation expenses.

Academic year ends on June 27, 1988.

Departure date from L.A. is August 26, 1987.

FRANCE

The CSU International Programs is located in the region of Provence in Southern France. The city of Aix-en-Provence is 18 miles from Marseille, the bastille French seaport on the Mediterranean.

The city's history dates from pre-Roman times, and Aix has long been regarded as a center of art and learning.

The Institut d'etudes francaises pour etudiants étrangers, the division of the university where students are enrolled, offers a special curriculum for foreign students.

All courses are taught in French but are designed for non-native French speakers.

Courses in many of the social sciences and humanities are offered.

Students with advanced proficiency in French may enroll in regular university classes at the Faculte des lettres et sciences humaines, Institut d'etudes politiques, or Faculte de droit et science politique.

Extra eligibility: Two years of college level French. Advanced study at the University requires even more French.

Total estimated cost: $6,565. Does not include vacation travel. Past students spent between $300 and $1,750.

Departure date from L.A. is August 30, 1987.

BRAZIL

It is the largest country in South America, both in geographic area and population. It is currently the most economic power on the continent.

Students will attend the University of Sao Paulo. It is located 300 miles southwest of Rio de Janeiro and 60 miles inland from the port of Santos.

Since Sao Paulo is in the southern hemisphere, winter last from June through October.

Students will be attending the University of Sao Paulo where courses are taught in Portuguese. From June 30 to August 5 all students enroll in a four-semester preparatory language program designed to give intensive training in Portuguese and an introduction to Brazil.

A wide variety of courses are offered. Group student activities are arranged throughout the year. They include attendance at theatre or music performances and trips to different places in or near Sao Paulo.

Extra eligibility: Completion of two years of college level Spanish or Portuguese is required.

Total estimated cost: $6,615. Does not include vacation travel or cost of student's expenditure variations. Past students spent between $800 and $1,500.

Departure date from L.A. is June 26, 1987.

DENMARK

Spend the year in Copenhagen. It is a city graced with an array of towers, castles and parks.

The spirit of the royal city (home of Danish Kings and queens since the 1400's) has been preserved buildings, old winding streets, open squares, and relatively few high-rise structures. Two separate academic programs are offered at the University of Copenhagen.

One is European Conflict and Cooperation. This course of study is designed to acquaint students with the political, historical, military, and economic factors that influence the policy and diplomacy of contemporary Europe.

Classroom work is supplemented by local field trips and study tours to Stockholm, Sweden, western Denmark, eastern Europe, and to Brussels, Belgium. An optional excursion to the border is also available.

Total estimated cost for either program is $10,100. Does not include vacation expenses because credit for students variations on spending. Past students have spent between $400 and $1,000.

Departure date from L.A. is August 30, 1987.
15 Historic Countries of the World

TAIWAN
The Republic of China has undergone a revolutionary economic development in the relatively short period of its existence on the islands of the Formosa Straits.

International academic programs are offered.

Chinese Language and Culture is a program where an excellent receive language instruction and to roll in lecture courses taught in Chinese on Chinese culture and

The Chinese Art and Art

International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.

The International Business

program consists of

language study, cultural orientation, and

courses in business in an Asian

environment.
Bear's Den in Big Bear Lake will we reviewed last week, rated a really grip you. And you'll have to get a grip on yourself when you taste their special dinner offerings for only $4.95.

As the evenings turn from brisk to downright cold and skiers gaze hopefully into the skies waiting for that first snow flurry, have we found a place for CSUSB snow bunnies. Located only 15 minutes from Snow Valley and 5 minutes from Gold Min; Boo Bear's Den offers dinner specials guaranteed to nourish ski-weary students.

Boo Bear's menu is grilled top sirloin dinner is sure to chase the evening chill away. One of two special dinners offered nightly, this eight ounce portion of choice top sirloin is served on a unique, fish-like platter and with your choice of potato or rice pilaf, and soup or full service salad bar. It also comes with two freshly baked cheese rolls, with crunchy flake or crisp cheese attached to the bottom round rolls. two per person.

Boo Bear's other regular special, the red snapper dinner is sauteed in butter and delicately seasoned with paprika, and is served with tartar sauce. A savory mound of rice pilaf rounds out the meal. For those who enjoy a mild fish flavor, the red snapper dinner just might be your dish.

Amazingly, one regular menu item, also for $4.95, is Boo Bear's mesquite grilled top sirloin dinner for only $4.95. It comes with two freshly baked cheese rolls, with crunchy flake or crisp cheese attached to the bottom round rolls. two per person. The choice of sumptuous dinner specials from Gold Mine, Boo Bear's Den, Twin Panda, and Lakeview are yours to choose.

Besides their dinner specials, Boo Bear's Den offers a complete menu of steaks, ribs, chicken, pork, shrimp, lobster and crab entrees. But for skiers on a budget, you can't beat Boo Bear's $4.95 specials. When you slip into the old snow boots and grab for your skis and poles, don't forget to take along the address to Boo Bear's Den. Located at 572 Pine Knot in Big Bear Lake, Boo Bear's Den is sure to provide you with an unbearably delicious dinner at a price that is not overbearing.

Budget fare extraordinaire

by John and Tammy Horton

If Twin Panda, the restaurant we reviewed last week, rated a BLOOM COUNTY Budget fare extraordinaire. If Twin Panda offers a wide variety of dishes, with something for everyone. But what really sets Twin Panda apart is the price. With a $4.95 special, you can get a meal that is filling and satisfying. And with Twin Panda's location in the heart of downtown, it's the perfect place to grab a bite before or after a show at the nearby theater.

Boo Bear's Den restaurant in Big Bear is skier's paradise

by Berke Breathed

Boo Bear's Den is located at 572 Pine Knot in Big Bear Lake. Located only 15 minutes from Snow Valley and 5 minutes from Gold Mine, Boo Bear's Den offers dinner specials guaranteed to nourish ski-weary students. The menu includes grilled top sirloin dinner, mesquite grilled top sirloin dinner, and red snapper dinner. Each dinner is served with rice pilaf and soup or salad bar. It also comes with two freshly baked cheese rolls.

The most colorful aspect of homecoming will be the Float Competition which will take place just before the pep rally. Stepping away from the traditional, these people-powered floats will be scaled-down in size to allow them to be displayed in the small gym, as well as at the pep rally, club fairs, and half time at the games. Awards will go to the "Most Creative," "Most Bizarre," "Most Likely to Go to the Rose Bowl," and "Best Engineered." Dean of Students Peter Wilson will also select a winner, as will Associated Students President Penni Overson.

The Homecoming Committee encourages all clubs, departments, and other campus organizations to take up the challenge of competing in this event. All interested groups should plan to attend an informational meeting on November 25 at noon in the Student Union Senate or call 887-7811 or 887-7407.

Homecoming is sponsored by the Cal State Alumni Association, with assistance from the Associated Students, the Athletic Department, Associated Students, Coyote Spirit Boosters, Student Life, Faculty Senate, Serrano Village, and Greek Council. A complete schedule of activities will be available in the next few weeks. For more information, call 887-7811 or 887-7407.

ATTENTION JUNIORS AND SENIORS

For those of you graduating seniors, physics or chemistry majors with a 3.0 GPA you may be eligible for a $1,200.00 a month scholarship. After graduation, candidates are commissioned officers in one of the Navy's Nuclear Programs. The position offers unmatched technical and management training. Benefits include 30 days paid vacation each year, a collegial and diverse core, the opportunity for advanced education of little or no cost to you, and much more.

Navy representatives will be on campus Wednesday, November 25, Career Services and Placement Office from 9am-2pm. Call toll-free 1-800-222-6289 for more information or to set up an appointment.

NAVY OFFICER LEADS THE ADVENTURE

Two basketball games, floats, a pep rally, and good food are just a sample of the activities planned to welcome back alumni at the Second Annual Homecoming, which begins on Thursday, January 15.

This three-day event will kick-off on Thursday night with a first-ever Float Competition and Pep Rally. A special attraction of Friday will be a basketball techniques clinic led by Cheryl Miller, Olympian and All-American player. This clinic, free and open to the public, will be held in the gym at 3:30 p.m. A pre-game dinner for the entire campus community will be held in the Student Union Saturday evening, hosted by the Cal State Associated. After dinner, the men's team will play the Claremont Colleges, with tip-off also at 7:30 p.m. The celebration will culminate Saturday night with an informal dance after the game sponsored by the Greek Council. Homecoming spirit will be promoted throughout the week by the sale of special homecoming moments and festive displays around campus. An added feature of homecoming will be special guest presentations by alumni on various topics.

The most colorful aspect of homecoming will be the Float Competition which will take place just before the pep rally. Stepping away from the traditional, these people-powered floats will be scaled-down in size to allow them to be displayed in the small gym, as well as at the pep rally, club fairs, and half time at the games. Awards will go to the "Most Creative," "Most Bizarre," "Most Likely to Go to the Rose Bowl," and "Best Engineered." Dean of Students Peter Wilson will also select a winner, as will Associated Students President Penni Overson.

The Homecoming Committee encourages all clubs, departments, and other campus organizations to take up the challenge of competing in this event. All interested groups should plan to attend an informational meeting on November 25 at noon in the Student Union Senate or call 887-7811 or 887-7407.

Homecoming is sponsored by the Cal State Alumni Association, with assistance from the Associated Students, the Athletic Department, Associated Students, Coyote Spirit Boosters, Student Life, Faculty Senate, Serrano Village, and Greek Council. A complete schedule of activities will be available in the next few weeks. For more information, call 887-7811 or 887-7407.

BLOOM COUNTY

FOOD

Bloom County

Features

Budget fare extraordinaire

by John and Tammy Horton

If Twin Panda, the restaurant we reviewed last week, rated a BLOOM COUNTY Budget fare extraordinaire. If Twin Panda offers a wide variety of dishes, with something for everyone. But what really sets Twin Panda apart is the price. With a $4.95 special, you can get a meal that is filling and satisfying. And with Twin Panda's location in the heart of downtown, it's the perfect place to grab a bite before or after a show at the nearby theater.

Boo Bear's Den restaurant in Big Bear is skier's paradise

by Berke Breathed

Boo Bear's Den is located at 572 Pine Knot in Big Bear Lake. Located only 15 minutes from Snow Valley and 5 minutes from Gold Mine, Boo Bear's Den offers dinner specials guaranteed to nourish ski-weary students. The menu includes grilled top sirloin dinner, mesquite grilled top sirloin dinner, and red snapper dinner. Each dinner is served with rice pilaf and soup or salad bar. It also comes with two freshly baked cheese rolls.

The most colorful aspect of homecoming will be the Float Competition which will take place just before the pep rally. Stepping away from the traditional, these people-powered floats will be scaled-down in size to allow them to be displayed in the small gym, as well as at the pep rally, club fairs, and half time at the games. Awards will go to the "Most Creative," "Most Bizarre," "Most Likely to Go to the Rose Bowl," and "Best Engineered." Dean of Students Peter Wilson will also select a winner, as will Associated Students President Penni Overson.

The Homecoming Committee encourages all clubs, departments, and other campus organizations to take up the challenge of competing in this event. All interested groups should plan to attend an informational meeting on November 25 at noon in the Student Union Senate or call 887-7811 or 887-7407.

Homecoming is sponsored by the Cal State Alumni Association, with assistance from the Associated Students, the Athletic Department, Associated Students, Coyote Spirit Boosters, Student Life, Faculty Senate, Serrano Village, and Greek Council. A complete schedule of activities will be available in the next few weeks. For more information, call 887-7811 or 887-7407.

ATTENTION JUNIORS AND SENIORS

For those of you graduating seniors, physics or chemistry majors with a 3.0 GPA you may be eligible for a $1,200.00 a month scholarship. After graduation, candidates are commissioned officers in one of the Navy's Nuclear Programs. The position offers unmatched technical and management training. Benefits include 30 days paid vacation each year, a collegial and diverse core, the opportunity for advanced education of little or no cost to you, and much more.

Navy representatives will be on campus Wednesday, November 25, Career Services and Placement Office from 9am-2pm. Call toll-free 1-800-222-6289 for more information or to set up an appointment.

NAVY OFFICER LEADS THE ADVENTURE

Two basketball games, floats, a pep rally, and good food are just a sample of the activities planned to welcome back alumni at the Second Annual Homecoming, which begins on Thursday, January 15.

This three-day event will kick-off on Thursday night with a first-ever Float Competition and Pep Rally. Friday's events include a colorful club festival in the Student Union, and the first of two homecoming basketball games, Cal State Women against LaVerne at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday. The celebration will culminate Saturday night with an informal dance after the game sponsored by the Greek Council. Homecoming spirit will be promoted throughout the week by the sale of special homecoming moments and festive displays around campus. An added feature of homecoming will be special guest presentations by alumni on various topics.

The most colorful aspect of homecoming will be the Float Competition which will take place just before the pep rally. Stepping away from the traditional, these people-powered floats will be scaled-down in size to allow them to be displayed in the small gym, as well as at the pep rally, club fairs, and half time at the games. Awards will go to the "Most Creative," "Most Bizarre," "Most Likely to Go to the Rose Bowl," and "Best Engineered." Dean of Students Peter Wilson will also select a winner, as will Associated Students President Penni Overson.

The Homecoming Committee encourages all clubs, departments, and other campus organizations to take up the challenge of competing in this event. All interested groups should plan to attend an informational meeting on November 25 at noon in the Student Union Senate or call 887-7811 or 887-7407.

Homecoming is sponsored by the Cal State Alumni Association, with assistance from the Associated Students, the Athletic Department, Associated Students, Coyote Spirit Boosters, Student Life, Faculty Senate, Serrano Village, and Greek Council. A complete schedule of activities will be available in the next few weeks. For more information, call 887-7811 or 887-7407.
Is Accepting Acceptable?

Should journalists accept the gifts, free tickets, trips, discounts, free drinks and dinner, commonly referred to as "freebies"?

This is one of the many ethical questions facing journalists.

The problem of accepting freebies began when government, business and other segments of the American society wanted favor with the press as a means of communication with the public.

The freebies, often in the form of something given without charge or cost, way at one time commonly accepted in the United States.

For many journalists, freebies are a welcome way to keep costs down, was at one time commonly accepted in the United States. Many journalists accepted Christmas gifts, free tickets to the theater, the baseball game or the carnival in town.

Although many newspapers do not allow journalists to take freebies, some accept freebies in certain situations.

"I will take a freebie depending on what it is, who supplies it, and what the circumstances are," said Dave Rader, Fontana Herald News writer. "I have found these gift-givers limited to immediate consumers," he added. "If the freebie is something more than a meal, I will not accept it.

Rader pointed out that covering a banquet or conference, where all the food and drink is free, is a common example of an acceptable freebie.

One of the big questions involving freebies is whether the reporter can retain objective after accepting a freebie.

A Fontana Herald reporter who preferred to be unnamed said, "I believe that at a subconscious level a reporter tends to overlook the bad things when it comes to writing, story especially if the freebie was free and he/she had a good time.

Most people believe that freebies have strings tied to them. Gift-givers usually want favorable or exclusive stories. Sometimes, especially in small communities, the gift-giver has no ulterior motive.

"Some freebies have a way of walking in the door from local community members," said the Fontana Herald reporter. "If I were to refuse this gesture of free hot dogs and beer, I might hurt their feelings, or think that I'm being rude. The reporter does not understand media ethics."

Sports and entertainment journalists have less hard-and-fast rules. Some reporters are nothing without an accepting tickets to something in order to review it. Press passes to these types of events are standard and thought of as a courtesy.

"Many people believe that if a reporter gets too involved with a particular sport club and is accepting gifts such as a jacket or hat, he/she cannot be impartial," said the reporter.

"It is important for the reporter who is covering a sporting event not to be perceived as 'buddy-buddy' with the athletes," said the reporter. "The reporter must be seen as impartial.

"The book The Messenger's Motives, Ralph Orwell, former managing editor of Sun-Times, puts the problem this way: "But in the performance of our journalistic jobs there is more than a conscience to be served, it is not enough to know down deep inside that you are not being bought or influenced, that the freebies has not dulled your critical senses or lulled your watchful vigilance. The conflict of interest means little, but it may be imagined or perceived on the outside. And every free gift or self-image and self-confidence end public confidence.""

Journalists must ask themselves a few questions before accepting freebies:

- Will the favor or consideration involved - whether it is a cup of coffee or a trip to France - make objectivity impossible?
- Will the reader misunderstand and question the journalist's integrity?
- Whether a reporter pays his own way or not, the story should in no way reflect it.

Student Union Set To Expand in 1989

by Joe Cortez

Expansion of Cal State's Student Union is slated to begin in 1989, following the students' approval of the fee increase referendum last spring.

The referendum, approved by 68 percent of student voters, will raise the yearly Student Union fee from $41 to $70 per student. The increase will allow the Student Union to nearly double in size, according to Student Union Director Helga Lingren.

The Student Union, located just south of the Palm library, contains 16,000 square feet, of which only 10,900 is usable. Lingren explained that the usable area does not include meeting rooms or storage closets.

According to Lingren, the expansion will add 12,000 square feet to the building.

The Student Union facilities currently include a snack bar, pub, meeting rooms, lounges, a book corner and the offices of the Associated Students.

According to Lingren, plans for the expanded Student Union include additional meeting rooms, new lounges, a concession area with a selection of food, and a self-service area.

Lingren noted that monies for the expansion will not begin being collected until Winter quarter.

"Because fall fees were announced in April for C.A.R. (Computer Assisted Registration), we would have been impossible," Lingren said. The vote was taken in May.

The need for an expanded Student Union is obvious, according to Lingren who cited the endless lines at the snack bar counter during lunch and the need for more space in the meeting rooms. The Student Union currently has three meeting rooms that can be used for meetings or presentations, according to Lingren.

Although expansion is planned to begin in 1989, an earlier start should not be ruled out, according to Lingren.

Entrance Requirements to get Stricter in CSU

Entrance requirements for college seem to be getting tougher every year, many students claim.

In 1988 these requirements will be even stricter with added course requirements.

The California State University system will be changing requirements for incoming students in 1988. Will this cause a problem with enrollment at the CSU system? This is the question many high school counselors and college administrators are asking.

By the Anderson, scholarship director at Cal State at Bernardino High School, feels the added requirements will affect the enrollment at the university.

"The addition of an extra course requirement is one year of performing arts," Anderson said. "The kids just don't want to take this class.

"If the student is required to perform in these classes, they would not want to attend the UC colleges," Anderson said. "The high school students are scared off by the term performing." Most of them don't want to sing or paint," Anderson explained. "Many would rather bring their GPA's up to attend the UC's instead of taking this performing arts class.

This will hurt enrollment at CSUSB and help the UC's."

Mary Chouinard, an evaluator at CSUSB, said the college is aware of the possible problem. "Students may not have the credits for the college, this is a lower GPA requirement than the UC's." Mary Chouinard, an evaluator at CSUSB, said the college is aware of the possible problem. "Students may not have the credits for the college, this is a lower GPA requirement than the UC's."

"The performing arts class and the extra hours of college credits being added, may or may not hurt enrollment. But if enrollment did decline, changes can always be made," the CSU schools do have a lower GPA requirement than the UC's, which gives many students a chance to attend college," Chouinard said.

Whether this cracking down on requirements at the CSU schools won't be recognized until 1988. Until then students who want to enroll in college are having to work harder.

These new requirements may aid in the success rate of college students.
The Health Corner

Has everyone finished up the Halloween candy? I don't want to get into this subject until that pressure is off. In fact, prior to writing, I purposely polished off a full-size Payday bar...the last personal haunt from my son's October 31st collection.

Lest you think I crave candy frequently, I will describe my theory of effective weight control. Technically, I am a 'fat' person. As a young adult, I accumulated lots of extra fat cells which would just love to be re-filled with yellow globules (Human fat is quite yellow, a little darker than chicken fat, I'd say). Although my body weight now stays within suggested limits, the battle goes on. Although some researchers say it is a struggle between the fat cells and me, I see it more as psychological warfare...between me and me.

It goes back to early uncertainties about self-image. Before I knew what a weight problem was or the medical reasons for achievement and maintenance of normal body weight, Hypertension, diabetes, breast cancer, joint degeneration, heart disease...the list goes on, and each has been connected to obesity. But intellectual knowledge often isn't enough to achieve internal change that permits weight control to be natural and comfortable.

In most cases, excess weight is just a symptom of the real condition...psychological need. There are as many variations on the theme as there are differing psychological seas among people. Treating the symptom alone by diet changes, calorie counting, exercise...all magic, habit changes...as hopeless as treating a bleeding wound with a cup to catch the drops. It's not going to change the original, plus, the anxiety and perceived uselessness can aggravate the condition.

So, what then is the solution? While there is no one plan that would suit every overweight person perfectly, there is an underlying change that can contribute to the effectiveness of diet and exercise efforts. The goal is increased self-esteem to allow behavior modification and a side effect of weight loss. Consider it very long-term. Don't even think the word "diet".

Otherwise it will just be one up and down after the other, and you will fall right into the initiatives that show that a great percentage of people who lose weight soon regain it.

Before weight loss is attempted, conscious self-esteem enhancement must begin. Personal achievement of a creative nature is good. Recognition can be private or public. It would be wise to go to the Student Counseling Center for help toward self-esteem growth; then take a trip to the Student Health Center for some down-to-earth weight control measures. They offer a weekly self-management program which incorporates behavior modification. The program looks promising to me...even for those who have large amounts to lose.

Once weight loss begins, a self-perpetuating cycle will start as personal esteem increases and pounds decrease. Watch out, though! Don't be tricked into thinking you've got it under control too soon. You'll know it when it's true. There will be a peaceful feeling in which you know that you will eat only what you want and need. There may be little 'slips'...they may even be planned, for example, Thanksgiving is coming up...but you'll learn that they are fleeting and will not set you off on eating marathons.

One more suggestion; try not to set time-limited special occasion goals for which you have to starve. They increase stress and interfere with your real goal to improve lifelong patterns. Go ahead and wear your belt in the last notch for next week's party. If you progress slowly and steadily...going for the trend...all major habit changes...is as hopeless as symptom alone by diet changes, calorie counting, exercise..all magic, habit changes...as hopeless as treating a bleeding wound with a cup to catch the drops. It's not going to change the original, plus, the anxiety and perceived uselessness can aggravate the condition.

The purpose of the Blood Drive is to replenish supplies in the campus Blood Reserve Fund. This fund was established so that there would always be a supply of blood available for any student, staff or faculty member or their dependents.

If you are in good health, weigh over 110 pounds, and is between the ages of 18 and 65 can donate blood. Please do not fast before your donation, and allow about 45 minutes for registration, donating, and light refreshments.

Each donor will receive a free t-shirt, courtesy of the Blood Bank. Members of the two sponsoring groups will be recruiting donors. Start the Thursday before, by "adopting" a special gift. Every tomorrow needs blood donors today.

Adopt-A-Smoker

Great American Smoke-Out Ready This Week; Are You?

Thursday, November 20th, is the day set aside for the Great American Smokeout. This originated in California in 1976 as a light-hearted way to get smokers to quit for one day, in hopes to get them to quit for good. As a result, it has now developed into a national event. A special emphasis is on adopting a smoker and helping him or her to stop smoking if only for the day. So, if you're a smoker, we challenge you to give it a try on November 20th. If you're not a smoker but know someone who is, we encourage you to get involved with them. Adopt that person for a day. You may be saving someone's life.

Consider this: the number of premature deaths is equivalent to 920 fully-loaded 747 jumbo jets crashing annually. That's 350,000 people each year. Can you imagine how concerned we would get and what action we would take immediately if that were to happen?
University gains increase in growth, awards

The California State University has experienced an increase of more than 9,000 students in fall enrollments according to figures released in October by Chancellor W. Ann Reynolds.

The 1986 fall enrollment is expected to reach nearly 334,000 applications at most campuses. Figures were recorded at Bakersfield Boomshaka from Los Angeles, from a number of students in Orange. It was a memorable night attended in front of a S.R.O. crowd Tuesday, and expected to nearly reach the number of students in fall enrollments according to figures released in October by Chancellor W. Ann Reynolds.

The increase in fall enrollment is a reflection that potential students have recognized our continuing commitment to provide quality education to the people of California,” said Reynolds, “and the many achievements of our faculty and staff.

This year’s enrollment jump marks the second consecutive major increase in the number of CSU students. The system increased 8,600 students last fall. CSU wins three Mc Auliffe awards.

The California State University was named winner of the nation’s top award for exemplary teacher education programs in state universities.

The award to the CSU system was for building and sustaining new strategies involving the entire university in teacher education programs and enhancing the institutional climate for teaching and learning.

In addition, teacher education awards were presented to CSU Stanislaus and Cal Poly San Luis Obispo.

The awards resulted from intensive competition sponsored by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities and were presented July 24 at the annual convention of the Education Commission of the States in San Diego.

AASCU’s program was initially entitled, “The Showcase for Excellence Awards Program.” It was renamed “The Crista Mc Auliffe Showcase for Excellence.”

CSU entries won three out of five awards in the competition. The other awards went to Western Kentucky and Southwest Texas University.

“IT was a great tribute to the momentum for reform that has built up within CSU that we won this prestigious honor,” said Chancellor W. Ann Reynolds. “A reform of this magnitude and complexity has rarely, if ever, been attempted within a system such as ours.

The CSU Stanislaus award was for a special training program for administrators. The award to Cal Poly was for an innovative curriculum in science enrichment.

Scholarship ready for health-related majors

The Kaiser Permanente Company is providing two $300 scholarships for the CSUSB campus according to Ted Krug, Director of Financial Aid.

“We are delighted that Kaiser Permanente has selected CSUSB as a campus to receive these scholarship monies,” Mr. Krug commented.

The Kaiser representatives are very interested in having individuals apply who meet these criteria:

- Person with a disability
- GPA of 3.0
- Majoring in a health field

Nursing program is reaccredited

The university’s B.S. program in nursing is being reaccredited for an additional eight years by the Nation League for Nursing, following an unanimous vote for the (Winter) Co-Rec season.

The accreditation decision was the culmination of a year-long process which included a thorough self-study by the nursing faculty, a detailed report based on criteria of the League and an in-depth, on-site visit by two league representatives last May, Dr. Layton attended to the meeting of the Board of Review to observe the proceedings and to answer questions. Recommendations from the board will be sent to the university within four weeks.

“Dr. Layton believes all aspects of the review were very favorable. Of the 36 criteria for accreditation, 33 were fully met. She expects some recommendations to be made on the three criteria. “This is a very good outcome. All programs receive some recommendations,” she said.

Many people on campus were helpful when the accreditation team visited last spring. Dr. Layton said she believes the campus input contributed in a positive way as the visiting team specifically mentioned the cooperation received from all of the university administrators who

IMMEDIATE OPENINGS PILOT TRAINING

We need pilots! Fully paid flight training program open NOW to college graduates, age 26%. No experience needed. Outstanding pay and benefits. Must be in excellent health, have 20/20 vision, be a U.S. citizen, and have a B.S./BA degree. Navy representative will be on campus Tuesday, Nov. 25 from 9am-12 noon, at the Student Services Bldg. Navy Officer*Lead the Adventure.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN HIKING?

A hiking club is being organized for students at CSUSB. Other outdoor activities are being offered and may also become part of this club.

Check your campus bulletin boards for more information, or call Chris (714) 359-8715.
The Cal State Men's basketball team finished the 1985-86 season by winning all of their last 13 games. Coach Jim Ducey and the updated 1986-87 basketball squad plan to continue that legacy.

The optimistic outlook has several origins. Although the team is returning only one starter from last year, 6'7" Greg Biynovsky, his assistant, Craig Williams, feel the Coyotes have added several good players. "We plan to include both returning players (not starters), and incoming recruits (freshmen) and junior college transfers," said Ducey.

Unfortunately for the Cal State team three key layers were lost to the Coyotes 86-87 basketball squad. "We are going to have to work hard to compensate for the loss of these three key layers," said Coach Ducey. "In a front-running spot that she believes they may mature to monsters on the court this year, says Ducey.

Arthur Newcombe, Mark Atwood, and Joel Pilt. Ducey's intention is for these four to improve enough to provide help at the power position this year.

Another highlight for the Coyotes is the return of 6'4" Tim Watkins from the inaugural 85-86 team. Watkins will be charged with scoring and rebounding at the wing position. Ducey adds 6'3" Richard Morales into the wing spot with Watkins. Morales has transferred from San Bernardino Valley College so that he can play at the Coyotes court.

Complementing the experienced players are the final two freshmen in the class of 86. Jim Carney and Greg Rowe, 6'4" and 6'5" respectively, could develop enough to see varsity playing time this season, says Ducey.

CSUSB coaches, Ducey and Williams, feel that Buynovsky, Duncan and Moses will provide most of the scoring threat for the Coyotes. However, the team has balanced assistance from their teammates in the scoring regard. Provided the power spot can get the rebounds and play aggressive post defense the Coyotes will be successful this season.

Arthur Newcombe, Mark Atwood, and Joel Pilt. Ducey's intention is for these four to improve enough to provide help at the power position this year.

Another highlight for the Coyotes is the return of 6'4" Tim Watkins from the inaugural 85-86 team. Watkins will be charged with scoring and rebounding at the wing position. Ducey adds 6'3" Richard Morales into the wing spot with Watkins. Morales has transferred from San Bernardino Valley College so that he can play at the Coyotes court.

Complementing the experienced players are the final two freshmen in the class of 86. Jim Carney and Greg Rowe, 6'4" and 6'5" respectively, could develop enough to see varsity playing time this season, says Ducey.

CSUSB coaches, Ducey and Williams, feel that Buynovsky, Duncan and Moses will provide most of the scoring threat for the Coyotes. However, the team has balanced assistance from their teammates in the scoring regard. Provided the power spot can get the rebounds and play aggressive post defense the Coyotes will be successful this season.

The highlight of our season is the fact that we are here and deserve to participate because of the fine year we had. A lot of teams in Southern California would have had a difficult time in the post-season. With no seniors on the team this year, the 1986 edition, the CSUSB Volleyball team should remain intact for next season added Ruderman.

CSUSB controlled the first game against LaVerne, winning 15-12. The young Lady Coyote squad allowed a more experienced LaVerne team to make the plays and dictate the tempo, ending the CSUSB bid for a national championship.

The score of the first three games were 5-15, 6-15, and 4-15. "This was our best season ever and next year we will return with a little more determination and a whole lot of experience to draw from," said Ruderman. The Lady Coyotes finish the season with a 26-12 overall record.
The following part-time positions are now available through the Career Planning and Placement Center. Although we cannot guarantee that the jobs will not be filled by press time, they and many more are posted on the Job Board in Room 116, Student Services Building.

SKI SEASON JOBS

Many part-time jobs are available at local ski resorts. Contact Jack Dexter 887-7551.

Maxwell Street Pizza
Pizza-servers, delivery drivers. Contact Rick 974 Kendall Drive, San Bernardino 881-3325

Singer needed for studio work with good commercial voice male/female. Call John or Kevin, 886-9479

HOUSING

“Two story house to share with single female or male student; $400 per month, includes utilities; 3 miles from CSUSB-Located on local bus route; Call 381-2609, Ask for Teresa.”

TYPING

Typing-IBM Exec, does local! Rent, $9.00/hr. Call Cathy, 887-0295.

REWARD

REWARD: Lost; Great sentimental value!! One sapphire and diamond ring. (Four saphires and 3 diamonds). If found please call either 381-6671 or 887-7201. Ask for Maureen. No questions asked.

SERVICES

Walter paid the price for always giving people a piece of his mind.
WHEN IS THE RIGHT TIME TO CALL YOUR GRANDPARENTS?

a) Five minutes into "The Lawrence Welk Show!"

b) About a week before your birthday.

c) When you just want to tell them you miss them, and that you ate the last of Grandma’s chocolate-chip cookies this morning.

There’s nothing grandparents like better than a call from a grandchild in college. But if you do accidentally happen to interrupt Lawrence, you ought to have something worth telling them. For example, you could mention that you called using AT&T Long Distance Service because you can depend on AT&T’s high quality service and exceptional value.

And then you can tell them that AT&T gives you immediate credit if you dial a wrong number. And that you can count on AT&T for clear long distance connections.

Finally, of course, you should quickly reassure them that you’re eating enough, then let them hurry back to the TV to catch the rest of the Lennon Sisters’ Blue Oyster Cult medley.

Bikers ride to fund community development

Stanford, CA — "When I started the ride," begins Lisa Wolf, a Stanford University senior, "I was not an avid cyclist. I didn’t even buy a bike—I used my ten-speed from the eighth grade." Last summer Lisa joined a group of 75 enthusiastic Americans, who represented 28 different campuses, and ranged from 15-55 years in age. They rode 3,000 miles across the country, braving mountains and deserts, averaging 70 miles a day. The riders arrived at the United Nations building in New York City eight weeks after their departure.

They were part of Bike-Aid/Pedalling for Progress, an event sponsored by the Overseas Development Network. This nationwide student organization uses the money raised from Bike-Aid pledges and student chapters to fund projects promoting community development from the local level.

In 1986, Bike-Aid riders earned roughly $100,000, 50% of which is matched by ODN campus chapters and given to small self-help projects in the Third World. 30% goes to organizations sharing ODN’s grass-roots philosophy: Trickle-Up, Bikes not Bombs, Ashoka, and IDEX. Oxfam America will be added as a beneficiary in 1987. 10% funds student internships in Africa and India, and 10% is used on ODN’s American project in Appalachia. "Every penny goes to the projects. We spent none of it on operational costs," explains ODN director Nazir Ahmad proudly.

After the success of 1986, Nazir has high expectations for Bike-Aid. "I stayed with a semi-driver and his wife in Ohio, and I just got a letter from an 8-year old boy in Montana who offered us a place to sleep. That’s adventure."