I can't believe it, California shutting down, people are under lockdown. It's CRAZY!! People are swarming Walmart, Target and grocery stores. Food aisles are literally empty at several local locations. Meat and especially Beef is a luxury, it's sooooo hard to find! Not that i'm whining, I know worldwide people might not even taste beef because it's expensive, but I'm just saying in general its kind of hard to find it In the Inland Empire. Also, Apparently only essential workers can be out at night, if you get pulled over and you're not an essential employee, you can get fined, or pressed charges... This is so bad, this is not Nazi Germany. I get it, we need to follow the rules but that's just plain out ridiculous

Ugh, I honestly can not believe it, i can understand food being bought out because it is important to our survival, who knows how long this lockdown will last, hopefully a couple of weeks. BUT what is so stupid, is that people literally bought out toilet paper, like its EXTREMELY hard to find it. My family ran out and i literally had to buy it on offer up, a phone app from a guy. A pack that would cost 8$ at the store literally cost me 25$ PEOPLE ARE TAKING ADVANTAGE!! This is so dumb, we are supposed to be working together as society to get through this pandemic, but here stupid people are looking for an opportunity to make a quick buck off people that are in need. A 3$ spray bottle of Lysol disinfectant is selling online for 40-60 dollars, THATS RIDICULOUS!!

I wish it was a real April fool's prank, but its not people are getting really infected and the rise in cases of covid is growing rapidly. It is sad that so many loved ones are dying, especially the elderly. Its like a really bad case of the cold or pneumonia, some people are put into a medical coma. Im not sure why, but wow its super serious.

So, when will this end? Like dang summer is coming up, its been two months, people are starting to wear face masks like N95 or surgical masks to prevent the spread of the disease. I mean Japan, Korea, China they all do it out of respect when they are sick, its embedded in their culture, but for some reason it never caught trend with America, I really like it thought. Its a sense of respect for others.

So, things are really serious, ventilators in hospitals are running out, people are dying in hospitals left and right, some hospitals are low in equipment and now nurses doctors, hospital staff are getting sick and they are dying. I pray to God that He forgives us humans, we are so corrupt in Nature, apparently the Covid virus originated in wuhan China, in a lab scientists were experimenting with bats? Something like that. A chinese scientist or doctor reported it online i think, and the government told him to take it down. He took down the information that he had warned, and then uploaded it again, and it seems like the Chinese government went and kidnapped him. I am not sure on the facts but this is what the story is going around. It wouldn't shock me if it were true, and now the doctor the whistleblower is dead... coincidence? I don't think so, the government got a hold of him and must have done something to him. Media keeps saying it was an outbreak at a sea food market or something like that... im not buying that.

Well its been like 9 months, we are not in lock down but businesses have gone bank rupt, especially mom and pop shops, restaurants fired a lot of staff, and just the economy is sooo bad, wow at least Joe Biden is coming into presidency with Kamala Harris the first female vice president in HISTORY! Hopefully under their leadership they can take this country thats in shambles and restore it to its rightful strong place it once was. The whole world stopped spinning, 2020 was a disaster year, they know want to vaccinate humans soon with a new type of vaccine that attaches itself to our DNA.. a lot of people are against it, i mean what if that DNA mutates and something goes wrong??? UGH stupid world governments and theyre idiotic greedy plans to control the population... Best of luck to everyone in the upcoming seasons. Online school sucks!! As for me ill keep wearing my mask and continue to be hygienic, I pray to God that He uses my immune system to the maximum power so that I may resist this disease. God bless planet Earth, we have turned our backs against God, I am so sorry for my sins and I will continue to serve and help others so that we may get through this and survive, in Jesus name we pray, Amen.
