Riverside Youth to be Showcased at Inauguration

Black News

BACONCADO

In an unprecedented effort to celebrate both the diversity and unity of California at the Governor-elect’s inaugural festivities, the County of Riverside is planning special events, including an inaugural event in Riverside on January 4.

The Riverside County Black News has learned that a special event named “The Black Voice News,” a publication of the Inland Empire News in Black and White, will be showcased at the inaugural ceremony on January 4.

The event will feature performances by the Riverside Youth Choir, led by Cheryl Brown, who is the executive director of the California Cultural Youth Council. The choir will be joined by other musical groups from around the state, including the Pechanga Cultural Youth Council Choir, the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power Choir, and the Los Angeles City College Choir.

Black Farmers Mull Over Government Settlement Offer

The Black News

Hundreds of Black farmers and their families met in Durham, N.C., Selma, Ala., and Pine Bluff, Ark., back in 1999 to try to reach a settlement with the U.S. Justice Department, representing one the largest political and social controversies of the time. The suit, brought by the Black Farmers Fairness Alliance, argued that Black farmers had been denied equal treatment under the law.

The settlement divides the plaintiffs into two groups, A and B. Those in group A must have received legal advice to help determine which group they belong in. Those in group B must meet certain criteria, such as having experienced discrimination, to qualify for the settlement.

Despite the lawyers’ enthusiasm for the proposal, many participants at the gatherings were skeptical about its fairness. They complained that the settlement was biased in favor of those who already had legal representation.

The high expectations held for the 2 new and 1 reelected board members may live up to the expectations of MOVAC and the MVUSD teachers union, but for the rest of us it is simply another example of politics at its best. On November 26th newspaper article, Gary Baugh illustrated his ignorance and bias for Bernadette Burks by his comments about not following the Board bylaw which provides for the rotation of the President position. Even before being sworn into their respective offices all 3 members of the MOVAC staff are in agreement to not follow this Board bylaw and thus to not allow Burks, who is not a part of their political machine, to be the President of the Board. That same article of November 26th summer it up well, "Also in agreement with Baugh and Ashe, Darlene Dolan reaffirmed their positions." This affirmed position of November 26, 1998, was discussed publicly when? Gary Baugh states in another December 10th newspaper article, "We respect Burks and recognize her talents, but we feel she wouldn't be the right person to conduct our meetings as President." Well, what person do you feel is the right person to conduct our meetings? Not an independent, twice elected by grass roots Black woman who has been on this school board for 6 years? The only school board member to be re-elected by grass roots Black voters and support of any special interest groups. Not the senior school board member and the only sitting member up there who has received a personal salary from the State and support of any special interest groups? Let's hear real here. The only reason Burks wasn't allowed to be the President was that Gary Baugh, Darlene Dolan, Ray Williams, and Alex Candelaria is because she is the only independent minded board member up there. What are you afraid of? With your comfortable quoted you hold the key to the vote. MOVAC, the group so very interested in the business of Moreno Valley Unified School District, (Not Val Verde Unified, however) must understand that the politics of exclusion and omission as illustrated in the December 8th article is not to be taken lightly. The voting is not just for the good of the students, but for the support of the members and support of any special interest groups. Not to the senior board member and the only sitting member up there who has received a personal salary from the State and support of any special interest groups? Let's hear real here. The CARE (California Alternate Rates for Energy) program will keep on providing significant financial assistance to low-income customers. Just as our Gas Assistance Fund, which helps low-income customers cut expenses by subsidizing utility bills, will remain unaffected. We will continue to effectively manage DAP (Direct Assistance Program) which provides energy efficiency services to help low-income customers reduce energy use thereby helping them make ends meet.

We will also maintain our strong commitment to both supplier and work force diversity. Buying goods and services from businesses that reflect the communities we serve has always been a sound business strategy. Plus, our workforce diversity policy means we recruit, hire and promote the best and most talented employees from within our diverse communities.

Our approach to community support is simple. We live here, work here, and we watch out for our neighbor. And for no other reason than it's the right thing to do.

When you think of a Christian benefit it usually conjures up in your mind, preaching, teaching or an extension of church service. As the Christmas Benefit Ball, sponsored by Tabernacle Mt. Holy Church in San Bernardino laughing so hard they were almost crying. There was some preaching and teaching through word and song. That tells believers to claim their blessings and lay hands on it she said.

The audience wouldn’t let her smoke it.

Norco wins third title under coach Campbell, with a 42-21 victory over Rancho Verde.

By LELAND STEIN III
Black Voice News Sports Editor

MORENO VALLEY — A living breathing oxymoron! The sound and the bad. That was the end result of the California Interscholastic Federation (CIF) playoff football, which concluded this past weekend.

All over Southern California, wide-eyed youth were hoping to put the exclamation point on the games — the championship contests that were to be the pinnacle of all their high school careers.

After years of sweat, diet in their faces, burned bodies, maddening conditioning drills, the finality for the young football warriors, their elevation to the championship games in their respective divisions.

Nowhere was the played out any better than at Moreno Valley High as Norco and Moreno Valley Rancho Verde took to the field in a CIF Division 5 championship game.

Blue filled one side of the stadium and red filled the other. When the final whistle signaled the end of the contest, the Rancho Verde Mustangs were the one's feeling blue from red eyes filled with tears.

As usual there were investors and towers. Heartbreak and joyous celebrations from the victors gallant. Almost and what could have been.

Rancho Verde was playing in its first CIF title game of any kind. The emotion of the moment was heightened by the sudden death of assistant coach Anthony Sanchez, who died of an asthma kind. The title game between Norco and Rancho Verde pitted two programs, which were completely opposite in championship game experience. Norco (11-3) was competing in a Riverside County-record fifth title game and with its 42-21 victory over Rancho Verde.

The team that appeared to have the momentum and team speed in this game was the team that was ultimately the other. As is the case in big games, unsung heroes always step to the forefront. For Norco Lee Burgess's touchdown catches of 17- and 42-yard and Scott Behlen's 10-yarder were in the Mustangs' coffin. Couple their effort with the solid play of quarterback Chuck Chastain, who threw for 135 yards and four touchdowns, as well as the play of all-purpose back Kurt Siebert, who rushed for 90 yards and caught 3 passes for another 43 yards. Siebert also scored Norco's first touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Chastain.

The CIF title. The bad is that one team has to be left with a bad taste in its mouth, no matter that Rancho Verde just completed the best season in its young history. As time goes forward the bitter taste will become sweeter and they will reflect with fond memories about making it to the title game.

As time goes forward the bitter taste will become sweeter and they will reflect with fond memories about making it to the title game.

As is the case in big games, unsung heroes always step to the forefront. For Norco Lee Burgess's touchdown catches of 17- and 42-yard and Scott Behlen's 10-yarder were in the Mustangs' coffin. Couple their effort with the solid play of quarterback Chuck Chastain, who threw for 135 yards and four touchdowns, as well as the play of all-purpose back Kurt Siebert, who rushed for 90 yards and caught 3 passes for another 43 yards. Siebert also scored Norco's first touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Chastain.

The CIF title. The bad is that one team has to be left with a bad taste in its mouth, no matter that Rancho Verde just completed the best season in its young history. As time goes forward the bitter taste will become sweeter and they will reflect with fond memories about making it to the title game.
Brown: Christmas Gift to Riverside

By William Julian, Sr.

At first glance, Oscar Brown 3. Christmas will be a raucous one with toddlers for one, but don't be misled by the intimate setting or past years of such a performance. But Brown's performance was not only a success, but a celebration of the Riverside Philharmonic "as we know it," said the orchestra's conductor, Jeffrey Leonetti, at the Riverside Center for the Performing Arts' annual "Christmas at the Center" celebration held at the Municipal Auditorium in downtown Riverside.

"What we've done is to take Brown as part of the program," Executive Director Nick Bremband told me. "We've taken his music, we've taken his talent, and we've taken his passion and we've combined them into one of the great performances of the year."

The program began with a festive and sacred music selected from around the world, and in the grand lobby of the Riverside Center for the Performing Arts. The concert was the symphony's gift to the community and in fact the group donated 400 tickets for those who couldn't get any better, or gratifying," Brown said, "I've never worked with a company as smooth as our group."

"The Night Before Christmas," they performed by such legendary artists as Chaka Khan, Jimmy Buffet, Conway Twitty, Gloria Estefan, Gino Vannelli, Walter Jackson, Carl Jackson, Martha Brown, Glodean Warren, and Brenda Russell. They made a museum of the great, big, and bold.
