PANDEMIC IN THE 21ST CENTURY

COVID & COLLEGE

- When COVID hit in March, I was in my last semester at Chaffey Community College. The last few weeks were turned to online classes and were challenging. I had to learn to adapt to online learning and struggled in classes where I needed that in person interaction.

Dear Chaffey College Students:

While there are no confirmed cases of COVID-19 at Chaffey College, due to recent and escalating developments in our surrounding communities, Chaffey College will be extending spring break from March 16-27. All classes will be CANCELED during that time.

On March 30, 2020, nearly all Chaffey College classes will be taught in an online format. Any class switched to online format will no longer be held on campus. Please look for an email from your instructors by March 27 with specific information on your classes and next steps.

In addition, Student Support Services is transitioning many services online, including Admissions, Financial Aid and Counseling. More information will be sent to you via email on how to access these resources.

The campus will remain open and any need for services can be accessed by phone or email as well. Please visit this link for directory information.

We will continue teaching courses online for as long as needed. The situation with COVID-19 is dynamic, and the College has a responsibility to act in accordance with state and federal guidelines that support the health of students, faculty, and staff. As the situation evolves, more information will be distributed about changes.

Additional information regarding Chaffey College's COVID-19 response efforts may be found at www.chaffey.edu/coronavirus as well as social media accounts.

COVID & GRADUATION

- Although it was hard, I managed to make it work. I had to put more time and effort into my classes and learned to communicate better with my professors. I was able to graduate.

COVID & GRADUATION

- I was saddened by not being able to experience a full graduation. As a first generation college student, my family was very proud of my accomplishment and we wanted to celebrate big. Given the circumstances we knew it was not safe, so we settled with a small dinner at home. Nonetheless, I did not allow COVID to degrade my accomplishment in getting one step closer to my goals.

COVID & CSUSB

- I was in! I started my fall semester at CSUSB and was eager to begin working towards my degree as a liberal studies major. I knew things would be different because of COVID but I did not realize how difficult it would be.

COVID & LIFE AS A TRANSFER STUDENT

- Online learning continues to be a challenge. It is difficult to learn from home where there are many distractions. Some of us have family at home, children, people to look out for. It is hard to focus on school when there are many other things going on at home. I am thankful for how understanding professors are during these difficult times however, online classes can take a toll on you.

COVID & LIFE AS A TRANSFER STUDENT

- I find myself staring at a computer screen for 70% of my day. Whether it be in class or working on homework assignments. It's difficult to learn and focus on the material because there comes a point where you just focus on getting work done. It's not the same learning through the screen as it is being hands on in a classroom.

COVID & THE WORKPLACE

- Working in reatail during the pandemic has been difficult. When COVID shut us down what had originally been closure for 1 week turned into 3 months. It was difficult to be unemployed and still have to pay bills.

COVID & THE WORKPLACE

- Now that we are back open, we are faced with the possibility of catching COVID at work. We interact with hundreds of people every day. The best we can do is practice social distancing while at work, and constant sanitary precautions. We sanitize after every transactions and use of fitting rooms, so we do our part in trying to reduce the risk of getting COVID at work, but nonetheless it is still a possibility.
